Chief Constable John Thompson said charges may be laid against the boy because of all the trouble he caused and the danger divers ran trying to find a body in the Otonabee River.

Council Backs Union

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (CP)—The Building Trades Council (AFL) Thursday backed up the Laborers' Union fight to win recognition as bargaining agent for Toronto construction laborers. The council, made up of all building trades unions, challenged the Ontario Labor Relations Board's finding that the Laborers' Union is not entitled to certification for laborers employed by the Toronto builders exchange. The exchange represents construction firms.

Would Name Ex A 'Fair' Juniors Told

Hugh Stewart, president of the Peterborough Industrial Exhibition, revealed at the Junior Farmers' Banquet Thursday evening that if he is on the board of the exhibition again next year, he will endeavor to have the name changed to the Peterborough Fair.

"Anybody can put on an Exhibition," he said, "but not everyone can put on a Fair."

Mr. Stewart also said that the Board is trying to get enough funds from the Provincial Government and the city to erect a building on the Exhibition Grounds for use in any functions connected with the Junior Farmers Group. The building will be known as the Peterborough Agricultural Memorial Centre, Mr. Stewart said. He said that it would not be an easy thing to get the building, "but we'll make the grade all right."

These statements were made during a speech by Mr. Stewart at the banquet Thursday evening, in which he welcomed the Junior Farmers on behalf of the Exhibition Board. He said that he was sorry that Col. T. L. Kennedy, Provincial Minister of Agriculture was unable to attend due to illness, and also that Mr. Clifford Graham, Col. Kennedy's deputy, was not able to attend the banquet, due to a previous engagement on Col. Kennedy's behalf.

Dutch Engineers Help England Reclaim Marshes

By DON GILBERT.

CHESTER, England, Aug. 26—(CP)—A giant floating "vacuum-cleaner," pumping day and night is scooping up tens of thousands of tons of sand from the tidal marshes of the River Dee.

Saturated sand is shot through two miles of pipes and spilled out on the soggy shore near Shotton, on the Cheshire side at the head of the estuary. The poured sand is compacted into the firmest of building foundations. A blast furnace and coke ovens will be built on it.

Netherlands engineers are doing the job. They are using technique developed in reclaiming parts of the Netherlands' Zuider Zee. Experts hail the Dutch know-how as of untold importance in future development of marshy wastes elsewhere in Britain.

The tides move in at high speed over the Sands of Dee, the setting of Charles Kingsley's famous ballad. But most of the time large areas form dry pastures.

Great Pump

The Netherlands' engineers floated in their apparatus on a high tide and anchored it. When the water receded the steel blades of a 1,060-horsepower rotary pump began sucking sand to a depth of 60 feet below sea level.

The removal process has created a huge lake, the banks of which cave in unceasingly to send more tons of sand and mud rolling into the mouth of the greedy "vacuum-cleaner."

At the shore end of the big pipes, the engineers and their workmen brought from the Netherlands guide the gushing flow over a gently graded site ringed by an embankment, so that little or no sand is carried back to sea as the water drains away.

When this project is finished, the Netherlanders hope to move in on a similar job across the river near Connah's Quay, on the Welsh side, where a new power station is to be built on the tide-flooded sands.

Reclamation men say the Netherlands technique can be used to create farmlands as well as industrial sites out of marshland.

WHERE PLANE HIT—The wide gap in this clump of tamarack trees traces the course of an ill-fated RCAF Canso amphibian as it crashed in the northern Manitoba bush, killed its 21 occupants. Bits of debris are scattered along the path of the plane, which was flying from Churchill, Man., to Winnipeg when it crashed and burned. There were no survivors.

Careless Driving Charge Dismissed

A carless driving charge against David MacDonald, Glen Alda, Ont., about 15 miles east of Apsley, was dismissed in police court Thursday afternoon by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay.

Provincial Constable B. Howden of the Apsley detachment laid the charge after investigating an accident about two and a half miles north of Burleigh Falls on Highway 28 July 10, in which one car was involved. The car owned and driven by MacDonald had rolled over and was a total loss.

He testified he was informed of the accident while about eight miles north of it. He said there had been rain during the evening and the road was wet. He said skid marks showed the car had slithered into the ditch, struck a boulder and had been catapulted over, ending up on its wheels straddling a wire fence.

Both the accused and a passenger, Mrs. Frances Campbell, testified they had met a car travelling at a fast speed coming north toward them on the wrong side of the road. MacDonald said he was blinded by the bright lights of the car and had swung his car across the road missing the oncoming car by inches.

Mrs. Campbell said she was thrown from the front seat into the back when the car rolled over.

Emptied Bottle To Purchase Oil

Emptying a wine bottle to fill it with machine oil landed William Hannrahan, Lakefield, in police court Thursday before Magistrate E. A. Gee, and cost him $50 and costs or 30 days in jail.

Hannrahan was found in a car owned by I. Cunningham parked downtown. Mr. Cunningham brought Hannrahan to the police station at about 12.15 a.m. and said he had found an almost completely emptied bottle of wine in the car with Hannrahan.

Hannrahan pleaded guilty to a charge of being intoxicated and admitted he had been found guilty on a similar charge Aug. 10. Hannrahan said he had the bottle to get machine oil.

Gordon Chappell, of Bridgnorth, was fined $10 and costs for having liquor in an illegal place. He said he was holding two pints of beer in his shirt for another fellow who went into a hotel to get a room.

William Stephens, Campbellford, pleaded guilty to a charge of vagrancy and was sentenced to four days in jail. He had been remanded in jail since Aug. 20, so Magistrate Gee back-dated the start of the sentence to Monday.

Bruce Innes, Crawford's Grove, was fined $10 and costs on a charge of being drunk in June.

Lloyd Lang, Omemee, who was discovered by a police officer the night of Aug. 22 lying on a sidewalk with his thumb broken, pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $10 and costs.

Held Responsible For 4 Deaths

RAWSON, Que., Aug. 26 (CP)—A coroner's jury Thursday night found Hector Lafontaine, 48, criminally responsible for the deaths by drowning July 23 of four Montreal women.

The accident in which the four lost their lives took place on Lac Des Iles, near St. Emile De Montcalm, Que.

Denise Pepin, 21, Louise Desrosiers, 20, Therese Labelle, 24, and Laurette Chabot, 33, were drowned when a rowboat carrying nine persons was upset by waves and high winds.

Lafontaine, a resident of Westmount, Que., was found by the jury to have "failed to take necessary precautions to avert such an accident."

His 21-year-old son Gerald, had been at the helm of the motor equipped rowboat when it capsized. The boy was one of those rescued.

Magistrate Finds Woman Stopped Car

Mrs. John Barnett, 539 Harvey St., was found not guilty of failing to stop at a stop street at the corner of Sherbrooke and Aylmer St. by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay, in police court Thursday.

The charge was laid as a result of an accident with a car driven by Herbert Henry who was driving north on Aylmer St.

Miss Evelyn Garnett, a passenger in the rear of the Barnett car, testified Mrs. Barnett, going west on Sherbrooke St., had stopped twice before beginning to cross Aylmer St., once behind a car which had stopped in front of her at the corner and again when she came up to the corner.

Ambulance Plane Crash

OXFORD, N. C., Aug. 26 (AP) —Two persons were killed and a third was critically injured last night when a two-engine Cessna ambulance plane crashed 15 miles northwest of Oxford. Police identified the dead as the pilot, Robert B. Bushey of Winston-Salem, N. C., and a woman. A second woman was critically injured

Military Band Barred By Union

TORONTO, Aug. 26 — (CP)— Elwood Hughes, Caandian National Exhibition general manager, announced Thursday night the Toronto Musical Protective Association (AFL) has barred an all-service military band from Ottawa from playing at the Exhibition. The 120-man composite band — including 40 musicians each from the Army, Navy and RCAF—was to have played daily at flaglowering ceremonies and and during the grand stand program.

The ban was reported to have resulted from the union's demand that the men be paid union rates but Arthur Dowell, union secretary could not be reached immediately for comment.

Mr. Hughes described the ban as "peculiar," because 12 other military bands will give concerts during the Exhibition, which opens today for two weeks.

Denounce Tito

MOSCOW, Aug. 26 (CP) — Speakers at Russia's all-union conference of peace proponents Thursday night denounced Premier Tito of Yugoslavia. Guests of the conference, which opened Thursday, include two Britons, Dr. Hewlett Johnson, the "Red Dean" of Canterbury, and Professor G. Crowther. Nikolai Rossissky, a leading worker under the Stakhanovite system (for increased industrial production), named Tito along with vice-premier Constantin Tsaldaris of Greece, Winston Churchill and Generalissimo Franco of Spain as enemies of peace.

Have Special Counsel

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (CP) — Board of Control decided Thursday to retain special legal counsel for the city's appeal of the Ontario Jockey Club assessment when it comes before the Supreme Court next month. The city is appealing a decision of the Ontario Municipal Board, which threw out an assessment of $508,500 on the Jockey Club's Woodbine race-track buildings.

Potato Crop Poor

TORONTO, Aug. 26 CP)—Prospects for a normal potato crop in Ontario this year are not promising, some producers said Thursday. Growers in Simcoe, York, Durham and Ontario counties say yields so far are not sufficient to pay fertilizer costs. In many cases they report less than 50 bags to the acre. Potatoes in the southwestern section are discouraging, except for early varieties in the Leamington and Harrow district.

A Short Trip

MINNEAPOLIS, Aug. 26 (AP)—Four RCAF jet planes placed Minneapolis and Winnipeg only 64 minutes apart Thursday. The planes, DeHavilland Vampire jets, flew the 402-mile route wing to wing from the Canadian city, landing at Wold-Chamberlain field at 1:42 p.m. CST. The 64-minute flight was a record between the two cities. The jets came to the twin cities to perform at the Minnesota State Fair.

St. Paul's Anglican Church, Marmora, To Mark Seventy-Fifth Anniversary

MARMORA, Aug. 26 (ENS) — On September 1 three quarters of a century will have elapsed since the laying of the cornerstone of the beautiful Anglican Church, which later was dedicated to St. Paul.

Right Wor. Bro. S. S. Lazier, D.D.G.M. of Prince Edward District in the year 1874 (later a well known judge of Hastings County) was presented with a silver trowel for the ceremony by Winnie Bleecker, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Bleecker. This young lady who was later to become Mrs. David Mulloy, is still living in Los Angeles, Calif. The trowel bore this inscription, "Presented to Rt. Wor. Bro. S. S. Lazier, D.D.G.M., P.E.D., by the ladies of Marmora on the occasion of his laying the cornerstone of St. Paul's Church, Marmora, Sept. 1, 1874.

Secure Two Lots

Two lots were secured by the congregation from the Cobourg, Peterborough and Marmora Railway and Mining Company to constitute their church land. The lot was donated by the company, whose local agent was David Bentley who with four others donated the other lot. The other men were: A. W. Carscallen, who opened a private bank in the village; Solomon Johns; William Leonard, township councillor and David Fitchett, school teacher. Few descendants are noted among the worshippers at St. Paul's today of those original members of the congregation, the families of Hugh Jones and H. M. Jones, and the Bowen, Bleecker, Boyd, Johns, Carscallen, Bentley, Fitchett, Leonard, Campion, McWilliams, Brady, Johnson, Bailey, Keys, Lough, Wells, Derry and McGarvey families among others.

Rev. Charles Mountain Harris was appointed as the first rector of Marmora in 1879. For forty-four years he was the spiritual head of the parish. His sudden death on March 13, 1923, after returning to the rectory from a short walk was a distinct shock to villagers of all creeds.

He was succeeded as rector by Rev. Philip Caiger-Watson, who returned to the Diocese of Ontario from North Dakota. He moved to Galetta in the Diocese of Ottawa three years later in which parish he still ministers.

The next rector was Rev. Arthur Bell Caldwell, who came to the parish from Wyebridge in the Diocese of Toronto and served the Church for seventeen and a half years.

Rev. Mr. Coldwell was appointed to the parish of Elizabethtown in the Diocese of Ontario in July, 1944. His lamented death took place, a year later at Gananoque.

Present Rector Named

In October, 1944, the present rector, Rev. John Murray Brownlie, then of Athens in the Diocese of Ontario, accepted the appointment as rector of Marmora.

Thus it will be seen that Marmora as a separate parish has been served by only four rectors in the past 70 years, two of whom made up a combined incumbency of over 61 years and that there is only one living predecessor to the present rector.

The late Canon Harris for some years engaged lay readers. Three of these later were ordained as clergy, namely Richard Steacy, who later became archdeacon in the Diocese of Ottawa and a Lieut. Colonel in the chaplain services in the First World War; George E. Simmons, who as Canon Simmons died at Kaifeng, Honan province, China, some years ago after serving as principal of St. Andrew's College in that city and spending 20 years of devoted missionary labor in the Far East Rev. W. G. Lansbury, who died some years ago when rector of Madoc, having served in other parishes previously.

A brief sketch of Anglican church life in Marmora prior to 1874 follows:

Services and Sunday School sessions were held in the old town hall, replaced almost 40 years ago by the present one. They were held somewhat irregularly at first by Rev. Mr. Groves of Stirling. Occasional visits were also paid by Rev. Joseph Gander, graduate of St. Augustine's College, Canterbury. He possessed some knowledge of medicine which could be applied in those pioneer days. Also he shared musical ability with his wife and four sons who comprised a choir, a valuable asset in his work. The graves of Rev. and Mrs. Gander and one son are in a tiny cemtery on an old farm near Monk's Lake, Haliburton county.

First Monthly Services

The advent of Rev. James Preston to Stirling, in whose parish Marmora originally lay, brought to the Marmora Anglicans a regular monthly service which was maintained by succeeding rectors of Stirling, namely: Rev. Henry Edward Massey Baker, Rev. George Grout, Rev. J. E. Halliwell and Rev. J. Godden.

The Sunday School was started about 90 years ago by Miss Angelina H. Bentley, daughter of David Bentley. Under her leadership it flourished until infirmity occasioned her retirement and the appointment of successors. Not only young Anglicans, but children of other denominations attended this Sunday School which almost from its inception had a membership of 65.

Recently the parochial council of St. Paul's held its summer meeting and decided that the 75th anniversary should be especially marked. An appropriate program to mark the anniversary is being prepared.

Advise Storing Coal

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (CP)—Ontario coal consumers should purchase and store as much coal and coke as possible before Sept. 1, the National Solid Fuel Institute warned Thursday. The warning follows an announcement by United States coal operators and dealers that U.S. freight rates and mine prices on solid fuels will be advanced Sept. 1. Effect of the increase of Canadian prices is expected to be "substantial." Price advances are expected on most grades and sizes of coal and coke.

FIRST RADIAL LINE

Original Outfits On Golf Links Set Watchers Agog

VANCOUVER, Aug. 26 (CP)—When you get 200 or more women together on a golf course, some pretty sharp outfits are bound to show up.

And that's the way it's turning out at beautiful Capilano golf course here—scene of the Canadian Ladies' Open Golf championship. The ladies vying for honors on the links have shown plenty of originality in their apparel on the course and in the club house.

Probably the most eye-catching sight at the tournament has been pretty Mrs. Sue Bell, wife of Calgary publisher Max Bell, and her striking "pedal-pushers" and sweaters to match.

The first day she turned up in turquoise slacks which button down the side and come to just below the knees, and a sweater of the same shade. Subsequent outfits have been in grey and salmon.

The four members of the Quebec provincial team, which came third in last week's inter-provincial matches, turned up attired alike in turquoise dresses with each player's initials sewn on.

The runner-up British Columbia team wore maroon blazers for after-game lounging, and each blazer carried the BC emblem.

Alice Blynn, of Vancouver Marine Drive, a competitor in the Canadian closed tournament, had them agog with a Stuart plaid skirt and a matching plaid "behop"—that's a cap.

And youthful Buttons Cosgrove, of Sand Point, NC, looked like a candy-cane in her red-and-white-striped T-shirt and turquoise skirt. Blue and white saddle shoes completed her ensemble.

The men, by the way, have also done themselves proud. Take Jock McKinnon, Capilano's pro, who has started the competitors from the first tee every day.

The ruddy-faced Jock sported heather-colored tweed plus-fours, electric blue socks and foulard Ascot scarf.

DOROTHY DIX

Man Prefers Golf to Wife Wife May Begin Own Games

DEAR MISS DIX: I am a golf widow. My husband is a good, clean, kind and generous man and I love him dearly. He probably loves me as much as he can anything but a golf ball. He plays every day after office hours until dark and, comes home too tired even to chat with me. I never see him at all on Saturdays and Sundays or holidays, I am young and naturally want to step out now and then. My husband encourages me to do this. One man in the group that I go out with is beginning to care for me too much and I am commencing to like him pretty well myself. I told my husband about this and he said he would trust me to the ends of the earth. But I am getting afraid of my self. I want affection and tenderness and companionship. My husband gives me none of these. I would be the happiest woman in the world if he cherished me as much as he does his bag of golf sticks. Won't you advise me?

NANCY.

ANSWER: You are not the one who needs advice. It is your husband who needs to be told that what he needs to improve is not his golf game but his matrimonial technique. If he doesn't he is slated to lose a perfectly good wife.

It is a fine thing for a man to have some sport or hobby, particularly one that takes him out of doors and gives him exercise, but when he lets that become his consuming passion and permits it to crowd out more important things, it becomes a vice that can ruin his life and that of his wife, just as much the drink or dope habits can.

If husbands would only play golf part-time and give their wives a portion of their Sundays and holidays, few wives would object. When it comes, however, to a woman having to spend every Saturday and Sunday and summer afternoons by her lonesome and having to listen to her husband's post-mortems on his game after darkness drives him home from the links, it isn't strange that wives rebel.

As for the complacent husband who believes that he can neglect his wife and that she is so much in love with him that she has eyes for no other man, one could smile at his egotism, were the consequences not sure to be disastrous. There is no fallacy greater than the belief that many men cherish: That once a woman loves a man she is bound to go on loving him, no matter how he treats her.

There is nothing easier than to starve a woman's love to death. Nor is there anything easier than for a man to win the love of a heart-hungry wife.

Nothing is ever really going to reform a golf hound, not even losing a wife or two, but the spectacle of forlorn golf widows should tip girls off to the danger of marrying one addicted to the ancient and honorable game.

DOROTHY DIX.

DEAR MISS DIX: I am 16 and have been married two years and have a baby. The trouble is I am a complete failure as a housewife and my husband has nagged the life out of me ever since we have been married. I have never had much fun and my heart and soul are starved for a good time. Please tell me what to do.

JUST A HAPPY-GO-LUCKY GIRL

ANSWER: We needn't put on any self-righteous airs about child-marriage in India when we permit it in our own country and let a girl of 14 get married. There should be a law to prevent such a crime and protect a girl against wrecking her life before it is fairlly begun.

The trouble with you, my child, is that you married too soon. And now you are crazy for the pleasures which you should be enjoying instead of being tied down by a house and husband and baby.

But it is the inexorable law of Nature that we have to pay for our mistakes, and there is nothing that you can do that will undo what you have done. True, you might divorce your husband and break up your home but breaking your marriage ties would not obliterate the memory of all that you have known and felt as a wife, nor would it ease your sense of guilt toward the man whom you would hurt and humiliate by leaving.

So you see you must pay the price of the blunder you made when too young to know what you were doing. The best thing that you can do is just to make up your mind to adjust yourself to the situation and make the best of it. Get what pleasure you can out of life and happiness out of your husband and baby.

As for being a good housekeeper, that is a matter of your own volition. There is nothing mysterious about it. Any girl who can read can learn to be a good cook in two months' time. Have enough spunk about you not to be beaten by a few pots and pans.

Every man has a right to expect his wife to make him a comfortable home and feed him properly and you will be a quitter and a coward if you don't do it.

Rich Simplicity Sets Off Latest London Fashions

By MURIEL NARRAWAY
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

LONDON, Aug. 26 (CP).—The highlight of London's Fall fashions is not so much new lines or length. It's the elaborate workmanship put into the most simple designs.

There is richness in the colors and materials used. Blouses in brocades, taffetas and slipper satins encrusted with elaborate patterns or embroidery give a look of luxury to simple suits.

Silk jersey and velvet have made a notable comeback in formal and afternoon and evening wear.

Stiebel's collection is noted for its blouses and waistcoat blouses. An elegant black suit has waistcoat blouse of old gold-and-silver brocade, patterned in cerise-colored flowers; a blue-grey worsted suit has a blouse of shot taffeta in wide brown and blue-grey stripes.

Blouse necklines are generally high with an artist's bow, a simple V-line filled in with a cravat, or are decollete. The V-line is often repeated at the back, sometimes lower, sometimes higher, than in front. Sometimes a shawl-collar is used having waist-length V at back

In dresses, Stiebel frequently achieves his effect by folding and refolding material. Fullness in the back is still favored.

Peter Russell uses what he terms "a disturbed hemline" in the form of a scalloped front or prolonged panel.

Louis XIV Designs

Bianca Mosca makes clever use of satins and damask in Louis XIV designs.

A lot of velvet is being used by all designers in coats, suits and dresses.

A slinky, heavily-ribbed black silk jersey with cowl collar is presented by Helena Geffers. Of full length, with pencil skirt and tan pigskin belt with twin buckles and chain trimmings, it makes an easy and comfortable-looking dinner dress.

Molynex shows many suits and dresses with straight, tight skirts —length about three inches below the bend of the knee at back. His full-skirted dresses are mid-calf length.

There are spectacular coats cut from a complete circle of material with sloping bottle shoulders and deep shawl collars.

Helena Geffers gives a Napoleonic collar buttoned at eye-height on a black and brown check coat with fitted waist and loose, sloping shoulder-line.

Creed, Stiebel and Mosca give loose topcoats with plenty of full-ness and a variety of high collars.

Digby Morton has some specially good designs. Although fitted, they are roomy enough to go over a suit but without unnecessary bulk.

Many coats and suits have deep cape-like collars and fur trimmings are definitely back.

Millbrook Girl On Staff Youth Caravan

MILLBROOK, Aug. 26 (ENS).—Miss Margaret Smith, the first member of the Golden Links Mission Circle of St. Andrew's Church to enlist for full time missionary or social service work, has had an interesting summer travelling with the Christian Youth Caravan. It is the first time the United Church has tried this project and there were three caravans sent out: one to Northern Saskatchewan, one to the Maritimes, and the one in which Miss Smith worked which visited new housing areas in Southern Ontario.

There were four other members of the Ontario team: Miss Evelyn Oldham, Iona Station; Miss Hope Weber, Preston; Miss Golda Vanclief, Lombardy, and Miss Susan Powell, Port Hope.

Took Course

Before going out on the 2nd of July the girls were given a week's intensive training under Rev. A. M. Oaten of Brantford, in the sort of work they would be called upon to do. Three of the girls, Misses Smith, Oldham and Weber, had already had a year's study at the Training School in Toronto. They did survey work in new housing areas, and took part in church services as well as conducting vacation schools in Burlington, London and Belleville.

In each place the schools lasted for two weeks; in London there were two schools conducted, one in the morning and one in a different church in the afternoon, one in a new housing district and one in a poorer section of the city. The school in Burlington had two hundred pupils in attendance.

The pupils did handwork, sang songs and played games under supervision. The older ones had study periods and played games, did handwork and took manual training. The children ranged in age from 5 to 12.

Ask Permanent Body To Direct Conservation

PORT ARTHUR, Aug. 26 (CP)—Creation of a permanent body to direct administration of conservation of natural resources in Ontario was advocated Thursday night in a joint brief submitted to a sitting of the conservation committee of the Ontario Legislature here.

The brief was prepared by a committee "representing citizens of Thunder Bay district."

The brief touched on many phases of conservation but laid particular emphasis on forestry problems. It urged establishment of a marketing board to assist in profitable distribution of base forest products and multiple purpose utilization of forests.

Reds 140 Miles From Canton City

CANTON, Aug. 26 (AP)—Communist forces today pushed to the Kwangtung border.

A Nationalist army spokesman admitted the southwestern Kiangsi town of Lungnan had fallen to the Communists.

(Privatereports, which are reliable, said Kiennan and Tingnan, too, had been taken by the advancing Communists.)

(This would put the Reds within 140 miles or less of Canton, the provisional Nationalist capital, and on the Kwangtung province border. Canton is the provincial capital of Kwangtung.)

About 19,000 Communist troops were said by the Nationalist to be hammering at the border points.

The attack rolled up along roads which lead south of Kukong, an important railway point 125 miles north of Canton.

(This drive could isolate Kukong and roll direct on Canton. Military observers in Canton regard Kukong so highly as a defence point that they say when it is attacked the battle for Canton itself has begun.)

Bail Set At $3,000 In Post Office Charges

Patrick Gahagan was remanded for trial until Sept. 8 on $3,000 bail by Magistrate R. B. Baxter in police court Friday morning.

Gahagan is faced with two charges, one of stealing $8 from a letter and the other of stealing letters from the post office. He had been an employee of the post office only a few weeks.

Represented by W. J. Arthur Fair, Gahagan reserved his plea and whether or not he would elect trial by a magistrate or by a judge and jury.

The maximum penalty is life imprisonment and the minimum three years in jail on conviction on either of these charges.

POSTED TO I.C.A.O.—Wing Cmdr. W. P. Pleasance, DFC and Bar, of Calgary, has been appointed RCAF liaison officer to the International Civil Aviation Organization. Senior staff officer of the Air Transport Command before his new appointment, he led the RCAF's 419 (Moose) Squadron on heavy bomber raids during the Second World War.

Alberta Gets 2 Million For Petroleum Leases

EDMONTON, Aug. 26 (CP) — The Alberta government is more than $2,800,000 richer as a result of the sale of petroleum and natural gas leases for 2½ sections of land in the rich Redwater Oil Field about 35 miles northeast of Edmonton.

Mines Minister Tanner announced Thursday night that petroleum companies purchased the leases to nine quarter-sections in the field. Bids for five other quarter-section lots were rejected.

Included in the sale was one parcel to British American Oil Co., Ltd., for $902,800, largest single price to be paid for any single quarter-section in the sale.

The sale was carried on behind closed doors.

Tweed Victorious

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 25 — (ENS)—Tweed came through with a decisive victory over Campbellford by 14-9 in the second game of the second round in the OASA semi-finals Wednesday night in Tweed's Memorial Park. This makes a third game necessary which will be played in Campbellford Friday at six p.m.

Robertson started on the mound for Campbellford but was relieved early in the tussle by Anderson.

When Anderson took over the bases were loaded with two men down. He worked himself out of a tough spot by striking out the third man. When Tweed put on a rally in the fourth Crosson stepped on the hill and held Tweed to one run during the remainder of the game.

Hughes hurled stellar ball for the homesters until the end of the eighth when Lessard took over. Herrington it a homer in the seventh. The best play of the game was a spectacular catch by Cotton in left field off the bat of Herrington.

CLOUDLESS RAIN

In tropical countries mist or very fine rain sometimes falls from a cloudless sky. It is caused by cooling of the water vapor in the air and usually occurs after sunset.

Local Entry Sweeps Heats For 2.30 Harness Horses

Charlie Quinlan's local pacer, Peter G. Lee, took all three heats in the 2.30 class yesterday afternoon at the Exhibition to open the three-day harness horse racing meet. Mr. Quinlan is chairman of the racing committee, but he did not drive his horse, Harry Ingles being up on the bike.

Judges were Albert Juby and William McQuigge; timers being W. E. Dunn and J. C. Thompson; with David Fleming course clerk; Cameron Bunnett the announcer.

Swept Heats

In the 2.24 class at night, Royal Henley, owned by H. Proudfoot, of Gatineau, Quebec, and driven by C. McMillan, won all three heats in good time after close competition. The 2.15 pace was especially keen with Silk Grattan, C. W. Hodgson's pacer, of Haliburton, driven by Dave Dowson, taking two firsts and a third, as another Gatineau horse, Jimmie Mc, owned by A. W. Simpson, and handled by M. Miville, was first, second and third. Times in this hot race were 2.13, 2.14 and 2.15, the half twice being clocked in 1.05.

Hugh Davis, of Peterborough, withdrew his entry, Parsons, from the 2.15 and lodged a protest, claiming Silk Gratton was not entered in time. Its owner replied that the entries had been re-opened after Aug. 15. At the finish of the final 2.15 heat, a warm argument took place before the judges' stand, Dave Dowson claiming the French-Canadian driver of Jimmie Mc had rammed his bike wheel, and the latter saying that Dowson had whipped Jimmie Mc across the face. The judges looked at the horse's face but took no action. The results:

Try Sudbury Area For Cobler Killer

TORONTO, Aug. 26 (CP)—The relentless police search for William Adams, a patent-medicine dealer at St. Catharines wanted for the slaying of his cobbler-father, is concentrated in the Sudbury area, Toronto police said today.

Police revealed that available information has led them to believe Adams is in hiding somewhere in Northern Ontario. They declined to give further details.

Adams is sought on a warrant charging him with the slaying of his father, John Samborski, 51-year-old shoemaker, whose battered body was found Aug. 15 in a shallow cement-covered grave in the cellar of his shoe-repair shop. He had been missing since July 18.

Get Guided Missile To Protect Bomber

WASHINGTON, Aug. 26)AP).—Dr. Karl T. Compton said Thursday night that the United States is developing an "exceedingly important" guided missile which the B-36 can use to protect itself against speedy jet fighters. Compton, chairman of the Defence Department's Research and Development Board, spoke in a broadcast with Sumner T. Pike, Commissioner of the United States Atomic Energy Commission. Compton said his board is supervising research on four general classes of guided missiles that "are in various stages of development." He described as exceedingly important the "air-to-air" missile, "which may well become the principal artillery of air combat."

VANCOUVER, Aug. 26—(CP)—There were just four golfers left today in the quest for the Duchess of Connaught gold cup—emblematic of the Canadian Women's Open Golf Championship—one Canadian and three American stars.

Babs Davies, of Vancouver, 24-year-old Canadian ladies' closed champion, meets 21-year-old Gracie DeMoss, of Corvallis, Ore., this afternoon in one of the semi-final matches.

And defending champion Grace Lenczyk, of Newington, Conn., takes on Mrs. Marian Herron, of Portland, Ore.

Miss Davies came through gamely with a one up 19th hole victory over 16-year-old Pat Lesser, sensational young golfer from Seattle.

Suicide Pact

BELLE PLAINE, Ia., Aug. 26—(AP)—The bodies of a Chicago couple and their two small children were found in an automobile in a lonely spot near here yesterday. 15-Ton Vessel Sails Down Brantford Road

BRANTFORD, Aug. 26 (CP)—A 15-ton lake vessel "sailed" through this inland city Thursday with nary a shiver in her timbers.

The sight of the 50-foot Phoebe Queen of the Lake of Bays in Ontario's Muskoka district, sailing the highway startled residents until a second look showed them the truck transporting her.

John Weiant of Newark, Ohio, bought the boat from Cameron Peck of Baysville, Ont. He decided that trucking was the best way to get the 365 miles southwards from Baysville to Lake Erie, where she can be sailed to Ohio.

The Phoebe is believed to be the largest Ontario lake boat ever moved so many miles in one piece.

Locked In Cells

DEER LODGE, Mont., Aug. 26 (AP)—Things were quiet at the Montana State Prison today after the 510 inmates were locked in their cells following a sitdown strike. The strike, Warden Lou Boedecker said, was started on Tuesday night by about 18 agitators who demanded more "good time"—time off from work. Boedecker said he believed most of the men would go back to work today.

Leafs Trounce Buffalo In 5-3 Triumph

By The Associated Press

Jocko Thompson, 29-year-old lefthander with Toronto Maple Leafs, has one of the best pitching records in the International League and it would probably be even more impressive if he had been with the Leafs all season.

Thompson started the season with the parent Philadelphia Phillies. He joined the Leafs in May and won six games and lost two by June 28th.

Recalled by Phils, Thompson spent almost a month in the big time before being sent back to the Leafs. He immediately continued where he left off and rolled up seven straight victories to extend a winning streak to eight games.

Thompson posted his 14th of the season against three losses last night in a relief role as the Leafs turned back the leading Buffalo Bisons 5-3.

Thompson took over from Bubber Church in the seventh with the Leafs trailing 3-2. He held the the Bisons hitless for two rounds and bowed out in the ninth during Toronto's three-run game-winning rally against 16-game winner Bob Hooper.

The Bisons nicked Church for all of their runs in the first, George Byam climaxing the spree with his 18th homer. Chet Laabs belted his 20th in the fourth for Toronto.

Maintain Lead

Despite the loss the Bison's maintained their 4½-game lead over Rochester Red Wings. The Wings lost a 5-4, 11-inning struggle to Montreal Royals. Triples by Rocky Bridges and Kerhut Wahl featured the Royals' winning rally. Russ Derry slammed his 38th homer for Rochester early in the game.

The last-place Newark Bears upset the Jersey City Giants 5-4 in 13 innings. Gail Henley's error allowed Gene Walla to score the winning run. Fred Gerken sent the game into overtime with a three-run homer in the eighth inning.

Syracuse Chief won a doubleheader from the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles, 5-4 and 8-3. Johnny Hetki bested 21-game winner Al Widmar in the opener to gain his 15th triumph. Bud Byerly coasted to his eighth triumph in the nightcap.

Westclox Tie Series

Westclox evened their semi-final series last night with Quakers at a game each by winning 8-2. It was tied 2-2 in the eighth when Westclox finally got their batting eyes to drive Horton out and also hit Ash. They scored five runs, adding another in the eighth. Quigley pitched well. Catcher Millar of the Clockers led at bat with four in four tries, with Watson, Morin, McDonald, McMasters and Guerin each getting two safeties. Nolan topped Quakers with three for four. The deciding game will be at 6.30 p.m. Monday at the Quaker diamond. Teams:

Westclox: Watson, Morin, McDonald, McMasters, Guerin, Quigley, Casey, Heffernan, Millar, Donoghue.

Quakers: Prescott, Isaac, Nolan, Shaughnessy, Weisenberg, Land, Hughey, Ash, Horton, Miller, Lomax.

Plane Beats Stork

DENVER, Aug. 26 (AP) — A United Airlines passenger plane beat the stork to Stapleton airport yesterday, but only by minutes. Mrs. Bernard Bettinger, en route to her home at San Diego, Calif., gave birth to a son moments after the airliner landed. Passengers were hustled off the ship and Dr. L. C. Benesh hurried aboard and performed the emergency delivery.

LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Tonight at 7.30 p.m. men's rinks. Draw from the board.

Saturday night, also at 7:30 o'clock the Family Hour mixed rink tournament.

The game of "spider" played prior to the tournament on Wednesday went over big. The kitty is placed in the centre of the green, the players line up on the four sides, and each toss one bowl towards the kitty. The bowl coming nearest wins. This was won by Mrs. Creber, Cannington. H. Coleman kindly donated the prize. When eachp layer tossed two-bits on the drumhead, the neat sum of $27.50 was realized. This goes to the War Veterans' Hospital to buy lawn bowls and other bowling equipment.

The three pairs of Nylon hose donated by A. Black were won by: Mrs. Livingstone, Cannington; Mrs. Hovey, Toronto; Mrs. Armstrong, Barrie.

Looking over the statistics of the Black Memorial tournament we find that only 10 points separated the 12 three-game winners; that we had 26 man and wife combinations entered; that Jack Fitzpatrick and partner scored as many points in one game as some pairs scored in all three games; that the two prize winners for no wins scored more points than some of the two-game and one-game winners that this tournament is increasing in popularity. Already for next season, Chairman Wm. Jeffries has received 10 outside entries.

CRACK DOWN ON LIQUOR VIOLATORS

HISTORICAL COLLECTION—The greatest collection of German documents, manuscripts and books in the Western Hemisphere is assembled in a basement room of an army building in Ottawa. Col. C. P. Stacey, Canadian Army historian, expects a study of the more than 15,000 volumes will reveal hitherto unknown facts about the German military machine.

Nazi Documents, Books In Rare Ottawa Collection

By HAROLD MORRISON

OTTAWA, Aug. 27—(CP)—A bulging collection of German manuscripts, documents and books, captured by the Canadian Army, may yield hitherto unknown information about Hitler's world-threatening Nazi forces. Made up of more than 15,000 bound and unbound decrees, statutes, army orders, books on race theory and military history, the collection lies in a subterranean hall of a mid-Ottawa army building.

A Princeton University professor of history, Gordon Craig, made a month's study of the tons of volumes and told Col. C. P. Stacey, Canada's army hisorian, the collection is the most complete of its kind in the western hemisphere.

The collection was captured by Canadian Army intelligence officers under the direction of Col. Peter Wright of Toronto, Director of Army Intelligence Overseas during the latter part of the war.

Kept Men Busy

Col. Wright, now practising law in Toronto, once confided that he had a lot of men under his command in Germany at the end of the war. They had little to do and thus the collection idea was born.

The volumes were drawn from a number of German centres, crated and shipped to Canada, ending up finally under the care of the Army Historian.

Busy writing the history of the army during the last war, Col. Stacey has had little chance to make a thorough study of the collection, but what study he has made has led him to believe the Germans may have been the greatest military research workers of our age.

"They made military business a national sport," he said in an interview. The volumes, he is sure, hold some of the secrets of what made the Germany army tick, what made it stand up and fight even when it knew it was defeated.

Make New Gains Against Canton

CANTON, Aug. 27 — (AP) — Chinese Communist troops, hurled back on the front north of Canton, have returned to the attack and have made new gains, the defence ministry admitted today.

The ministry said the Manchurian veterans of Red Gen. Lin Piao have recaptured Anhwa, 90 miles west of Changsha on a sector of the front more han 370 miles north of this refugee capital.

Nationalist troops stationed at that northwestern outpost position retired and fighting still is in progress in Anhwa's southern suburbs, the ministry reported.

There was no news from the front closest to Canton. That is on the northeast where the Reds are 140 miles or less away.

Official dispatches said that an armored division was being sent to the defence of Amoy. This major Nationalist port on the southeast coast is threatened by a Red drive from the north.

Private reports said that Chuanchow (Tsinkiang), on the coast 45 miles northeast of Amoy, had fallen to the Reds.

Hard To Gate-Crash Gov't Dinners Now

LONDON, Aug. 27—(CP)—It's hard to gate-crash a government dinner these days. Prime Minister Attlee has made sure of that.

Sir Eric Crankshaw, in charge of government hospitality for 20 years, told a parliamentary committee how Attlee acted to reduce the number of people who go to official functions just for the ride.

"We used to keep a list of possible guests," Sir Eric said, "but Mr. Attlee ordered that only persons essential to a delegation or visitor should be asked.

"In the old days, we had some experience of what we used to call joy-riding."

Now there are fewer women at government dinners.

"If there are ladies in the delegation, we invite ladies to meet them, but as a general rule we have no ladies at luncheons and dinners."

Sir Eric disclosed that a government "butler" keeps an eye on waiters at official gatherings.

"We make sure that waiters do not get away with bottles," he said. "Before, they were opening a dozen bottles and only pouring out half, and at the end there would be a d ozen half-empty bottles."

Import Ban Hinted After Deficit

Find Trade Balance Drops Sharply, U.S. Buying Down

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Canadians may be in for further restrictions on imports from the United States as a result of the trade situation.

Reason is that Canada has been buying a lot more goods from the U. S. than she has been selling in return. The disparity between the imports and exports is getting larger and, as Trade Minister Howe has intimated, further restrictions may be in store to curb the flow of imports.

The Bureau of Statistics reported yesterday that Canada's favorable trade balance with the rest of the world dropped sharply during the first six months of this year.

That meant that while Canada is still selling more to the rest of the world than she buys from it, the margin is not as great as in recent years.

In the six-month period Canada exported $1,438,400,000 worth of goods. In the same period of last year exports were $1,418,800,000.

Total Canadian imports during the period were $1,409,400,000 compared with $1,270,100,000 last year.

Thus, while both exports and imports were higher, the incoming flow of goods was higher. The favorable trade balance was $15,200,000.

But the unfavorable balance with the U. S. was $308,300,000 That adverse balance was the highest for a half-yearly period since 1947 when it hit $488,000,000. The situation at that time led to sharp restrictions on imports to coiserve the dwindling supply of U. S. dollars.

The adverse balance of $308,300,000 with the U. S. this year compares with an adverse balance of $228,200,000 in the first six months of 1948. In pre-war years the average unfavorable balance was $55,100,000.

Caanda's favorable balance with the United Kingdom continued to decrease. The balance amounted to $174,200,000 as against $220,900,000 in the first half of 1948 and $269,000,000 in the corresponding period of 1947. In pre-war years the average favorable balance was $93,100,000.

Report Two Killed In Highway Crash

NIAGARA FALLS, Ont., Aug. 27—(CP)—Two Hamilton youths were brought to hospital here for treatment today following a highway accident near St. Catharines in which two other residents of Hamilton were reported to have been killed.

The men reported dead are Robert Sharpe, 19, and James Haines, 20.

Brought here suffering from shock were Douglas Halliwell, 20, and William Tait, 18.

No details of the accident, which occurred on the Queen Elizabeth Way near St. Catharines, were immediately available here.

Cloudburst Hits Ottawa Trees, Barns Knocked Down

OTTAWA, Aug. 27 (CP)—Trees were uprooted, barns and silos blown down, fires started and power and communications disrupted by a two-hour rain and hail storm which cut through the Ottawa district Friday.

The storm, which came up about 5 p.m, following a hot, sultry day in which the temperature rose to a record 94 for Aug. 26 in Ottawa, cut a path about five to 10 miles wide from Arnprior and continued eastward in the direction of Montreal.

Property damage is expected to run into thousands of dollars as a result of the cloudburst accompanied by winds which at one point reached 66 miles an hour.

In Ottawa, at least four transformers of the Ottawa, Light, Heat and Power Company and the Hydro Electric Company were struck by lightning and put out of commission.

The Ottawa district's four radio stations were off the air during the cloudburst for periods varying from four minutes to three hours and 20 minutes.

Six Ottawa Transportation Commission trams were struck by lightning although only one was disabled.

More than 50 trees were uprooted in Aylmer, Que., where windows were broken by hailstones and boats washed up on beaches.

Will Outwit Snoopy

OSCEOLA, Wis., Aug. 27—(AP)—Snoopy the heifer waited today for a dozen loads of green corn to lift her out of her silo cell.

Farmer Everett Lampman has decided that's the easiest way to recover his 650-pound Holstein headache. Snoopy dived through a 20-by-30-inch opening in the silo Wednesday and fell 12 feet into the pit.

Lampman, who has been keeping Snoopy streamlined with a rationed diet of hay and water, thinks it will take most of the day to "float" her. He and several neighbors will do the job, with one in the silo tramping the corn as it falls in.

Snoopy won't be able to nibble at her luscious surroundings. Lampman has devised a muzzle for her.

Fair Attendance Hits 34,448, Will Set Record

Total attendance at the Exhibition soared to 34,448 on the Friday crowd of 12,730, leaving a margin of only 1,122 to be overtaken for a postwar record.

The figures for paid attendance at the gates for the three days this week were: Wednesday (Children's Day), $10,940; Thursday 10,778; Friday 12,730.

The comparative figures for last year are available for only the last three days of the week: Thursday, 9,000; Friday, 14,570; Saturday, 12,000. Total for the Fair of 1948 was 35,570.

If today comes through with another 10,000 crowd, the 1949 total will pass the 40,000 mark.

A brief thundercloud with a sprinkle of rain Friday evening may have dampened the enthusiasm of some of the citizens who had been planning their trip to the Fair for Friday night, but that threat was not taken seriously as indicated by the crowd that packed the grandstand to overflowing.

Grand Support

President Hugh Stewart said Friday night it was grand support from the people of the city and district, including Peterborough county.

"We are only down a little over 1,000 from last year, and we have Saturday to pass that mark with lots to spare, if we get the same kind of weather," Mr. Stewart said. "The directors are delighted with all the goodwill the public has shown both in attendance and exhibits, but I think we'll save our expression of appreciation to the end of the Fair. But, I do wish to say that we are all grateful for the friendly spirit that has been shown, and everything has gone along without any mishap."

Will Investigate Swinging Lead

LONDON, Aug. 27.—(CP).—An investigation is under way to determine whether British workers are swinging in the lead.

Sick pay has cost the Supply Ministry £1,250,000 ($5,000,000) in the last 10 months and the governmetn wants to know whether the outlay is justified.

Under the national insurance plan, the 60,000 workers in the minstry's royal ordnance factories are allowed full pay for 13 weeks a year during sickness. In event of illness for a further 13 weeks, half pay is drawn.

Workers often draw extra funds from special "sick clubs." This means that some are better off when sick than when working.

As part of the government investigation, personal appeals will be made. Jack Jones, parliamentary secretary to the supply ministry, is visiting 20 of the more important factories for heart-to-heart talks wtih workers.

"I am reminding them on behalf of the government that if they exploit the national insurance scheme it is at the expense of the decent fellow," said Jones, a former steel worker.

Since national insurance went into effect July 5, 1948, sickness-benefit claims by royal ordnance employees have increased by about 20 per cent. The amount of time taken off also has increased.

151 Requests For Licences Been Refused

Only Hotels To Get Bar Permits, Judge Robb Indicates

TORONTO, Aug. 27 — (CP)—The Ontario Government re-emphasized yesterday its intention to deal sternly with those who violate liquor-selling regulations and indicated the number and type of licences granted from now on may be limited.

Premier Leslie Frost warned license holders to get out of the business if they could not meet all requirements.

His warning came in a statement issued simultaneously with one from Judge T. W. Robb, chairman of the Ontario Liquor License Board.

The Board had just refused to grant 151 applications for liquor licenses.

Fourteen were allowed and 12 others were deferred.

Judge Robb said the Board "is not favorable to granting further lounge licenses outside of bonafide hotels, but feels there is a good deal of merit in the dining room license and dining lounge license." The matter will be given further considération, he said.

Sunspend 6 Licenses

The Government policy was further expressed in an announcement that six liquor liecnses in the province have been suspended indefinitely for violations of regulations.

Judge Robb declared the Board will immediately open 'a full review of existing licenses and review of conditions," to help achieve a higher standard of service to the public.

Premier Frost told operators of drinking places it was "not their business to push sales and it is most certainly their duty to prevent drunkenness, disorder and sales to minors on their premises."

C.C.F. Council Holds Parley

OTTAWA, Aug. 27—(CP)—The National Council of the CCF party will meet here Oct. 1 and 2 to take action on a national executive resolution urging a three-year program of organization and education.

The council, made up of party representatives from various parts of the country, will study the resolution passed by the executive at a meeting here last month. The resolution recommended to the council that the CCF undertake "immediately a three-year program of organization and education, the first step of which is the launching of a financial campaign to raise a minimum of $150,000 during the next year and the appointment of a full-time national treasurer to organize the campaign."

The current issue of "Across Canada," the CCF's monthly publication, states the $150,000 would be used exclusively for organization and education. It would be in addition to the normal expenditures of the CCF nationally, provincially and locally.

The publication adds:

"It was pointed out during the executive's discussion that the next three years would be relatively clear of elections, except for the Manitoba provincial election. Thus freed from election campaigns the resources of the entire movement could be concentrated on the three-year expansion drive."

Five On Plane Killed In Crash In Congo

LEOPOLDVILLE, Belgian Congo, Aug 27 (Reuters)—Five persons were killed today when a DC-3 aircraft crashlanded and burst into flames shortly after taking off from Leopoldville airport. Two were passengers and the others members of the crew.

The plane carried 16 passengers and a crew of four when it left Leopoldville airport on the regular run to Elisabethville, 1,000 miles away near the Northern Rhodesian border.

It crashed on the edge of the airfield.

Plant On Strike

AKRON, O., Aug. 27 (AP)—Workers in B.F. Goodrich Company's biggest plant went on strike at 12:01 a.m. EDT today. The Akron plant employs about 11,000 members of the United Rubber Workers Union (C.I.O.).

It was the first major rubber company strike since the war ended. Goodrich has around 17,000 workers in seven plants throughout the country and is a member of the so-called "Big Four" in the rubber industry.

Choppy Water Forces Wilson Postpone Trial

PICTON, Aug. 27. (CP)—Miss Canada IV, challenger for the world water speed record, bounded over Picton Bay this morning at an unofficial 150 miles an hour, well past the 141.7-mile-an-hour mark set 10 years ago. But it was just a trial and went for nothing.

Choppy waters forced the Canadian boat to postpone its attmept at the record for the third time in two days.

"We hit the start of the mile course at 150 miles an hour but we had to throttle down," Driver Harold Wilson of Ingersoll, Ont., said in an interview shortly after the dawn trial.

"The boat was bouncing and if we had kept it at that speed, Miss Canada would have ended the race empty."

Swells Too Rough

A southwest wind of about six to eight miles an hour prevailed but swells were too rough to make an official bid for the record set by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell over Lake Coniston, England, Aug. 12, 1939.

The sun had just peeked over the horizon when Wilson and his mechanic, Charley Volker, gave the $100,000 speedboat the gun.

Hundreds of early-rising spectators lined the cliffs overlooking the bay. They dispersed when official boats at the start and finish of the course headed for the short. That was the signal the attempt had again been postponed temporarily.

If Wilson is unable to make his run later, today he will get another chance tomorrow. Under American Powerboat Association rules challengers for the world water speed mark are allowed two days in which to make their attempt.

Although Wilson's deadline is tonight he has been granted a special one-day extension by the APBA.

Originally scheduled to try and crack the record yesterday he postponed his bid twice when a spanking breeze kicked up whitecaps.

He was afraid that if he made the attempt in rough water over the measured nautical mile here, the thin hull of his $100,000 beauty might not take the pounding she would have to absorb at high speeds.

"I'll wait for perfect conditions," he told reporters after making a leisurely motorboat inspection of the course.

The phlegmatic 37-year-old Ingersoll, Ont., speedster spent all day waiting. He wanted waves

Roaring Tropical Hurricane Rips Across Florida, Damage Reaches Millions

140 MPH Gales Smash Palm Beach Area
Radio Tower Falls In Lake
Storm Unroofs Houses, Uproots Trees

WEST PALM BEACH, Fla., Aug. 27—(AP)—A tremendous tropical hurricane today swept through Florida's rich citrus belt with millions of dollars in property damage already counted in the state. The storm cut a wide swath of destruction on its way to the heart of the peninsula after hammering the east coast and slashing through the Lake Okeechobee region. Then it moved on Lakeland The Palm Beaches were hard hit, and so was Belle Glade, on the eastern shore of Lake Okeechobee, where damage was estimated at more than $1,000,000 by town officials.

Up ond down the gold coast from Hollywood to Vero Beach—a stretch of 120 miles—the storm left houses unroofed, trees uprooted, shrubbery torn to ribbons.

Only one death was attributed to the storm. Andrew Jonkman, 20, drowned at Miami as he tried to swim ashore after purposely sinking his sailboat to protect it from the storm.

Property damage will run into millions, but no accurate figures were yet available.

140 M.P.H. Gale

The storm blew away the wind gauge at Belle Glade, a town on the southeastern rim of Lake Okeechobee, when it registered 140 miles an hour. It smashed the tower of radio station WSWN.

Damage in West Palm Beach was expected to reach several million. It was "extensive" in Palm Beach, where many lush estates were lashed by winds of 125 miles an hour sustained velocity and 150 miles in gusts.

At West Palm Beach, two companies of national guardsmen were called in to prevent looting and patrol the downtown sections of the city.

Topples Into Lake

Delray beach, further north, suffered heavy damage from 125-mile-an-hour winds. One occupied house in Pompano Beach collapsed. Some houses there were damaged.

The 196-foot twoer of radio station WJNO at West Palm Beach toppled into Lake Worth. Parking-meter heads were blown off standards and the $6,000 stained glass dome of the George Washington hotel bashed in.

The storm hit an area best prepared to withstand the battering. Hurricane-wise residents of the east coast, warned in advance by frequent Weather Bureau advisories and bulletins, took precautions for safety. Home and business places were shattered and barred and boats moved to safe moorings in rivers and canals. Storm shelters were opened in Miami, Hollywood, Fort Lauderdale, the Palm Beaches and in the Lake Okeechobee area.

Canada Needs Armed Power Not Paper Pledges—Crerar

TORONTO, Aug. 27 (CP) — General H. D. G. Crerar said today Canada has "no significant military power" to support her commitments to the western European Union and the Atlantic Pact.

The wartime commander of the 1st Canadian army told a warriors' day audience at the Canadian National Exhibition he could not believe that paper pledges unsupported by military power "will continue long to influence that grim and ruthless group of men who rule Russia."

Canadians are reluctant to accept the Dominion's increased military responsibilities, he said This reluctance was due to two widely-held misconceptions.

The first was that since our population is relatively small military preparations might more sensibly be concentrated on scientific research and production of war materials. The second misconception was that modern equipment and strategy has "outdated employment large masses of men in the armed forces." It followed that military training for young men would be "a senseless waste of time and money."

This opinion was contradicted by the policies of "our potential and powerful enemy, Russia," and those of Britain and western uropean counutries. These nations had introduced compulsory military training. Even New Zealand, a small nation compared with Canada, had decided to compel military training.

The initiative in the international situation "continues in the hands of these who rule Russia and in the Communist party there is no such thing as compromise except to temporize when confronted with evident superior force."

Lightning Bolt Knocks 2 Down Inside Kitchen

NORWOOD, Aug. 27—(ENS)—Mr. and Mrs. Allan Baker and their three children had a narrow escape from death or serious injury at 5.45 p.m. Friday when a bolt of lightning came through the back door at their home into the kitchen during the height of a thunderstorm.

The bolt knocked Mrs. Baker and four-year-old Dianne to the floor, rendering the former unconscious for several minutes and paralyzing her arms for some hours afterwards. The lightning just missed Mr. Baker by inches. He was washing his hands at the sink at the time.

Mr. Baker rushed his wife and daughter to the office of Dr. A. R. Atkinson, who treated them for burns and shock. Mrs. Baker's left hand is badly blackened and swollen and the joints are still very stiff.

The Bakers reside on a county road off No. 7 Highway in the first concession east of Norwood. The bolt did no damage to the house, but caused the hydro to be cut off for some time. Mr. Baker escaped injury, as did the other children, Bobbie, 3, and Linda Jean, six months. Bobbie said that he saw the bolt come through the door. "I don't want to see a ball of fire like that again," he commented.

The storm lasted for about an hour, accompanied by a heavy downpour of rain.

Careless Man Pays Firemen

SUDBURY, Aug. 27—(CP) — John A. Lonergan, Ontario land surveyor, of South Porcupine, was convicted Friday of failing to extinguish a camp fire in Natal Township, 30 miles east of Gogama, which spread out of control through 75 acres.

He was fined $25 and costs but will also have to pay the cost of fighting the fire, estimated at between $6,000 and $7,000. Under Forestry Department regulations, Lonergan will be required to pay 100 men at a wage rate of $6.50 a day each, plus the costs of food and transportation.

Blinding Fog Forces End Of Channel Swim

DOVER, England, Aug. 27. — (AP).—Blinding fog forced Mrs. Willi Croes Van Rijsel, 31-year-old Dutch housewife, to abandon her bid to swim the English Channel today after 17 hours.

The plucky Amsterdam woman, who was believed to have been less than two miles from her goal when she quit, took it in her stride.

Ashore an hour later she smiled and said "I am going to try it again."

Those who accompanied the swimmer said that by the time Mrs. Van Rijsel reached a point two miles off shore the fog was so thick they were no longer able to get their bearings.

"She was still swimming strongly," one aide said, "but there was danger we might lose her in the fog or that other boats groping ofr port might strike her."

Quebec Deficit $30,990,188 For Fiscal Year

QUEBEC, Aug. 27 — (CP) — Quebec had a net deficit in the 1948-49 fiscal year of $30,990,188.

Provincial Treasurer Onesime Gagnon Friday night published the fiscal figures for the year while Premier Duplessis announced a $15,000,000 loan.

Mr. Gagnon reported that Quebec, with total revenues of $194,469,247, had ordinary expenditures of $160,704,215. The year showed a surplus on ordinary account of $33,765,032, but capital expenditures of $64,755,220—of which $50,360,762 went to road building—reduced the surplus to a deficit.

Mr. Gagnon's statement contained the detailed figures on the fiscal term ended March 31. It was a revision of tentative figures presented to the legislature during the last session.

The net funded debt stood at $358,543,412, Mr. Gagnon said. He added that the "finances of the province are in excellent state."

Premier Duplessis told a press confecence that the province was borrowing $15,000,000 to pay off an earlier $10,000,000 loan matured last month and to settle other accounts.

Some of the loan money will go to reimburse the province's consolidated fund for $1,500,000 paid for the assets of the Quebec Pulp and Paper Corporation and for a grant of $1,500,000 to McGill University.

Fire Travel Ban Still Imposed

TORONTO, Aug. 27—(CP) — The forest-fire travel ban imposed last week in the Ontario districts applies to tourists, including hunters and fishermen, officials of the Provincial Fish and Game Department said Friday.

The ban, restricting all tourists to main roads in the danger areas, was imposed at the height of the forest-fire menace in the Timiskaming and Algonquin districts and the Timmins division of the Cochrane district. In these areas, the RCMP and forest rangers are enforcing the travel ban to interior points.

Officials said, however, that the ban in no way prevents tourists from using their fishing and hunting licences in other parts of Ontario.

At present, 113 fires are burning in the province but all are reported under control.

Stock Markets Dip This Week 1st In 8 Week

By The Canadian Press

Stock markets dipped this week for the first time in two months.

After nine successive weeks of advance, securities finally backed down in what many observers termed a "technical reaction."

The nine-week advance raised the price level to about the highest since early in the year.

Selling pressure had been appearing in intermittent bursts for two weeks but prices managed to fight their way into slightly higher ground until this week when they gave way.

General opinion of financial observers is that markets will move in a narrow range pending developments at the International Monetary Conferece, clarification of the fall business picture and labor demands.

Open On Downtrend

New York opened the week on a downtrend that picked up steam Tuesday. Light selling pushed prices sharply lower Tuesday as buying interest weakened. Prices checked their decline Wednesday, and then moved narrowly Thursday and yesterday. Slight appearances of selling tended to push the market easier.

The Associated Press 60-stock average remained steady yesterday but earlier losses sent it down to 64.1—a loss of .8 from the previous Friday.

Canadian markets followed the New York trend with mining issues attracting the bulk of trading activity.

In Toronto, industrials slipped irregularly to decline 1.31 on the Exchange's index from the previous week.

Golds climbed Monday to the highest price level since December, 1947, and then dipped sharply to record a loss of 3.25 over the five days. Activity centred in a few small issues that reacted to individual company news.

Gets Honorary Degree

OTTAWA, Aug. 27—(CP)—An honorary degree of Doctor of Laws will be conferred on Ontario's Lieutenant-Governor, Hon. Ray Lawson, at a special ceremony next December at the University of Ottawa. University officials announced Friday the degree will be conferred Dec. 7, and an official reception will follow in honor of the Lieutenant-Governor.

Law Course Delayed

OTTAWA, Aug. 27—(CP)—The University of Ottawa's new Faculty of Law will not be able to inaugurate its courses this fall, University officials said Friday. A special committee of Ottawa lawyers is working on a program of studies and on the formation of a good faculty staff.

Tri-Power Talks Under Way In Washington

WASHINGTON, Aug. 27 (CP)—Three countries go to work today on the grim problem of how to put Britain back on her economic feet.

And despite millions of words of speculation, there is a certain air of mystery as the long-heralded Anglo-Canadian-American financial talks begin.

What does each government think is the answer to this dilemma which experts say is just as important to North America as to Britain herself? What solution will the British suggest? What will Canada and the United States propose?

There has been talk of devaluing the pound sterling. Britain objects And of boosting the price of gold. The United States turns thumbs down on that one. Of letting Britain spend Marshall Plan dollars wherever she pleases. That could be expected to run into bigger criticism from the United States Senate. And scores of other unofficial ideas are being talked.

No Answers Yet

The answers are locked in the briefcases of high-level British, Canadian and American officials as they meet today for what may be one of the most important conferences in history. The whole world is watching as they lay the groundwork for further talks, scheduled to start Sept. 6, at ministerial level.

The conference will bring together Sir Stafford Cripps, chancellor of the exchequer, and Foreign Secretary Bevin, representing Britain; Canada's L. B. Pearson, external affairs minister, and Finance Minister Douglas Abbott; and Treasury Secretary John Snyder and State Secretary Dean Acheson of the United States.

Military and atomic matters likely will be discussed along with economic problems when the cabinet ministers convene. The talks of the advance parties, however, is simply to set the stage for the big fellows' study of the financial jigsaw.

Iron, Steel Industry Tops Export Target

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP)—Britain's iron and steel industry exceeded its export target last month despite a setback in other exports, the Board of Trade announced Friday night.

Exports for the month totalled £11,410,000 ($45,640,000) compared with a target of £10,500,000.

The board also reported that Britain's drive to cut prices of export goods failed to make headway in July.

The board said the price of goods exported during the month stood at 113 per cent of the 1947 average for the third month in a row.

review of the collection—known as the "Crerar Library"—shows the tremendous efforts put forward to eulogize Hitler, his lieutentants and the German army. Many of the others are filled with precise geo-political and military fact.

This demand for precision, a common Germanic trait, was kept up during the Second World War almost to the moment of defeat.

It appeared, said Col. Stacey, that once the administrative machien was started in Germany, no matter by whom, it went on and on, until changed by decree or else crushed by force.

A former Princeton University History Professor himself, he hopes that Canada soon may learn more about the German military machine through a minute examination of the collection.

He expects to start the investigation once he completes work on army history.

The collection, filling more than a dozen eight-foot shelves, is open to all university research workers.

Judge Fines 2 Preachers In Val d'Or Case

VAL D'OR, Que., Aug. 27 (CP) —Four persons, including two preachers, were found guilty and ordered to pay fines or given option of jail terms Friday night on charges of refusing to obey a police dispersal order while holding a religious service at the town's main street intersection Aug. 19.

Pastor Y. N. Hurtubise of Malartic and his wife, regarded as instigators by the court, were each fined $10 and costs or 15 days in jail.

The two others are Oean Malcolm Purcell of Val d'Or Baptist Church, who was fined one dollar and costs or three days in jail. And Eileen Veals of Noranda Baptist Church, also fined one dollar and costs or two days in jail.

All refused to pay the fines and were taken to municipal police cells here.

15-Day Term

A fifth man, L. T. Heron, pastor of Val d'Or Baptist Church, was tried and convicted last Saturday in connection with the case. He refused to pay a $5 fine and was sentenced to a 15-day jail term.

The trials of all four persons ended Thursday night and judgments were withheld until Friday night.

Mrs. Hurtubise, conducting her own defence, was ordered by the court not to continue with a statement that the arrests were made due to religious intolerance.

Prosecutor Philip Presner said all trials were based on a breach of a municipal traffic by-law which he stated had been proved through the accused's own admission that the meeting was held at Val d'Or's busiest street corner to attract a crowd.

It's Been A Long Time

ALBANY, N.Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—The first British warship to sail up the Hudson river beyond West Point in 170 years will visit Albany next month. It was announced Friday that the H.M.S. Snipe, a 300-foot sloop, would pay a courtesy call here Sept. 14. In 1779 the British sloop Vulture attempted unsuccessfully to get past the fortifications at West Point.

HOLLYHOCKS SHABBY

The hollyhocks have fallen upon their brown and shaggy days. The bloom that whorled about the slender stems in July served their purpose in the summer scheme of nature, leaving behind them pods packed with seed. The hollyhocks are bent and frowsy, mirrors of humanity going the same way.

FALSE ALARM

A rumor began at the Exhibition Grounds on Friday afternoon that a serious fire had broken out on the farm of Jack Stewart, Otonabee. Provincial Police reported to Mrs. Stewart that a blaze had started on the back of the property and she phoned the Exhibition Grounds for some help from the men folk. As it turned out it was only a stump which had been burning for three days and was emitting a black stream of smoke.

The Greatness Of Goethe

Tomorrow marks the two hundredth anniversary of the birth of Johann Wolfgang von Goethe. He was a man of such remarkably comprehensive, brilliant and profound intellect that it is hard to write about him without falling into pompous nonsense. He was a great poet and dramatist, a great novelist, essayist and philosopher, and a man of science; in addition, he was a master of practical affairs and a great government administrator; he had many love affairs, and the story of his personal relationships alone marks him as a man of uncommon capacities. In attempting to write even such a brief journalistic appreciation of Goethe as this one, it is not easy to keep one's head.

* * *

Anyone who wants details about Goethe can find several biographies of him on library shelves. The present writer cannot pretend to have read all, or even most, of these, but of those which he has read the earliest English life, by G. H. Lewes, is the best. Anyone who reads German with ease can, of course, turn to Goethe's autobiography "Aus Meinem Leben: Dichtung und Wahrheit"; a translation, called "Poetry and Truth" (from the second part of the title) is available in English, by John Oxenford. But what Goethe has to say to us is understandably best discovered in his imaginative and poetic works. It is unfortunate that really satisfactory translations of his writings are uncommon; the finer shades of Goethe's thought are not easily rendered in English. Nevertheless, translations are better than nothing, and to be entirely unacquainted with Goethe's works is rather like knowing nothing whatever of Shakespeare. There is a towering mountain peak in the world's thought which one has never seen, even on a cloudy day.

* * *

Even a superficial acquaintance with Goethe is out of the question if we look in his writings for confirmations of our own beliefs and prejudices. A modern reader, coming fresh to Goethe, will be a little surprised, perhaps, to find that Goethe is neither a democrat or a nationalist. Augustine Birrell said, "Goethe, politically, was a skunk"; this means only that Goethe did not share Birrell's enthusiasms. Goethe had little enthusiasm for German nationalism, and was an admirer of Napoleon at a time when Napoleon was Germany's worst enemy. He considered the world to which he belonged—the world of art and philosophy—to be above the world of political affairs, and Goethe's attitude established a pattern for the behaviour of German men of letters which lasted until the war of 1914, as Stefan Zweig tells us in his autobiography.

* * *

It must be emphasized that Goethe did not form his political opinions in an ivory tower. He was himself a bureau[illegible] of high rank, and virtual adminis[illegible] He knew politics from the inside.

* * *

And it was as a public official, also, that he formed his opinion of the average run of mankind. He was a believer in autocracy, because it was efficient, and also because he thought that it did the best job for the majority of people. It was often complained of him that he was cold and formal in bearing, and dictatorial in his dealings with inferiors. Beethoven, who was a republican of a somewhat romantic kind, mocked Goethe for his deferential attitude toward princes and potentates. But Goethe's political attitude was a thoroughly coherent, efficient and defensible one, and it was rooted in his opinion of himself.

* * *

Goethe, more than most of the great men in history, knew his own worth. There was nothing in him of conceit, for that implies an exaggerated estimate of one's capacities and importance. Goethe knew himself to be a great man, and he knew that no amount of struggle could make inferior men his equals. "One must be something in order to do something", he said. And again: "I often hear people say, 'If only thinking were not so difficult!' But the unfortunate thing is that no amount of thinking helps one to think; one must be right by nature so that all your good ideas stand before you like free children of God and call to you: Here we are!"

* * *

Goethe, when he was born at Frankfurt on August 28, 1749, seemed unlikely to live. But he lived to be eighty-two, and created more and worked harder than any but a very few men in history. But apart from the diversity and magnificence of his gifts, the most striking thing about his life is the nobility, the style, and the plan which it reveals. Like his own great drama "Faust" his life, under a wealth of apparent superfluities, shows a wonderful, steady progression. The promise of his youth was fully realized in his middle age, and his finest work crowned his old age. There was no decline, no hint of senility or failing powers. Perhaps the strangest thing about this remarkable man was his magnificent acceptance of the fact that he was extraordinary, and the intellectual power with which he compelled the world to accept him at his proper value.

A Footnote For the Eugenist

We cannot allow the second centenary of Goethe's birth to pass without commenting on the disproof which his life affords to the common theories of eugenics. Neither his father's nor his mother's family was robust, and his father was a nervous invalid. The child's beginning in life was therefore handicapped, and in addition he was born so feeble that for the first half hour of his life it was doubtful if he would live at all. Goethe's one son was a weakling of mediocre intellect, and his two grandsons were of less than ordinary capacity. And yet Goethe himself was a magnificent physical specimen; his good looks seemed to increase with age; he survived two or three very serious illnesses; he died at last at the ripe age of eighty-two. He was one of the noblest and greatest men the world has ever known and his spirit was matched by his body.

The life of Goethe shows us that a good heredity cannot always be relied upon to produce fine men and women, and that a bad heredity may nevertheless produce a genius. There are secrets of Nature which the eugenists have not yet probed. By forbidding the apparently unfit to reproduce their kind we may prevent weaklings from entering the world, but we may also bar the door to a Goethe. Eugenics is still far from being an exact science.

The House Needs This Good Conservative

It is to be hoped that J. M. MacDonnell, former Conservative M.P. for Muskoka, Ontario, contests the vacant seat of Toronto-Greenwood, and that he wins it. Mr. MacDonnell, President of the Dominion Progressive-Conservative Association and Opposition financial critic in the last House of Commons, is too valuable a man, too able and experienced a public servant, to be left outside the Commons.

He was defeated in the June Federal elections when he contested against Bucko McDonald the hockey player, the newly-amalgamated riding of Parry Sound-Muskoka. Mr. MacDonnell is a scholarly financier who gave up an important and lucrative business position so that he could devote his whole time to public affairs. He has served valuably not only his own party but also his country during his four years in the Commons.

The Conservative Opposition, now numerically weak, would be much strengthened if J. M. MacDonnell is returned to it, and the Government would benefit from his informed financial criticism.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A news note tells of the theft of a fireplace. Yes, the days are beginning to draw in, aren't they?

The Dominion Bureau of Statistics is already planning the next census, although it is two years away. The stork and the Grim Reaper are providing the usual interference.

A new campaign of research into the causes and possible cures of hay fever is announced. Thus, as the Windsor Star, remarks, rendering unto the sneezer the things that are sneezer's.

Eight billion germs congregate on every dollar bill. The idea that an equal number of tax-collectors do the same is an illusion; the number in that case is a mere eight thousand.

That Montreal judge who protests against instruction from government officials is on firm ground. Government interference with the courts through anything but the proper channels of legislation is to be resisted whenever it appears.

Towards A Pacific Pact

by O. M. GREEN

WHEN a Pacific Pact against Communism is born (as in many quarters it is strongly believed it must ultimately be) the honour of inventing it is likely to be claimed by General Chiang Kai-shek and President Syngman Rhee of Korea; but the real author will have been President Elpidio Quirino of the Philippines.

Before he left Washington from last week's visit, Quirino officially asked for United States co-operation in such a Pact, which he had already outlined in the U.S. Senate. He has approached the Australian Government for the same purpose, and will shortly approach Malaya, Siam and possibly India.

HE is the first to suggest a practical plan of action by that chain of South-East Asian strongholds against Communism which has been vaguely talked of ever since it became certain that the Chinese Communists would conquer all China. Military action (which for obvious reasons appeals most to Chiang Kai-shek and President Rhee) he abjures, except as may be necessary for internal defence against "fifth columns". Combined action by all Pacific Powers to restore prosperity and contentment among their restless, hungry peoples—that must be the basis of the Pact, the only effective defence against Communist pentration, as he emphasized again and again in America.

QUIRINO lacks the personal magnetism of Roxas, his old friend and predecessor, and the oratorical power of Jose Laurel, puppet president of the Philippines under the Japanese, but since pardoned and now a pushful candidate for the Presidency at the next election. But as a skilful lawyer he can state a case plainly and forcibly; and he is an excellent diplomatist, with first-hand knowledge of other countries drawn from a round-the-world tour last year to establish Legations abroad when the Philippines became independent. His speech before the U.S. Senate in which he expounded his vision of a Pacific Pact was an admirable piece of close argument, fired by the recollection of many bitter, personal experiences.

For three years, during the Japanese occupation of the Philippines, Quirino was imprisoned (for refusing to enter the puppet Government and for underground resistance), in Fort Santiago, grimly known as "the Japanese Inquisition Chamber". He saw his wife and three of his five children bayoneted to death by the Japanese.

HE has seen the Philippines brought to the verge of ruin by war; and now the rebellion in Central Luzon of the Hukbalahaps, which began as a local agrarian revolt, has become deeply impregnated with the Communism whose advance threatens the whole of South-East Asia.

❖ ❖ ❖

BORN in 1892, third of the nine children of a prison warder, Quirino worked his way through high school and the Philippines University and was called to the Bar in 1915. He practised for some time three years in the United States District Court in Shanghai, at a time when the Chinese Communist Party was particularly active in stirring up strikes and labour unrest. On his return to the Philippines he was admitted to practice in the U.S. Supreme Court. He also quickly made a mark in politics and was for a time secretary to that astute politician, President Manoel Quezon, "the old Master", from whom he probably learnt much.

WITH law and politics, Quirine combines a marked capacity for finance. He has twice been Finance Minister and is the author of a book on economics which, despite its repellent subject, has proved a best seller in the Philippines.

Short and rotund, with fleshy face, broad nose and sleek hair, Quirino is at once genial, approachable and cautious—though he did commit himself to the prophecy last summer that "a third world war is inevitable before Christmas".

He neither smokes nor drinks, is a devout Roman Catholic and has never re-married. His daughter Virginia, a lively girl only just out of high school when the father became President, plays hostess for him.

THE political world of the Philippines is still very unsettled, due to war damage to its industries—though hemp and copra have recovered and revenue from taxation last year was nearly four times what it was in 1946. Quirino evidently feels that he can do no better than implement the schemes of agricultural and land reform and industrialization drawn up by Roxas. He has largely checkmated the black market in rice and lowered the price of grain.

But the Hukbalahaps revolt is still "the running sore" of the Philippines and one of Quirino's first care as President was to ask the Philippines Congress for 1,000,000 dollars to intensify the campaign against the revolt.

SO far the U.S. State Department has said no more than that it is studying the proposed Pacific Pact carefully and it is unlikely to go farther while American commitments in western Europe still have to be settled. But many leading Americans are far from easy about leaving U.S. policy at the negative point at which it has arrived with Mr. Acheson's White Paper on China. No one in his senses would dream of advocating more military expenditure to bolster up the Kuomintang Government.

❖ ❖ ❖

IN China itself nothing can be done at least for the present. But economic help which would encourage China's neighbours to resist the allurements of Communism, expenditure which would fertilize their fields and bring some comfort in life to millions of small Asian homes, is a different matter; such aid would be both practical and constructive. Quirino's visit to Washington may yet prove a turning point in Asia's history.

GOETHE BICENTENARY

JOHANN WOLFGANG von GOETHE, greatest of German poets, was born two hundred years ago tomorrow, on August 28, 1749 in Frankfurt. The second centenary of the birth of this world genius is being celebrated everywhere, and is a reminder that Germany's political ineptitude has never prevented her from producing great men. Our leading editorial today is devoted to Goethe, and we also print translations of some of his best-known verses on this page.

A SELECTION FROM GOETHE—We print the following translations of some of the best-known poems of Goethe, not in any hope of giving our readers a conception of his poetical genius, but because these are, of all his works, most familiar to English-speaking people. They are heard at countless recitals and concerts, sung to musical settings by Schubert, Tschaikowsky and others.

THE BLISS OF SORROW

Never dry, never dry,
Tears that eternal love sheddeth!
How dreary, how dead must the world still appear,
When only half-dried on the eye is the tear!
Never dry, never dry,
Tears that unhappy love sheddeth!

THE ROSE

Once a boy beheld a bright
Rose in dingle growing;
Far, far off it pleased his sight;
Near he viewed it with delight:
Soft it seemed and glowing.
Lo the rose, the rose so bright,
Rose so brightly blowing!

Spake the boy, "I'll pluck thee, grand Rose all wildly blowing."
"Deftly overthrowing.
Thus the scheme thy wit hath planned"
Spake the rose, "I'll wound thy hand,
O! the rose, the rose so grand,
Rose so grandly glowing.

But the stripling plucked the red
Rose in glory growing,
And the thorn his flesh hath bled,
And the rose's pride is fled,
And her beauty's going.
Woe! the rose, the rose once red,
Rose once redly glowing.

THE LOVED ONE EVER NEAR

I think of thee, when the bright sunlight shimmers
Across the sea;
When the clear fountain in the moonbeam glimmers,
I think of thee.

I see thee, if far up the pathway yonder
The dust be stirred;
If faint steps o'er the little bridge to wander
At night be heard.

I hear thee, when the tossing waves' low rumbling
Creeps up the hill;
I go to the lone wood and listen, trembling,
When all is still.

I am with thee, wherever thou are roaming,
And thou art near!
The sun goes down, and soon the stars are coming.
Would thou wert here!

Knows my bereavement.

Shut here within my sorrows
Of joyless banishment

Me is now distant.
This burns, the searing grows
Through my heart rent.

Only who yearning knows
Knows my bereavement.

Knowest thou the land where citron-apples bloom,
And oranges like gold in leafy gloom,
A gentle wind from deep blue heaven blows,
The myrtle thick, and high the laurel grows?
Knowest thou it then?
'Tis there! 'Tis there!
O my true loved one, thou with me must go!

Knowest thou the house, its porch with pillars tall,
The rooms do glitter, glitters bright the hall,
And marble statues stand, and look each one:
What's this, poor child, to thee they've done?
Knowest thou it then?
'Tis there! 'Tis there!
O my protector, thou with me must go!

Knowest thou the hill, the bridge that hangs no clouds,
The mules in mist grope o'er the torrent loud,
In caves lay coiled the dragon's ancient hood,
The crag leaps down, and over it the flood:
Knowest thou it then?
'Tis there! 'Tis there!
Our way runs; O my father, wilt thou go?

Spring and summer and the autumn poured their gifts around the bard,
And, ere winter came to chill him, sound he slept beneath the sward.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Now when Jesus was risen early the first day of the week, he appeared first to Mary Magdalene, out of whom he had cast seven devils . . . After that he appeared in another form unto two of them as they walked, and went into the country . . .

Afterward he appeared unto the eleven as they sat at meat, and upbraided them with their unbelief and hardness of heart, because they believed not them which had seen him after he was risen. And he said unto them, Go ye into all the world, and preach the gospel to every creature . . .

So then after the Lord had spoken unto them, he was received up into heaven, and sat on the right hand of God.

And they went forth, and preached everywhere, the Lord working with them, and confirming the word with signs following. Amen. (Mark 16: 9, 12, 14, 15, 19, 20.))

Letters to the Editor

SAYS FOUNTAIN SHOULD BE PRESERVED

Sir: The members of the Council say that the fountain in Victoria Park is in serious condition, and should be destroyed. It is all tommy-rot for them to talk like that, because no matter how damaged its present condition, it is a thing of beauty. It can be made a thing of lasting beauty for less than $2,000. An active fountain would draw visitors from all surrounding districts, and countless people in the city will tell you that they would love to see it remain there.

Talk of the fountain being a danger to the youngsters climbing over it is absolute nonsense. If mothers allow their children to wander over it, what can they expect, and if it comes down to the fact that the mothers cannot keep their children from climbing over it, a suitable fence all round it could be erected at very little cost.

It is a downright shame to let it lie at waste for six years, and show little regard for the memory of two noted men who helped to make Peterborough; the Hon. George Cox and Mr. Jas. Stevenson, at one time mayor of the town and member of Parliament. They placed it there at their own cost. The Council's talk of pulling the fountain down is quite in keeping with the views of all the Councils that have been in office in Peterborough for the last fifty years. They have had little regard for the memory of the donors of the gifts of beauty. Other work of this kind has been left useless; the empty fountain in the cemetery and another one in the West End of the city. They pull down not their own doing, but the work of other people.

The chief thing, when all is said and done, is that the park would be a much more beautiful spot in this city, and it draws the attention of everybody who comes to Peterborough. Certainly the fountain would be a great asset to the city, if the Council could only see its way clear to keep it going. The cost would be a secondary matter entirely, and it would have the additional advantage of creating more life in the park, of drawing the public more and more to see its beauty. A reconsideration by the Council would rid the city of the offensive comment which has been created by the recent decision in connection with the fountain.

Yours,
CITIZEN.

PRAISES BRITISH HEALTH SERVICE

Sir: I would be glad if you would allow me to refute some of the statements made by Stewart Underhill regarding the working of the Health Service in Britain.

He states that "Mrs. Clay was hustled around with a callousness that would have shocked Mrs. Middleton." To put it mildly this statement is quite untrue, as, unlike Canadian hospitals and infirmaries which are profit earning institutions, similar establishments in Britain are staffed by competent nurses and doctors, and surgeons whose skill is unsurpassed anywhere in the world. These people treat everyone, rich and poor alike, in the most courteous, considerate and kindly manner.

My wife, child and myself were treated in different hospitals last year, and so great is the attention paid to each patients' slightest need that it is very unusual for patients to leave these establishmens without first personally thanking everyone for the wonderful treatment received.

Finally, I am not a Socialist, and, until leaving Britain last year, was secretary of the local Anti-Socialist, Progressive party in Glasgow. This, however, does not blind me to the fact that no where in the world is a person's health so well looked after as in Britain.

Britain, whether under a Socialist administration or otherwise will always see that rich and poor, high and low, black or white, will be well cared for in illness or extremity, and will still be Great Britain long after Underhill and his opinions have been forgotten.

Yours faithfully,
J. GILCHRIST.

A short drive north on Highway 28, just above Haultain, is worth your while, any holiday or Sunday. The Department of Highways tourist park on EEL'S BROOK, to give it the proper and better name, is surely one of the prettiest in the Province. With its spacious parking lot on the left and drive-in road on the right, a sizeable shaded point is underbrushed where several rustic picnic tables are spaced under the trees. There is also a community granite fireplace abuilding and the entire picture is restful and pleasing.

The Brook makes a right-angle turn at the park and falls under the highway bridge in a short rapids. If you are lucky you may see a black mallard duck skittering from one alder-root hideout to the other. And of course there are a few grass and water snakes, for why else would the stream have been called "Eel's" in the first place? They are harmless and do a tremendous amount of good and should be left alone.

The water is shallow at this time of the year, especially since the flow source has been dammed back at Eel's Lake last spring. But children find it ideal for swimming and being shallow it is pleasantly warm and the color of well-brewed tea.

The Darting Shadow Of A Trout

If you are the restless type, exploring north from the tourist park along either bank leads one through the deadfalls to a high red granite bluff. At its base a perfect gem of a rapids coils down about eight or ten feet, the still ultramarine water at the top breaking into taffy-colored skeins of fast water as it tumbles down through the rocks. The hot dry banks give out at high noon with that wonderful combination of odours, dry, ferns, sumac, and resinous evergreens. And if you walk warily, Indian fashion, you might see the darting shadow of a trout flashing for cover under some cool bank.

This beauty spot gives one some idea of the surprises that are awaiting the curious if a walk through the bush is not too much exertion. Eel's Brook parallels Highway 28 on the east side for miles from the lake of its source to Haultain, then swings east for six miles to empty into Upper Stony Lake on the Burleigh shore. In a few weeks autumn colors will turn it into a wonderland and well worth a circle on your calendar for a family outing sometime when you see the foliage changing over the countryside. Only one thing spoils the present scene; some thoughtless persons have stripped a clump of fine white canoe birches of their bark, leaving at least seven feet of dark brown skin exposed to quick rot.

New District Hunt Boundaries

As this column went to press last week a Government circular came to hand giving the fall shooting dates AND changes in district boundaries. The east-west Highway 7 boundary HAS BEEN ELIMINATED. In its place a line has been established running across the Province from Parry Sound to Pembroke following the line of the CNR through South Parry, Scotia, Whitney, Barry's Bay and Golden Lake, dividing north and south zones. In our district, south of the line, Ducks, Geese, Rails, Coots, and Gallinules may be taken between October 15th and Dec. 8th, inclusive, except in Essex County only, where the open season on geese is Nov. 7th to Dec. 31st. North and west of the line, NOT in our zone, the season is from Sept. 17th to Nov. 10th for the above birds. In both zones Wilson's Snipe may be shot between Oct. 1st and Oct. 31st, and Woodcock betwen Oct. 1st and Nov. 7th.

Bag limits are as follows: Ducks—7 per day, possession limit 14; Geese—5 per day, possession limit 10, season limit 25; Woodcock—8 per day, possession limit 16 and Wilson's Snipe—8 per day, season limit 50.

Now that the subject of dates comes up, this is the dope of the closing of the fishing season: Trout fishing closes on Sept. 15th, Pickerel and Bass on October 15th, and Muskies on October 1st. Why the Department sets different closing dates on various types of fish, we will never know. As the above dates show poaching is being encouraged instead of discouraged.

Hudson's Bay Company's historian, Clifford P. Wilson, writes me a poser. He was struck with the similarity of the name of our OTONABEE RIVER and the name of explorer Samuel Hearne's Indian guide MATONABEE. The river name is pronounced O-TAWN-abee, emphasis on the second syllable, CP.

Daughter Petunia fell in love with a pert puppy during a recent canoe trip to Young's Point. The nice man said he would give it to her on his way home to New York. Great excitement for a week and Pop was worn down to accepting another mouth to feed but NO FEMALES, remember! The puppy came yesterday with the nice man who brought its old blanket and worm capsules. It wormed into the family's hearts from puddle to puddle and will retain its original name, "Stony." The nice man turned out to be actor Bramwell Fletcher who plays at the Peterborough Summer Theatre and Stony was a "she." To spay or not to spay, THAT is the question.

By Monday morning several good catches were ... was taken in LOWER STONY, 27 pounds, by Fred Newell of Bradford, Pa., his first, off Ship Island Light. Another beauty, ½ a pound heavier, was boated by Robert Hesse of Washington, D.C., on DEER BAY, a mile across from Beachwood Lodge. Two more taken at extreme ends of CHEMONG LAKE went slightly more than 20 each; one to Mrs. Lydia Crowe of Bridgenorth, south of the Causeway and the other to Dwight Campbell of Pittsburgh, Pa., in the Upper Lake. Over on PIGEON LAKE proprietor Bruce Heidman of Pine Tree Lodge showed his guests how by landing a fine mess of pickerel, the largest scaling 8 pounds. In the black bass class, Bob Robson took a nice 4½-pounder casting. Down on the CROWE RIVER Mrs. Douglas Nobes had quite a tussle with a 16-pound 'lunge and landed it with her husband's help. One feels like playing down larger fish taken outside our district but that wouldn't be sporting, especially not to report on Fred Aikins, R.R. 2, Belleville, who brought in a 30-pound muskie from somewhere in the BAY OF QUINTE.

Column Goes Far Afield

Am really going to take this AFIELD column afield starting Monday, Aug. 29th, to accompany Members of the Legislative Assembly on their tour of Northern Ontario. The M.P.P.'s tour—and mine—will last ten days and cover an itinerary that will take me to many well-known spots I have visited before. Some of them are Sault Ste. Marie, Marathon, Fort William, Atikokan, Fort Frances, Sioux Lookout, Oba, Hearst, Kapuskasing, Cochrane, Timmins and Sudbury. Arrangements have been completed at the various stopping places for a good opportunity to see the important features of each community. Will be sending next week's column in from Heaven-knows-where. Au revoir for the time being.

Stubborn Child, Thief, RCAF Deserter, Local Boy Makes Good After Operation

Editor's Note: Here is a sad, sorry, true story of a Peterborough boy which has a happy ending. A local lad who led a normal childish life suddenly became recalcitrant, and began acting queerly. His idiosyncracies increased as he aged; he stole, he ran away, he was sent to reform schools where he acted well but came back again to harass his parents and to become involved again in senseless petty crime. He joined air force and army, deserted or was discharged after criminal actions. Doctors said that there was nothing wrong with the youth mentally that all he needed was "a firm hand." The father believed differently, and at last. . . Well, the story tells what happened. For obvious reasons names have been withheld. The story is printed here with the consent of the father, who is anxious that from his experience other Peterborough people will become aroused to the need for better mental health facilities in this district.

BY JACK BROWN.

Recent recommendations by doctors gathered in Peterborough to discuss the need for a mental health clinic in the city have led to the release of a story of heartbreak, heartache, and slim hopes. This is the story of a tormented boy, a patient father, and a mother with more than her share of worries and troubles.

There is a young man here who has finally started to lead a normal life after years of wrongdoing. When the boy was born, he was a normal happy child, never crying, always laughing. His mother and father were pleased with his good behavior—he woke at 5.30 in the mornings, and would laughingly play with his toys and games until his parents got up. As he grew he played like a normal child with the other children of the neighborhood.

When he was eight or nine years old, he was hit by a car. He lay unconscious in hospital for four days, with 27 stitches in his head, and a fractured leg in a cast. The doctors had no hopes of recovery, yet the lad pulled out of it. But he changed.

He Acted "Queer"

From then on, the boy was a "loner." His gregariousness changed to a mood of solitude, his disposition changed from normal to mischievious. His father says he acted "queer" at times. Then he started stealing, and was always in trouble. Not once did he get away with his deeds, because he never tried. There was no apparent motive for the thefts and there was never any attempt to cover up.

At the age of 14 the boy joined the army. He was billeted with an officer, and got along well until he stole some watches. The watches were found in the captain's room, torn apart, completely ruined. Again no apparent motive, no attempt to cover up. He was sent home.

Army officials classed the boy as stubborn—"just like an ox". He wouldn't do as he was told at times, and yet sometimes he was a good, smart, lad.

His father by this time was getting to the stage where he had had enough of the boy's actions, so he got him out of the army, and had him sent to the Bowmanville Training School. After a month, officials there said they couldn't see anything wrong with the boy, and after two months they wanted to send him home. While there, he worked at the supervisor's house, and although many opportunities of stealing were presented to the boy, he did not take them. He came home.

Pilfering and Desertion

After he had been living with his parents again for a while, his father threatened to send him back to the training school for refusing to obey. The stubborn streak came out again, and he said he'd like to go back. Instead he was sent to a Boys' Home in Toronto, and stayed there only two months. He ran away, was caught and sent back to Bowmanville once again. He was 15 years old.

The Bowmanville authorities sent him to a farm north of that town. Prior to this, he had joined the army again and the Bowmanville authorities took him out of uniform. He was well treated by the farmer and his wife, and unknown to the boy, they were depositing his wages for him in the bank, under the direction of the Bowmanville authorities.

The boy, felt to be completely trustworthy by the farmer, was left alone one day in the house. He took $45, which he considered to be rightfully his, in wages and fled. The police were called, and the boy was captured. During the night, in the heat of the chase, the police shot at him, but the bullet went through his pant leg.

By this time, the Bowmanville Training School had been taken over for a POW camp, and the boys was sent to the Boys' Training School at Guelph. After three months they could find nothing wrong with him, and wanted to send him home. The father said he wasn't to come home until he could learn to be polite and obedient around the house. All this time a nagging doubt was in the back of the father's mind—was the boy in full possession of his senses?

Under the direction of the Bowmanville authorities still, the boy took a job in Newcastle. He worked there four months, and went AWL from the job. He came home, and wanted to join the RCAF. He was still under age, but he still managed to get in. This was in 1943.

Into More Trouble

His Wing Commander said that "He is a smart lad, and there should be nothing to stop him in the RCAF". But suddenly he started to give trouble again. In charge of a detail, he accepted wallets and money from ten men to keep them safe, and then swore up and down he hadn't seen the articles. There was $96 missing in all.

While waiting for a hearing, he broke out of the guard room, and was recaptured. A search of his belongings revealed nothing, but when he was recaptured, he had $40 on his person.

He was to be court-martialed, but being underage, he was not legally in the forces, and was released on medical grounds, because three doctors had found a calcification on his forehead. On his discharge, instead of coming home, he ran to Toronto, and reenlisted in the army. He was sent to Petawawa, but he broke out and went over the hill. He forged a pass, a train warrant, and came home.

The military police picked him up, and took him to Morrow Park, where, for 14 days, they couldn't get a word or any work out of him. They sent him to Petawawa, to face another court-martial for breaking into the guardroom and stealing the passes. His father interceded again, and the boy was discharged on medical grounds —"acute nervous disease".

He married at 18, and went to the west to build a home on a quarter-section of land. He stayed six months, and left. He came home again, leaving his wife, and could not settle down. One night he got the urge to go back, so he put on what he had left of the RCAF uniform, found an officer's cap, and was all set to hitchhike back. He was caught by police before he had gone a block, and charge with impersonating an officer.

He was examined by two doctors, one from the Training School for Girls at Cobourg, and a local man. They found nothing wrong, and the court sent him to Whitby for 30 days for observation. At the end of that time, the Whitby doctors also found nothing wrong, other than that the boy was "extremely stubborn, and requires firm treatment."

The court was lenient, and placed him on 12 months suspended sentence, under his father's bond.

One month before the sentence was up, the father went to England. While he was away, there was trouble at home. The boy was incurring debt after debt through bad car deals. His mother refused to tell his father, because of the father's poor health.

Just two weeks after the parent came home from England in 1947, police picked the boy up for robbing a store. He was convicted, and sent to Burwash Industrial Farm for one year. The magistrate promise to see what could be done for the boy in the way of medical examinations, because the father was convinced by now, notwithstanding doctors' reports, that the boy was mentally ill.

Specialist Called

Through the magistrate's intervention in the case, a government specialist went from Toronto to examine the boy. And after all that time, he, at last found something wrong. He operated in January, 1949. Not even the boy himself knows exactly what was done, other than that there was

Sturdy Beautiful People Dance On Isle of Bali

By PATRICK O'DONOVAN

Editor's Note: The writer of this article has just returned from a tour of the Far East, which included the fabulous Isle of Bali in the Dutch East Indies. It lies just east of Java. In this, the first of two articles on Bali, Mr. O'Donovan writes of the Dance. His second article will appear next week on the Feature Page.)

Some chance has set one small island apart from all the others in the Southern seas. BALI is like no other place on earth. Here a race of sturdy and beautiful people worship gods that are strange to all their neighbours. And perhaps because these gods have been generous, life is not a rude struggle for existence, but men and women pass half their brief lives in carving and dancing and festivals and in living a complicated pattern of village ceremony around these little painted figures.

The island is covered with beautiful things that have been made by men who also work in the rice fields. There are hundreds of small temples, each with a rich gate that leads to a little dusty yard where there are half a dozen tiny shrines like dolls' houses perched on pillars and a covered place for watching the dances that are done in the temples' service.

I watched on a night that was as warm and soft as dark velvet. It was lit by a few stars and from a carved tripod in the centre on which flared six wicks floating in saucers of oil. Around the light squatted all the men of the village, shoulder to shoulder in close rings, facing inwards, naked to the waist, perhaps 250 of them, quite silent and motionless.

The story they had to tell was older than the architecture about them. It was a small part of the great story that is painted in almost every temple in the East—the RAMAYANA; and it is one of the great religious stories that men have made to help them through their long night on earth.

Many years ago the prince RAMA was walking in a wood with his wife SEETA whom a demon carried her off to the top of the mountain. In despair Rama asked help of the king of the monkeys and his army. The monkeys climbed the mountain with the help of the GAROEDA, a great bird-headed monster which among other things supports the world. The princess was rescued. For that night the men from the village were the monkey army and their dance was the "monkey dance".

At a shout from a man in the circle, they came suddenly to life. Sweeping their bodies to and fro as they sat, they began a deep chant, a sad animal longing, over and over again while a man began to tell the old story.

But every now and again the chorus would suddenly begin to jerk just like angry monkeys and for half a minute at a time the little carved yard was full of a swift and furious "ke-tyak-ke-tjak" and then the slow voice and sadness would start again.

A boy and a girl entered the ring of orange light and danced slowly round the flames—the prince and his lady—their bodies closely bound with gold and black cloth and their hair full of flowers. There was a garoeda with a gold bird mask, a crown and silver wings, who picked his way like a huge fastidious river-bird through the excited villagers; and all the time—no music—the rhythmic shouts of 250 voices in unison and completely disciplined.

The climax came when, the noise and the excitement mounting, the monkeys began to climb the evil mountain. Still they were sitting but all their arms were in the air waving to and fro, their fingers rigid and fluttering, the flaring orange light glancing off their shoulders now bright with sweat, and off the pale palms of their hands.

Then the battle with the demons. Half of the circle slowly rose to their feet shouting monkey cries and flinging out their arms and the others sank down to the ground. And then the demons slowly rose with a new harsh note and the monkeys sank down; and so backwards and forwards until with a scream from the monkeys it was over and they all sat silent,

One or two stood up and dusted gravel off the cloths twisted around their loins and a man came through the temple gate and began to sell orange squash and cigarettes to the dancers. And the oil lamps began to die.

Petes Make OLA Playoffs By Beating St. Catharines

The Petes knocked off St. Catharines Athletics 17-14 at Miller Bowl last night before nearly 1,800 fans to cinch an OLA senior "A" playoff berth, in sixth place. Weston cannot dislodge them now. The four-in-seven group quarter finals will open next week with the Petes playing here twice against Hamilton, next Wednesday and Saturday nights.

Hustling hard the first half, the Creighton crew racked up a 6-4 lead the first quarter and fashioned it into an 11-5 margin at the half. St. Kitts came back strongly to outscore them 5-3 in the third and 4-3 in the fourth frames as play roughened up considerably, but the Petes had enough left to earn the decision.

Shone In Goal

Goalie Ralph Speck shone in goal for the victors, turning aside a flock of hot shots, especially in the last half as the Petes looked disorganized under the St. Kitts' pressure. The local defence and forwards all worked hard, with Bob Thorpe leading the scoring parade with four goals. In on three each were Lou Vitarelli, Leo Teatero, Rowan Chute, Jim McNulty, Mick Magee and Arn Dugan. The scoring was well spread around. Pat Smith had three and an assist to lead St. Kitts, while Whipper, Hildebrand, D'Amico and Joe McNulty were also prominent on the attack. Goalie Whittaker was not present.

While play was clean and plenty keen the first half, it got rough the last two quarters. Doug Cove drew a misconduct for arguing too bitterly in the third over a double roughing penalty. Whipper and Chute went off in the fourth with majors for fighting, and Jim McNulty drew a major for high-sticking. The Petes got four of the 11 penalties handed out in a well-handled fray.

The teams:

IN AGAIN—It's an old story to Coach Red Creighton (above) being skipper of a lacrosse team in playoffs. He piloted the Petes to two OLA senior "B" titles in the last two years, and now he has the Petes in senior "A" playoffs against Hamilton, after beating St. Catharines here Friday night to earn the playoff spot. Coach Red is wearing his lucky straw hat as usual in playoffs.

Harrison Plays 72 Game In Ontario Open

WINDSOR, Aug. 27 (CP)—Detroit golfers were leading the way in the 27th annual Ontario open as the final 36-hole medal play got under way over the rambling Essex Golf Club course today.

Sixty qualifying Canadian and United States entrants, who shot at least 79 Friday, are trying for the title won for the last two years by Toronto Scarboro's Bobby Gray. Gray was in the thick of the fight himself with a 70 in the opening 18 holes, one less than the three under par leaders.

Gray, a former professional at the host club, predicted the winner would need a 210 to win the tournament.

Leading the pack in the opening day qualifying round with 69s were Mike Dietz and Bobby Reith both of the Detroit Country Club. Tied with Gray in second place was Jimmy Johnson, of Glen Oaks, Mich.

Six contestants were under par 72 as veteran amateur Nick Weslock of the home club posted a 71, along with Phil Farley of Scarboro.

Two Detroiters had 72s along with Gordon Harrison of Peterborough. They are Art Pomy and Lee Mackey.

Three other Detroiters—Harold T. Hewitt, Elmer Priesthorn and Don Paget—scored 73s, along with Dick Borthwick of Hamilton.

Royals Tie Up OBA Series With 4-2 Win

Peterborough Royals evened their series with Oshawa in OBA juvenile playdowns Friday night in Riverside Park, 4-2. The Oshawa boys took the first of the series, two out of three, in Oshawa earlier this week 6-4. The final game of the series will be played in Port Hope.

McTaggart pitched one hit ball for the Oshawa crew until the sixth when the southerners got three hits and a fielder's choice to score two runs to take the lead 3-2. Day relieved McTaggart at the end of 6 2-3 innings. He allowed three hits the rest of the way.

Bachelor on the mound for the Petes ran into his first real trouble in the second when he was nicked for three hits. He caught one player off first and another trying to steal home while the third out was a proposed stolen base from second to third on which Bigford, the catcher, and Allen, on third, combined for the out. The other six hits were well scattered over the remaining 6 2-3 innings.

Good Ball

Both teams were playing heads up ball, giving no runs unnecessarily. They picked eight players off running the bases as well as some nifty catches in the infields and outfields. B. Young in left for the Petes pulled down a mighty hit by Joskoski in the sixth which was about 15 feet from the fence.

Bart Grainger, attempting to field Fallman's hit to right field, is believed to have broken his wrist in trying to make the diving catch. He stayed to see the rest of the game which the Petes hurried along by quick playing to end the eighth and part of the ninth. The game was then called due to darkness.

McGrath led the Petes at bat with two for two while Douglas had two to rfour. Pitcher McTaggart of Oshawa led his team at bat with two for two while Stroz had two for four.

Line-ups:

Petes—Jenson cf, Allen 3rd, Douglas ss, Robinson 1st, Young lf, Bigford c, Grainger and Jones rf, McGrath 2nd, Batchelor p.

Charlie Root, at 42, singled home two runs in the ninth inning to make sure of his 200th National League victory for the Chicago Cubs eight years ago today. The veteran right-hander relieved Ken Raffensberger in the first inning to defeat Boston Braves, 6-4.

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

CEC. PERDUE, Sports Editor

Footballs are starting to fill the air here and there as the big-shouldered boys begin drilling for their rugged season opening next month. Senior PCVS prospects will begin Monday at 10 a.m. with equipment issued at the school at that time, candidates for all spots on the squad being requested to attend by Coach Bev Goulding. Workouts will go all week, morning and afternoon, before school opens. Meantime, ORFU intermediate Panther prospects are working out in full gear under Coach Spike Matthews five nights weekly at the Oval, with prospects of a game good for early in September. So far, nearly four dozen chaps trying for positions. It won't be long.

The senior ball Petes had better get in there hustling this aft at three in Riverside or the Batawa Shoemen may pull an upset in COBL semi-finals. We didn't think they'd win a game, but they took the men o' Murphy in Belleville earlier in the week to sew up the best-of-five series at a game each. Should they eke out a victory here today, things would look right grim for the Petes, who were in top or second spot all through the schedule. However, if the locals come through in this one, it'll look much brighter as they'll need but one of the remaining two—in Belleville on Monday or here next Wednesday. Winner to meet Oshawa in finals. Edger or Dadson will be doing the home hurling this aft.

Kingston And Uniteds

Playing consistently good ball all season, big Bud Harrison should again shine at shortstop and the plate tonight for Uniteds when they tackle Kingston Legion at 8.30 in the Bowl. Second of their best-of-three OASA senior "B" playdown series, Uniteds winning the first by a whisker. Harrison really powders the ball, runs like a deer, fields well and has a terrific peg to first. Jake Wade is also hitting and fielding okay, so it's up to the rest of the squad to come through and Bob Greenlaw to pitch in oldtime form this game. It is always a pleasure to beat a Kingston team here, eh? Likely a jammed park over east this eve.

Walt Murphy has his OLA minor lacrosse playdowns running right along in this neck of the woods. Two important tilts at Miller Bowl tonight, starting at 7.30. Our bantams go first against Orillia and the locals have a five-goal lead to protect. They're followed by Orillia and the Petes' midgets, latter being up six goals on the round. Juves journey to Huntsville Tuesday to open their second OLA round, having ousted Orillia opposition earlier. All PMLA titles have been settled now. Juvenile all-stars meet at 10 a.m. Sunday at the Bowl. Lou Vitarelli coaches this team, while Jack Foote handles the midgets, as Ira and Barney Dundas take care of the bantams.

In The Dough Blows

The Petes are in OLA senior playoffs. Did it last eve with a 17-14 thump on the noggins of the St. Kitts Athletics. Despite the Ex., the game drew some 1,800 fans, and 'twas a dandy open tilt. Rough, too, the last half. The Petes weren't taking any chances on Weston maybe winning tonight in St. Catharines, so they took care of the Athletics themselves. And they can't be dislodged now from that sixth spot. Goalie Ralph Speck rates a bouquet for his work as he had a raft of sizzling drives to turn away in close the last half as the Petes faltered a bit. The rest of the team all hustled to earn it in a fine fray.

Manager Doug Miller announced that the four-in-seven quarter group finals would open here against Hamilton with two games at Miller Bowl next week, Wednesday and Saturday. He also said the tariff would be upped owing to the OLA taking a 15 per cent cut of gates in playoffs. This announcement didn't prove quite so popular. Ken Kingston, on behalf of the PMLA, made a presentation to Coach Jack Foote of the minors, who leaves in a week to teach high school in Owen Sound. The popular and likeable Jack will be missed here. Mrs. J. Post, an ardent fan, gave presents to local lacrosse parties whose wives had babies the past year, namely: Gord Armstrong (club sponsor), Bun Hill, Arn Dugan and Mick Magee. Doug Miller made the presentations betwixt periods.

Open Golf Crown Goes Back To US

VANCOUVER, Aug. 27—(CP)—The Canadian ladies' open golf championship will go back to the United States today—but in different hands.

Mrs. Marian Herron, of Portland, Ore., who yesterday defeated defending champion Grace Lenczyk, of Newington, Conn., teed off against 21-year-old Grace Demoss, of Corvallis, Ore., in the 36-hole final match.

And it was anybody's match. Mrs. Herron, making a comeback after taking time off in the last few years to have a family of three, is six-time winner of the Pacific Northwest championship.

But her slender young opponent, Oregon Coast and Arizona State champion, shot the hottest pre-final golf of the tournament by a wide margin.

Miss Demoss was five strokes under par yesterday when she downed Canada's remaining hope in the tournament, 24-year-old Canadian closed champion Babs Davies, of Vancouver, 4 and 3. The day before she was the same number of strokes under par as she polished off Mrs. Margaret Todd, of Victoria, 6 and 5 in a quarter-final encounter.

Mrs. Herron yesterday was cast in the role of giant-killer as she defeated the heavily-favored Miss Lenczyk, 2 and 1. The gallery was strongly pro-Lenczyk as Mrs. Herron wore down her strapping opponent — generally rated North America's top lady amateur—with trying deliberation on every shot.

Orono Evens Series

HASTINGS, Aug. 27.—(ENS).—Orono pulled off a surprise upset in Orono Memorial Park, defeating Hastings 17-16 in the second of a best of three O.A.S.A. junior "C" playdowns to even the series. The deciding game will be played in Hastings on Saturday night under the lights.

The winning counter was a gift, with two men down in the bottom half of the seventh. Gearing lined one to Oliver at first and the ball bounded off his glove and into right field. The throw to third to cut him off got away from Morrow, and Gearing went in standing up.

Welch started on the mound for Orono and was seldom in trouble until the sixth when Robinson relieved. He proved to be a real cousin and Hastings blasted him for nine runs, and two more in the seventh to tie it up. West started for Hastings but lacked his usual control and that, coupled with numerous errors behind him, kept him in trouble. Richardson relieved him in the sixth and looked good.

Blewett Horse A Winner In 2.20 Class

Stan Blewett's local pacer Victory High, after finishing fifth in the first heat of the 2.20, came on to take two firsts and the main money in that race yesterday afternoon at the Exhibition. Wanda Harvester, owned by E. R. Jeffries of Waubaushene, had two firsts and a second in the 2.27 class. Orville Fallis drove the Blewett horse.

Times were generally good in both races before a large afternoon crowd. The 2.27 saw the keenest competition, with Miss Lee Todd of Schomberg and Tom Royal of Haliburton right in there around the finish each heat. Two more races were run off at night, and there will be two this afternoon and two more to-night to wind up the three-day harness meet.

Petes Get CNE Opener Against Brants

The Canadian softball tourfnament for the Telegram Trophy opened last night at the Canadian National Exhibition Stadium, where the Peterborough Merchants eliminated Brantford with a 6-3 victory. Peterborough comes back one week to-day with an afternoon game starting at 1 p.m.

Spotting the Brantford squad a three-run lead in the first inning, the Merchants slowly overtook the opposition and went into the lead in the third frame in which they scored two runs off one hit and an error.

After a shaky start, Ken Guilfoyle for Peterborough steadied himself and allowed only three hits after the first inning. He gave up a total of five safeties, struck out nine batters and issued one free pass to first base.

Howie Dalton, playing at first base, was the big fellow with the willow, touching starter Dick Roach for three singles. Harrison and Mackness gathered two hits apiece in Peterborough's winning effort. Peterson took over from Roach in the seventh inning, allowing one run and four hits.

The Peterborough team really looked smart in their white uniforms.

U.S. Tennis Team Nears Davis Cup

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 27 (AP)—Unless Australia's Davis Cup hopefuls can emulate their predecessors of a decade ago, the big silver bowl that stands for international tennis supremacy will stay in the United States for another year.

Having wrapped up both of the opening singles matches against the Aussies in the challenge round here Friday, the Americans needed only one more triumph in the best-of-five series as the two teams squared off today for the lone doubles encounter.

Wimbledon champion Ted Schroeder got the Yanks off to a good start when he outlasted Australia's Billy Sidwell 6-1, 8-7, 4-6, 6-2, 6-3, in the curtain-raiser.

Then the United States national titleholder, Richard (Pancho) Gonzales, followed with a straight set triumph over the Australian champion, Frank Sedgman, 8-6, 6-4, 9-7.

While Schroeder and Gonzales rest for the final singles tests Sunday, Bill Talbert and Gardnar Mulloy get their chance to clinch it for the United States today when they meet the Australian doubles pair of Sidwell and John Bromwich.

Rochester Wins 12-4 Victory Over Montreal

By the Associated Press.

Jim Hearn has become the darling of Rochester fans.

Since the big righthander came to the International League Red Wings from St. Louis Cardinals in early June, he has won eight games and lost only three Hearn's fine pitching has kept the Wings in the pennant struggle. If it were not for the fact that the Wings have a chance for the pennant, he undoubtedly would be recalled to help the Cards in their fight for the National League pennant.

Hearn further endeared himself to Rochester supporters on Friday night by pitching the Wings to a 12-4 triumph over the Montreal Royals.

The Royals have been especially hard for the Wings to beat the last two seasons. Montreal beat Rochester 13 times last year and also knocked the Wings out the the Little World Series.

Nip Maple Leafs

The triumph enabled the Wings to remain 4½ games behind the front-running Buffalo Bisons. The Bisons nipped Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 in 10 innings. Doc Cramer singled home Lonnie Frey with two out to break up the game.

After Jim Prendergast pitched Syracuse to a 3-2 triumph over Baltimore to extend a Chief winning streak to eight games, the Orioles came back in the second half of the twin bill with a 10-4 triumph to halt the string.

Home runs by Ed Shokes and Dutch Mele featured the Syracuse victory. Ken Wood poled his 27th homer, Red McQuillen his 23rd, and Frank Mancuso his 15th to highlight the Baltimore contest.

Jersey City Giants and Newark Bears also split a double-header. The Bears won the opener 5-4, and the Giants the second 14-7 to end a seven-game losing skein.

Bosox Bash Chicago Twice Parnell Sparks Triumph

By JOE REICHLER.

Who is the Boston Red Sox' most valuable player? Ted Williams? Vern Stephens? Dom DiMaggio? The selection here is Mel Parnell, the majors' first 20-game winner.

The rampaging Red Sox today were only a game and a half behind the American League-leading New York Yankees. That's the closest they've been to the top all season. And They owe it mainly to the stout left arm of 27-year-old Parnell.

While the other Bosox pitchers have faltered at times, Mel has been a consistent winner from the first day. Even when the Sox were floundering around in the second division, Parnell continued to win.

He is the first Boston left-hander to win 20 games since lefty Grove notched that many in 1935.

Wins Twin Bill

Parnell teamed up with Ellis Kinder to pitch the Red Sox to a double triumph over the Chicago White Sox. Mel twirled a seven-hitter in the opener as the Bosox bashed three Chicago pitchers for an 11-4 triumph on 17 hits. Boston collected 16 safeties in the second game to win 10-7.

Boston's sweep, coupled with Cleveland's 5-3 victory over the Yankees, shaved off a game and a half from the Yanks' three-game margin. The deficit, however, is on the losing side since the Red Sox have played three more games than the Yankees.

Ted Williams Connected for his 31st and 32nd homers in the opener and batted in two runs with three hits in the nightcap. Bobby Doerr drove in seven mates in the twin bill.

Possible Fracture

In the second game, Lefty Bob Kuzava of the White Sox was felled by a line drive off the bat of Al Zarilla and was rushed to a hospital with a possible rib fracture. Before that he fanned six straight Boston batsmen.

Al Benton, veteran Cleveland righthander, stopped the Yankees with seven hits as the third-place Indians climbed to within five games of the top. Three double plays stopped as many Yankees rallies.

Both St. Louis and Brooklyn were beaten to leave the National League-leading Cards still a game and a half in front of the Dodgers. The New York Giants whipped the Redbirds, 4-2, and Chicago Cubs defeated the Dodgers by the same score.

Larry Jansen, aided by a three run uprising against Gerry Staley in the seventh, won his 14th game for the Giants. Three pitchers stopped the Dodgers, with Bob Muncrief, the middle hurler, winning his fourth game of the season. Joe Hatten lost.

In Fourth Place

Detroit moved into fourth place in the American League, passing Philadelphia Athletics as they hammered out 18 hits, including three home runs, to wallop Washington 11-1. Ted ray won his eighth victory.

Stan Spence belted two home runs and drove in five runs to lead St. Louis Browns out of the American League cellar with an 11-3 victory over the A's.

Al Dark's single with two out in the ninth drove in the tying and winning runs as Boston Braves nipped the Cincinnati Reds 3-2.

Ralph Kinder blasted his 36th home run with a mate aboard in the third inning to give Pittsburgh Pirates a 3-2 victory over Philadelphia Phillies.

CHANGE OF FACE: France's Abbe Jean Boulier was a top Communist figure when he chatted with Paulette Descon of "Fighters for Freedom" at the Red "Peace Congress last Spring. Now he's changed and decided to accept Vatican authority.

Kremlin Plans To Force Fight With The Vatican

By LEON DENNEN
NEA Special Correspondent

PARIS (NEA).—The Kremlin's offensive against the Vatican is expected to grow stronger despite the havoc wrought among Moscow's Western European followers by the Pope's decree ex-communicating active Communists.

Russian leaders have laid careful plans to force a new split in Roman Catholicism through the organization of pro-Communist "Catholic Action" groups in Western Europe.

This effort comes on top of the successful Communist campaigns against Catholic power in Romania, Hungary, Bulgaria and Albania, and the current drive to crush independent Catholic authority in Czechoslovakia.

Moscow's ambitions recently suffered a serious setback, however, when Abbe Jean Boulier of France, a staunch backer of the Communist Party, decided to accept the authority of the Vatican and submit to Church discipline.

The strange case of Abbe Boulier typifies the confusion now reigning in religious and intellectual circles in Western Europe.

He is a devout Catholic with a laudable anti-Nazi resistance record. As spiritual guide of the "progressive Catholics" of France, he recently visited Prague where, according to reliable Cominform sources, he conferred with the Kremlin's "expert" on religious affairs, Mikhail Susloff.

Along with the "Red Dean" of Canterbury and Abbe Jan Nepomuk Plojhar, Czechoslovak health minister now in Moscow, Abbe Jean Boulier is said to have been rated a key figure in the Cominform attempt to enlist Protestant backing for a world-wide struggle against Catholicism.

That strategy, incidentally, called for extending the Protestant-Catholic schism to the western hemisphere. In this frantic move to gain allies against the Pope, the Kremlin apparently is ready to offer an olive branch to Protestant churches, especially in the United States and Great Britain. Cominform observers say one gesture of "good will" could be a pardon for Protestant ministers recently jailed in Bulgaria.

While still in Prague, Abbe Boulier publicly defied the Pope's anti-Communist edict. He endorsed the Czechoslovak government's manoeuvres for the creation of a "Catholic Action" rival to the Vatican.

But since his return to France he appears to have undergone a change of heart. He has had repeated conferences with his superior, Monsigner Bossart. Although no official announcement has been made and perhaps none will be, it is said Abbe Boulier may give up politics and possibly retire to a monastery

Meantime the havoc stirred by the conflict between church and state is becoming increasingly bitter in Eastern Europe. A leader of the Polish underground military forces, who has just reached Paris, reports several armed clashes between Catholic peasants and special "anti - religious" squads. Scores are said to have died in these skirmishes.

Value Of Fellowship Discovered By Disciples

By WILLIAM E. GILROY, DD

The Psalmist in the familiar and beautiful Twenty-third Psalm rejoices that the Lord, who is his Shepherd, leads him in the paths of righteousness.

This theme of righteousness runs everywhere through the Psalms, which express the dominant emphasis throughout the books of the prophets, and the whole religion of the Hebrews. It was this superior morality of Judaism that led many Gentiles, proselytes, to become converts to Judaism. Many of these proselytes, as we can see in the pages of the New Testament, became Christian disciples.

The psalmists and prophets put the first emphasis where it rightly belonged—on righteousness in personal life. The godly man was not the possessor of a certain faith, but the man who was upright in his heart. His sacrifices, burnt offerings, and acts of religion meant nothing unless they were the expressions of a heart sincere and true, subject to God's guidance and God's will.

The religion of Israel was a mass religion, always emphasizing God's choice and call to the nation as a whole, but this emphasis did not in any way minimize the importance of the indivdual, and the soundness of his character and conduct.

This, it seems to me, has a distinct bearing upon our modern democracy, which in a way is a mass affair. We think of democracy often, perhaps too often, as consisting in popular suffrage and the rule of the majority. But the vote of a majority never in itself made anything right. The true essence of democracy is self-rule. It is rule from within. When the rule of kings is discarded, it is the individual who becomes king, and if he abdicates, democracy may become a very sorry affair. Is not our greatest weakness today at this very point—the fact that so many citizens fail to exercise their prerogatives and privileges, to say nothing of their plain duty?

The Old Testament Scriptures dealt with this to the point of extreme severity. It was not only in the Psalms and Prophecies, but the historic boks and early history made plain one's place and duty as a member of society. There was the terrible example of Achan, who, in an hour of victory, stole a Babylonian argument, and bars of silver for himself. He met a tragic fate, but profiteering Achans in their country's hour of danger have not been lacking in later history, nor in our own time.

National righteousness, to the Psalmist, meant justice. Conceptions of right and judgment were at the heart of all relationships. As the individual was responsible for his personal integrity, those who ruled, that is society, were responsible for rights, liberties, and fair dealing.

It is the sense of right and judgment that we most need today. It is in the moral foundations that modern societies are weakest. Too many issues are settled, not upon the basis of what is right and fair, but upon the power of individuals, or groups, to enforce their will. But no question is ever settled until it is settled right.

Man Must Govern Himself Democracy Is Self-Rule

REV. E. R. JAMES.

MATTHEW THE PUBLICAN, St. Matthew 10:3.

"Matthew the Publican." What a stumbling block and rock of offence in a Gospel written for the Jews. A Jewish gentleman would read no further. "This Master of Israel knows very little about the social question, calling, of all men, a publican to a place in His inner circle of followers," would be his comment. A Publican was a Roman tax gatherer, and if he were a Jew the hatred of his own people was intensified. Yet the Master, who knew what was in man, called Levi, to whom with prophetic insight gives him the new name of Matthew, which means "the gift of God."

Can you imagine the charm of the Master's smile when from time to time he bowed to the Roman official in charge of the customs duties. That smile was doing its work in the heart and mind of the Jewish tax gatherer. There came the day when the Master looked into the eyes of Levi and said: "Come, follow Me." With delight he closes his books, makes a great supper for his former friends, to which He invites the Teacher and His Apostles. They are not happy about the call of a tax gatherer into their close company. The Pharisees read their thoughts and ask the biting question: "Why eatest Thy Master with publicans and sinners?" They have no reply but the Lord defends them with the claim: "I came not to call the righteous but sinners to repentance."

HE AROSE AND FOLLOWED HIM." During those months of fellowship with the Master, his mind was fascinated with the personality. Little by little the greater truth holds his mind that He is the Truth. His fellowship with the Christ changes his character. In what way?

UNWORLDLINESS. A business man trained to deal with the world loses the appeal of this world by following the Prophet, who has given him a new name, which stirs him deeply. Money loses its grip; he is no longer a slave to money. He is prapered to pay the price for a character which will draw men to the Lord.

HUMILITY. It is not being servile. It means that a man has discovered the gulf between him and God. A man gets a vision of holiness and can never again lift up his head in pride. The humble man will be given God's courage to face the evil man and to confess his faith in God, Who has so changed his character that men take knowledge of Him that he has been with Jesus.

If God in Christ can change the character of a Publican what can not God do with you and me?

BLESSED IS THE MAN WHOSE STRENGTH IS IN THE LORD AND IN WHOSE HEART ARE THE WAYS OF THE LORD

Youth Held Up $6 Taken From His Purse

Three young thieves robbed Gordon Girven, 22, of 189 Mark St., Saturday morning about one a.m. while he was crossing the CPR foot bridge to east city.

Girven told police as he started across the bridge he noticed a number of young men at the back of the Coca Cola plant.

When he had reached the middle of the bridge he heard a noise behind. He looked back and saw three men coming toward him. He continued to walk, but as the three young hoodlums drew alongside him, one grabbed him around the neck while the other two went through his pockets taking his wallet containing $6 and his wrist watch valued at $35.

When released, Girven ran back to the CPR station where he got two men standing on the platform, Murray Menzies and Robert Hart, Havelock, to go back to the bridge with him to try to find the thieves. They didn't see anyone.

Girven couldn't give police a description of the men except that he thought they were about 19 years old and one was wearing a white shirt or sweater.

Prize Livestock Seen In Parade

An added attraction for a packed grandstand at the Exhibition Friday evening was a livestock parade, billed as one of the features of the Fair. The parade was led by the CGE Pipe Band.

As the stock paraded by the grandstand, Dr. Harold Worton introduced the owners over the public address system. An outside feature of the parade were four of Dawes' black horses. These beauties followed the band and made a big hit with the crowd.

Boys were recruited by the owners to lead the animals, and a few of them got into trouble.

WERE YOU WARM at the Fair on Friday? You most certainly were but you did not feel the heat as much as Valley View Champion, prize Dorset ram which belonged to G. H. Mark and Sons of Little Britain, Most of the 12,000 attendants wore much lighter clothing like little Katherine Crough (Right), who topped her crisp costume with midway souvenirs, including a parasol; she is the 2-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. Crough, 22 Park St.

Examiner Covers MPP's Trip Through Ontario's North

As a special service to its readers, and realizing the importance of the vast, and to many southern Ontario people, virtually unknown, tracts of Northern Ontario with their wealth of timber, minerals and other natural resources, The Examiner has arranged with the Honorable Harold Scott to send staff reporter and photographer C. G. (Nick) Nickels on an extensive two-week tour of Northern Ontario in conjunction with a tour arranged by Mr. Scott's department for about 40 MPP's.

This tour of Northern Ontario has been a pet project of Mr. Scott's for more than a year. Since most of the legislators of the Assembly come from southern Ontario, yet have to legislate for the whole Province, he feels that they should personally get to know Northern Ontario better. It is with this in view that the two-week tour has been arranged.

Mr. Nickels will be one of several press correspondents covering the tour which begins Monday from Toronto. Although he will report any special items of interest as they occur, Mr. Nickels' assignment is particularly for interpretative background material, and to bring up to date his already extensive knowledge of Northern Canada and the people who work there and direct its affairs.

Varied Itinerary

The itinerary will include various points of interest on the CPR and Algoma Central Railway lines on the westward leg as far west as Fort William. Stops of varying length will be made at Marathon, Terrace Bay and Fort William to enable the party to see the wonders of pulp and paper making in the new paper towns along Lake Superior's north shore and to make a first-hand study of iron mining operations at the open pit property at Atikokan.

By buses and cars from farther west at Fort Frances the party will go to Sioux Lookout to meet their original rail coaches on the CNR from the Lakehead and proceed east to Hearst and Kapuskasing.

Before terminating the tour at Toronto on Sept. 9, visits will be made to Timmins and Sudbury, two of the world's larger metal-producing cities, the former gold and the latter base metals and nickel.

The Examiner is happy to be able to give its readers this special reportorial and camera coverage of an important tour of this great northern district which is a vital region of resources not only to southern Ontario people, but to the world. Mr. Nickels goes specially qualified not only because of his skill in photographing the outdoor subjects, but for his personal knowledge of new Canada from the Peace River to Labrador.

Mayor Charges Inefficiency In Management of Ferry

COBOURG, Aug. 27 (ENS)—Strong protest against the closing down of the car ferry between Cobourg and Rochester, N.Y., was registered by delegates from Peterborough, Cobourg and district to a meeting Friday night, in Cobourg.

The meeting was held to draft protest plans for a meeting next month with R. C. Vaughan, president of Canadian National Railways. The meeting was attended by Mayor Max J. Swanston, Chamber of Commerce Manager James M. Fraser and the mayors of Cobourg, Port Hope, Lindsay, Belleville and Kingston, and members of parliament for the district.

The ferry, which has operated since 1917, is jointly owned by the CNR and the Buffalo and Ohio Railway. It is operated by the Ontario Car Ferry Co. with offices in Montreal.

Mayor Swanston said he backed Cobourg's protest 100 per cent and felt Peterborough County's warden, Wm. Darling, of Dummer Township, and the Peterborough Chamber of Commerce shared his feelings. He said he thought politics should be kept out of the question.

Mr. Fraser, of the Chamber of Commerce, said the fare was too high. It was set at $12 for a car and $3.50 for each passenger. He said a car driver could buy a lot of gas for that money and might take the long way around by highway.

He said the CPR passenger agent kept in touch with the Chamber of Commerce, but the Chamber of Commerce never heard from the CNR passenger agent. Other car ferries supplied the Chamber of Commerce with an abundance of information pamphlets but he had only five from the car ferry.

Gordon K. Fraser, M.P. Peterborough West, pointed out the CGE brought in 120,000 tons of coal by the ferry and other Peterborough industries swelled that figure. This means of transportation meant a saving in transportation costs. Its discontinuance would mean a financial loss for these industries.

Mayor Joseph Smith, of Cobourg, said he could provide "ample evidence to show inefficiency and mismanagement of the ferry by its operators." With proper management the ferry could be operated at a profit. It is operated by "remote control from Montreal."

Dr. F. G. Robertson, MP for Northumberland said he had several years ago.

The Rochester side he declared did not provide adequate transportation facilities to get people to the excursion ferries. Mayor Smith interjected he had received a letter from the mayor of Rochester stating he was completely in agreement with Cobourg's protest against ending the ferry.

Gordon K. Fraser said he was in favour of sending the deputation to the CNR president. "It was hard for travellers to get ferry accommodation because of the lack of information facilities." Mr. Fraser was confident that if proper facilities were made for cars along with a wide-awake freight carrying policy the company would make money. He pointed out motorists didn't like to have their cars loaded into freight cars, but preferred they be transported on flat cars.

He ridiculed the suggestion that Lionel Chevrier, Minister of Transportation, was not in control of the CNR.

William Goodfellow, Provincial Minister of Welfare, who attended, said the CNR stretched its purse strings for other things which perhaps deserved less support. He said there had been a sad lack of publicity for the ferry. He said the ferry helped to ease the traffic congestion on the highways.

Frank S. Follwell, Belleville, M. P. for South Hastings, said Belleville was interested in continuing the ferry because it received its coal by that means.

Other delegates included Freeman Burroughs of the Belleville Chamber of Commerce; Bruce MacNiven of Omemee; Alderman G. Schuett of Kingston; and A. T. Cheeseman of Trenton.

Province-Wide Convention Of Credit Union

The Peterborough Chapter of the Ontario Credit Union League today plays host to the League Directors from scattered centres throughout the province. It will b;e a two-day convention.

Business of the League is carried on by means of several directors' meetings every year. This time members of the Peterborough Chapter — consisting of credit unions from Port Hope, Douro Parish, Sacred Heart Parish and the W.E.A.—will sit in convention.

Purpose of this unusual procedure is to acquaint the local chapter with the manner in which the League is operated. A. E. Borland is the only local director. A. T. Brown is the president.

Representatives From Afar

About 18 directors and half a dozen chairmen of committees are expected to attend, as well as an undisclosed number of observers from the Peterborough Chapter. Representation is expected from as far northwest as Kenora and Fort William, as well as the nearer urban centres such as Windsor, Hamilton and Toronto.

The Credit Union League is a co-operative bank where members pool their savings, and if the need arises at a later date credit can be obtained at a low rate of interest. It has received a charter from the Provincial government for this enterprise.

First business session will begin at 2 p.m. today. There will be a supper at night and the main banbanquet will be held Sunday night. Otherwise the week-end conference will be strictly limited to business matters.

Husbands Should be Caught At Right Age for Happiness

There are no questions that men ask me more often than: What age should a man be when he marries?

How much money should he have before he marries?

Dorothy Dix

These are queries that cannot be answered categorically, for marriage is one of the things in which there are a thousand exceptions to every rule.

All of us have seen marriages that defied every law of probability of success that turned out gloriously happy, and we have seen other marriages that seemed to be made in heaven and landed both the man and woman in hell on earth.

So you can lay down no hard-and-fast rule for the time a man should marry nor for how much money he should have in the bank. So many other factors are to be considered. The man's real age rather than his chronological age, for some men mature much faster than others. Some are senile at 20 and others are mere laughing lads at 70, and the income that would seem riches to one couple spells penury to another.

While you cannot put a strict age limit on matrimony for a man, his chances for being happy in marriage are increased 100 per cent if he waits until he is fully matured before he takes unto himself a wife.

Among the thousands of letters that I get from unhappy husbands, nearly every one begins with: "I married too young. I married when I was just a boy." Then the writers go on to tell what is really the most tragic story in the world(because it is the story of a fine man torn between his sense of obligation and honor and his passionate desire for a little happiness in the life that he sees slipping from him and his pity for the good wife he must hurt unless he utterly sacrifices himself on the altar of the mistake of his youth.

He realizes that the childish sweetheart he married is not to blame for the situation. She is what she always was, what she was when he married her. She is sweet and domestic and dull, and she bores him to extinction because he has developed and the world has educated him(while she has learned nothing.

Inevitably, he has found a woman who is his real mate, the woman who satisfies his mature tastes and needs. And he is bound to the corpse of a dead love and there is heartbreak all around.

Check up on the philandering husbands and the middle-aged men who swap old wives for new and you will find that nearly every one of them married too soon.

Nothing would do more to stop divorce than for men to wait until they really knew what sort of wives they wanted or what kind of women they are going to want to spend their lives with before they married, instead of waiting until afterward to discover that they had made mistakes. The boy who marries the first girl he thinks he falls in love with is as sure to regret his choice as he would be if he spent all his money on the first article he saw in a store. Luck might be with him and she might really be a good selection, but he would always wish he had looked them over before he made his pick.

The man who waits until he is nearing 30 before he marries is far more apt to make a wise selection of a wife than a boy does. His fancy isn't so easily caught by glitter as a boy's. He looks to the wearing qualities and the suitability of the woman as well as her paint and her streamline effects. Nor is he so easily befooled by a designing woman. In a word, he has learned about woman from the various hers he has met in playing around and is able to form a fairly accurate estimate not only as to how one will look in a drawing-room, but how she will perform in a kitchen and how well suited she will be to him.

Another argument in favor of a man's not rushing precipitately into marriage in his boyhood is that happiness in marriage depends entirely upon his point of view. Home is a jail to him if he is longing all the time to be out making whoopee with the boys and girls. It is a haven of refuge and the dearest spot on earth if he is sick and tired of all the blare and blah, the headache and the dark brown taste of night life. No man should marry until he is good and ready to settle down.

On the other hand, it does not do for a man to wait too long to get married. The wedding cake kept too long on the shelf grows stale. Romance fades with the years. Women come to look like women and not like angels. Habits become ways that are dearer than any Lady Love. He gets too old to learn new tricks and no wife can teach him to jump through the domestic hoop, so marriage is a mistake to him and a curse to the woman he marries.

So it all may be summed up into this: That a man should wait to marry until he is old enough to know his own mind and trust his own tastes and young enough to be capable of thrills and dreams.

Pagett-McIlwain Union In St. George's Church

A pretty wedding was solemnized this afternoon at two o'clock in St. George's Anglican Church when Betty Martha Jean McIlwain and Donald Pagett exchanged vows before the Rev. E. C. Moore. The bride is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl McIlwain, 213 King George St. The groom is son of Mrs. Pagett and the late Arthur Pagett.

Pink and white gladioli banked with palms and ferns formed the background setting. Mrs. Marjorie Garland played traditional wedding music and at the signing of the register "Lift Up Thine Eyes."

The bride chose a beautiful gown of white satin with a full flowing train edged with lace. The dress had an inset yoke of nylon at the neckline, tight fitting sleeves to the wrist, and the full skirt was caught up in front at either side and tied with orange blossoms. Her veil was of embroidered net in fingertip length, held by a crown of orange blossoms, and she carried a cascade of American Beauty roses. Mr. McIlwain gave his daughter in marriage.

Matron of honor was the bride's cousin Mrs. Gloria Burley in a frock of pink taffeta made with a shawl collar and wide neckline and the full skirt caught up at the front with rosebuds. The bridesmaids Miss Helen Legros and Miss Joan Green wore frocks of pastel green taffeta made with full skirts on tight fitting waists with square neckline and puff sleeves. Patsy Green as flower girl wa. prettily dressed in yellow taffeta fashioned on similar lines. Each attendant wore mittens to match her dress, a wreath of roses in her hair and carried a ring bouquet of pink roses.

The groom was attended by his brother Gerald Pagett. Ushers were Ted Collins and Donald Floyd.

The reception was held at the Club Aragon where the bride's mother received, gowned in burgundy wine crepe with grey hat and accessories and a corsage of cream roses. She was assisted by the groom's mother who wore a dress of black and silver brocade with black accessories and white roses at her shoulder.

When leaving later on a wedding trip to Toronto, Niagara Falls and Rochester the bride was wearing a suit of Gainsborough blue wool gabardine, a navy felt hat and matching accessories and corsage of red roses.

On return the couple will live at 638 Chamberlain St.

Lavoie-Gentille Wedding

In the Church of the Sacred Heart this morning nuptial vows were pledged by Audrey Joan, third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Gentille, and David Bruce Lavoie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Lavoie, all of Peterborough. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. F. M. Grant.

Multi-colored gladioli decorated the altar table and traditional wedding music was played by Mr. J. Armstrong. Mrs. Mark Collins sang "Ave Maria" and "On This Day" during the mass and at the signing of the register.

Given in marriage by her father the bride was wearing a beautiful gown of white brocaded satin. The long full skirt was caught up at the front with satin bows to show an underskirt of tiers of lace and the bodice was fashioned with a net yoke edged with lace and seed pearls, buttoned down the back, and with tight fitting sleeves coming to points over her hands. Her long veil of French net was caught to a heart-shaped wreath trimmed with orange blossoms and she carried a bouquet of red roses.

Bridal attendants were Miss Jetty Dupuis as maid of honor, Miss Betty Dupuis and Miss Betty Lavoie, sister of the groom, as bridesmaids. The Dupuis sisters were in frocks of pink and yellow taffeta with mittens and headdresses to match and they carried ring bouquets of cream and mauve gladioli. Miss Lavoie wore a dress of blue net, mittens and headdress in matching shade and carried a ring of pink gladioli.

Mr. William Lavoie was groomsman for his brother and Donald Gentille, brother of the bride, and Gerald O'Neil ushered.

The reception was held at the home of the bride's parents where her mother received, wearing a dress of grey crepe with grey hat and matching accessories, and her corsage was of pink roses. The groom's mother who also received, was attired in grey crepe and wore a navy hat, matching accessories and a corsage of pink roses.

For going away, the bride chose a grey gabardine suit and wine accessories and had a corsage of white roses. Mr. and Mrs. Lavoie will reside in Peterborough.

Stubborn Child

some sort of nerve controlling impulses cut. The calcification had been pressing on the nerve, causing him to go off on different tangents at different times. "Doctors disagree," the father says, "and one finally found the trouble."

When the boy came home from Burwash, he startled his parents. They knew that he had had the operation, but had hardly expected that there would be any immediate change. Instead, he was almost twice his former weight, was 100 per cent different physically."

His nerves, he says, have quietened down. "And I don't have that tired, sluggish feeling any more. I'm calm, and I feel fine. I'm so glad they sent me to Burwash."

Father and son get along wonderfully well. His father says "The boy's reasoning powers have improved 100%." He is much quieter, without the old inclination to run the streets until all hours, all alone, and has returned to his first love, music.

His parents are overjoyed with the change. His old employer took him back gladly, because he was one of the few who also felt that the young man's actions were the product of an illness. He has regained his self-esteem, and now only has to redeem himself in the public eye. He is fast doing that.

The father has talked to several local men who are anxious to see a mental health clinic established here, simply because he wants to save other mothers and fathers from the torment an anxiety he has suffered. He feels that a great many of the juveniles who are getting into trouble today are suffering from some sort of mental illness, conditions that might possibly be aided by a clinic. His troubles are over, he's quite sure, but he's worried by the fact that several doctors could find nothing wrong with his son, and yet the boy was ill.

"The way to cut down a lot of these crimes," he says, "is to find out what is causing them. Remove the cause and you remove the crime."

Built By Volunteer Labor Church Dedicated Sunday

WEST PAUDASH, Aug. 27 (ENS).—An important milestone in the brief history of St. John's United Church, the congregation of which came into being on November 16, 19.., will be reached on Sunday afternoon at 3.00 o'clock. At that time the new church building, which has been under construction since last summer, will be dedicated by Rev. M. J. Aiken, pastor of St. Andrew's United Church, Peterborough, who will officiate in the absence of Rev. Dr. D. Bruce Gordon, chairman of the Peterborough Presbytery.

The service will be held in the open air, as the capacity of the little church is only about 70, and it is expected that many more than that number will desire to attend. The special preacher will be Rev. Dr. J. I. MacKay of Montreal, superintendent of Home Mission for the Bay of Quinte Conference. Pastor of the church is G. Cleveland Robb of Peterborough.

The church is still not quite completed, but the congregation desired to have the dedication before the summer tourists leave, as many have been supporters of the project. Some work remains to be done on finishing of the interior and it will be resumed as soon as fall harvesting operations are over. The building has been erected almost entirely by volunteer labor.

Tribute to One Woman

Erection of the church is a tribute to the zeal and determination of the congregation members, who have overcome many obstacles to bring its construction to fruition. Mr. Robb's most enthusiastic lieutenant in the working out of the many planning details has been Mrs. Gordon Colquhoun, now Clerk of Session, who has expended much time and effort in behalf of the project.

Beside the auditorium of the church itself, a room has been built on the rear to serve as a kitchen for use of women's organizations. It is planned to add a tower containing a belfry as soon as possible.

The church is located on No. 28 Highway, 13 miles north of Apsley, quite close to Paudash Lake, and 15 miles from Bancroft, in the Township of Cardiff, County of Haliburton.

The first session of the Sunday School of the church was held in the winter of 1946-47, with the superintendent, Mrs. Colquhoun, using a baby's high chair for a pulpit. It met in a summer cottage. The first church service was held in Mrs. Colquhoun's home, Mr. Robb officiating, on November 16, 1947, with 34 people present. Services continued during the rest of that winter in a summer cottage, the free use of which was donated by the owner, Fred Hunter.

Organize Church Board

On December 28, 1947, a church board was organized and a property purchased from Norman Wight, it being slightly over an acre in size. On Sunday, February 22, 1948, the worshippers were officially declared a congregation and the name St. John's chosen because of the fact that the first Sunday School lesson taught by Mrs. Colquhoun was taken from St. John's Gospel. The first baptisms took place on that date also.

On Sunday, May 2, 1948, the congregation moved from the cottage and took up quarters in a deserted schoolhouse two miles away, which the parishioners renovated for use as a church. On Sunday, Sept. 19, the congregation celebrated its first anniversary, with Rev. Mr. Aiken turning the sod for the new building.

The new building was first used for worship in the second week of January, this year, and work of completing the final touches has been going on ever since in the spare time of those who worked on its construction, Raiph Walker, one of the elders and owner of Brough Lake Lodge, supervised the work.

The congregation members are very grateful to a large number of individuals, organizations, and other churches for various gifts. They are particularly indebted to Mr. and Mrs. George Tranter, formerly of Toronto and now residents of Paudash Lake, for a generous monetary donation toward purchase of the land. Mr. Tranter also did considerable work on finishing of the altar.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Hassel of Toronto and owners of Sunset Lodge, Paudash Lake, donated the pulpit, piano, and other gifts. George Street United Church, Peterborough, and Kew Beach United Church, Toronto, donated hymnaries. Mr. and Mrs. Ross of Brantford, summer residents, gave an engraved silver christening bowl. Sunday School material has been donated by the following: St. David's United Church, Toronto; John Kenneth, Mrs. Alton, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Stevenson, Mr. and Mrs. George Wallace, Miss Eikens, Miss Simpson, all of Peterborough, and the following United Churches of Peterborough: St. Andrew's, Mark Street, St. James' and Trinity.

Mr. Robb is also minister of Eden United Church, Mount Julian; Grace United Church, Lasswade, and Trinity United Church, Apsley. Mr. Robb has served this circuit for the past seven years Winter and Summer, driving 110 miles each Sunday to preach in all his churches.

The Communion service was donated by St. Augustine United Church, Winnipeg, of which the pastor is Rev. George Service. Rev. Mr. Service's wife's mother came from north of Apsley and Mr. Service is related to the Youngs of Lakefield. Mr. and Mrs. Dalley of Toronto, summer residents, have contributed much to the services, the former as pianist and the latter as soloist. Mrs. Evard Patterson of Paudash has also contributed her services as pianist. The pulpit Bible was donated by P. O. Dumble of Toronto.

Also participating in Sunday's dedication will be Rev. George Murray, Keene; and Adam Hawley of Peterborough, soloist.

Westmount Man Charged In Drownings

JOLIETTE, Que., Aug. 27 — (CP) — Hector Lafontaine, of Westmount, Que., yesterday was arraigned here in criminal court in conection with the drownings July 25 of four young women.

Lafontaine, 48, who operates a sight-seeing boat service on Lac Des Iles in the Laurentians, where the tragedy occurred, was charged under Article 247 of the Criminal Code. This article defines absence of precaution which may endanger human life.

(The Canadian Press erroneously reported last night that Lafontaine was charged with manslaughter, a more serious charge).

On Thursday night, a coroner's jury at Rawdon, Que., found that Lafontaine "had failed to take necessary precautions" in not supplying life belts to passengers in his boat. Lafontaine was arrested after the inquest.

Killed By Drum

NEW HAMBURG, Aug. 27 — (CP)—Ross Schmidt, five-and-one-half-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Schmidt, was killed Friday when crushed beneath a 45-gallon drum of water. As he landed on the road, a 45-gallon drum of water fell off the truck on top of him.

Priest Saves Life

GUELPH, Aug. 27 — (CP) — Ernest Patterson, 20, whose main leg artery was severed by broken glass, may owe his life to a parish priest. Rev. Father Hill, of Sacred Heart Parish, Friday night rounded up 17 teen-agers off the streets here and rushed them to hospital to give blood transfusions to Patterson. Dr. James Louden said the prompt action in providing blood donors saved Patterson's life. His condition is critical. Patterson was found lying in a pool of blood outside a factory window. Police said he had been drinking and apparently broke the window.

His voice came through both clear and strong.

THE EXHIBITION'S SWINE ENTRIES were excellent but small at the judging pens on Friday afternoon. Typical of a winning herd was Spruce Don Prince, 18-month-old Yorkshire boar, owned by breeder Garnet Whitfield of Fraserville. —Examiner Staff Photos.

Expect 7 Entries In Free-For-All

Dave Fleming of the Exhibition staff, who evidently knows considerable about harness horses, said this morning there might be seven entries in the Free-For-All race tonight, but he expected the list to shrink to five or four. And those are the good ones.

There is Merton Storey's "Canada Direct"; Hugh Stewart's 'Katherine Tipton"; also the good Quebec horse "Jimmy Mc"; and "Millie Volo" owned by Alex Stewart of Port Hope; with the likelihood of "Peter Aubrey" from the Ingles barn at Brighton on the strength of its fourth place in the 2:15 class this week.

This race is in three heats for the largest purse of the Fair. The other one on the card is the consolation.

Norwood Gets Good Price For Debentures

NORWOOD, Aug. 27—(ENS)— At a special meeting of the village council on Friday bids for the $100,000.00, 20-year debenture issue covering cost of the new water system, were given consideration.

Reeve Rork S. Ferguson was in the chair. The clerk, R. A. Dean, opened the several offers for the debentures, the issue of which was approved by the Provincial Department of Health and the Ontario Municipal Board.

Ten firms bid for the entire issue, namely: Burns Bros. and Denton; Midland Securities Limited; Harrison and Co.; Anderson and Co.; Bankers Bond Corp.; Wood Gundy and Co.; Bell Gouinlock and Co.; Nesbitt, Thompson and Co.; Dominion Securities Ltd.; and J. L. Graham and Co.

Sold To Toronto Firm

Offers ranged from a low of $98,850 to a high of $100,077 and the issue was finally sold to Midland Securities Ltd., Toronto, at the latter figure.

The issue will bear 3½% interest and principal becoming due and payable on the last day of September in each year. The average annual payment will be a little over $7,000.

The work of installing the system is well under way—more than half of the main pipes are in place. Development of the well is proceeding nicely and operations have been started in the construction of the large 125,000 gallon steel reservoir.

Without encountering totally unforseen delays, the system should be in operation, well ahead of "freeze-up" time.

6—In Memoriams

BAGNALL—Thomas Fredrick, who passed away Aug. 27, two years ago.
His smiling way and pleasant face,
Are a pleasure to recall,
He had a kindly word for each,
And died beloved by all.
Some day we hope to meet him,
Some day, we know not where,
To clasp his hand in the better land
Never to part again.
—Lovingly remembered by his wife and daughter Barbara.

BAGNALL—In loving memory of a dear brother, Thomas, who died August 27, 1947.
He had a cheery smile, a pleasant way
A helping hand to all he knew
He was so kind so generous and true
On earth he nobly did his best
Grant him Jesus, Heavenly rest.
—Sadly missed by sisters Dolly and Alice.

Forest Fires Start Again

MONTREAL, Aug. 27 (CP)—Forest fires were reported late Friday destroying fine stands of timber on Lookout Mountain near St. Donat, 80 miles north of Montreal.

A strong north wind sprang up, fanning smouldering areas into new outbreaks. Detailed reports were meagre because of interrupted telephone service.

Armed with shovels and axes, a second crew of Royal 22nd Regiment army men were standing by Friday night to move into fire-scarred Lotbiniere County where smouldering brush fires flared up anew.

An army spokesman described the situation at Dosquet in Lotbiniere County, about 40 miles south of Quebec City, as "grim."

Dosquet was one of the fire centres a few days ago when a half dozen fires caused damage of more than $100,000 in one night, burning more than 12 houses, two sawmills and rich crops.

1,000 Doukhobors Hope To Live In Turkey

NELSON, B.C., Aug. 27 (CP)—A spokesman for 1,000 Doukhobors said Friday night he is negotiating with Ottawa for their migration to Turkey, and not Russia.

The chairman of the group, John L. Lebedeff, said the 1,000 members of the spiritual community of Christ—the Doukhobor's Sons of Freedom sect—have declared their willingness to leave Canada.

Mr. Lebedeff last July 20 issued an appeal to the sect's radical group in which he stated "the prophecy has been fulfilled" and "the Doukhobors are destined to migrate eastward."

He said he did not wish to enlarge on the meaning of "prophecy" until later.

At the time it was stated the exodus would be to Russia or Turkey, and Mr. Lebedeff said negotiations with the Turkish ambassador at Ottawa are now under way.

PRACTICAL PLANS FOR THE HOME YOU WANT AND HOW TO PLAN IT

Need For Small Furnishings In Today's Smaller Houses

Grand pianos are intended for BIG rooms and so are many other pieces of furniture which are so designed that they do not fit in the small rooms of many present-day cottages. Remember this when you plan your new home . . . and when you purchase furniture for it.

There is much furniture being built which IS in proper scale for small and medium sized rooms. Small-scale furniture performs all the functions of the larger sizes and in no way adversely affects the utilization of a room. For many years period furniture sizes have been more or less arbitrarily based on earlier models built to be used in houses twice the size of the average 1949 new home. Sizes were often inherited rather than calculated from modern use.

Small-scale pieces will be particularly helpful in the living and dining rooms. Little can be done about the fixed sizes of beds either double or single. Upholstered pieces of moderate size are no less comfortable, but usually less expensive. Chesterfields are gradually being reduced in size. Early ones were often built to accommodate four persons, but few living rooms in today's small house can handle a chestefield longer than 72 inches. From a use standpoint larger chesterfields are not necessary. Occasional tables have been growing smaller and lower with the last few years. For modern living an occasional or non-dining table with any dimension greater than 36 inches seems unnecessary.

When a new home planner goes into a space-saving program the dining room is frequently reduced in size, because many people consider a large dining area a luxury. The "rub" comes when moving day arrives and an attempt is made to place the old, large size "buffet" in the reduced dining room. Most families need the dish storage space available in a "sideboard" and there is still a way to provide it without taking the six or seven feet in length needed for a long, low piece. A dish storage piece which is small in floor size, but tall, will store just as many dishes as the usual long, low piece . . . and work in a small room.

Another means of gaining storage area without loss of much floor space is the efficient corner cupboard. This type of storage uses otherwise wasted space . . . and if built in at the time the house is constructed means just that much LESS FURNITURE.

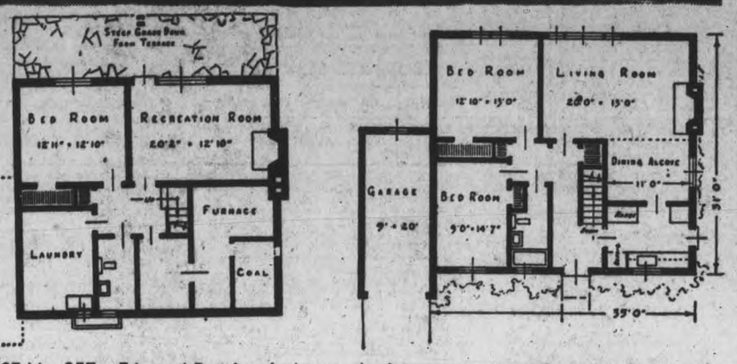
Built-In Furniture

Low roofs produce low walls in upstairs rooms, against which most furiture, particularly chiffoniers and chests of drawers just won't work. This situation is found in many storey-and-one-half houses and in most attic rooms. This under-the-eave space need not be wasted because there is one piece of furniture . . . the bed . . . which can be made to fit a low wall, saving full length portions for the taller pieces.

Built-in beds have saved many an awkward bedroom ,and if the bed can be constructed at the time the house is built it usually costs less than a furniture store bed.

Ninety out of the average hundred homes are all the same . . . four walls, two windows, a closet, and the wallpaper. The living room, the dining room, the game room, all seem to have had the benefit of thought and attention, to the exclusion of the sleeping rooms, which fall into the usual stereotyped monotony.

Bunk Beds Popular



Bunk beds have long been popular for boys' rooms, weekend cottages, and shore homes, but there are other forms which such beds can take, making them suitable for any adult bedroom.

Some built-in bed suggestions: Make the bed space about six inches longer than a regular bed . . . it is well to have good "toe" room. If the bed is enclosed on three sides build two singles instead of a double . . . it is much easier to make. If you build-in a double bed arrange it so that two sides are open for ease in making. Do not build your frame work until you have checked the springs you are going to use or secured the exact width of those offered in the stores. A spring and mattress can be 15 inches thick . . . remember this in building your frame or you may get the finished bed so high from the floor that you have to jump in.

Folding Kitchen Table

An extra table, of the folding variety, in the kitchen of the home where much entertaining is done is a great convenience for holding extra dishes or food materials when there are many additional guests. A drop-leaf top is hinged to the side of the wall, with substantial movable braces fitted underneath to hold it firmly when in use. When not in use the leaf is easily dropped and hardly noticeable, as it occupies but little space against the side of the wall. A table of this kind solves the problem of what to do with the many extra pieces of tableware or plates of salad, desserts, etc., necessary to the serving of many people. The cost of building this table is very little, but the accommodation is invaluable.

HOUSE No. 357—Edmund Peachey Ltd., builders, of Islington, Ontario, have a 75 acre development in West Toronto known as "Chestnut Hills". All homes are architect designed and many have large ravine lots. This fine buff brick house was specifically designed by Architect MacDonic for a site sloping sharply to the rear. While to passers-by this apepars to be a handsome little bungalow, a glance at the floor plans will reveal that the house is much larger. Living quarters are chiefly at the rear of the house, permitting large windows on the southern exposure; which also faces the view. Notice that the recreation room is on the same level as the big terrace. This room rivals the living room in attractiveness and livability. Don't overlook the fact that both rooms have open fireplaces! Thanks to the architect, the exterior is simple and devoid of embellishment. Time will not dim its attractiveness. Mack One of Five Players Sold In 1883 For $75

By HARRY GRAYSON
NEA Sports Editor

NEW YORK—(NEA)—Connie Mack recalled his amateur days at East Brookfield, Mass., in 1883, and an owner named Tilden asked him if he wanted to play professionally.

"I haven't heard from him since," laughed the 86-year-old manager of the Athletics, "and I'm beginning to suspect I won't. I guess he didn't think I had much of a future in baseball."

At the dinner bringing Connie Mack Day at Yankee Stadium to a close, Mr. Mack told of five members of the Hartford club of the Eastern League being sold to the Washington Nationals in 1886 for $75. Included were Gilmore and Mack, who gained fame as the Shadow Battery, because they were so tall and thin.

Mr. Mack spoke of his first training trip—to Charleston, when th'rd-class hotels accepted ballplayers provided they didn't mingle with the other guests. Manager Ted Sullivan put the club up at $1 a day American plan, and no tipping.

No one ever had to ask "Whatever became of Connie Mack?" but the game between the old Yankees and Athletics gave you a good line on what happens to used-up ballplayers.

John Franklin Baker was the oldest player on the field at 63. He's still a dirt farmer on Maryland's eastern shore.

Jimmy Foxx was on first base for the veteran A's. In 1925, Home Run Baker, then manager of the Easton club of the Eastern Shore League, walked into Mr. Mack's office in the Shibe Park tower with another sizable farm boy, this one only 17.

"Connie," said Baker, "I want you to take hold of a kid who is the greatest hitter you ever saw."

"Frank," said Mr. Mack, "can he hit as well as you could?"

"Better," responded Baker.

The new farm boys name was Jimmy Foxx who now represents phia Americans' immortal $100,000 infield on the field and the second oldest player in the abbreviated game at 62. He coaches Holy Cross. Max Bishop drills Navy, and walked as usual. Lefty Gomez called him Five Strikes Bishop. Gomez also sell sporting goods.

Lefty Grove runs a bowling alley in his old home town of Lonaconing, Md.

Proprietor Mickey Cochrane of a Billings, Mont., dude ranch showed up wearing a sombrero. Wally Pipp is a manufacturers' agent in Grand Rrapids. Mark Koenig did so well with Brlingame, Calif., apartment houses that he has retired at 45.

Long Bob Meusel has left his civilian job with the Navy at Long Beach, Calif., and would like a scouting job.

Ben Chapman is about to sell the Gadsden, Ala., club of the Class B Southeastern League, hopes to get back in the majors. Mule Haas manages Montgomery of the same circuit. George Selkirk bosses Binghamton of the Eastern League. Frank Crosetti and Bill Dickey are, of course, Yankee coaches. Al Simmons acts in the same capacity with the A's, and Bing Miller with the White Sox.

Lefty Gomez asked Ed Barrow if he did not realize that his great left-hander was under-paid as a Yankee.

"Yes, at these prices, I'll have to admit you were," replied Uncle Edward.

Hugues Lapointe Climbs Quickly In Political Field

By D'ARCY O'DONNELL

OTTAWA, Aug. 27—(CP)—Ten years ago political observers were predicting that Hugues Lapointe would follow in his famous father's footsteps and become Canada's Minister of Justice. This week the predictions came within a step of being realized. The popular 38-year-old Hugues, known to his friends as "Bob," was appointed Solicitor-General in the post he will deal with many of the problems that come under the jurisdiction of the Justice Department.

Observers now are saying he will spend a short period of training in the post and take over the Justice portfolio from Hon. Stuart Garson.

Hugues did not serve long in the Commons with his father, the late Rt. Hon. Ernest Lapointe. He was elected to the Commons in 1940 and a little more than a year later his father died. Hugues spent part of that year overseas. He returned for the funeral but then went back overseas. He was wounded during the invasion of France.

Good Training

His training in the army where he rose to the rank of Lieutenant-Colonel was put to good use when he returned to the Commons after the general election of 1945. He was appointed parliamentary assistant to the Defence Minister and in the Commons handled many of the problems affecting the army.

Last year he was appointed parliamentary assistant to External Affairs Minister Pearson and he still held that post when he was elevated to the Cabinet.

Hugues is not the forceful, colorful speaker his father was, but political observers say he is learning.

Sometimes when predictions about his future were made in front of Hughes he would laugh and say jokingly, "All I want to do is go to the Senate."

Many have difficulty pronouncing his rather unusual first name, which frequently in error is spelled Hughes. There appears to be some disagreement over the correct pronounciation. Most, including Mr. Lapointe, pronounce it "urge" almost like the Indian grunt "ugh." Others pronounce the "H" just slightly.

This is probably why his friends just call him Bob.

Allan Ladd Judges Beauty Shows By Pictures . . . More Note About The Late Will Rogers

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 27 (AP) —Alan Ladd is the little man who isn't there at beauty contests.

And yet the screen idol was judging his 161st beauty match this week. He does it by mail.

The outfit conducting the contest contacts Ladd and his studio. Pictures of the contestants—anything from a tiny snapshot to a huge portrait—are submitted. "The selection is fairest if the same photographer takes all the pictures," says Ladd.

Conscientious Ladd ponders over all the pictures. He takes a lot of time with each contest.

"The first thing I look for in a beauty queen is intelligence," he confided. And how can you see intelligence from photos? "You can see it in their eyes."

Ladd began judging feminine charms en masse nine years ago. Most of his requests come from high schools and colleges, but it has also selected rodeo queens and even the Sauerkraut Queen of Forreston, Ill.

More Rogersania

So many people expressed interest in the columns I did on Will Rogers that I am adding a few more notes.

Did you know?

That he was a lifelong Democrat, but claimed he never voted . . . That he was a failure in silent pictures . . . That he hit a slump in talkies and was relegated to "B" pictures at Fox; two hits directed by John Ford brought him right back . . .

That his favorite pictures was "A Conn. Yankee" . . . that he was touchy about possible censorship of his films. He once refused to do a scene with Peggy Wood, who played his wife, until the double bed was changed to twin beds . . . That he refused to do the film version of "Ah Wilderness" after a lone patron wrote him to protest the scene in the play in which Rogers intimated the facts of life to his son . . .

That one of his most famous lines was: "The United States never lost a war or won a conference."

Princess Gets $2.50 Day Navy Allowance

By NORMAN CRIBBENS

LONDON, Aug. 27 (CP). — Princess Elizabeth will be entitled to a marriage allowance of 12s. 6d. ($2.50) a day when the Duke of Edinburgh goes back to sea in October.

Whether the Princess will actually accept the money neither the Admiralty nor Buckingham Palace is prepared to say.

In either case the Duke will have to work hard for the allowance and for his own basic pay, plus expenses, of £1 6s. daily. As First Lieutenant in the destroyer Chequers, leader of the Mediterranean Fleet's destroyer flotilla, he will be one of the busiest men on board—on deck every morning at 6 a.m. Summer and Winter.

The First Lieutenant aboard a destroyer is executive officer and second in command. Except for technical matters, entrusted to specialist hands, he is responsible to the Commander for everything affecting the internal running of the ship.

Duke's Duties

The Duke will have to see that the standing orders of the day are followed out by the crew, and that they harmonize with the general standing orders of the fleet or squadron to which each ship belongs.

Usually known as "Jimmy The One" or just plain "Jimmy," the First Liutenant must be up and out on deck when "Hands Fall In" is piped early each morning. At this muster he "tells off" hands for "clean ship" and stays around to see that the work is properly carried out.

Morning and afternoon he conducts training classes in specialized subjects. Once every day he holds an informal court on deck to consider requests and complaints from the crew and adjudicate on offences. Grave offences, however, are passed to the Commander for judgment.

The Duke, as a Lieutenant of seven years' seniority, is considered to have every qualification for his new post. He will be due for promotion to Lieutenant-Commander next July.

Entry Of Berkshire Pigs Big Attraction At The Ex

Three Berkshire pigs from Little Britain in Victoria county provided one of the surprises of the Exhibition in grabbing the bacon class award from the more numerous Yorkshires.

They were shown by G. H. Mark & Son of Little Britian, and captured first place from the pen of Yorkshires entered by Garnet Whitfield of Fraserville. The judge was Garnet Rickard of Newcastle.

About the only time you see any of the black haired pigs in this country is at the Exhibition; that goes, also, for the red Tamworths, although less exclusively. At least that is the general impression, without taking the trouble for more precise information from the staff of Canada Packers.

Peterborough has long been a centre of the white haired Yorkshires, and their dominance is indicated by the establishment of the Quinte-Kawartha Yorkshire Breeders' Association whose field day is held at the Millbrook spring show.

Commercial Influence

Breeding has become largely confined to the Yorks in this area, mainly as a result of commercial influence. The white swine bulk largest in the market business, and the black Berks have been receiving scant consideration in these parts.

For all that local district preference, the Mark pen stole the bacon honors and the $10 first money right in the heart of the Yorks territory. That award, in the very last class of the day's judging on the south side of the grounds, appeared to be a decided upset to usual dominance of the Yorks in the local show ring as well as in their volume of little pigs going to market.

The Whitfield Yorkshires just about swept their class, but in that bacon pen award, the decision went to the Mr. Mark's selected three from his herd of Berks.

Those Little Britain blacks "brought home the bacon".

RUSSIA PLANNING TO LIQUIDATE TITO

• Tito Fight Loosens Reds' Grip

May Cause West To Revise Anti-Red Strategy

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29 (AP)—Stalin's grip on the Communist satellite states has been reported sharply shaken by his row with Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia.

That information comes in highly responsible reports reaching Washington from Eastern Europe.

These reports are expected to play an important part in the meetings scheduled for next month among State Secretary Acheson, Foreign Secretary Bevin of Britain and Foreign Minister Schuman of France.

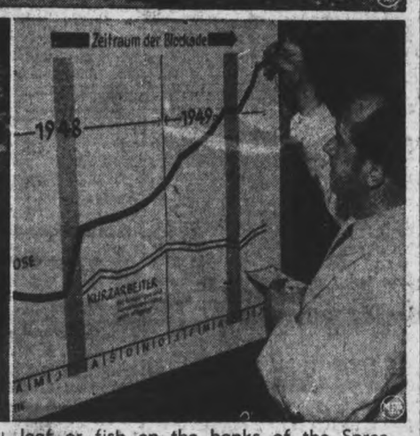
Western diplomats foresee in these meetings a three-power review of the grand strategy of the cold war with Russia, followed by a determined effort to devise new moves against the Kremlin.

The review predicted that the east-west struggle will be divided into three major sections.

These, together with the most responsible estimates of the situation in each area, are:

Complete Defeat

1. The Far East—the western powers have taken a complete defeat in China. Acheson, Bevin and Schuman will be mostly concerned with trying to save the rest of Asia from Communism.



2. Eastern Europe — Russian political control is no longer as stable as it was at the time of the Tito break. The satellite countries have encountered consistent economic difficulties and large groups of their people are reported discontented.

Some political factions which have played along with the Communists have been attracted by the Tito success. If ever the Red army was pulled back into Russia they might be inclined to jump the tracks on Moscow completely.

3. Western Europe—In terms of industrial production, the Marshall-plan countries are far long the road to recovery. But this has not been accompanied by equal success in speeding trade and knocking down tariff barriers. Moreover, responsible officials here are beginning to wonder seriously whether the Europeans will be able to stand on their own feet by the time American Recovery Aid ends in 1952.

BERLINERS FACE UNEMPLOYMENT —Skyrocketing unemployment in Western Berlin is reported jeopardizing the already shaky economy. Scenes above show various aspects of the problem. At upper left, a poster with name plates of Berlin firms is symbolic of the depression. Another plate is taken down—the eighth—meaning another firm has shut down. At upper right, idle Berliners, living on dole money, loaf or fish on the banks of the Spree. Lower left, Berliners in the American sector line up at a labor office for their jobless dole. One out of four workers is idle. Lower right, the chart in Berlin's main labor office shows how unemployment figures zoomed from 50,000 in the summer of 1948 to over 200,000 this year. Not To Lead Satellites, Reports Say

Yugoslavia Showing Scant Signs Of Fear-Of War

BERLIN, Aug. 29 (AP)—Western Allied intelligence officers in Berlin received fresh reports today that Soviet Russia will attempt to liquidate Premier Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia within six months.

They said these reports, which have circulated among Germans friendly with Soviet officialdom in eastern Germany, stressed that Tito's assassination or a Russian-inspired internal revolt are the most likely prospects.

The reports cast doubt on speculation that Moscow would lead Soviet satellites in southeastern Europe in a direct military attack against Yugoslavia.

World More Jittery

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Aug. 29—(AP)—Outwardly at least, Yugoslavia showed scant signs today of worry about the possibility of a shooting war with her Soviet-dominated neighbor.

The war of nerves in the Balkans apparently has the rest of the world more jittery than it has the people of this country—even though they are conscious of the possibilities.

Government spokesmen were kept busy denying a flood of rumors about moves and countermoves in the increasingly bitter world-war between Soviet Russia and Yugoslavia.

But shoeshine boys in Belgrade slapped placidly away at the boots of their customers. Housewives carried on their marketing as usual.

In the country, farmers were threshing one of their richest grain harvests in years.

At least part of Yugoslavia's calm can be attributed, of course, to the fact that the official press has carried few of the rumors which apparently have disturbed the western world.

There has been no mention yet, for example, of the meeting of the Soviet-dominated Economic Council of Mutual Assistance in Sofia, Bulgaria.

There have been some official denials of such rumors as "unusual" troop movements in Yugoslavia, that two divisions have been sent into the Istrian (Trieste) Peninsula to prevent sabotage, that fire in the Fiume oil refinery was the work of Soviet agents.

It's true that Marshal Tito's troops stretched around Yugoslavia's uneasy borders are on the alert.

Nothing New

But that's nothing new. They've been that way since the Communist International Information Bureau blacklisted Tito 15 months ago on charges of pursuing "Nationalistic" policies and began a campaign to oust him from power.

Perhaps it's true that the heaviest concentration of Tito's forces is in Macedonia—breeding spot of past wars—as reported in

Army Pay Shot

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—(AP)—Harry Warren will get $576 from the United States government because his pheasants woke up and broke their necks. Warren raised game birds at Van Nuys, Calif. His home was right next to the airport. During the war, the Army decided to enlarge the runways, and the contractor operated around the clock with the help of floodlights. It seems that the moving lights and shadows would flush the birds. They would try to fly, hit the tops of the coops and break their necks. President Truman Saturday signed a bill under which the government paid up for the dead pheasants.

Pastor Admits Sin; Wants To Keep Pulpit

GUELPH, Aug. 29. — Rev. Thomas A. Guthrie, centre of a storm which broke around his York Road Baptist Church last week, declared before the remaining members of his congregation yesterday that he has confessed his sin and "God has given me the grace to stand."

"A month ago," he continued, "if I had taken the advice of my deacons I would have taken a slow boat to China, but I read the 31st Psalm and decided to stay. The Lord stood by this poor and simple sinning preacher. My interest is in the Lord, otherwise I would have left the church and Guelph."

The controversy stemmed from a love letter which the married pastor admittedly wrote to a married Guelph woman. Last night, while the minister conducted his regular service, five of the church's six deacons and the dissident members of the congregation held their own meeting in the Orange Hall.

At this meeting, Albert North, chairman of the deacons' board, read the letter Mr. Guthrie sent to the woman. After it was read the letter was returned to the Bank of Montreal. The dissident deacons said it cannot be released without a court order.

Parts of the letter were quoted in an analysis of the whole situation which was contained in an eight-page circular appearing over the signatures of Mr. North and Mr. Fulton. The circular, which also contained the letter

British Cabinet Approves Cripps' Final Draft Of Dollar Talk Proposal

Renewed Talk Of Cut In Value Of Pound Causes Prices To Slump On Stock Exchange In London

LONDON, Aug. 29—(CP)—The Cabinet today approved Sir Stafford Cripps' final brief for next week's Washington dollar talks among Britain, The United States and Canada, it was learned today. The cabinet meeting last 4¼ hours but the afternoon part dealt with matters other than the Washington conference. There will be no further meetings.

The 15-page document which the Cabinet considered was hammered out by Treasury, Trade and Foreign Affairs experts. It will serve as a work sheet for the British delegation to the Washington ministerial talks which open Sept. 7.

News of the cabinet meeting brought a slump in government bond prices on the London Stock Exchange after a week of gains. Brokers attributed the decline to renewed talk that the value of the pound sterling may be cut as one of the dollar-crisis remedies.

Some bond issues with a par value of £100 ($400.) were down as much as 15 shillings ($4) in midafternoon.

Sir Stafford Cripps of the Treasury and Ernest Bevin of the Foreign Office will sail for New York Wednesday aboard the liner Mauretania.

The Financial Times estimates that the gold and dollar working capital of Britain and the rest of the sterling area has dwindled by about £100,000,000 ($400,000,000) since the end of June.

That would leave about £300,000,000 in the spring of 1948, the treasury said £500,000,000 was the rock-bottom safe minimum.

There have been suggestions abroad that one way for Britain to stop the drain would be to cut the price of her goods by devaluing the pound. In theory, that should step up exports. The pound now is pegged officially at $4.03.

Ideas Differ

Sir Stafford contends that any increase in sales to the dollar area from devaluation would be offset by the added cost of British imports. The Financial Times comments:

"Unless the drain on the gold reserve is taken in hand forthwith devaluation of the currency will be accomplished by the processes of the market whether we like or not."

Associates say Sir Stafford and Bevin have different ideas on how Britain's economic difficulties should be solved.

Sir Stafford is said to believe that Britain can get out of her economic plight only through hard work—by producing more goods at less cost and using high pressure salesmanship to earn the

4 Electrocuted When Car Snaps Off Pole

LIME RIDGE, Que., Aug. 29.——(CP).— Three elderly persons and a five-year-old girl were killed near this eastern townships village Saturday night when the automobile in which they were passengers cut down a transmission pole and brought a 6,900-volt line down on them.

Dead are George Miller, 64, his 62-year-old wife, their granddaughter, Rita, five, and Thomas Brousseau, 69, driver of the car. All residents of this Wolfe county community, they were returning home after a visit to nearby East Angus.

There were no witnesses to the accident, but George Delsile, safety instructor for the Shawinigan Power Company, recounted the accident as he thought it had happened at a coroner's inquest.

After examining the scene, he said he thought the death car missed a turn on the road, struck a fence on the left-hand side of the road and bounced back.

It then travelled close to 300 feet, went into a ditch on the right hand side of the road, knocked down fence pickets and stopped 54 feet below after crashing into the pole which broke off at the bottom.

Says Church Leaders Spread False Stories

ZVOLEN, Czechoslovakia, Aug. 29—(AP) — President Klement Gottwald today accused Czechoslovakia's Roman Catholic Church leaders of trying to undermine the Communist-led government by "spreading false propaganda."

Gottwald charged church leaders are falsely accusing his government of religious persecution. He said their real aims are to "restore reaction" and disrupt Czechoslovakia's alliance with Russia.

Canada May Mediate In Talks

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—(CP)—The Anglo-Canadian-American financial talks went into high gear today but it looked as if progress would be slow for a while yet. Officials of the three countries held their first meeting Saturday. Today they started a full week's discussion of Britain's acute dollar shortage. Their findings will be presented to British, Canadian and American cabinet ministers when top-level conferences start Sept. 7.

Although outwardly confident, the advance-guard officials are frankly pessimistic about the chances of discovering a long-range solution, informed sources said. They will be pleased if they can set the stage for even a short-term remedy.

There is interest in reports that Canada is ready to resume the role of interpreter if the going gets rough.

Canada's soothing words may not be needed. Previously ruffled tempers on both sides had cooled considerably by the time the talks

Parched Farmlands Get Soaking In Weekend Rains

TORONTO, Aug. 29—(CP)—Parched farmlands in Central and Southern sections of Ontario got a change of diet from the weatherman during the week-end with the first appreciable rainfall since Aug. 2. The drought continued in northern Ontario.

Weather officials here reported the heaviest rainfall—1.34 inches—at Windsor, but there was an unofficial report of a two-inch rainfall in the Welland area where wells had been reported drying up.

The rain was accompanied by heavy winds in some areas, causing damage to trees and farm buildings. A miniature twister hit the Finch-Chesterville district, 28 miles northwest of Cornwall on Sunday. Hail stones, born on gale winds reaching a velocity of 50 miles an hour; shattered scores of windows.

Sun-scorched pasture lands in the Kitchener-Waterloo area, where farmers had been hauling water for livestock for some weeks, got their first good soaking Sunday in more than six weeks. More than an inch of rain fell.

Heavy rain also was reported from the Galt district. It was accompanied by heavy gusts of wind which uprooted some trees.

Weather officials said the rain storm followed the hurricane which struck Florida late last week and swept up the Atlantic seaboard.

Bill Of Rights For Europe, Plan

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 29—(AP)—A group within the European Consultative Assembly agreed Saturday on a basic bill of rights to protect European freedoms in the 12 countries making up the European Council.

Sir David Maxwell-Fyfe, of Britain, chairman of the Assembly's Juridicial Committee, said the committee decided to draft a convention embracing at least 11 principal human rights.

He emphasized that these 11 funamentals can and probably will be expanded before the committee writes its final draft — possibly at Monday's session.

Intended to provide a maximum standard, through a collective guarantee, the rights are:

Security of person.

Immunity from arbitrary arrest, detention or exile.

Exemption from slavery, servitude or forced labor of a discriminatory nature.

Freedom of speech and expressions of opinion.

Freedom of religious belief, practice and teaching.

Freedom of association.

Protection of natural rights pertaining to marriage, paternity and family.

Inviolability of domicile.

Equality before the law.

Protection from discrimination based on religion, race, national origin, sex, or other opinion.

Protection from arbitrary confiscation of property.

Bolivia Rebels Ask For Help

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 29 (AP)—Defying governments bombs and loyal troops marching against their stronghold, Bolivian rebels at Cochabamba called on the rest of the population to help them today.

A rebel broadcast heard here urged the people to rise against the government, which it said "is provoking a fratricidal war."

Thus they spurned a government ultimatum to surrender or be annihilated issued last night after two air force bombings of Cochabamba.

Six planes dropped 140 bombs on the city, damaging the airfield and destroying at least one rebel plane, in the major raid. Earlier four planes on a reconnaissance mission dropped a few light explosives. The rebels answered with pursuit planes and anti-aircraft fire.

One of the government bombs blew up a railroad bridge over the Rio Rocha River, about a mile outside Cochabamba, holding up trainloads of loyal soldiers from La Paz advancing against the rebels.

The revolt by violently Nationalist elements of both the army and civil population broke out Saturday. The middle-of-the-road government of Acting President Mamerto Urriolagoitia said it is sparked by the outlawed MNR (National Revolutionary Movement) whose leaders, it reported, have sneaked back from exile. They also were blamed for bloody rioting in the tin mines last May.

Farm Buildings Badly Damaged By Twister

CORNWALL, Aug. 29 (CP) — A miniature twister struck the Finch-Chesterville district, 28 miles northwest of here, Sunday uprooting trees and smashing farm buildings. Hail stones shattered scores of windows.

The barn of George Adams was toppled from its foundations by winds which reached a velocity of 50 miles an hour. Other buildings were badly damaged in the short-lived storm. Damage was estimated at several thousand dollars

Commonwealth Problems To Be Studied By Experts

BIGWIN INN, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP)—Nearly 100 top-flight experts in the lofty spheres of politics, economics and sociology will gather here next month to study the effects of post-war stresses on the framework of the British Commonwealth.

Drawn from 10 Commonwealth countries, they will be delegates to the fourth unofficial Commonwealth Relations Conference, opening Sept. 8 for 10 days of round-table discussion which will go deeply into the problems which face the British community.

The conference, being held this year under the sponsorship of the Canadian Institute of International Affairs, meets only every five years or so, largely because it takes that long for world political, economic and social developments to point solidly in any one direction. It met previously in Toronto in 1933, in Australia in 1938 and in the United Kingdom in 1945.

Because their deliberations are so political-significant — and at times highly-controversial — the delegates pass no resolutions and reach no decisions beyond reporting at times that they approach a "common ground." A report of the proceedings later is published in book form and receives global circulation in the state departments and chancellories of the world.

Each of the delegates is an expert in one of the many fields associated with commonwealth relations and the delegations themselves provide a cross-section of the economic, political and social life of the country they represent.

The talks are held under weighty titles—"the position of the member nations in the post-war world," "current and prospective international problems and the policies of the member-nations towards them" and "the post-war evolution of the commonwealth and its implications."

Under those headings, the discussions break down into studies of post-war reconstruction, trade and monetary problems, strategy, security arrangements such as the Atlantic Pact, colonial policies, migration and racial discrimination and policies.

The list of delegates reads like a "Commonwealth's Who's Who.

Egyptian Swimmer Starts Channel Try

CAP GRIS NEZ, France, Aug. 29—(CP)—The Egyptian swimmer Marie Hassan Hamad started his Channel attempt early today.

Hamad made about 4½ miles in the first 90 minutes of swimming. He then disappeared from the view of observers on shore swallowed up in the mists which covered the Channel.

Partially Lift Ban On Travel

TORONTO, Aug 29 (CP) — The travel ban in the Timiskaming district of Ontario has been lifted.

A spokesman from the Department of Lands and Forests said Sunday a general rain which fell Saturday over the fire area has eased the fire hazard—resulting in lifting of the ban.

Officials said that although the rains helped the situation, 22 new forest fires were started by lightning. The outbreaks occurred in the Sault Ste. Marie, Gogama, Chapleau, North Bay and Algonquin districts.

The Angonquin is the only area where the bush travel ban is in effect. The fire hazard still is dangerous because of a continued dry spell.

The 22 new fires bring the total in Ontario to 170—all of which are under control. The most serious blaze is in Wallbridge township in the Parry Sound district. It covers about 2,500 acres.

Production Records To Be Major British Argument

LONDON, Aug. 29 (Reuters)—British production records will support the government's case at the Washington financial talks that Britains problems are due to dollar-sterling unbalance and not to failure of British domestic economy.

The production figures, prepared by Whitehall experts, show that the May index figure of 133—taking 1946 average as 100—was the highest in history. The quarterly averages this year consistently have been six per cent higher than in 1948. Productivity has shown a steady increase during the last 12 months of about 4½ per cent a year.

It is stated that in the first half of 1949, employment, production, productivity, exports and capital investment all were running at high levels.

Some of the figures are as follows: Exports—In every month of the half year the value of exports (on a standard month basis) was above the average for the last three months of 1948, a record period. The June figure was the highest since January. Machinery exports beat their year-end target in the first quarter and vehicle exports in both quarters.

The volume of United Kingdom exports has risen steadily from 102 per cent of 1936 in the first quarter of 1947 to 155 per cent in the first quarter of 1949.

Coal—Deep-mined coal output to the end of July totalled 116,000,000 tons compared with 113,000,000 tons during the same period of 1948. Output a marshift at the coalface has been running just above three tons and is the highest since the war.

Steel—Ingot production in the first seven months was five per cent higher than a year earlier and highest in the history of the industry.

Textiles—Output of cotton yarn, rayon and worsted yarn have all been running higher than at the same time last year. Cotton in the first 28 weeks was four per cent higher rayon in the first 26 weeks was 16 per cent higher and worsted yarn in the same period six per cent higher.

Vehicles—Output of passenger automobiles reached a high level in the first six months at a weekly average of 7,300 compared with 6,500 a yea rearlier. Commercial motor vehicles were also at the record level of 4,000 compared with 3,150 a year earlier.

Shipbuilding—At mid-year, 46 per cent of the merchant ships, including tankers, under construction in all parts of the world were in British yards.

Bitter Flood Of Criticism Adds To Task Of Finding Solution To U.K. Crisis

Officials of Three Countries Start Discussions At Ministerial Level; Narrow Attitudes Could Cause Failure

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29—(CP)—A bitter flood of criticism from some Senators and some newspapers is adding to the burden borne by the men seeking a solution to Britain's dollar crisis. Coming on the eve of Anglo-Canadian-American financial talks, this sniping points up the tremendous responsibility these experts face. If they can keep things on a calm, fair basis, there is hope that the dollar-currency tangle will be straightened out. If the narrow, unbending attitude of certain of the non-experts is applied to the conference, it might well flop.

Officials of the three countries started preliminary discussions here Saturday at the ministerial level. Full-scale talks, starting September 6, will bring together British, Canadian and American cabinet ministers.

The sad fact is that anti-British statements — and anti-American sentiment in Britain—have grabbed the headlines here in recent weeks. The more reasoned attempts of far-thinking senators and newspapers to create an unbiased approach to Britain's financial woes have not received the same space.

The odds seem that the sane, sensible atitude eventually will prevail. But most observers agree just the same that few international conferences have started on so discordant a note as this one will.

The Times-Herald, purchased recently by Col. Robert McCormick, anti-British publisher of the Chicago Tribune, is taking most of the pre-conference pot-shots at Britain. Almost daily there are headlines like this: "Cripps hopes to milk U.S. and grab more world trade." And stories that:

"Grab Trade"

"Sir Stafford Cripps comes here next month to put over a scheme which will allow the British to grab the trade of a large part of the world—as usual at the expense of American free enterprise . . ."

There are speeches such as this one by Senator James P. Ken (Rep. Mo.):

"If I had my way, we would say to (Foreign Secretary Ernest) Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps: 'Not another dollar, not another dime of the American taxpayers' money until you take measures to help yourselves! We have done our part. We stand on the record. The evidence shows you have not done your part . . ."

The oft-repeated basic charge is that Britain got into financial trouble by electing a Socialist government, that the United States—with loans and the Marshall Plan—has been subsidizing socialism, and that Bevin and Cripps will be plugging for another dollar hand-out. The Senate minority leader, Senator Kenneth S. Wherry (Rep. Neb.), for instance, takes that tack.

Market As Whole Has Easier Tendency

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP)—Upper Canada Mines held the spotlight in the busiest session since early in the month in the Toronto Stock Exchange today. Upper Canada soared ahead for a 63-cent gain at $3.50 in heavy trading following drill results. The market as a whole tended to ease. Industrials and base metals slipped while western oils and golds were comparatively steady. Volume for the first three hours was 827,000 shares.

More than half of the volume was turned over by two stocks. Upper Canada and Northland Mines, whose property adjoins Upper Canada in the Larder Lake district, Northern Ontario.

Upper Canada has been a brisk feature of markets during the last two weeks, climbing strongly following some drill results at a new ore body. Reports today that a second hole, 150 feet away from the previous hole, gave a cut grade of $10.63 across a width of 81 1-5 feet started the stock rolling to an all-time high at $3.65 at one point. Sherritt Gordon was also a highlight, turning strongly for a nine-cent advance at $2.70 and touching a new high at $2.79. Consolidated Smelters, Noranda and Waite Amulet dipped into lower ground in base metals.

verbatim, was read to the dissidents at their meeting. It was addressed to the members of York Road Baptist Church.

"We are sure the members generaly will read this letter with surprise and regret," the two ex-deacons state in their comment.

"Bald Love Letter"

"In the first place, it is baldly a love letter, written by Rev. Thos. H. Guthrie, himself a married man to the wife of Mr.————.

"In this letter Mr. Guthrie in the second paragraph tells of going uptown in the hope of seeing Mrs.————. He says:

" 'But no ———— could be seen anywhere."

"Mr. Guthrie continues:

" ' I felt pretty bad when you told me of your guests asking you whether you had seen me or not.' "

"He does not want such discussion to spoil Mrs. ————'s life."

" 'Much as I appreciate you and enjoy being with you,' etc.

"He says again:

" 'Since I have been responsible for impairing your enjoyment of your Christian life, DO FORGIVE ME.'

"True, Mr. Guthrie's letter is interlarded with several pious expressions that the Lord would help, and so on; but the bald fact remains, he was declaring his love for another man's wife. Nor does he appear to be ready to discontinue his attentions, for he says:

" 'Please do not feel that you must do all in your power to avoid me. If you are in the habit of going uptown at certain times, by all means continue to do so PLEASE . . . feel free as ever you were before I began seeing you.'

"He intimates, however, that he will not intrude upon her. He says

" '. . . I want to be always your BEST FRIEND, no matter what the cost. I love you, really more than I should and always will. With me, YOU ARE TOPS, YOU HAVE NO EQUAL ANYWHERE.'

"This is the word of the Pastor of York Road Baptist Church, who has a wife of his own, addressed to the wife of another man.

"He adds:

" 'But you are not mine, and I'll have to learn just that, though it will be difficult to do.'

"Mr. Guthrie declares his intention of being back in town for July 23 and says:

" 'I may drop in to say hello to you . . . and ——, shortly after 3.30 Saturday afternoon, so please be home! If I don't see you then, I guess I won't see you until Aug. 7 at the M-O-R-N-I-N-G service.' "

"Then he continues:

" 'Well darling, I must come to a close here.'

"He then exhorts her to pray about the whole thing, and concludes his letter:

"Tons of love, and a sincere prayer for your every joy in the Lord.

" 'Always yours with all my love,
Tom
Thomas (Honey) Guthrie XXX
I love you.'

"As deacons, we ask whether any decent man in his senses, not to say a Christian, can, on any grounds, justify a letter of that sort being written by a married man to the wife of another man?"

Blames Dr. Shields

Services were held in the church today despite the fact that members opposing Mr. Guthrie padlocked the doors yesterday. The pastor himself blamed Dr. T. T. Shields, stormy petrel of Toronto's Jarvis Street Baptist Church, for fomenting the trouble.

"On the advice of Dr. Shields," he said, "our dissenters have pursued a course which is definitely unconstitutional and not in the best interests of the Lord at York Baptist Church or anywhere else."

Mr. Guthrie said he is persuaded Dr. Shields' action is retaliation for Mr Guthrie's support of a non-confidence motion in Dr Shields as presidetn of the Union of Regular Baptist Churches of Ontario and Quebec

The dissident members, who claim to represent a majority of the congregation, have declared the pulpit vacant.

But Mr. Guthrie maintains that at a legally constituted meeting of church members he was requested to retain the plpit. The meeting held by the dissidents was unconstitutional, he claims

About 40 members of the church attended both morning and evening services Sunday. At the meeting in the Orange Hall last night, 78 people attended.

Mr. Guthrie told his congregation that the rebellious members had taken the wrong course but they could return to the fold anytime, which would be for the good for every one.

"My heart bleeds for them," he said.

The pastor said that two weeks ago he made a confession in the church and the congregation voted 50 to 12 that he remain. "We have some fine men of faith who have have forgiven the sins of a poor sinful Baptist preacher," he declared.

Resignation Invalid

The minister disclosed that he voluntarily presented his resignation to the church on July 24, but at that time church members present were given no opportunity to register a contrary vote, which made the resignation invalid.

At a meeting on Aug. 7, a vote of 52 to 12 declared the July 24 meeting illegal. A motion was passed, retaining Mr. Guthrie as minister, which said:

"We consider it in the best interests of this church to refrain from further consideration of this matter and therefore declare the entire matter closed."

In the face of these motions, Mr. Guthrie continued, the dissenters went to Dr. Shields for advice, and in so doing they brought this private matter of the church into the daily press, making it a public affair.

The dissenters are threatening him with a court injunction in an attempt to force him to vacate the pastorate he revealed, and on Friday night the dissenters bolted and barred the church doors.

Wednesday night, during the church's regular mid-week prayer meeting, the dissenters called a meeting at the same time, also in the church, "to reopen the matter already declared closed by a majority of church members. This was a definite violation of the constitution of York Road Baptist Church," the pastor said.

Moved To Hall

The dissenters later moved their meeting to the Orange Hall. After it was over, Guthrie received a letter informing him the pulpit was declared vacant and asking him to vacate the parsonage within a month.

The minister stated that after this morning's service in the church, a business meeting was held and the members once again unanimously voted confidence in him.

Meanwhile D. Fulton, church clerk and treasurer and a member of the dissidents, said the meeting held Wednesday night simultaneously with the prayer meeting, was constantly interrupted by the pastor and his followers, who said there would be no business meeting. They persisted in singing hymns while the business meeting was in session so the dissidents adjourned to the Orange Hall.

Old World Unity Being Sought

Council Of Europe Studying Means To Unify Continent

STRASBOURG, France, Aug. 29 (AP) A unique international parliament, not yet three weeks old, is hard at work on proposals for political and economic unity of the old world.

This is the Council of Europe's Consultative Assembly, made up of 101 representatives from 12 countries. It has been meeting here since Aug. 10 to study means of promoting unification of Europe.

Now at the half-way mark in its initial session—scheduled to close Sept. 10—the Assembly has developed a consciousness of itself as a group, aware of its potentialities and eager to expand its authority.

Assemblymen have received and now are examining in committee projects for a federal political authority, the creation of a single economic department for Europe. Joint public works programs, common citizenship, a European supreme court to defend human rights, a single postal system and others.

Following the unanimous election of Belgium's Paul-Henri Spaak as president on the second day, the Assembly asserted its independence in two ways.

Vice-President

It picked Britain's Lord Layton as vice-president over William Whitely of Britain, largely because Whiteley is a member of the Cabinet and hence, it was thought, subject to governmental control. This was an incidental defeat for Britain's Labor government.

Spurred by oratory from Britain's Winston Churchill, the Assembly wrung an important concession from the foreign ministers' committee—a sort of upper house—in obtaining the right to enlarge its own work program.

The opening days saw an upsurge of federalism when 40-odd representatives signed a resolution to create a European central authority with limited functions but real powers.

The Assembly appointed its six standing committees which in turn organized and began to work.

Federalists realize they cannot establish a united Europe overnight, but the Assembly's political committee is exploring this question and intends to make recommendations next May.

Robeson Concert Broken Up By 3-Hour Riot

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — Paul Robeson demanded Sunday that Governor Thomas E. Dewey order an investigation of the three-hour riot that broke up a scheduled concert by the Negro singer Saturday night in Peekskill, N. Y. Eight persons were injuried in the riot.

Robeson also charged at a press conference that laxity of local authorities caused the riot, touched off by marching veterans' groups which had announced plans to silence the singer.

Similar calls for action by the Governor came from Representative Vito Marcantonio, New York State American Labor Party chairman, and officials of the Civil Rights Congress, a branch of which planned the concert.

Marcantonio said the attack on the concert "was organized with the direct knowledge and aid" of two Westchester County officials. He demanded that the Governor oust them.

Marcantonio named the two officials as County Clerk Robert J Field and Assistant District Attorney Leonard Rubenfeld.

Demand Arrests

The Civil Rights Congress, which has been listed as a subversive organization by the United States Attorney-General's department, demanded the arrest of several persons they said were "storm trooper leaders who incited to violence."

The congress also accused Peekskill and state police of staying away from the scene until the riot was well under way, although they "were well aware of the fact that mob action was being planned."

Meanwhile, some 1,500 persons, many of them persons who went to hear the concert, gathered Sunday afternoon at the estate of Dr. Samuel Rosen, at Katonah, N.Y., about 10 miles from the scene of the riot.

Mrs. Rosen said she had asked state police to send protection for this meeting because of "a number of crank calls" and the fact that suspicious-looking persons had gathered at the foot of a hill near the estate.

16,000 Join Strike At Goodrich Plant

AKRON, O., Aug. 29 (AP). — A CIO United Rubber Workers' strike halted production Saturday in the big B. F. Goodrich Company which employs nearly 16,000 workers. Any hope for immediate settlement faded when negotiations—still deadlocked — were recessed until Monday.

"There has been little progress, but nothing on major issues," H. F. Lloyd, international president of the union said. The negotiations have been in progress in Dayton since August 8.

The major issues are union demands for a pay raise of 25 cents an hour and $100 a month company-financed pensions.

A check of Goodrich plants here and in six other cities in as many states showed the strike was 100 per cent effective. It started with the Friday midnight shift at the exact hour the union's old contract with the company expired.

Istanbul. Macedonia is the section of southern Yugoslavia wedged between Bulgaria and Albania, both Cominform members.

Reinforcements in Macedonia would be natural to ward off any attempt by Cominform countries to incite rebellion with the promise of uniting the Macedonian sections of Yugoslavia, Greece and Bugaria into a separate state.

But actual disposition of Yugoslav troops and their strength has been, and will remain, secret unless and until a showdown comes. Reports on Yugoslav troops can be put down as a variety of rumors and diplomatic guesswork.

There was not one solid fact to back up any of the rumors of sabotage, troop movements and spying that flew from table to table in coffee shops and were whispered in diplomatic corridors.

A government spokesman denied Sunday night that Yugoslavia had sent troops into the Istrian peninsula, pre-war Italian territory, to prevent sabotage.

Only Rumors"

The spokesman then took up other published stories which he either denied or dismissed as "only rumors."

He denied that Yugoslavia had challenged the right of Russian gunboats to travel through Yugoslav territorial waters on the Danube River. He said Russia had that right under the Danube navigation charter and said Yugoslavia had not asked any Russian gunboat to halt.

He lumped together as "only rumors" these other reports:

1. That Yugoslavia might charge Russia before the United Nations Security Council with threatening peace by her heated notes to Yugoslavia.

2. That three Soviet mechanized divisions have entered Hungary from Romania and are believed near the Yugoslav frontier.

The government news agency, Tanjug, later entered another denial of reports about sending reinforcements into the Istrian peninsula where there was a fire in a Fiume oil refinery last week. It said there was no question of sabotage in the fire.

Tanjug, acting for the ministry of information, named a long list of foreign radios, newspapers and press associations which it said were spreading false reports.

The Sunday Times' diplomatic coresponent has this to say:

Brown was uninjured but Tarkington was badly shaken up and removed to St. Joseph's Hospital in a dazed condition. He was given medical attention by Dr. Robert Bell.

Record Season On Trent Canal

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 29 — (ENS)—The summer of 1949 will probably go down in history as a record year for navigation on the Trent waterway system.

More cruisers of all types have passed through Campbellford this year than in any previous year. Most of the craft came from widely separated points in the United States.

As many as twelve in one day have cruised through town and most of the skippers are loud in their praise of the scenic beauty of the Trent system and the friendliness of the canal officials.

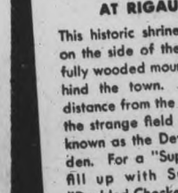
Jet Flights Intrigue Crowds At Exhibition

The five Harvard planes that were over the Exhibition Grounds Thursday afternoon made a second appearance Saturday. They made four approaches over the infield in formation. A few minutes later there was a rumble, a whistle, and a jet had passed over.



The crowd watched the planes in formation as if they were at a tennis match, necks craned, and eyes following the machines as they roared overhead. But it was a different story with the faster jet. It was—whoosh—where did he go?

The jet made four approaches, the third time at a comparatively slow rate of speed, with his wheels down. He thrilled the crowd with slow rolls and upside down flying.

CALGARY, Aug. 29—(CP) — The conference of commissioners on the uniformity of legislation in Canada unanimously agreed Saturday that the Uniform Defamation Act be amended so that newspaper headlines appearing over privileged reports would be allowed the same legal protection against libel action as the reports over which they appeared.

Previous interpretation of the section of the act governing headlines had considered the headline as a separate report, judged for libellous content on its own merits alone without reference to the newspaper report over which it appeared.

The change was recommended in a brief presented to the conference by the Canadian Daily Newspapers Association, represented by O. F. Lundell, of Vancouver, CDNA counsel.

Find New Source Arthritis Drug

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — The wonder drug for arthritis, cortisone, can be made from a plant growing at our doorstep, a chemist announced Saturday.

The plant is the tropical yam, of sweet potato, raised for food in Mexico and elsewhere in Latin America. It offers a new, cheaper source for the rare and costly drug, said Dr. Russell E. Marker, research consultant of the Treemond Pharmaceutical Company.

It should be possible to produce large amounts of the drug "in the near future," a company official said.

In medical tests cortisone has brought amazing relief to some people crippled and in pain from arthritis. But only tiny amounts are being made now, from animal bile. It has to be given in daily injections to keep up the good effects. One day's dose costs at least $20.

Samuel B. Collis Dies In Oshawa

A distinguished musician and business pioneer of Oshawa, Samuel Benjamin Collis died Friday in Oshawa General Hospital after a lengthy illness. He was in his 49th year.

Born in London, England, in 1900, Mr. Collis was brought to Canada at an early age when his father decided to establish a business in this district. Samuel B. Collis was educated in Oshawa, and while very young displayed an intense interest in music which led to his taking up the study of the violin. When he became accomplished at this instrument he played at many concerts in Oshawa and Toronto, and for some years led the orchestra at the Regent Theatre here before the advent of sound films.

He entered business in the store of his father, Isaac Collis, (I. Collis and Sons) on King Street West and for some years managed the store prior to opening his own business at 28 Simcoe Street North. The latter business marked the establishment of the first credit clothing firm in the city.

He took an active interest in merchandising methods and was a hard working member of the Oshawa Retail Merchants' Association, an organization with which he served as president some years ago.

Work for underprivileged children and for community enterprises also occupied a good deal of Mr. Collis' time, and as president of the Oshawa Kinsmen Club in 1942 he originated the idea of giving away a house in the annual club draw designed to raise money for worth-while community efforts. He also originated the idea of street carnivals as a means of raising money to permit Kinsmen to provide aid to various causes.

He liked outdoor life and maintained a summer home at Cedar Beach where he was president of the Cedar Beach Cottagers' Association in 1948.

Mr. Collis is survived by his wife, the former Jean Woods; two daughters, Mrs. Betty Tanner and Beverley, both of Oshawa; one son, Ted, at home; two brothers, Max of Oshawa and Allan B. of Peterborough; two sisters, Mrs. Eva Einhorn, Oshawa, and Ann, Montreal. He is also survived by his father, Isaac, now residing in Oshawa.

Funeral service was held from the Benjamin funeral home, Spadina Avenue, Toronto, with interment in the Oshawa Congregation Cemetery, Toronto.

Soaking Rain Given Big Hand By Farmers

KITCHENER, Aug. 29.—(CP). —More than an inch of rain fell here yesterday, starting early in the morning and continuing until late last night. It was the first soaking rain in almost a month and a half in the Kitchener-Waterloo area, and farmers welcomed it as relief for burned-up pastures in Waterloo County, and increased supply for dwindling wells.

Farmers in some parts of the area have ben hauling water for livestock for some weeks, while plowing and planting of fall wheat has been discouraged by the dry and hard condition of the soil. The rains are expected to sharply boost planting of fall wheat.

On Trail Of Suspect

DETROIT, Aug. 29 (AP)—Police Commissioner Harry S. Toy disclosed Saturday that Detroit police have a good description of a "definite suspect" being sought in the Victor Reuther shooting. Reuther, United Automobile Workers (CIO) educational director, was shot and severely wounded May 24 as he sat in the living room of his home here. He lost his right eye.

MONTREAL, Aug. 29 (CP) — A United States troupe staging a "walkathon" at the suburban Verdun auditorium gave its last performance Sunday night after Verdun Police Director Pierre Gatineau told promoter Ray Passo of Hollywood his permit had been forfeited. The "walkathon" races, which started two months ago, closed two weeks ahead of schedule. Cancellation of its permit followed the arrest last Thursday of four girl members of the troupe on charges of illegal posssession of narcotics.

Nationalizing The Liquor Industry

Dr. J. R. Mutchmor, who is social service secretary of the United Church of Canada suggests that "the liquor business in this country be nationalized from top to bottom with the profit motive taken away." We presume that Dr. Mutchmor means that the private profit should be taken out of the liquor industry; there is no likelihood that liquor would be sold to the public at cost if it were a government monopoly, and we are sure that Dr. Mutchmor would disapprove strongly of anything of that kind. He means, rather, that all distilleries, breweries and wineries should be purchased from their present owners by the Dominion Government, and operated as a national possession.

* * *

We see very grave objections to such a plan. It would make the liquor industry a direct political concern, and all political parties would talk out of both sides of their mouths,, attempting to pacify the prohibitionists without losing the votes of those who approve of liquor. It would also provide the prohibitionists with a new point of attack, for they would certainly protest against government manufacture of liquor. We find it difficult to believe that this is not Dr. Mutchmor's real desire; he is one of the leaders in the prohibitionist forces in Canada; he is paid to promote that cause, and he does it untiringly. Given the material of a government liquor business to work on he would redouble his efforts.

* * *

Canada has tried prohibition in some of its provinces, and the experiment has not worked, just as it did not work in the U.S.A. Prohibition has never been successful anywhere, and it is an enemy of temperance.

* * *

The liquor industry is more strictly controlled by the various governments of Canada at present than any other business. The industry is highly profitable to those who own it, but it is enormously profitable to the dominion and provincial governments, who tax it. We are sure that the government at Ottawa does not want to be saddled with the responsibility for the industry, which would be a heavy one.

* * *

The present system governing the sale of liquor in Canada is a good one, upon the whole, though it makes for a certain amount of hypocrisy, and leads to a certain amount of governmental tyranny. A nationalized liquor industry would be infinitely worse. Dr. Mutchmor undoubtedly knows this, and knows that such a condition would be favourable to the cause of which he is the paid, full-time advocate. Let us improve our present system, ridding it of tyranny and hypocrisy so far as possible; let us not fall into the trap which is disguised by this nationalization scheme.

The Singing Senator From Idaho

An interesting and often amusing feature of United States politics is the manner in which certain individuals, whose behaviour is far from that normally expected in a politician, manage to retain a firm hold on the public favour. An outstanding example of this is the case of the singing Senator from Idaho, Glen H. Taylor. As a legislator, Senator Taylor's record has been one of unrelieved mediocrity. As a Democrat, it has been one of disloyalty to the party. As a clown, crooner and radio performer, however, Idaho's exuberant senior Senator must be given an excellent rating.

Taylor, it will be remembered, bolted from the Democratic Party to become Henry Wallace's running mate in the last election. He spouted the same Russophile line as Wallace, and damned the "machine" Democrats as war-mongers. Now, however, Taylor announces that he will run for re-election in 1950—as a Democrat. "I feel that I never left the Democratic Party," he said recently—and without a smile. "I was just like a player that M-G-M loaned to another company."

The old-line Democrats of Idaho, known as the "Bourbon Democrats", do not feel that way about it. They detested Taylor even before he bolted the party, and they are now actively seeking to prevent his nomination for the next Senatorial elections. All reports from Idaho, however, agree that even within the organized Democratic Party, Taylor will be the choice of the majority, and that in the States as a whole he cannot be beaten.

Taylor's radio program apparently is responsible for much of his popularity. It has been described as straight "corn", and slightly mouldy corn at that. However, it has been often proved in the entertainment world that corniness and the bloom of age are popular with certain audiences. The old-time general store philosophy dispensed by Taylor, along with folksy descriptions of Congressional happenings, recipes from his wife Dora, and such Idaho song favourites as "Nobody's Darling But Mine", seem to be precisely what the people of the Gem State want from the man they send to Washington as their senior Senator. Unless there is a marked reversal of public sentiment, it seems that Glen Taylor will again be able to ride his horse and twang his guitar on the Capitol steps after the election of 1950.

The Commonwealth Mystery

We had the curious experience the other day of attempting to explain Canada's relationship with Britain to a New Canadian, who hopes in due course to be naturalized and to achieve Canadian citizenship. Our friend was a well-educated person from one of the Baltic states, a Displaced Person until a few months ago. "But is not Canada free from England?" said he. "Yes; entirely independent", said we. "Then why you sing the English song?" said he, referring to God Save The King. "Well, it is our song, too", said we; "you see, the King is our King". I do not understand this," said our friend; "Canada free from England, but you have English King." "It is certainly hard to understand", said we, "but you see the King of England is also the King of Canada". "But you are free?" said he. "Oh yes; completely free", said we. "I do not understand this at all" said he. We allowed the matter to drop, hoping that as our friend gained a knowledge of English, a knowledge of our queer ways would become easier.

It is important, however, that our New Canadians should have some knowledge of our strange political ways. Many of them are very much afraid. Russia has declared that anyone who has once been a Soviet citizen is still a Soviet citizen as far as the U.S.S.R. is concerned. They are afraid because they do not know what Canadian citizenship really means, and they do not understand what it means to be a British subject. They have seen violent expressions of loyalty to Communism; they cannot quite comprehend the depth and strength of our loyalty to our own ways.

The problem of our monarchy is, however, a very hard one to understand. It is an aspect of a governmental system which is both extremely practical and democratic, and also vague, mystical and muddled. Our attitude, as British subjects, is rather like that of adherents of the Catholic Church; we believe and accept, but we do not think it necessary to be able to explain every detail and fine point of our faith to others. To the New Canadians, however, we must offer some explanation, if they are to be absorbed in our country and accept our ways.

Cancelled Driving Licenses

In the first six months of the year 5,695 driving licenses in this province were cancelled. This is an increase of twenty per cent, over the corresponding period last year, and is an indication that the Department of Highways and the courts are really taking firm action to make our highways safer. The Minister of Highways says that "Withdrawal of the privilege of owning or operating a motor vehicle is generally considered as having a most salutory effect on offenders". The majority of the offenders were careless or drunk drivers. However, licenses have been cancelled for driving with defective brakes, passing on hills and the like.

Some of the more notorious highway menaces remain at large—the cars that are too old and pokey for highways, and the cars in unseviceable condition. Most of the time these are denied the use of the roads after an accident has happened. A way has still to be established to prevent these cars from being licensed in the first place.

A Bud On The Olive Branch

by T. R. FYVEL

WALKING in the heat of the glaring midday down Princess Mary-avenue in the modern section of Jerusalem, held by Israel, I stopped at a shop which stocked a surprising range of sports goods—tennis racquets of best english makes, badminton and squash racquets; and, inside, a rack holding perhaps 60 or 80 cricket bats.

SURELY, with the British gone from Jerusalem, there was now no sale for cricket gear? The owner explained to me that he had indeed just reduced the prices of the bats to half, but even so demand for them had not increased. Still, I thought.... the owner could claim that as a special contribution to the campaign for lower prices launched by Israel's Minister of Supply, he had cut the prie of cricket bats by 50 per cent.

As for the bats, they seemed likely to remain in Princess Mary-avenue for a long time. But in this country of contradictions even this was not certain, for a few days later in Tel Aviv I heard rumours of a cricket match between the British Legation and the Israel army. A first olive branch?

BROODING, stony, beautiful, with the mountains of Moab like a faint tracing on the horizon, Jerusalem in the mid-summer haze seems almost unchanged. But how different the mood: the British exodus, the Arab dispersion, the departure of Jewish politicians for Tel Aviv, the absence of tourists, and, above all, the barbed-wire division between the 100,000 Israelis in the modern city and the Arab Legionnaires looking down from the massive Old City walls—all this has created an eery atmosphere of spiritual vacuum.

❖ ❖ ❖

CHANGED too, are the surroundings. In neighbouring Ein Karem the Spanish Franciscan at the Church of St. John the Baptist, looking down on the North African Jewish immigrants in the village, remarked in an ironical aside that if nothing else, he could chat with the newcomers in his native Spanish; his Arabic had never been good. From the Church of St. Andrew opposite Mount Zion (where the Rev. J. M. Reid, the only Protestant minister left in Jerusalem, has kept the hospice as spick and span as if students were arriving tomorrow) one looks down not only into the Vale of Gehenna, but also into the modern no-man's-land between the Israelis and Arabs.

❖ ❖ ❖

IT seemed a very innocuous, peaceful no-man's-land: merely some small stone houses, standing empty in the sun. For months now the truce has been effectively kept. Credit for this must go partly to the joint efforts of two young officers, Lt.-Col. Moshe Dayan of the Israeli Army, one of Wingate's original commandos, and Lt.-Col. Abdullah Tel, one of Glubb Pasha's efficient young Arab Legion officers. The effective if limited collaboration of these two young officers also points to the most likely future for Jerusalem — mainly a Jewish-Arab future, settled on the spot, through the default of the great Powers.

THE contrast between the mountainous isolation of Jerusalem and the swarming life of Tel Aviv was always sharp. Today, if anything, it has increased.

Just as Dr. Johnson once stated that the tide of human existence flowed most strongly at Charing Cross, so the Jewish pulse of today appears to beat most vividly in the square mile around the point where Tel Aviv's main artery, Allenby-street, meets the sea. Here, insulated from the frantic noise of Tel Aviv's traffic, Israel's new Parliament, the Knesset, meets in a modern air-conditioned building, with much decorum, and with radio earphones through which the three Arab deputies can listen to running translations of speeches in Hebrew.

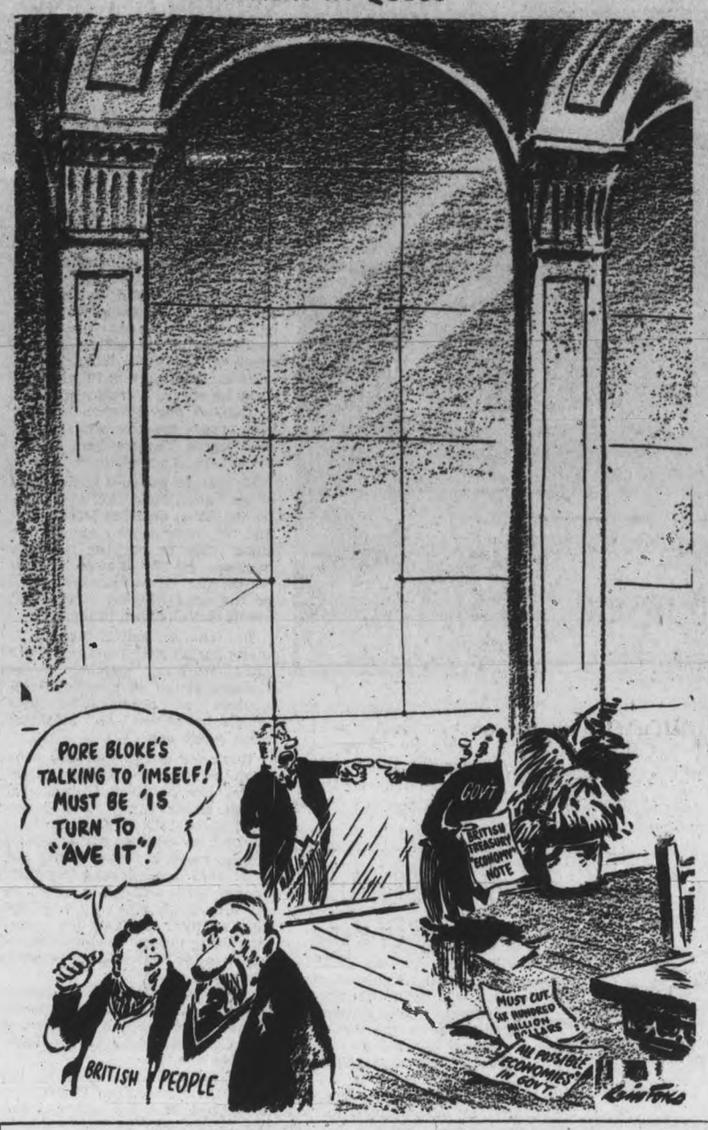
IN spite of partly successful attempts by the authorities to divert the new immigrants and spread them from the sand dunes of the Negeb to the hills of Galilee, Tel Aviv remains the supreme magnet and the great wen in miniature of Israel. Draw a circle of 15 miles radius around the city's centre, and within it you have two-fifths of the population of the new State, today some 900,000 Jews and 160,000 Arabs. And it is in the packed streets and cafes of Tel Aviv, to which the inhabitants escape constantly from their over-crowded apartments, that every problem facing the new State is passionately debated.

❖ ❖ ❖

IT is quite a psychological problem for many citizens to come to terms with the new half-Socialist State, set up overnight, whose officials and controls seem to them all too numerous. What was missing in the establishment of Israel, as one joke has it, was the 40 years' preparation in the wilderness. Economic arguments predominate. Following on the arrival of 250,000 newcomers in a year, austerity on the British model seems steadily on the increase in these languorous August days. A major financial problem, too, is the cost of Israel's new armed forces—efficient, but highly expensive.

❖ ❖ ❖



"DO you think we are becoming a militarist State?" Premier Ben Gurion asked me at a reception held after a parade in Tel Aviv of a Jewish armoured force. He was joking, and in a good mood: indeed, the universal anxiety of the Israeli soldiers to get out of uniform is a healthy sign, and it is not disguised. Yet unless genuine peace with the Arabs is achieved, Israel may have to continue as a highly armed State, even if not a militarist one; this hard fact may well test the skill of Israel's diplomats to the utmost.

❖ ❖ ❖

AND another point of disturbance is this: although British institutions today still serve as a model in Israel—such as the British Civil Service, British austerity and the Welfare State organization—Britain herself has by now almost come to be accepted as the natural and inevitable opponent of the new State. More than cricket matches will be needed to change that.

Sir Thomas Is Blunt

(Brantford Expositor

SIR Thomas Beecham, the famous conductor, is notorious—or celebrated, according to the way one takes them—for his peppery criticisms of individuals, audiences and institutions.

He thinks little of pausing in the midst of a symphony to berate some person or persons for making distracting noises. One can sympathize with a musician's anger on such an occasion, though some artists are tolerant. There was the Brantford case, for instance, in which the renowned John Charles Thomas, after having had his glance repeatedly attracted by the flashing needles of a downfront lady who was knitting as well as listening, paused to suggest that she might make him a pair, too.

For some unaccountable reason, Sir Thomas Beecham was in a benign mood when he visited this city. But then he was not conducting on that occasion, just lecturing. Besides, at a reception after the speech, he consumed an enormous quantity of angel cake, which he called "delicious swish".

But Sir Thomas was not feeling benevolent when he arrived in Edinburgh the other day, to conduct the Royal Philharmonic Orchestra. Asked to comment on several things he succinctly put it this way:

1. The state of Britain — "The country's gone potty".

2. British statesmanship—"We have been misgoverned worse than any nation in the world".

3. The British financial situation—"We are broke".

4. State subsidies for music—"I'm against them".

As to British statesmanship, Sir Thomas was not aiming exclusively at the Socialists. He had equal contempt for all administrations, apparently, over the last 50 years! His opposition to state subsidies, if surprising, was sound. Many musicians, poets and other artists are disposed to think the state should support them, on the grounds that they contribute much to the nation while receiving little in the way of cash returns. Sir Thomas, however, is made of sterner and more independent stuff, and one is glad of it. Moreover, he probably realizes that art cannot subsist on handouts and doles. In that case his grasp of human psychology is good.

In the mater of Britain being broke, Sir Thomas will no doubt be accused by such Government ministers as Emanuel Shinwell, of being a "traitor". Shinwell used the word in a similar connotation last week. The question is: "Since when has it become treasonable to tell the truth?" Sir Thomas was speaking the truth as he saw it. Moreover, he will find a considerable battery of economic experts to support his view.

It is disturbing to others as well as Sir Thomas to find Edinburgh, of all places, having an exhibition and festival "at the expense of the United States' money", and one finds it hard to refrain from echoing the mucian's, "To what depths have we sunk?"

It is not pleasant to talk or think in this manner. But it is necessary. The Government and people of Britain, particularly the people, must bring themselves to face hard facts instead of mudling along in a fools' paradise built on the crumbling foundations of Socialist theory.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

In the third month, when the children of Israel were gone forth out of the land of Egypt, the same day came they into the wilderness of Sinai.... And the Lord came down upon mount Sinai, on the top of the mount: and the Lord called Moses up to the top of the mount; and Moses went up (Ex. 19: 1, 20.)

❖ ❖ ❖

And God spake all these words, saying, I am the Lord thy God, which have brought thee out of the land of Egypt, out of the house of bondage. Thou shalt have no other gods before me. (Ex. 20: 1-3.)

❖ ❖ ❖

Now the God of patience and consolation grant you to be likeminded one toward another according to Christ Jesus: that ye may with one mind and one mouth glorify God, even the Father or our Lord Jesus Christ. (Rom. 15: 5, 6.)

They were sitting on the veranda in the moonlight. No words broke the stillness. She began to yawn.

Movie Column

Say Depression Now Ended In Hollywood

By BOB THOMAS.

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 29 (AP)—The depression is over in Hollywood.

That can be deduced from a glance at the movie economic scene. The business outlook, which appeared bleak last winter, now seems as rosy as a starlet's dream.

Today Hollywood companies are shooting 47 pictures, including six in Europe. That compares with a low of 22 in the grey days last February.

But the story is told in more than figures. There is a new optimism in Hollywood, which took on the aspects of a ghost town a few months ago. I asked three bigwigs "is Hollywood's depression over?" And these are their answers:

J. L. Warner, head of Warner Brothers' studio: "Business is great for great pictures, good for good pictures, bad for bad pictures." . . . From my viewpoint, Hollywood has adapted itself to current economic conditions throughout the world."

Better Spirit Now

Henry Ginsberg, head of Paramount studios: "A better spirit and a greater enthusiasm prevails today in Hollywood, indicating we are approaching the end of what has been called the Hollywood depression. . . An attitude of optimism and determination to make motion pictures attractive to world-wide audiences is apparent."

Sid Rogell, executive producer, RKO: "The motion picture industry had no real depression—merely a readjustment normal to most industries in a post-war period. General conditions now indicate that the levelling-off period has been reached, and Hollywood is ready and in better, healthier shape than ever to provide what is still the public's best entertainment."

The reason for the industry's improved health is as simple as this: better and cheaper pictures.

After the entertainment boom fizzled, studios were stuck with many $2,000,000 and $3,000,000 turkeys. They were also faced with a foreign market that grew steadily worse. And movies cost too much to make.

There still is little hope for getting more cash back from overseas. Mainstay of the foreign market is the United Kingdom and the British economy still doesn't permit unlimited spending of foreign exchange for American films.

TIME BY WATER

Water clocks were in use among the Babylonians, Hindus and Egyptians from the earliest times.

Hint Two More Changes In St. Laurent Cabinet

OTTAWA, Aug. 29 — (CP) — Although Prime Minister St. Laurent told his last press conference that no immediate cabinet changes are contemplated, rumors continue to spread through parliamentary circles that at least two other switches will be made before the session begins.

Some Liberal members say Works Minister Fournier is going to join two of his former colleagues on the Bench of Montreal courts. Hon. Ernest Bertrand, former postmaster general, and Hon. Joseph Jean, former solicitor general, were appointed to the Bench last Wednesday.

The feeling is that Mr. Fournier will be appointed to the Bench as soon as Premier Duplessis of Quebec issues a proclamation opening up three new positions in the Quebec Superior Court.

Both the Quebec and Ottawa governments have passed legislation providing for six new Quebec Superior Court appointments.

Mr. Jean, Elphege Marier, Liberal member for Montreal Jacques Cartier, and Eugene Marquis, Liberal member for the Quebec constituency of Kamouraska, have filled the vacancies already declared.

Gleason Belsize, parliamentary assistant to Finance Minister Abbott, is being mentioned as a possible successor to Mr. Fournier in the works department.

Toronto Representation

Because of the large Liberal representation from Toronto, it is expected the Queen City will be given cabinet representation for the first time in years. Some Liberals believe that David Croll, Liberal member for Toronto Spadina since 1945, will be given a portfolio.

There is also some speculation that Revenue Minister McCann, will be appointed to the senate. It is said that in his place Mr. St. Laurent will appoint Walter Harris, his own parliamentary assistant and Liberal member for Grey Bruce in Ontario.

Plane Stowaway Held At Gander

GANDER, Nfld., Aug. 29 (CP)—A 22-year-old Londoner who stowed away in a trans-Atlantic transport plane to get to his girl friend in Moncton, N. B., remained hopeful Sunday night that "something could be arranged" so he could complete his trip.

Immigration officials here said they were holding Robert Green who arrived aboard a British South American Airways plane Saturday. They said he had a passport but declined further comment.

Green, a psychology student at Hull University, told the Canadian Press he "just got a powerful yearning" to see the girl he met while he was serving with the RAF in Canada during the Second World War. He declined to reveal her name.

"All I want is a short visit because I plan to re-enter Hull in October, he added.

Oppose Margarine Ban

MONTREAL, Aug. 29 (CP) — Repeal of the provincial law forbidding manufacture and sale of margarine in Quebec province, is expected to be asked at the annual convention of the Canadian Catholic Confederation of Labor here Sept. 18-22, it was announced Sunday night. Rene Gravel, spokesman for the central council of national syndicates of Montreal ,a regional group of CCCL unions, said the convention will probably ask Premier Duplessis to repeal the law. The CCCL represents 90,000 workers throughout the province.

Fire Destroys Hotel

BELL EWART, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP)—The 22room Caso Loma Hotel at this Lake Simcoe summer resort was destroyed by fire here Sunday night. The baze threatened to spread to nearby summer cottages. First reports said no one was injured. Bell Ewart is 40 miles north of Toronto.

ST. JOHNS, Nfld., Aug. 29 (Reuters) — Viscount Alexander, Governor-General of Canada, landed at Torbay airport Sunday for his first visit to Newfoundland. Viscountess Alexander and their three young children arrived with him. Viscount Alexander will spend three days here.

Life Insurance Dividend Paid To Veterans

By GEORGE RONALD

WASHINGTON, Aug. 29. — (CP).—A $2,800,000,000 life-insurance melon will be split next year among 16,000,000 United States' war veterans.

This huge dividend on insurance bought from the government by service men during the Second Great War is being paid because the veterans' death rate is not as great as was anticipated.

The $2,800,000,000 represents a surplus over what the veterans' administration estimates it needs for present and potential obligations to policy-holders.

Dividend application blanks become available today. Cheques are scheduled to start going out in January. President Truman has ordered the job finished by next June 30.

Some of the money—the average dividend will be $175—will go to 145,000 present and former policy-holders living outside the continental United States. Several thousand are studying or working in Canada.

Fill Out Form

All the United States veterans living in Canada has to do to obtain the money is to fill out a form available at any Amrican consulate.

American consulate officials in Toronto estimate there are 500 eligible veterans in that city, 200 of them students, and a proportionate number in other parts of Canada. Greater Toronto, with a population of about 1,000,000, accounts for about 1-13th of the Canadian population. On that basis, the number of eligible American veterans in Canada would be about 6,500.

Service men paid $4,228,000,000 in national service life insurance premiums during the war, the Veterans' Administration said. But the insurance was based on pre-war civilian mortality tables and claims payments have not been up to that level. Next year's dividend will be the first since "G.I. insurance" was started Oct. 8, 1940.

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP)—Released by the Ontario Supreme Court, steelworker John Olinsky, 36, walked out of jail here Saturday, freed on a charge of murder. The court ordered his release on a writ of habeas corpus, ruling "there is no reasonable ground on which the Crown could proceed on a murder charge or any other charge" in the May 30 death of his wife, Velantin, 30. Medical testimony failed to disclose the exact cause of death at the preliminary hearing.

"WELL," you say, "it depends on the kitchen."

Right! The more modern the kitchen, the more aluminum you will see. For aluminum is the modern metal. It has so many advantages. It is light, strong, good-looking, will not rust. No wonder more and more people want more and more things made of it.

Not only things for the kitchen. In fact, more than 1,000 Canadian firms are shaping aluminum into products as big as railway cars, as small as hair curlers.

All this means a lot of work for Canadians. There are 15,000 people on the Alcan payroll. Then, too, there are all the fifty-odd thousand people who make the thousand-and-one aluminum articles which you see in the stores.

Yes, aluminum means a lot to you and to Canada!

Petes Move Ahead In COBL With 4-1 Win Over Batawa

The Petes beat Batawa 4-1 here Saturday to take a 2-1 lead in their best-of-five COBL semi-final series, next game being in Belleville on Monday. Owing to rain the afternoon game was left over till early evening, and only a small crowd was on hand for the neat number. The winner of this series meets Oshawa in the loop finals.

Lefty Bill Dadson threw five-hit ball and his mates came through with 12 clouts against Max Smith to earn the victory. Howie Dalton led the locals at bat with three for four, while Dadson, Joe Stewart and Al Menzies each got two in four trips. None of the losers got more than one safety. There were no fielding features apart from a nice catch by Lowrey, but the Petes pulled off one double-play when the visitors threatened.

Scored Early

The lone Batawa run came in the first when Beckstead got to first on a fielder's choice after forcing Solmes, who hit. Beckstead moved up on Bridgeman's walk, took third on an out and raced home on a miscue. The Petes got it back in their half when Edwardson walked, took second on an out and scored on Brown's single. Stewart singled in the second, was sacrificed by Lowrey and raced home on a hit by Dadson. They added one in the fifth when Edwardson singled, took third on a hit by Menzies and scored on Stewart's hit. The other one came next heat as Dalton singled, stole, moved up on an error and came in on a bad peg by the catcher.

Danny Brown looked extra good at short, handling some deep ones toward third and snapping hard throws to first to beat the runner. The team clicked well in a good game, though both sides kicked a few around under pressure of playoffs and possibly partly due to damp grounds.

Jaycees Gain Series Over Oshawa

Manager Ray Pammett's bantams of East City, the Jaycees, romped to an 18-4 victory in Oshawa on Saturday to sweep their OBA playdown series handily in two straight. Frizzelle pitched six-hit ball and fanned 11, getting fine support afield and at bat. He had two hits himself, as McGillen hit a hmer and two other singles, while McCormick's two blows including a triple, and Pamett's brace a double.

In the eighth, Pammett's perfect peg to Byrne resulted in the former being ejected when he went after the runner who spiked Byrne. The game was played under protest by the Peterborough squad when the Oshawa team—never having heard of a bantam baseball — insisted on using the senior ball throughout. However, Jaycees still had no trouble winning out.

Bowmanville Beats East City Peewees

Bowmanville opened their best-of-three OBA peewee playdown series at home Saturday with a 12-8 victory over East City. Paul McIlmoyle started on the slab for Manager Freddy Garvey's local squad but was bingled pretty bad and gave way in the third to Doug Baptie, who finished well. Brian Guerin caught for the young Petes' peewees.

Baptie led the losers at bat with four for four in a nifty plate showing. Stewart and Innes had fine catches for this team as the Bowmanville shortstop also shone defensively. The Petes got 10 hits against Bowmanville's 14, while both sides had just a few errors in the field. The return game will be played in Peterborough on Tuesday.

Petes beat Batawa 4-1 here Saturday to take a game edge in their best-of-five COBL semi-finals. The men o' Murphy could wrap it up tonight in Belleville and be ready for loop finals 'gainst Oshawa Merchants. If the locals lose this one, they'll have to settle the series here Wednesday evening. Lefty Dadson gave up but five hits while his buddies were combing the offerings of Max Smith for a dozen solid blows. Howie Dalton led the way at bat, while Stewart, Menzies and Dadson also swung mean maces. Joe Lowrey had a nice catch, the Petes pulled off one double play, and Danny Brown looked mighty neat out there at short.

A crowd of nigh onto 2,000 stayed away from this playoff. Of course that's partly accounted for by the fact that rain forced the aft encounter to be laid over till evening, and none but the next of kin knew about it. Also the Exhibition was packing 'em in and that always hurts sports' attendances. Still, the Petes aren't drawing the support they warrant for coming up with a pretty good ball club and one which stands an even chance of again capturing the Central League senior crown. With cooler weather just ahead, maybe they'll start pulling in the big crowds these playoffs deserve.

* * * * * *

And That Was That

Uniteds rubbed out Kingston Legion at the Bowl on Saturday night under the arcs, taking them 9-5 for two straight in the OASA senior "B" playdown series. Greenlaw pitched well and he had plenty of hitting support, though his buddies booted the apple around the orchard at times. Sullivan, Douglas, Greenlaw and Harrison all hit hard and timely to win fairly handily as a goodly gallery applauded. Warwick threw fair ball and had okay backing, but only Addy and Armstrong showed much at the platter. A slow game with lots of arguing and some odd actions by Umpire Belwa of Kingston. He didn't hurry things any.

* * * * * *

It's unlikely Legion will protest the near free-for-all at the end of the fourth, but they shouldn't stand a snowball's chance if they do. Umpire Belwa let a local fan, standing behind the screen, get his goat, and ye umps moved around the screen—and OFF the playing field—to tussle with the customer. That brought a flock of other hotheaded fans on the run and, of course, the Kingston players to the umpire's rescue. He wasn't hurt, but he might well have been. It's a well-established fact that one guy can't beat a big crowd, and an umpire is nuts to leave the playing field to tangle with a fan, especially when the ump is from Kingston and the game is in Peterborough. It just isn't smart.

Some Win, Some Lose

Various ball scores reached the desk this Monday morn. Seems Oshawa Merchants and the Petes put on a picnic exhibition of some sort last Friday in Bowmanville, with the Petes winning 6-5. Lindsay and Bowmanville are even at a game each in intermediate "B" playoffs of the lakeshore loop. Bowmanville boys won from our peewees 12-8 Saturday and return OBA tilt is listed for here some time Tuesday. Local Jaycees swept Oshawa into the OBA bantam discard in the Motor City, and Jaycees—playing together under various names for three years—may go somewhere this semester. By the way, Umpire Schreider was correct in the game here in calling a balk on Dadson, when the latter accidentally dropped the ball while in pitching position with a runner on first.

Along the OLA front, six senior squads swing into quarter finals this week, Owen Sound vs. Mimico, Brampton vs. St. Kitts (who beat Weston on Saturday), and Hamilton vs. Petes—first game here Wednesday. These series are best-of-seven, while we hear the semi-final will be two out of three. Long schedule which started on May 17 ended on Saturday, nearly three and a half months later, and the sawoffs will take several weeks yet. Our midgets here Saturday ousted Orillia 28-11 on the round, while our bantams eliminated Orillia 31-11 in their OLA series. Juves go to Huntsville tomorrow. There'll be a peewee all-star practice tomorrow aft at 3.30, while midgets drill at seven p.m. Juveniles meet for their trip at the Bowl at four. Bantam finals at 6.30 Thursday, Hughes vs. All Saints.

Bisons Defeat Leafs Twice In Doubleheader

By the Associated Press.

Buffalo Bisons, who a short time ago appeared on the verge of collapse, are almost certain to-day to win their first International League pennant since 1936.

Paul Richards' veteran crew paced the circuit by 5½ games to-day and have 15 games to play before the season ends September 11.

The Bisons picked up one game on the second-place Rochester Red Wings Sunday sweeping both ends of a twin bill from Toronto Maple Leafs 4-3 and 10-1. The Wings divided with Montreal Royals, winning the nightcap 3-0 after Montreal romped to an 8-4 conquest in the opener.

Home runs by relief pitcher Alex Carrasquel and outfielder Ray Coleman decided the opener in favor of the Bisons. Ed Sanicki poled his 30th homer for the Leafs.

Clem Hausmann breezed to his 14th triumph in the finale, limiting the Leafs to four hits including another homer by Sanicki. The Bisons whacked out 10 blows including a grand-slam homer by Jack Hussey and one by Coaker Triplett.

Scatters Eight Hits

Clyde King scattered eight Rochester hits including Russ Derry's 39th homer to post his 16th triumph in the first game. Johnny Yuhas blanked Montreal on five singles in the windup to square his record at 8-8.

Jersey Giants moved back into the first division as they split with Syracuse Chiefs. The Giants edged the Chief 8-7 and then dropped the nightcap 3-1. The Giants are one-half game in front of Toronto.

Home runs by Ray Noble and Fred Gerken highlighted the Giant triumph. Johnny Hetki stopped the Giants on three hits in gaining his 16th conquest in the second game.

Baltimore Orioles took both ends of a twin bill from the last-place Newark Bears 13-8 and 4-0. Ken Wood drove home four runs and sockel his 28th and 29th homers in the opener for the Orioles. Johnny Maldovan blanked his former mates with two singles in the second contest.

Yanks Beat Chicago Twice But Second Player Hurt

By JEO REICHELER
Associated Press Sports Writer

— New York Yankees won a doubleheader Sunday and picked up 1½ games on Boston Red Sox, but faced the future today with nothing but gloom.

Unless a miracle happens, the American League leaders will be forced to play the next three weeks without the services of Tommy Henrich, their star outfielder. He may do no more playing this year.

Tommy injured his back in the first game while attempting to catch a line drive hit by Chicago's Charlie Kress. X-rays revealed fractures of the second and third ribs.

His loss is a terrible blow to the Yankees. Henrich was batting .294 and drove in 76 runs in 102 games.

His absence will be more pronounced since Johnny Mize also was sidelined by an injury. Mize hurt his right shoulder in the second game. It was undetermined ho wlong he would be out.

A thrilling six-run rally gave the Yankees the first game over the White Sox 8-7. The Yanks also won the nightcap 7-5 with darkness halting proceedings after eight innings. The double triumph enabled the Yankees to increase their first-place margin to three games over the Red Sox who dropped an 11-inning game to the Indians in Cleveland 2-1. The second game of that scheduled doubleheader was called off in the fourth because of darkness.

In the National, the front-running St. Louis Cardinals increased their lead over Brooklyn to 2½ games by sweeping both ends of a doubleheader from Boston Braves 9-7 and 7-1. The Dodgers trounced Pittsburgh 9-0.

Divide Twin Bill

Detroit solidified its fourth-place position in the American, thumping the Philadelphia Athletics 6-4. Washington and St. Louis divided a twin bill. The Senators walked off with an easy 13-2 victory in the opener, but the Browns won the second game 4-3.

Philadelphia and Chicago split, the Phils coming back to win the second game 8-2 after the Cubs had won the opener 7-4. The Giants also escaped with a split, defeating Cincinnati 4-2 after losing the first game 10-3.

Trailing 7-2, the Yankees went to work on Mickey Haefner, Matt Surkont and Billy Pierce for six runs to win the opener. Phil Rizzuto's single with two out scored the tying run, and when outfielder George Metkovich bobbled the ball, Gerry Coleman scored from first.

Rizzuto also was the batting star of the second game, driving three runs with a pair of hits to help Allie Reynolds gain his 13th triumph.

Heads up running by Larry Doby won for the Indians over the Red Sox. Doby doubled off Jack Kramer with one out in the 11th. Joe Gordon was purposely passed to set up a possible double play. Lou Boudreay obliged by hitting a grounder to second Bobby Doerr flipped to Vern Stephens, but the shortstop dropped the ball. Doby rounded third tnd headed for home and slid in head first under the tag.

Six Home Runs

Home runs accounted for six St. Louis runs in the first game. Stan Musial slammed a three-run homer, his 26th of the season, and Nippy Jones clouted two. Jones also homered in the second game to help Max Lanier register his first victory of the year. The stocky southpaw allowed only three hits in besting Glen Elliott.

Don Newcombe pitched his second successive shutout for the Dodgers, holding the Pirates to four hits. It was his 13th win against six losses.

Pat Mullin hit a double and home run to drive in three runs for the Tigers who racked up their seventh straight victory.

Rae Scarborough coaster to his 10th win behind an 18-hit attack by his Washington mates in the first game, but the Browns won the second game 4-3 on Sherm Lollar's two-run homer.

Grady Hatton was the big gun in the Red's first game win over the Giants. The third baseman collected three hits and rapped in three runs. Herman Franks clipped two hits in his first game to help the Giants and Monte Kennedy win the second game. The game was called after 7⅓ innings because of darkness.

Roy Smalley and Phil Cavarretta hit homers off Hank Borowy to give the Cubs a 7-4 victory over the Phils. Pitcher Russ Meyer, a former Cub, with the help of catcher Stan Lopata's three-run homer, stopped the Cubs in the second game.

Nine Fatalities In Ontario Over Weekend

TORONTO, Aug. 29 — (CP) — Nine persons died in Ontario accidents over the weekend. There were four highway fatalities in the province. Throughout eastern Canada 17 fatalities were recorded.

Mrs. Matilda J. Smith died Saturday from injuries suffered in explosion of undetermined cause in the operating room of a Toronto hospital.

Two Hamilton youths, Robert Sharp, 19, and James Haynes, 21, were killed Saturday when the car in which they were riding went out of control and rolled over on the Queen Elizabeth highway near St. Catharines, Ont.

Four-year-old Serge Bowdin, son of an official of the Soviet Embassy in Ottawa, was killed late Sunday when his father's car skidded on wet pavement on a highway near Toronto and went out of control.

Marcel Dunn was killed Sunday when the car in which he was riding went out of control at Rutherglen, Ont., and turned over. The car was from Vermont.

Trailer Hits Truck

Mrs. Ruby Clarke, 36, of Singhampton, Ont., was killed Sunday when a tractor trailer truck crashed into a dump truck in which she was riding with her husband and son. The crash occurred near Hamilton.

Four-year-old Shirley Martelle of Thetford, Ont., died Saturday in hospital at London, from injuries she received when struck by a car while walking on the highway with her mother.

Robert McRudden, 25, of Toronto, was fatally injured late Saturday when thrown from the pillion seat of a motorcycle in Toronto when the driver jammed on the brakes to avoid hitting a car.

Noella Roy, 11, was killed when struck by a truck, allegedly driven by her brother, Maurice, while she was walking on the highway near her home at Warren, Ont.

'Snoopy' The Heifer Released From Silo

OSCEOLA, Wis., Aug. 29 (AP) —Seventy-nine hours and 31 minutes—and three acres of corn—after she dived into a 12 foot deep silo pit, "Snoopy," the vivicious, 650-pound heifer, was freed Saturday night.

The corn, in the form of silage, was used as an "elevator" on which Snoopy rode from what amounted to a circular dungeon.

Everett Lampman, her owner, directed a crew of 15 men who cut the corn and filled the silo enough to get the animal out.

Thanks to a muzzle, Snoopy was kept in trim to get through the 20 by 30 inch silo opening without too much effort. Her only provender for the last 24 hours has been water, carried down a ladder in pails.

Prosecutions Follows Oyster Bootlegging

LADYSMITH, B.C., Aug. 29 — (CP)—Two Indians were convicted of "oyster bootlegging" and fined here in what is believed to be the first such conviction in the province.

Ray and Levi Goldsmith were each fined $25 and court costs, or a month in jail. They were charged with stealing oysters from oyster beds operated by Walter Jones, near this Vancouver Island town.

The case was of special interest to oyster men because they report they have been losing oysters for a long time.

Mr. Jones, widely known culturist, has been in the business for 37 years.

Eight Hurt In Crash

CHATHAM, Aug. 29 (CP) — Eight of ten occupants of two cars that crashed head-on about 18 miles east of here on No. 2 Highway Saturday night are in local hospitals with varied injuries. John Gilbrook, 26, of London, driver of a 1938 convertible, is in hospital with a fractured skull. His condition is serious. Three passengers in Gilbrook's car were injured. They are: Charles Gault, 30, of Windsor, fractured jaw, fractured leg, and multiple lacerations; Jack Ray, 29, of Guelph, fractured leg and jaw; Andrew Atkinson, Ingersoll, undetermined body injuries. Four occupants of the second car, all of Toronto, also are in hospital.

U.S. Surgeon Dies

SUDBURY, Aug. 29 (CP) — Dr. Irvin Abell, 72-year-old Louisville, Ky., surgeon, died on Sunday of a coronary occlusion at Camp Kintuck, some 50 miles south of here. The nationally-prominent doctor arrived at the camp on the Pickerel River on Aug. 13. His body was brought here Sunday by plane. Other members of a fishing party of 19 American professional and business men will accompany the body tonight when it leaves here by train for Louisville.

45,117 Attend Exhibition, Gain Of 9,547

Saturday's crowd of 12,730 swelled to 45,117 the Exhibtion attendance for 1949 as compared with 35,570 last year, a gain of 9,547.

The daily figures of paid attendance as compiled by C. F. Smith and L. F. Winter of the Bank of Commerce staff, who were in charge of the receipts, were:

	1949	1948
Wednesday	10,940	—
Thursday	10,778	9,000
Friday	10,669	14,570
Saturday	12,730	12,000
	45,117	35,570

Occasional rain Saturday afternoon and random clouds in the evening manifestly had slight effect on the city and district's support of the Exhibition, yielding the biggest attendance for one day in the two postwar years under the presidency of Hugh Stewart.

Toward the close of the Saturday night program, Mr. Stewart thanked the people for their whole-hearted display of interest in the success of the Fair. Everything had gone smoothly, there was no serious mishap throughout the week, and the weather had been a great help.

"On behalf of the directors, I wish to thank everybody who came out to our Fair, and showed us that they were with us," Mr. Stewart said. "Personally, I want to thank all the directors for their fine cooperation in all the work they had to do, all the exhibitors whose help is so important, the police who co-operated with us. Last year we promised the people we would do our best to make the Fair bigger and better this year. With the encouragement we have received this week, I am sure the Board will be unanimous in promising something better for 1950."

The grandstand was packed on Saturday night with an overflow on to the bleacher seats obtained from the city's Parks Department. When no other space was available, Mr. Stewart called in the gatemen, letting some hundreds of the crowd find any place left along the track fence.

Exhibitors of livestock began moving out their animals around four o'clock.

The RCAF of Trenton repeated their visit by air at 5 p.m. Saturday, affording the public a reminder of the continuing necessity of maintaining the nation's defence, and of the progress that is being made in building up its air wing.

Two Injuries

Wilson Small, Norwood, had a finger amputated Saturday at the Civic Hospital following an accident in which he cut the finger on a saw at his saw mill in Norwood.

A 15-year-old boy, Frank Wakeford, 95 Lansdowne St., fractured his right leg when he fell from his bicycle while riding down a lane near his home.

8 Tons Peaches In Upset Trailer, Peaches Saved

Two Perth men narrowly escaped injury Sunday afternoon when the trailer-transport in which they were driving overturned at the junction of Highways 7A and 28.

The transport owned by Rubino and Sons, Carleton Place, was driven by Gerald McInnis, 31, and the only passenger was Gordon Sergeant, 28. It was carrying a load of peaches from the Niagara District to Perth.

Damage, mainly to the tractor, is set at $2,000. Only about 30 baskets of the eight tons of peaches were destroyed.

Swerved To 7A

According to police McInnis was driving toward Peterborough on Highway 28 and was about to continue along it when he swerved suddenly to travel on 7A instead. The vehicle skidded on the wet highway and the trailer jackknifed, squashing in the rear of the cab.

Then it turned over on its right side momentarily imprisoning both men.

Sergeant managed to open the jammed door and freed McInnis who had received a bad gash and several minor cuts on his back as a result of the rear of the cab being dented in on him.

The injured man was taken to Dr. C. F. Cahill by Provincial Police and the eight-inch cut and other injuries were attended to. Both men were later taken home by the owner who arrived from Carleton Place when informed of the accident.

Provincial Constables R. A. Feeley and Archie Grayling investigated.

Another Accident

Although thrown from his car after it skidded around twice, knocking off a mail box and finally striking a tree, Ernest Hornberger, of Akron, Ohio, emerged with only minor injuries Sunday afternoon. The accident occurred on Highway 28, about a mile south of the Millbrook turn.

Provincial Constable W. K. O'Shaughnessy reported that Hornberger, alone in the car at the time, hit a dip in the road, and the vehicle skidded along the ditch backward snapping the mailbox and finally coming to rest with the rear end against a tree. The driver was thrown clear.

The manoeuvre was completed in 160 feet.

25 Local Members Attend Credit Union Convention

The newly-formed Peterborough-Port Hope district Chapter of the Ontario Credit Union welcomed the first convention in Peterborough Saturday and Sunday of the board of directors of which Peterborough's A. E. Borland is a member. About 25 members of the new district chapter under their president Allan T. Brown sat in on executive and board meetings to learn about the organization and services of the provincial league. The League is a voluntary organization of local Credit Unions and takes in about 350 of the 439 Credit Unions in Ontario.

Each local Credit Union is a largely self-contained company which obtains a charter from the Provincial Department of Agriculture.

A Credit Union acts as a sort of co-operative bank and if a member of the league, as an insurance company as well. Besides promoting regular saving among its members, the most popular feature of the Credit Union is its policy of making low interest loans to its members.

Method of Operating.

A Credit Union gets its money for these loans from the deposits of its members and from $5 shares which members may buy. The provincial league operates a Central Credit Department which receives any surplus funds of member unions and lends these funds to other Unions temporarily requiring extra money to make loans asked for by its members.

A typical Credit Union would be created by employees of a firm deciding the Credit Union movement were a good way to handle their money matters. Working on information and advice received from the Toronto office of the Ontario Credit Union League, the interested people would draw up a constitution laying down its rules of operation. When the constitution is approved by provincial legislature, and a charter is issued the Credit Union is in business. Officers are elected and deposits are accepted and shares sold. From the common pool thus formed, loans can be made to members for anything from buying or buiding a house, buying a car to getting the wife an anniversary present.

Begun 50 Years Ago.

From its beginning 50 years ago in Canada in a Quebec town, the movement has spread across the Dominion. The first Ontario Credit Union was formed in Ottawa in 1918. The latest was formed by employees of the University of Toronto. Now the 439 Ontario Credit Unions have a total membership of 125,000 and assets of about $20,000,000. Chapters are set up in districts and their directors help in the instruction of groups who are interested in forming a credit Union. The Peterborough-Port Hope chapter which was formed in June has four Credit Unions, from Port Hope, Douro Parish, Sacred Heart Parish and the Workers Educational Association.

Saturday and Sunday's sessions were strictly business meetings for the board of directors, with directors from as far away as Fort William and Kenora.

Two dinners were held on Saturday and Sunday. C. J. Watson, of Windsor, president of the Ontario Credit Union League, thanked the Peterborough-Port Hope Chapter and especially Mr. Borland for the hospitality the visiting members had received.

Odds And Ends At Fair A Week's Cleaning Up

G. A. Gillespie has a pair of glasses that were found in the grandstand Saturday, a car key, house key and empty bill fold.

The secretary-manager of the Fair said the bill fold might indicate a pickpocket's job. Some people had reported to him loss of money which had vanished without awareness. One man mentioned missing $20, another $40, and they were certain the loss occurred on the grounds. About the only explanation they could make to themselves was that light fingers had lifted the money.

"The last of the horse exhibits were leaving the buildings this morning," Mr. Gillespie said. "Otherwise, the place was deserted, and we have about a week's job of cleaning up."

Mission Church At Paudash Is Dedicated

Despite the continuous rain, a large crowd of worshippers filled the new St. John's United Church at the dedication service on Sunday afternoon at West Paudash, ten miles N-E of Apsley. Many who could not find room heard the service by loud speaker from parked cars. The Rev. M. J. Aiken of St. Andrew's United Church conducted the service as representative of the Peterborough Presbytery in the absence of Dr. Bruce Gordon, chairman.

The sermon was delivered by Dr. J. I. McKay, Mission Superintendent of Eastern Ontario of the United Church and his text, taken from the Gospel of St. Luke was, "For this cause, came I into the world." In conclusion, he congratulated the people in that sparsely-settled area in providing a place of worship, especially for the young people.

Mr. Aiken was assisted in the service by the pastor, G. Cleveland Robb of Peterborough, the Rev. R. McEcheren of Bancroft United Church, the Rev. E. N. Unstead of Warsaw United Church and the Rev. Mr. Malcom of Bailieboro United Church, all of whom read the Scriptures.

After the close of the service presentations were made to Mrs. G. Colquhoun and Mr. Robb in appreciation of their past efforts which made the new mission possible. Adam Hawley sang "Bless this house."

JUST A DAMPENER

The cloudburst that hit Saturday afternoon didn't even lay the dust at the Exhibition Grounds. The people were driven in mobs into the exhibit buildings while it lasted, and when they came out again the air was a little cooler. Within fifteen minutes, however, the dust was as bad as ever. Exhibitors in the manufacturers' building said business was good, even excellent, while the shower lasted, but that the people weren't long getting out after it stopped.

Lightning Cause Fire In House

A freak fire caused by lightning did "considerable" damage to the frame bungalow of Haig Kelly, Weller St., Saturday afternoon.

The lightning charge is believed to have struck the chimney, travelled along the eavestroughing, leaped through the window of the attic, started the fire, and then left by the chimney in the room.

About 40 feet of roofing on the west section of the house was either burned or ripped away by firemen trying to douse the blaze. Joists and rafters in the attic burned, insulation spoiled, and there was additional water damage. There were no contents.

The water did not seep down into the main floor, however.

Mr. Kelly estimates that main damage was to the roof which may have to be replaced on the whole west side. He was attending the Exhibition when the outbreak occurred and his wife turned in the alarm.

Firemen used two pumpers to extinguish the flames.

"It's Not The Shirt It's Me," Says Accused

Stealing a man's shirt from a downtown department store, Saturday, cost James Murduff, no fixed address, 10 days in jail.

He pleaded guilty to the charge in police court Monday morning before Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay.

"What was the matter with the shirt you had on?" Magistrate Gee asked Murduff.

"It isn't what was the matter with the shirt, it's what was the matter with me," Murduff answered.

Kitchener To Study Using Propane Gas

Members of the Kitchener Utilities Commission are coming to Peterborough to enquire into the propane gas system which has been in use here since last year. They have had reports from Stratford, Guelph, Peterborough, Sherbrooke and Kingston, all indicating higher rates than in Kitchener. Guelph is an exception, with a lower charge on the consumer, and is losing money.

Kitchener Commission is also wondering whether a pipe line could be run from London, which is supplied from Lambton where, it was said, there was a fabulous quantity of gas.

Reports from other cities showed some decline in the demand for gas. The same trend in Kitchener has been causing concern to the Commission. Peterborough and Sherbrooke have installed propane equipment. Brockville also made the switch before Peterborough.

Asphalt surfacing is proceeding in seven sections of four main Alberta highways.

Theft At Co-Op In Warkworth Second In Year

An undisclosed amount of money was stolen from the Warkworth Co-Operative some time during the weekend. Thieves gained entry to the building by smashing a back door.

The robbery was not discovered until early today when the manager, Glen Hancock, arrived to start his morning's work. It is not expected that the exact amount of the loss will be known until a complete check has been completed by tonight.

The sum is believed to be small, however.

Same Gang

Provincial Constable A. A. Kellogg of Hastings told the Examiner that it looked similar to the robbery of the Co-Op about a year ago when approximately $1,100 was stolen.

"It looks like the work of the same gang," he said.

Apparently frustrated in their attempt at a major scoop the thieves ransacked the office, strewing books about the floor and even breaking open large ledgers. No merchandise was removed.

Provincial Constables Kellogg of Hastings and Nicholls of Cobourg are conducting the investigation.

As yet no arrests have been made.

Too Many For Freezer Fisherman Fined Fifty

Game Warden Robert H. Trotter of Apsley was on his toes on Friday evening when he stopped at the Lakefield Quick Freeze plant.

An American tourist, B. G. Wilson of Columbus, O., visitor at Sand Lake, came to the plant to have a large mess of bass frozen for export. When asked about his licenses to cover the large mess of 50 bass, five pickerel and two mudcats, the majority undersized, he was unable to produce them, even when Overseer Trotter accompanied him to his cottage for that purpose.

He was charged $50 and costs in Peterborough police court on Saturday morning for his omissions, that is, 38 bass over the legal limit.

Chicken Theft Charge

Three men have been charged by provincial police with stealing chickens from the farm of B. Crowley in Asphodel township Saturday night.

The chickens have a total value of under $25. The three men are Jack Scott, Fred Chambo and David Gerolomy. Details of the theft are not yet available.

Ballerinas Given Clothes For Tour Of U.S., Canada

LONDON, Aug. 29—The four principal ballerinas of the Sadler's Wells Ballet—Margot Monteyn, Moira Shearer (star of the motion picture Red Shoes), Pamela May and Beryl Grey—already are preparing for their visit to the United States and Canada in September. During the past week they have choosing the clothes they will wear not as ballerinas but as unofficial envoys of British fashion when they attend their many social engagements.

For these occasions, and for their travel wardrobe, ten designers of the Incorporated Society have presented each of the ballerinas with a tailored and cocktail ensemble. The personal choice of most of the ballerinas has been toward dark colors for day, particularly grey, with the exception of Moira Shearer, who has chosen bottle green for day and copper for her cocktail ensemble. Both colors are ideal contrasts to her brilliant auburn hair.

Apart from the ballerinas, the 35 member of the Corps de Ballet also are being presented with a similar wardrobe from the wholesale concerns. One of the leading shoe manufacturers, Lilley and Skinner, has provided 70 pairs of shoes. Stockings and other accessories, including umbrellas, also are being supplied.

Kemp-Braithwaite Nuptials At Roseneath

Roseneath United Church was the scene of a pretty wedding Saturday afternoon when Jean Elizabeth Eloise, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Braithwaite Roseneath, became the bride of Donald Richard Kemp, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Kemp, of Castleton.

The Rev. R. C. White officiated before an altar of fern and tall standards of multi-colored gladioli. Miss Carolyn Atkinson, organist, played the wedding music. Mr. Ambrose Atkinson sang "Because," preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" during the signing of the register.

Feminine Advances Found Substitute for Matchmaker

DEAR MISS DIX: What can be done about the business girls who are well educated, well dressed, good looking, but who are 30 years of age and have no beaux and no dates, no chance of marrying? They would like to marry and have husbands and homes of their own, but the men of their own age marry younger girls and leave the older ones alone.

AN ANXIOUS MOTHER.

ANSWER: Kissing goes by favor as the old adage says, and unless a girl has that peculiar something that attracts men and unless Fate throws her in contact with marrying men her matrimonial chances are slim.

Dorothy Dix

The plight of girls who have a natural feminine yearning for the attentions of men and for love, romance and marriage, but who are denied these, is truly sad. What makes the situation still more pathetic is that they exaggerate the value and happiness these things would bring. The girl who has no dates, pictures every party as a wild orgy of joy. She imagines every man a Fairy Prince and has never a doubt that, if she married, her husband would be an ideal mate and her home an earthly Paradise.

If the business girl will look around at her married friends she will see that most of them look older than she; that few of them are as well dressed or can afford the amusements she has. And she will discover that the husband who remains a gallant lover after three or four years of married life is about as rare as hens' teeth.

For most women marriage is hard work and doing without pretty clothes, and child-bearing and walking colicky babies and putting up with the temper and crotchets of a man who is generally disillusioned with matrimony himself. The girl who thinks she is going to miss all the trials and tribulations of matrimony and draw the capital prize is simply fooling herself.

Still all of this does not keep girls from wanting to marry, nor their mothers from wanting to see them married. That is Nature and the pity of it is that there is no sure way by which proper bridegrooms could be provided for all these nice girls who would make such good wives.

Under the circumstances, it seems to me there are only two things they can do, especially after they have reached the age of 30 when time becomes a great factor. One is boldly to take the initiative and do the courting by themselves. Virtually any woman can marry any man if she will just go after him hard enough.

The other alternative is to accept the situation philosophically and put matrimony out of their thoughts. There is much consolation in the fact that a good job is better than an indifferent husband, and far less trouble to keep.

❖ ❖ ❖

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: I am a man of 45. Have been married for twenty years and have three children. I love my children, but my wife has continually driven them from me by disputing my authority in their presence and by always interfering and trying to prevent my correcting or punishing them. I have tried to change these things by kindness, tact and every known method and having failed, I am a nervous wreck. I feel that if I go on living with them I won't be here long, so I have decided to separate from my family, though, of course, I will provide for them. Do you think I have a right to some happiness in the future? Do I not owe it to myself to salvage the remainder of my life and reason by taking this step? Would it be wronging anybody to obtain a legal freedom in the near future?

ANSWER: I think you would be wise to separate from your family at once, because your wife and children have got on your nerves to snch an extent that it is literally killing you. But do not take any steps toward legally freeing yourself until after you have lived apart for at least two years.

The chances are that when you have removed from the scene of conflict, you will see it with a different eye. Things that loom big to you now will seem trivial to you then. You will get a different perspective on your home and see that while there was much in it that hurt and annoyed you, there was also much in it that made for happiness.

Now your wife see[illegible] yoke-mate who always pulled against you, but by and by you will begin to remember the times when she strained on the yoke at your side and helped drag the wagon to the top of the hill. Now you think of your children a ungrateful little brats, but after a while you will realize that they are just children without thought, without realization of what you have done for them and how you are trying to help them, and the father love and forgiveness will flood your heart again.

You will find that old ties hold, that old loves call you back and that the habit of family life is stronger than any sense of wrongs endured. Then you will be glad you have not rushed into a divorce.

Go away and leave your family for a time. It will do you both good and perhaps bring your wife to her senses.

3,000 Children May Get Lost At Toronto Fair

TORONTO, Aug. 29 — (CP).—Thousands of children will descend on the Canadian National Exhibition today and chances are more than 3,000 of them will get lost.

On Children's Day last year, 3,271 children got separated from their parents or big sisters and ended up in the Fair's Lost Children's Shelter where they were fed ice-cream and kept amused until their frantic elders reclaimed them.

It only costs the kids a nickel to get into the grounds today, but Tuesday prices will be back to 15 cents. The afternoon grandstand show only costs a dime today, instead of the usual 15 cents. Midway director Pattie Conklin has scaled down the prices of "Kiddieland" rides from a dime to a nickel and children's prices of larger rides from 20 and 25 cents to a dime.

Competition runs high for the titles "King and Queen of Freckledom" which will be awarded to the most speckled youngsters. A yo-yo contest is another children's Day feature.

Youngsters taking advantage of the grandstand price cuts will see a show slanted specially for them.

The daily afternoon vaudeville includes trained dogs monkeys, a chimpanzee, and a midget mule; contortionists, jugglers, tumblers, slack-wire and trapeze artists.

The sports program also emphasizes youth. There is junior and juvenile canoeing championships and a junior track meet.

SURF, driven by winds, estimated at 150 miles per hour, bursts against the shore at Miami Beach, dousing passing automobiles as a terrific hurricane ranged along the Florida coastline.

Millbrook Minister Completes Active Ministry Of 43 Years

MILLBROOK, Aug. 29—(ENS)—Rev. Geo. C. R. McQuade, pastor of St. Andrew's United Church for the past four years, preached his farewell sermon before his superannuation after 43 years in the active ministry, on Sunday morning to a large congregation. Assisting in the service was Rev. A. L. Sisco, of Tweed, Mr. McQuade's immediate predecessor, who read the Scripture.

The special music consisted of two solos, "He Smiled on Me," by Jeffrey O'Hara, sung by Mrs. Laurence Winslow, and "My Redeemer and My Lord," sung by Mrs. G. A. Spicer.

Mr. McQuade chose as his text the 13th verse of I Corinthians, Chapter 16, the same one from which he preached his first sermon 48 years ago wen, as a student, he was asked to supply for the Rev. Thos. Brown, of Omemee. It was the Rev. Geo. Brown, also of Omemee, who received Mr. McQuade into the Church.

After his ordination Mr. McQuade's first charge was the Cavan South circuit. The first night in his new circuit he was entertained at the home of Fred Barnes and asked to christen the baby boy whom twenty-five years later he ordained, now the Rev. Preston Barnes, stationed at Cambourne.

In the 43 years of his ministry Mr. McQuade has ordained nine men with the ministry, and as conference secretary has signed parchments for sixty more. He has preached approximately 5,000 times, has baptized 800 babies, officiated at 700 funerals, and received 2,000 into the church.

Mr. McQuade declared that the task of a minister is not an easy one. He thanked all those who had helped him in his ministry in Millbrook, and asked that they continue their co-operation with his successor. He paid tribute to the patient, untiring assistance given him by Mrs. McQuade. He prayed for continued blessing on the congregation, and said he could not do better than to close with the words of his first text: "Watch ye, stand fast in the faith, quit you like men, be strong."

There are three children in the McQuade family, Dr. George McQuade, working for the Canadian government in the department of National Health and Welfare in Glasgow, Scotland; Dr. Margaret McQuade, senior interne on the staff of the Civic Hospital, Ottawa; and Donald, who is in an engineering course at the University of Toronto.

The two bandits who had entered the warehouse ran to the street and scaped with two accomplices.

Poverty, Lack of Education Hurt Trinidad's Unity

By J. HALCRO FERGUSON

PORT of Spain, Aug. 29 (Special to The Examiner)—Trinidad is a complex island, and at the same time, humanly and racially an island of complexes. Geographically, it is almost a part of Venezuela and its political and social climate is as tense as that in the often-turbulent neighbouring republic. It is a land of contradictions. Potentially the wealthiest of Britain's West Indian islands, producing oil, asphalt, sugar, rice, cocoa and citrus fruits, it yet has an extremely low general standard of living.

Driving down the well-paved main highway from Port of Spain to San Fernando and beyond, one is struck by the primitive dwellings o fthe Negro and East Indian labourers on the sugar estates. Many Trinidadians claim it is impossible to improve these conditions because Britain does not pay enough for sugar; others state it is the fault of absentee ownership. Either way, the general standard is below that of many Latin American countries.

A Mixed Race

Racially Trindad is an astonishing mixture. In the past it was alternately raided or occupied by Spain, Holland and Britain, and the French, though they never owned it, have left a considerable mark. The biggest single ethnic unit is the East Indian, a loose description for all descendents of the indented labourers who came from what are now India and Pakistan.

Among other races who make up the population are British, Africans (who consider themselves the "real" Trinidadians, having no ties with their former homeland), Chinese, Portuguese, Spanish, Arab, Jewish, French and Venezuelan. With the exception of these last, a small minority and very near home, all speak English, but that is one of the few things they have in common. Whereas in Brazil, a similar amalgam has produced a common Brazilian nationality with a common Christian background, in Trinidad each community is very conscious of its own identity.

They have largely kept the customs and religious beliefs of their former lands, so that in a short drive one can see Protestant and Catholic churches, Moslem mosques, Hindu temples and Buddhist shrines. The racial consciousness engendered by this mutual if unofficial "segregation" is evident almost from the moment one steps off the plane. The car I took from the airport was driven by a Negro, and the two passengers were a silent young Eurasian and a very talkative young woman of Chinese descent.

She found it necessary to refer with considerable frequency to "we Chinese" until I interrupted to ask if she had ever been to China. She had not. Did she speak Chinese? No. Did she belong to any Oriental faith? No. Were all her ancestors Chinese? No. "Then," I suggested "you are not Chinese at all." "I'm Chinese in Trinidad", she replied, and followed this up with a criticism of English intolerance, and a pronouncement on the shortcomings and inferiority of Africans.

I put this view to Dr. Patrick Solomon, an elected Negro member of the Legislative Council, and therefore a leader himself. He immediately agreed with it, and developed the theme. So did Mr. Victor Bryan, another Negro politician of leftward political views. Mr. Albert Gomes, a rotund, pipe-smoking legislator of Portuguese descent who has veered from left to right with the increase of his political and financial fortunes, evaded the question in favour of a dissertation on the East Indian problem. A Conservative Negro leader declined to comment. In one way or another almost everyone "passed the buck".

Unable To Attend School

While their leaders disagree, poverty and lack of education remain in the lot of the average Trinidadian. One leads to the other. A Negro schoolmistress to whom I spoke pointed out that families working on the canefields could not afford to allow their children to attend school with any regularity because they needed their labour. 'Some come only now and again", she said, "and that is often worse than useless. And if they all did come, I don't think there would be enough of us teachers to go round —or enough schools".

OIL-SOAKED SANDS

The oil content of the sands on the banks of the Athabaska River in northern Alberta has been variously estimated between 100 and 250 billion barrels.

$960 Millions For Britain In Aid Program

PARIS, Aug. 29.—(Reuters) — The chairman and secretary-general of the European Marshall aid organizaton, have proposed a $960,000,000 allocation to Britain for 1949-50, usually reliable sources said taday

The proposal was said to have been made last night by the chairman, Baron Jean Charles Snoy of Belgium, and the secretary-general, Robert Marjolin.

Neither the organization for European economic co-operation nor the British delegation would confirm the figure or comment on the proposal.

Britain originally asked $1,518,000,000 for the second year of the recovery program. When this was slashed to $842,700,000 by a six-coutny working group, Sir Edmund Hall-Patch, chief British delegate, said the United Kingdom "cannot accept these figures."

Other delegates—notably Italian, Dutch and Frnch—also expressed disstaisfaction with the working group's report and the governing council instructed the chairman and secretary-general to make recommendations.

Aid allocations can be fixed finally only after the amount of funds approved by the United States Congress is known.

MINDEN, Aug. 29 (CP)—Archie Felgrove of Oakville, driver of a truck which overturned on the highway near here Aug. 25, killing Robert Delve, 19 year old Toronto student, and injuring four others, has been charged with dangerous driving. Delve died while on way to hospital.

A FIRE BREAK IS BUILT. Here bulldozers have cleared a gap through the forest to stop the forest fire that is sweeping through the area of Terrebonne Heights, Que., about 30 miles north of Montreal. Big Hurricane Reduced To Heavy Storm

CHARLOTTE, N.C., Aug. (29) —(AP)—The big hurricane was blowing itself out today.

It turned back to the northeast in North Carolina and Southern Virginia in a dying effort to return to the Atlantic Ocean where it was spawned a week ago.

The howling monster which ripped into Florida's Gold Coast on the east side Friday, cutting a multi-million dollar damage swath, was described by weathermen as just another heavy windstorm.

It raced across the Carolinas' Piedmont section yesterday bringing heavy rains. But its steel-twisting power was reduced to limb-breaking, shingle tearing and the fouling of power and communications lines.

Lumberton, N.C., and Florence, S. C., reported gusts of 60 miles an hour. Charleston, S.C., had one report of a gust at 80 m.p.h. but damage was limited to power lines. The choppy sea, aided by a high tide, flooded streets in the bay area.

Just a Heavy Storm

As the tag end of the hurricane pushed into Maryland it brought winds up to 55 miles an hour but the Weather Bureau said it probably would be just "another heavy storm."

It was in Georgia that the awesome freak of nature lost its superlative stature. There the Weather Bureau changed the status from hurricane to disturbance yesterday.

In Florida, West Palm Beach, Lake Worth and Lake Lauderdale were in the direct path of the hurricane's core as it swung in from the Atlantic Friday evening.

Damage ran into the millions. One life was lost in Florida and one in Georgia.

A preliminary survey brought damage estimates varying from $40,000,000 to $50,000,000.

Citrus growers thought damage might run as high as 20 per cent of the crop. Warren O. Johnson, head of the Lakeland Weather Bureau, said it might well be as great as in the 1944 hurricane, which caused a 20 per cent loss.

A high industry figure, who refused to be quoted by name, estimated the loss at 20,000,000 boxes of fruit—three fourths of it grapefruit.

Two Brothers Fined Minor Assault Charge

Two brothers, Keith and Victor Fontaine, 146 Aylmer St., were found guilty of assaulting Murray Nice, 581 Douglas St. in a hotel the night of Aug. 17.

Nice said the assault was the result of his having given evidence against a brother of the Fontaines in a previous court case. He said the assault began with their pushing him in the hotel rest room. He said Keith slapped him a few times on the face.

He testified Victor had hit him at the front of the hotel a few minutes later.

Keith Fontaine said he had not hit Nice, but had pushed aside Nice's hands when he raised them. He said he might have lightly touched Nice's face in the process.

Victor Fontaine said he had not hit Nice at all. Magistrate Gee said the affair was trivial and perhaps the whole three should have been brought in on charges of disturbing the peace. The Fontaines were fined $5 and costs each.

Power Cut Off After Storm Hits New York

NEW YORK, Aug. 29 (AP) — The New York metropolitan area was battered by 70-mile-an-hour winds today as the hurricane that hit Florida flicked north.

The weather bureau said the winds, accompanied by rain, reached their highest velocity at 6:30 a.m. EDT. By 10 a.m. the wind had subsided to 24 miles an hour.

Between 18,000 and 23,000 consumers in New York were without electrical service for a time as wires were knocked down.

Confucius Vs. Communism Real Conflict In China

By O. M. GREEN
(Special to The Examiner and London Free Press)

Saturday was the 2,500th birthday of Confucius, the famous sage of China, who has exercised a greater influence over greater numbers of his countrymen than any name in history. His descendants in the 77th generation (Dr. H. H. Kung, a recent Prime Minister of China is one of them) still live on the family estates at Chufou. In hundreds of temples the sacrifices ordained for him by an Emperor 1,700 years ago were offered up. The Nationalist armies have melted before the Communists like snow. But the Communists still have to face Confucius, their one real antagonist in China.

Kung Fu-tzu (the name was romanized into Confucius by Jesuit missionaries) was born in 551 B.C. when the Chou dynasty (1122-155 B.C.) was already breaking up into the chaos of tyrannous, quarrelsome dukedoms which inspired Confucius with his lifelong passion for political and moral reform. He was a solemn child, thirsty for learning and peculiarly interested in temple ceremonial. The death of his monther obliged him to retire from the small official post that he obtained as a young man for the conventional three years' mourning, which he spent in reading history, perfecting his schemes of reform, and founding a school of 3,000 students.

Named Prime Minister

Confucius's reputation rose so nigh that the Duke of Lu (his native state) appointed him Prime Minister. Under his guidance Lu became so prosperous that the neighboring Duke of Chi became alarmed. To undermine Confucius's influence he sent the Duke of Lu a bevy of lovely ladies and spirited horses—which Lu found much more to his taste than the austerity of Confucius. The morals of the Dukedom collapsed.

Ultimately Confucius resigned the premiership, and spent the last 14 years of his life making many unofficial converts, but none among the dukes. He never held office again and died in 478 B.C. believing that his life had been a failure. Portraits represent him as a tall, stern old man, with long beard, large ears and immensely high-domed forehead—the classical type that expresses China's unequalled respect for learning.

Two Main Principles

In the complexity of his teaching on morals, manners, propriety and the ideal of the true gentleman—which have penetrated to the humblest ranks of the Chinese, making them the best-mannered in the world—two principles stand out supreme: the importance of the family and the duty of the Prince to his people.

"Filial piety" means far more in China than the words imply in English. Any misdemeanour, however small, constitutes disrespect towards the ancestors and an offence to the family. But it cuts both ways. For if the father's authority over his children is supreme, he is equally bound by severe obligations towards them.

This is brought out still more forcibly in respect of the Prince's capacity as father of the whole Chinese family. Invoking the example of the Sage Kings between 2,000 and 3,000 B.C., Confucius continually showed how they regarded their office as a sacred duty to be used solely for the good of their people. Thus the Great Yu would not stay to see his first-born son, born in the early morning, till he had finished his day's work for his people.

Through all Chinese philosophy the principle that the state exists for the benefit of the people and not vice versa remains constant. Once only (about 2,160 years ago) an Emperor tried to reverse it. But on his death his totalitarian government quickly gave way to the old principle.

It is clear that such a creed as Communism, which is rooted in totalitarianism and which encourages children to spy upon their parents and denounce them for any "deviation," must sooner or later come into conflict with the ingrained Chinese beliefs on how life in all its aspects should be lived. And these beliefes go back many centuries before Confucius, who always insisted that he was only a historian, a teacher and interpreter of the wisdom of the past. There is not the slightest doubt that by at least 2,000 B.C. the Chinese had evolved certain social and political principles to which they have ever since remained true, and these are generally epitomized as Confucianism.

Driver Guilty Leaving Scene

Ernest Farquhar, 592 Division St., pleaded guilty to a charge of leaving the scene of an accident. A charge of drunk driving against him to which he pleaded not guilty was dismissed in police court Monday morning by Magistrate E. A. Gee, Lindsay.

The drunk driving charge arose from an accident in which Farquhar was alleged to have bumped Murray Todd, 477 Arndon Ave., a public utilities workman, while he was standing beside his truck preparing to do some work on hydro lines during a rain storm the night of July 9 at the corner of Townsend and Aylmer Sts.

Todd testified he ran after the car driven by Farquhar and got the man to stop. He said Farquhar was drunk, but couldn't tell the court details which convinced him Farquhar was drunk.

Police Testimony

Police found Farquhar in a hotel beverage room about 20 minutes after the accident and testified he was in a very drunken condition, smelling strongly of liquor and unable to walk steadily. A bottle of wine was found in Farquhar's car.

Farquhar pleaded guilty to leaving the scene of an accident in which he was alleged to have bumped into the rear of a car owned by Reginald Saunders, Kingston, parked in front of a friend's home on Princess St. Damage to the Saunders car was about $10.

Farquhar was fined $10 and $31.50 costs, including witness fees and their travelling expenses.

Uniteds Sweep OASA Series From Kingston

Beating Kingston Legion 9-5 here Saturday, the Uniteds swept their OASA senior "B" series in two straight. Bob Greenlaw scattered nine hits and fanned 10, while his mates hit in timely fashion against Warwick to earn the duke, though the locals were loose defensively. The game was enlivened by a near free-for-all in the fourth when Umpire Belwa went after a fan, a scuffle breaking out as fans and players rushed around. Order was restored shortly with no damage done, the umpire staying in his proper position from then on. The tilt was a slow one.

George Sullivan had a double and single in three, while "Peanuts" Douglas hit a triple and two singles in five, Greenlaw homering and singling in four, and Bud Harrison, getting a triple and single in five. Addy led Legion with two for three as Armstrong got a triple. Each side pulled off a nice double play, and Harrison shone with a lovely running one-hand catch.

Second Round Won By Campbellford

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 29 — (ENS—Campbellford won the second round in the OASA semi-finals at Frankford Saturday night by defeating Tweed 8-7. Going into the last inning Tweed was leading 7-5 but a double by Fralick and a hot grounder by Hay garnered in the winning counters.

Wardley of Campbellford checked up three runs in the first when he clouted a homer with two me non. Anderson started on the mound for the local club but was relieved by Robertson at the beginning of the second. Lessard, hurling steady ball, went the entire route for Tweed. Crosson's local nine clash with Ajax on home territory tonight in the initial game of the third round.

A homer by Robinson in the third and steady pitching by McComb paved the way for a decisive victory by Russ Ayrhart's TVL softball aggregation over Belleville by 10-5 in an exhibition game here Saturday night. Carson on the mound for the visitors went the entire route.

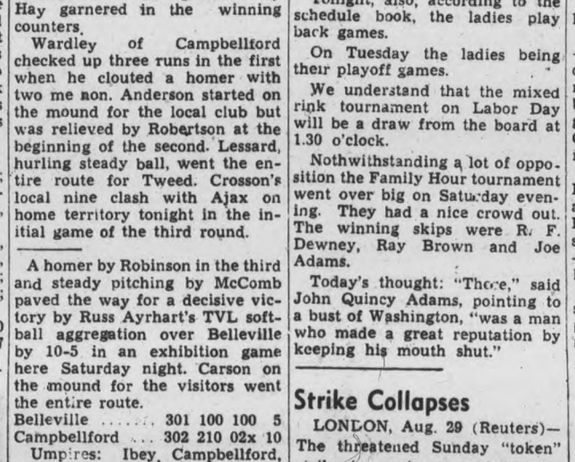
LAWN BOWLING

By HERB MARTIN

Tonight Groups No. 1 and 2 in the men's section play their postponed games of Tuesday, Aug. 2.

Tonight, also, according to the schedule book, the ladies play back games.

On Tuesday the ladies being their playoff games.



We understand that the mixed rink tournament on Labor Day will be a draw from the board at 1.30 o'clock.

Nothwithstanding a lot of opposition the Family Hour tournament went over big on Saturday evening. They had a nice crowd out. The winning skips were R. F. Dewney, Ray Brown and Joe Adams.

Today's thought: "There," said John Quincy Adams, pointing to a bust of Washington, "was a man who made a great reputation by keeping his mouth shut."

Strike Collapses

LONDON, Aug. 29 (Reuters)— The threatened Sunday "token" strike by engineers and firemen in northeast England fizzled out Sunday after decision by two of the biggest depots to carry on normal working. Collapse of the strike threat against working schedules requiring rail workers to sleep away from home is believed to herald the end of the series of Sunday strikes which have intermittently interfered with Britain's main-line service to Scotland and the north this summer.

NEW RIDERS—Two newcomers who hope to help Ottawa Rough Riders to the Dominion Football title they just missed last year are Andy Gordon, left, and Ray Skerrett. Gordon, counted on for the first-string quarterback's berth, played for Villanova College in Pennsylvania last season. Skerrett, a speedy young backfielder from Montreal, is the only Negro on the team.

Wilson Fails To Break Speedboat Mark

By JACK SULLIVAN
Canadian Press Staff Writer

PICTON, Ont., Aug. 28—(CP)—Perhaps the well-known legend about four-leaf clovers bringing luck is a lot of blarneyafter all. If there's any doubt about it, ask water pilot Harold Wilson or boat builder Tom Greavette of Gravenhurst.

Genial Tom, a bluff, 68-year-old builder, "smuggled" the clover in the nose of the $35,000 mull of Miss Canada IV early this year, "just for luck." It has brought Wilson, native of Ingersoll, Ont., lots of it—all bad.

The crowning ignominy was touched off Sunday when Miss Canada turned up as a fickle filly. She didn't have it when Wilson attempted to shoot the works in a trial spin preparatory to giving her the gun in an all-out attempt to smash the world water speed mark. That's 141.7 miles an hour—established by the late Sir Malcolm Campbell over Lake Coniston, England, 10 years ago this month.

In all, Miss Canada IV made 10 trips, all on an unofficial basis, over the national-mile course over Picton Bay the last three days. Six were made Sunday, the only time the weather was up to snuff to give the chunky 37-year-old driver a chance to break the record—and each time the $100,000 mahogany-colored boat failed him.

Changes No Help

She had minor adjustments made to her engine, propellers were changed, her batteries were changed and there was something wrong with her mixture in the fuel tanks.

After the sixth early-morning attempt Sunday, he called the whole thing off. Miss Canada was placed on her trailer and headed for her nursery at Gravenhurst.

The skittish water performer disappointed thousands lining the banks of the picturesque Picton Bay. She did almost the same thing in the recent Harmsworth Trophy races at Detroit when she was the favorite and finished last.

That time Wilson blamed it on a faulty supercharger.

But he hasn't given up.

"I'm going to break this record yet and I hope to be back here soon," he told reporters. "I know I can do it. I've done it several times on Lake Muskoka off Gravenhurst and she hasn't really been opened up under perfect conditions.

He expects to have his boat in Detroit by next Friday, in preparation for his defence of the Silver Cup.

Batting—Phil Rizzuto, Yankees—Cracked out three hits and drove in the tying run in a six-run ninth inning to lead the Yankees to an 8-7 victory in the first game of a doubleheader with Chicago. He drove in three runs in the second game victory, 7-5.

Pitching — Don Newcombe, Dodgers—Pitched the Dodgers to a 9-0 shutout victory over the Pirates, spacing four hits and striking out six.

HOT MOUTH, COOL FEET

Experiments show that excessive smoking will lower the temperature of a person's feet by as much as 10 degrees.

BONUS BABIES—Pitcher Bill Offield, left, of Burlingame, Calif., and third baseman Joe Kirrene, Jr., of Sacramento, report to the White Sox. The youngsters were given bonuses totaling $100,000, part of the Chicago Americans' rebuilding campaign, which now exceeds $250,000 in cost. They will break in professionally next spring with Waterloo of the Three-Eye League.

Hastings Boys Defeat Orono

HASTINGS, Aug. 29.—(ENS).—Hastings juniors advanced a step closer to an OASA junior 'C' championship Saturday night at Hastings park by trouncing Orono Orfuns 38-16 in the final game of a best of three series.

Both teams played loosely and at times seemed determined to toss the game away. After the fourth inning, when Hastings scored 13 runs, the outcome was never in doubt. Orono used four pitchers in an effort to stop the rout, but the Hastings lads were not to be denied.

Richardson started for Orono and went well until the fourth, when he was snowed under and Hunt relieved. He fared no better, and Wade was called in, in the sixth and to complete the deal, Lowry came in, in the seventh. By that time Hastings were foot sore from running the bases.

D. West went the route for Hastings and although his fast one mowed down 16 on strikes, occasional wildness and some weird plays behind him, put him in trouble more than once.

Police Jail 13 In Near Riot As 1,000 Watch

DELHI, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP) — A near-riot in this Norfolk county village Saturday night resulted in the arrest of 13 men, mostly transient tobacco workers.

The 13, held on charges of creating a disturbance, were taken to jail in nearby Simcoe. They will appear in court there Thursday.

The arrests came after a series of fights on the main street about midnight. Provincial Police from London, Simcoe and Tillsonburg were called in to reinforce the four-man Delhi force.

Citizens and police blamed the trouble on what they said was the hostile and provocative attitude of transients, most of whom work on district farms and come to town Saturday.

Police said the trouble started in a hotel basement beverage room at the closing hour and spread until some 50 to 100 were involved. At the height of the trouble about 1,000 persons crowded the main intersection.

The Delhi fire brigade poured water from two hose lines on the battlers. No one was seriously injured and there was no property damage.

$250,000 Fire Destroys Stores

ST. CATHARINES, Aug. 29—(CP)—A two storey building at the corner of St. Paul and Chestnut Streets in the heart of the business section was destroyed by fire Sunday with loss estimated at about $250,000.

Three stores on the ground floor were gutted and another store in an adjoining building was damaged by smoke and water.

The fire started in the basement of MacQuillen's drug store on the corner. It spread to the Singer Sewing Machine store next door and to De Sand's Ltd., electrical appliance store next to Singer's.

So rapidly did the fire spread that it was out of control by the time firemen from the fire hall directly across the street, were on the job.

Discover That Grave Was Not Desecrated

VANKLEEK HILL, Ont., Aug. 29 (CP)—The case of the newly-dug grave that had given rise to rumors of grave desecration and murder Saturday was gently closed by the Ontario Provincial Police.

The freshly-turned grave was found by United Church cemetery attendants near a cemetery hedge in this community 60 miles east of Ottawa.

While police pondered the case cemetery workers speculated and townspeople started rumors of possible grave thefts or murder.

Then police found the answer—the sod had been removed to improve the appearance on another grave.

Not Connected With Killing

TORONTO, Aug. 29 (CP) — Two men were arrested on vagrancy charges in a raid on a cottage near Belleville Friday night by Toronto detectives assigned to the Layng slaying here, but police said later they had nothing to do with the Layng case.

Layng was shot to death a month ago when he sought to capture an armed bandit fleeing from the scene of a groceteria holdup.

Information was received by Toronto police that a man answering the description of the killer was seen near the cottage and he was believed to be armed.

The two arrested men, found with two revolvers, were booked in Belleville on a charge of vagrancy while their activities during the past three weeks are being investigated.

"We were convinced they had nothing to do with the killing said a senior police official," although one certainly resembles the description given by eye-witnesses to the slaying."

Score Arrest Of Baptists In Val d'Or

TORONTO, AUG. 29 (CP)—The congregation of Runnymede Baptist Church Sunday night voted to forward a "strong" protest to the Minister of Justice in protest against the imprisonment of five val d'Or, Que., Baptists following their arrest for preaching in the town's streets.

Rev. Gordon W. Brown, pastor of the church and Dean of the Central Baptist Seminary, said the action of Val d'Or's town council in banning street preaching was untenable in law, there being no by-law to that effect.

Following the arrests, he said, the council was approached by members of the church who produced witnesses who stated there had been no infraction of a traffic by-law. But, Rev. Mr. Brown said, the prosecution had two "primed witnesses" who said an infraction had occurred.

"This is a case of absolute religious intolerance," Mr. Brown said.

Two ministers, the wife of one of them, a descon and a deaconess are all in prison having elected to serve 30-day terms rather than pay fines.

Take Finnish Farmer In Custody After Ax Attack On Neighbour

SUDBURY, Aug. 29 (CP) — Matti Kangas, Finnish farmer, is in custody in connection with the wounding of farmer Jan Enusvid, clubbed with an ax.

It is understood Kangas will undergo a mental examination. No charge has yet been laid.

Enusvid, about 50, was taken to hospital where officials said Sunday his condition is good.

Enusvid was captured Saturday in bushlands 12 miles south of here shortly after John Linden, visiting Enusvid's farm, discovered the two men grappling on the floor. Linden helped the wounded man subdue Kangas and tied Kangas to a tree. He escaped before police arrived.

Witnesses said the two were quarreling over Enusvid's dog, which police found in nearby bushes with its chest slashed.

Linden said Kangas told him he had received "a message from the sky" to go to Enusvid's home and kill him.

YOUNG FARMER DRAGS TWO FROM CRASHED AIRPLANE

It was after midnight when Charles Soucy heard the airplane crash. Racing a mile across the wheat fields, he found the machine in flames — with the pilot and a woman passenger still trapped inside! Working coolly and quickly, Soucy managed to force open the plane door and drag the pilot to safety. Then, grabbing an axe, he cut away part of the framework under which the woman was pinned. In spite of the flames, he finally succeeded in freeing her.

Thanks to his cool bravery, two lives had been saved . . . and we pay sincere tribute to gallant Charles Soucy through the presentation of The Dow Award.

OVER THE WEEK-END CANADIAN ARMY ENGINEERS from Ottawa and North Bay built this 190-foot Bailey Bridge over the Petawawa River deep in the bush country of Algonquin Park. The bridge was erected as a training exercise as well as a valuable asset to the Hydro Electric Power Commission. On completion the bridge which spans the Petawawa River on a road between Des Joachim and Haliburton, was turned over to the Hydro for use in future power developments. The sappers are seen in the above photographs with the huge Bailey under construction. The job was completed in 26 hours.

Fire Razes Chromium Plant At Soo

Blaze Cuts Off Power; Menaces Abitibi Power Plant

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 30 (CP)—Firemen stood by helplessly for an hour today as a $100,000 fire swept through the yards of the Chromium Mining and Smelting Corporation, one of the Soo's largest industries. Flames ate through power lines which cross the property and left water mains without pressure.

None was injured, but the main low carbon storage warehouse and a 50-foot high cat-walk were destroyed by the fire, of unknown origin. Flames spread over 100 yards of company property in a matter of minutes.

Firemen still are spraying water on a black sticky mass of silex and other carbonated materials among the ruins of the warehouses.

Workmen said the materials will burn for hours since water has no effect on them other than to keep the flames low.

The first alarm was turned in by Police Corporal John Wilson and Constable Don McKiggan who were driving past the property when with a low wooshing roar the entire length of the warehouse seemed to explode in flames.

Without Water

At three a.m., nine minutes after the call was made, power lines from the Great Lakes Power Company were destroyed, leaving the city without lights and the firemen without water pressure.

Fire company pumps were rushed beneath the cat-walk to the bank of the nearby St. Mary's River and small streams of water were used to prevent the flames from spreading to the furnaces and main buildings of the plant.

Large lumps of burning material flew high in the air to explode like rockets as the flames spread with amazing speed. Pressure came in as subsidiary power lines were cut in, but not until the fire had burned for 40 minutes and the tar paper covered cat-walk had burned through and collapsed across the road leading through the company property to the power canal.

Hundreds of spectators roused from their beds by the reflection of flames on windows lined the Vote $50,000,000 As Municipal Help

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 30—(CP)—Ontario plans to form a $50,000,000 Crown Company to loan money to municipalities in the province for approved public works. Disclosing the plan last night in an address to the Ontario Municipal Association Convention, Premier Frost termed it a "great innovation in municipal financing." He said it would be a boon to smaller centres by aiding them to float debentures with in minimum of trouble and at lower interest rates.

Under a bill to be presented to the next legislature session, the Progressive-Conservative premier said a company known as the Ontario Municipal Improvement Corporation will be formed. It will buy municipal, debentures for local improvement programs approved by the Ontario Municipal Board.

The province will borrow the money at prevailing rates—considerably lower than that average small municipality can obtain—and loan it at cost plus a small charge to cover administrative expenses. The premier estimated this could save smaller municipalities between one and 1½ per cent in interest rates.

The premier said the plan may encourage many municipalities to undertake such local improvements as waterworks, sewers and incinerators.

Better Services

"Our aim is to enable the municipalities to give their people better services, to prevent the pollution of our streams and the spoiliation of natural resources arising therefrom, and to give the taxpayer every possible assistance," he said.

The premier said pollution of Ontario waters "must come to an end within a reasonable time."

Noting that some smaller municipalities may have to pay as high as six per cent on debentures, whereas a larger centre may borrow for three per cent, the premier said the new corporation will provide uniformity in rates. A large municipality still wanting to arrange its own borrowing would be helped by the generally lower rates.

The premier detailed the plan in his address to convention delegates at a civic dinner after announcing in a statement issued in Toronto earlier in the day.

Premier Frost also told the convention the government maintains it is not wise to take over the entire cost of social services, even though it has assumed the major portion. To take over the whole load "would be to deprive the people of the value of administration at the municipal level, where certain matters can be dealt with more effectively."

Mind Not Closed

But his mind was "by no means closed to possible reforms" if

Still A Sissy

TORONTO, Aug. 30 — (CP)—Ferdinand is still a sissy. Twice a day, the model for Walt Disney's flower - sniffing cartoon character displays his amiability for large Canadian National Exhibition crowds. At afternoon and evening grandstand shows the 1,480-pound bull parades around wearing daisies in his hair. Owner Herman (Tex) Mosley says Ferdinand, now 16, is the world's only trained bull. He doesn't tango like his celluloid namesake but he climbs on a barrel, sits on his haunches like a dog and drinks from a bottle.

Britain To Try To Retain Social Services

LONDON, Aug. 30 — (CP). — Britain has ready a 15,000-word plan to throw on the table at the Washington dollar conference.

The Cabinet met Monday and gave unanimous endorsement to Sir Stafford Cripps' proposals for a solution to the sterling bloc's critical dollar shortage.

An informed source said it stands strongly for keeping up British social services, such as free medical service, and makes no mention of possible devaluation of the pound, now pegged at $4 0325 to the dollar.

Sir Stafford, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Ernest Bevin, the Foreign Secretary, will take the plan with them when they sail to-morrow for New York on the Mauretania.

They start a conference September 7 with United States and Canadian officials on the world shortage of dollars, especially Britain's shortage.

Gold Reserve Low

It has been authoritatively reported that Britain's pool of gold and dollars, a reserve she needs to back the pound in international trading for her food and raw materials, will be down to $1,200,000,000 by September 30. That is $800,000,000 under what was set by officials a few months ago as the danger line.

The British Foreign Office said in a statement Monday night President Truman's pledge of American "friendliness and helpfulness" toward the British in his Philadelphia speech was "most helpful and encouraging for the success" of the Washington talks.

The information on Monday's cabinet meeting said British leaders will take no stand either for or against devaluation until the Americans raise the issue.

Some American critics have accused Britain of frittering away European Recovery Program dollars on social services such as welfare insurance and the national health scheme of free medical treatment, glasses and false teeth.

The cabinet's brief, the informant said, does not propose that the $35 an ounce world gold price be raised. He explained Britain will wait till later to make that proposal in a meeting of the board of governors of the international monetary fund starting in Washington Sept 13.

Man Thrown Onto Ledge; Bones Broken

Still Conscious When Taken To Toronto Hospital

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP) — Malaky Coalter, 34-year-old laborer of suburban Leaside, fell 140 feet today from the 10th storey of the new Bank of Nova Scotia building on which he was working.

He is still alive, for his fall was broken by high tension wires.

After striking the wires, he bounced three feet in the air and landed on a wooden ledge.

Eyewitnesses said Coalter was standing on the open floor of the building, now under construction, when he lost his balance and crashed to the street.

Police said if it hadn't been for the wooden sidewalk barricade the man might have crashed on top of pedestrians.

At the hospital Coalter was still conscious. He suffered multiple fractures to the body and arms and severe head injuries.

According to one report, Coalter's body was left lying on the ledge for more than half an hour while an ambulance called by the contracting firm waited down the street for traffic to clear.

Coalter graduated from London Bible College last spring and was to have assumed clerical duties with Youth For Christ Movement in Brantford next week.

Army Engineers Build Bridge To Help Hydro

OTTAWA, Aug. 30—(CP)— A new 190-foot Bailey bridge, erected during the week-end by Canadian Army engineers as part of a training exercise, has been handed over to the Ontario Hydro-Electric Commission, army headquarters announced Monday.

Rain poured over the North Bay and Ottawa reserve force soldiers as they rolled 60 tons of steel into position on the Petawawa River, about 100 miles northwest of Ottawa near the Ontario Hydro Des Joachims power project.

Headquarters said a 100-foot, almost precipitous bank made launching of the steel spans a difficult and heartbreaking job.

Taking part in the training scheme were the 3rd Field Squadron from the capital and the 8th Field Squadron from North Bay.

This type of bridge, said headquarters, normally was assembled on the river bank and shoved

Ease Controls On Lumber Trade

OTTAWA, Aug. 30—(CP) — Export controls on lumber, rigidly maintained since 1940 because of the housing and building shortage, will be relaxed starting Sept. 8, the Trade Department announced today.

Lumber products which formerly could be shipped out of the country only on a quota basis will be able to leave Canada in any quantity on application for a Trade Department permit.

The permit idea, said the department, is to guard against the possibility that the products may at some time be needed to meet Canadian requirements.

The department said removal of export quotas on lumber reflects the satisfactory supply situation existing today. It is the first major change in lumber export policy since the Second Great War.

The relaxation move applies to most lumber items including flooring, millwork, window sash and doors. Notice of celaxation has been mailed from regional timber control offices to Canada's 8,000 lumber companies.

The department said it had received splendid co-operation from the industry while the controls were applied.

"We are assured that this co-operation will continue and that the industry will keep on supplying all Canadian requirements for housing and other purposes."

Drowning Feared

TORONTO, Aug. 30 — (CP)—Lifesavers have been dragging waters inside the Canadian National Exhibition seawall since early today for a possible drowning victim. Police said no one was reported missing. However, police found khaki trousers and a green shirt with a Boy Scout crest near the spot where a young man was reported by a watchman as having gone for a swim about 2 a.m.

LONDON, Aug. 30—(Reuters)—Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express today calls for the return of Winston Churchill as the leader of Britain in her present predicament.

"There is no salvation in Washington," the Express says.

"The place to search is right here at home. Bring Churchill back. Not because he is the leader of the Tories or any other political party. Because he is the man—so far beyond all others—who can unite and inspire all men of good will to pull the country through its trouble, as he did in 1940."

Aid To Builders Of Homes Said In Offing

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 —(CP)— Steps to stimulate home wondership in Canada may be taken by the various governments as a result of recent discussions between Reconstruction Minister Winters and premiers of the 10 provinces.

Mr. Winters has returned to his office here and expects to place before the cabinet Wednesday a number of recommendations based on his findings during the tour. He indicated in an interview that one of the recommendations probably would deal with the lowering of down payments now required of prospective home-owners.

Under the present national housing act regulations, a down payment of between $1,800 and $3,000 is required on a five-room bungalow costing from $7,000 to $10,000.

There have been recent unofficial reports that the federal government will reduce the required payment by as much as 50 per cent. There has been some speculation the provinces and municipalities may take complementary steps to make it easier for the average worker to become a home owner.

Believe 1949 Tourist Trade Will Be All-Time Record

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP)—The cash registers that ring up the spending of American tourists are expected to tinkle merrily around the $300,000,000 mark by the end of this year.

D. Leo Dolan, director of the Canadian Travel Bureau, made the prediction Monday as the Bureau of Statistics released figures showing that Canada had a record year for tourist business in 1948.

Mr. Dolan said that last year's records are being shattered month by month and Canada's 1949 tourist trade is expected to be even bigger than a year ago.

His estimate that $300,000,000 in American currency will come to Canada through tourist trade this year is a rough one. It would be about 10 per cent more than the industry made last year when it counted $270,000,000 in receipts from U. S. visitors.

The 1948 receipts left Canada with a net profit of $149,000,000—biggest in history—made possible by a drop in Canadian travelling in other countries. The importance of the tourist trade in maintaining Canada's U. S. dollar balance can be seen in the fact that reserves currently are about $600,000,000.

In 1948, Canada welcomed 6,000,000 American travellers for periods of more than two days. This year, said Mr. Dolan, there would be about 6,600,000.

And where last year Canada entertained 25,000,000 visitors for two days or less, the figure was expected to reach 27,000,000 this year.

Mr. Dolan, who outlined the tourist picture in an interview, threw in a suggestion for making still more progress.

He emphasized that if Canada's tourist trade is to continue to improve, some of the "goat trails" that have been described as national highways will have to be improved.

Expenditures from all countries in Canada amounted to $283,000,000—an increase of 12.7 over 1947.

Communists Get Nearer Canton

CANTON, Aug. 30—(AP)—The Communist threat to Canton mounted today.

Jucheng, 170 miles north of Canton, was lost to a Red force, news dispatches said. The victorious Communists struck westward in an apparent attempt to cut the Canton-Hankow railroad and Nationalist supply lines.

The ministry of national defence reported a new Communist drive from Kiangsi province aimed at Lungchuan, a city well inside Kwangtung province. The ministry did not say whether the Reds had crossed the border.

Lungchuan is 145 miles northeast of Canton and 115 miles northeast of the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong.

The loss of Jucheng, in southeastern Hunan province, caused more immediate concern here in the Nationalist provisional capital. The Nationalists immediately reinforced their positions on the Kwantung-Hunan border to try to hold Kukong, the northern gateway to Canton.

Top Nationalists leaders conferred here on plans to defend Kwangtung. Chiang Kai-Shek however, remained in Chunking, where he is trying to reconcile differences between Szechwan warlords and the commander of the southwest, Gen. Chang Chung, former premier.

Meanwhile, in the far northwest, Singing, capital of Tsinghai province, appeared in grave danger. A commercial airline pilot said he was forced to turn back from the airfield there Monday by Nationalist defenders who said the field was not safe.

Dismissed From Her Church Declares Letter Recipient

GUELPH, Aug. 30—(CP)—Mrs. Robert Stitt, 27-year-old housewife who claimed she received "love letters" from her Baptist pastor, said today she and her husband has been dismissed from their church. The dismissal from York Road Baptist Church was signed by Rev. Thomas Guthrie, 42-year-old minister and father of two children who previously referred to himself as a "poor, simple sinning preacher."

Mrs. Stitt, now under medical care, said she still considers herself a church member but "we will not attend services until he has been removed from his pulpit."

Although Mr. Guthrie admitted he wrote a letter which contained expressions of affection, he accused Mrs. Stitt of "perambulating around the truth" in claiming he forced his attentions against her will.

He said he will "answer quite adequately" tomorrow all charges concerning his relationship with Mrs. Stitt and will fight "to the bitter end."

"Such Nonsense"

The minister's wife entered the church tempest for the first time when she announced she would stand by her husband and denied that he wrote Mrs. Stitt anything more than "a letter of apology."

When informed of Mrs. Guthrie's statement, Mrs. Stitt said flatly: "They were love letters." Referring to a letter she had burned, she told reporters "it was such nonsense."

Earlier, Mrs. Stitt said she remembered a "fleeting acquaintance with Mr. Guthrie when she and her husband lived in Toronto several years ago. At the time, the minister was a bakery delivery-man.

"He wasn't my bread man but I saw him occasionally," she said.

Declare Police Sent To Cut Off Yugoslavs

BERLIN, Aug. 30 —(AP)—A Berlin newspaper said today East German police are being sent to the Balkans by Russia to seal off Yugoslavia.

The British - licensed Social Democrat said 3,500 heavily armed members of the Volks-Plizei (People's Police) left the Russian zone of Germany Saturday for "anti-Tito action" in the Balkans. It said 12,000 more will be sent.

British and American intelligence officers said they could not confirm the reports.

Social Democrat said the troops, wearing uniforms similar to those of the Red Army, are commanded by Russian General Smirnov.

Tito Probably Will Get Loan

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP) Marshal Tito of Yugoslavia is considered virtually a cinch to get a United States government loan—provided he stays alive and independent from Moscow.

Top government officials said State Secretary Dean Acheson's strong support for Yugoslavia's application clearly foreshadows a favorable verdict.

The Yugoslav dictator is said to be in need of quick economic help from the United States and other western countries to help him weather the economic blockade now threatening to strangle his country.

The Yugoslav government was disclosed Monday night to have applied formally to the export-import bank of a credit of about $25,000,000 needed to buy American machinery for its copper, lead and zinc mines.

Tito is reported to have turned to the bank, an American government agency, because he feels he cannot wait possibly six months for a credit from the international bank.

This is the first time the Yugoslav government has turned to the United States government for a direct loan since Tito defied Moscow's orders some 15 months ago.

Quebec Forest Fires Cause Total Damage $2,000,000

QUEBEC, Aug. 30—(CP)—A provincial government forestry engineer said Monday that forest and bush fires along the St. Lawrence south shore during the last two weeks have caused an estimated $2,000,000 damage in timber lands and private property.

The estimate was made by Roch Delisle, who is in charge of the Quebec forest information bureau.

Mr. Delisle's report on the forest fire situation extended a distance of 115 miles from Vercheres county, 30 miles north of Montreal, to Lotbiniere county 40 miles south of Quebec.

The fires were all reported under control Monday by the provincial department of lands and forests after a day of heavy rains.

Mr. Delisle estimated damage to standing timber at $1,500,000 while damage to private property was approximately $500,000.

He attributed the fires to a spell of dry weather such as farmers of the province had not witnessed for almost 50 years.

"It would take a week of heavy rain to put out all the smouldering fires and repair some of the soil damage," he added.

In his detailed report, Mr. Delisle estimated 10 square miles of bush destroyed, 65 square miles of recent cutovers of less than 30 years growth and 40 square miles of timber of more than 30 years growth.

Private property destroyed included houses, barns, sawmills, bridges, fences, telephone lines, forestry camps, maple sugar establishments and crops.

Mr. Delisle said that organic matter in the soil—essential for good growth—had been destroyed in nearly every locality where the fires had raged. He said productivity of the soil in these sections would be lessened for many years.

32,000 Loggers Threaten Strike

VANCOUVER, Aug. 30 (CP)— The multi-million-dollar lumber industry, which provides a third of every British Columbia dollar, and which attracts about one sixth of Marshall Plan dollars spent in Canada, today faces a strike by 32,000 coastal loggers.

Trade experts describe the time of the threatened walkout as "crucial." Ottawa announced Monday the removal of timber export controls, a move to aid the industry in its fight for world markets.

Machinery to supervise the strike vote among the loggers, members of the International Woodworkers of America (C.I.O.-C.C.L.), is being put into gear today by the Provincial Labor Relations Board.

The union claims its major locals, in week-end balloting, overwhelmingly ratified President Stewart Aisbury's wholesale rejection of a recent conciliation board report and his subsequent call for strike action. The conciliation board's report followed a rather unique approach by the 165 logging camp operators concerned in the dispute.

The operators fired at the loggers a surprise counter-proposal to their 15-cent hourly increase—a basic salary slash of 13 cents an hour.

Forest Industrial Relations, the voice of the operators, claimed the union's demands, which included an employer-paid welfare plan, union shop and a reduction to $1.50 from the present $2.00 daily board rates, would cost the industry $22,004,256 a year.

Yugoslav Gov't Note Lies, Russia Claims

LONDON, Aug. 30 (CP)—Moscow radio tonight broadcast the text of a new note from Russia to Yugoslavia describing the Yugoslav note of Aug. 20 as "filled with falsehood and calumnies."

The Yugoslav note of Aug. 20 accused Moscow of double-crossing Yugoslavia by abandoning claims on Austrian territory at last June's conference of the big four foreign ministers in Paris.

Woman Skirts Truth Says Pastor; Wife Supports Him

GUELPH, Aug. 30—The slender, dark-haired married woman who received a love letter from Rev. Thomas A. Guthrie, pastor of York Road Baptist Church, is "perambulating around the truth" when she claims the minister has been forcing his attentions on her against her will, Mr. Guthrie said tonight.

"Her story is quite amusing—very amusing," the 42-year-old married minister continued. "I knew an old Scottish minister who used to say, when anyone told a lie, that he was perambulating around the truth. That's what she seems to be doing."

The celebrated letter, which Mr. Guthrie admits writing, touched off repercussions within the little church which has resulted in a wide open split among the members. The dissident group, headed by five dismissed deacons, has engaged legal counsel in its battle to oust the pastor.

Mrs. Robert Stitt, 27, was the recipient of the litter cipient of the letter. Mrs. Sittt told the e-deacons that Mr. Guthrie, who has two children, kept coming to visit her even when she locked her doors.

Plagued Two Years

"For two years now," she said, "Mr. Guthrie pestered and plagued both myself and my husband. The letter was the last straw. Bob and I both knew something would have to be done."

Last night Mrs. Guthrie spoke up for the first time since the controversy began. She expressed complete faith in the innocence of her husband.

"He may have written a letter" she said, "but it was a letter of apology, not a love letter."

The minister's wife said it was disgraceful the way newspapers have blackmailed her husband.

"The papers owe us an apology for the way they have dragged the name of the Lord Jesus Christ and our church into the mud," she stated.

The original copy of the latter, which Mr. Stitt turned over to one of the church deacons, has been placed in a bank safety deposit box. No one can touch it without a court order. It hasn't been out of the bank since placed there by the deacons.

A photostatic copy of the letter was read last night to 70 former members of the church who held a meeting in the Orange Hall while the minister conducted regular services for 40 people in the church. To get in the church, Mr. Guthrie had to remove crowbars and padlocks placed on the doors by the dissident group.

Nightly Meetings

Every night this week prayer meetings will be held in the little church for the 30 or so members who have remained with the pastor. "We've called these meetings to solidify the people and get them thinking about spiritual things again," Mr. Guthrie explained.

He also announced that he will make a statement Wednesday on the charges of Mrs. Stitt pertaining to his amorous activities. "I need two days to study them," he said.

Meanwhile, Albert North, former chairman of the deacon's board, and leader of the dissidents said he did not know what the group's next move would be. "We haven't had much time to think about it," he said. "We've been too busy reading the newspapers."

Draft Citizens To Fight Revolt

LA PAZ, Aug. 30 (AP)—Fighting for survival against a spreading Rightist revolution, the Bolivian government today began a draft of all citizens. Reservists, 20 to 24, were called to the colors in La Paz and orders for mobilization have been issued to all men 19 to 50.

They will be called upon to fight the revolt against the middle of the road government which broke out in scattered sections Saturday and now controls all Bolivia's large cities except La Paz.

Greatest government efforts so far have been directed against Cochambamba, a city of 90,000 southeast of La Paz, where the rebels are strongly entrenched. Air force planes bombed the town Monday for the third time, but reports said they did little damage. The raids terrorized the inhabitants, however, and indignation against the act seems to have added new recruits to the rebellion.

The planes, after dropping their bombs on Cochambamba, flew on to the garrison town of Camiri to pick up troops for an attack on Sucre.

In a lightning reverse play, the planes were seized at Camiri by the insurgents; the government troops they were sent to pick up had deserted to the rebels.

Czech Cabinet Claims Revolt Crushed

PRAGUE, Aug. 30 (AP)—The Czechoslovak Government announced today it had crushed an anti-Communist underground movement just as the group was preparing to begin an armed revolution.

The official press bureau linked the underground members with "a certain western imperialistic power" but did not identify the western power.

Details of the purported plot were announced after a secret trial at which six persons were condemned to death, 10 given life imprisonment and an unspecified number lesser prison terms. Ten of those tried were acquitted.

The announcement termed members of the groups spies and terrorists and said they were tried on charges of high treason and spying on behalf of the western powers "with which they had been in contact."

The government claimed its police had played a cat-and-mouse game with the alleged conspirators and waited until they were all set to begin the revolution before moving in to nab them.

This was the second official announcement in four days about the crushing of a group denounced as anti-government terrorists.

Last Saturday, the government said nine men accused of trying to overthrow the Communist-led government had been convicted of high treason by a state court at Melnik, north of Prague. This group also had been charged with seeking to communicate with foreign powers. The official story about the Prague group said they had contact with "treacherous" Czechoslovak exiles through "the help of an employee of the Prague embassy of a western power."

Seven Die In Flood, Much Livestock Lost

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 30 (CP)—The official toll in the New South Wales floods stands today at seven dead and two missing.

The town of Kempsey, hit by a raging, 25-foot wall of water, was the centre of a 200-square-mile area submerged by the rampaging floods.

As the waters receded, rescuers in boats reported huge stock losses. One reported seeing numbers of dead dairy and beef cattle lying awash on the flooded verandahs of homesteads where they had taken refuge. Other floods drowned more than 10,000 sheep, washed out hundreds of acres of wheat.

Thousands of persons have been rendered homeless, and total damage is estimated at more than $6,500,000.

In 1932 the gross debt of municipalities was $504,000,000. By 1947 it had decreased to some $219,000,000. Taxes had increased but so had assessments.

The position of Ontario municipalities is "extremely sound.... and the increase in their tax levies has been kept well in hand despite the stresses of the times in which we live," he said.

Earlier, the association's clerks and treasurers division voted down a resolution aimed at reducing the power of the Ontario Municipal Board over solvent municipalities. By a vote of 30-19 delegates decided the matter was one of policy that should be dealt with by the main convention.

Reject Proposal

Rural delegates, meeting in the county section under chairmanship of Clerk-Treasurer R. E. W. Lawrason of Brant County, passed a resolution protesting the removal of the one-mill provincial subsidy to municipalities. The subsidy was abolished this year in favor of grants based on costs of services. The resolution said the subsidy was granted municipalities when they relinquished their right to share in income-tax revenues and therefore they are still entitled to it.

Premer Frost said in a statement meantime that all cheques covering payments of the subsidy for 1948 have been sent out.

"It was decided that every municipality should be granted benefits under this plan of at least one mill and should any municipality receive less than one mill from the subsidies for fire, police and the welfare assistance, then the department of municipal affairs would make up the difference," he said.

The county section also passed resolutions recommending that public utilities and crown properties be taxed as privately-owned enterprises and that county councils be given the power to regulate motor speed limits anywhere they deem necessary.

Poisonous Vine May Prove Boon In Curing Arthritis

By GEORGE RONALD
Canadian Press Staff Writer.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (CP).—A little-known plant with a tongue-twisting name has emerged as the new hope of arthritis sufferers.

Strophanthus sarmentosus, a vine found in parts of Africa and Asia, may be an important source of cortisone, a hard-to-make chemical which shows promise as a conqueror of arthritis.

"We have strong reason to believe that certain plants of the strophanthus variety may offer a source of supply for cortisone," says Oscar R. Ewing, federal security administrator. But he emphasizes there is no definite proof so far.

Scientists of the United States public health service and agriculture department now are in Liberia gathering a large supply of the plant as a basis for full-scale tests to determine once and for all whether sarmentosus is, in fact, a "wonder plant."

Meanwhile, officials caution against undue optimism. Newspapers are warning the 7,000,000 arthritis victims in the United States that it may be several years before they can hope for relief — even if sarmentosus is what the scientists think it is.

Remarkable Chemical

Cortisone itself is brand new. Its development—from the bile of oxen — was announced last April by a group of doctors at the Mayo Clinic in Rochester, Minn. Administered in small doses to a few persons crippled by arthritis, it had remarkable effects, they said.

Pain disappeared; patients who had been bedridden became able to walk, dance and run. The drug was found to have similar effect on persons suffering from rheumatic fever.

But symptoms returned when cortisone doses were withheld. That indicated cortisone might be to arthritis as insulin is to diabetes: injections might have to be made at regular intervals to combat the disease successfully.

To treat one patient for one day would require all the cortisone available from the bile of 40 oxen. That makes the drug so costly and so limited in supply as to be virtually impractical for large-scale application.

It is at this point that strophanthus sarmentosus enters the picture. Scientists say that the vine yields more than 12,000 times as much raw material for cortisone as does ox bile. So — if the plant is available in sufficient quantity and can be made to produce cortisone fairly inexpensively — another hurdle may be passed.

Poisonous Seeds

This vine which may have such beneficial application is also put to sinister use in Africa, the National Geographic Society says.

"Cultivation of the strophanthus vine now is forbidden in Africa because of the highly poisonous character of its seeds," the society says. "From several wild species, however, West African natives long have made lethal tips for their arrows.

"So widespread is this practice that the strophanthus is often referred to as the Arrow Poison Vine . . . A tiny concentration on the point of a needle is said sufficient to kill a man within a few minutes if injected into his veins.

"West African tribesmen also make a strophanthus brew for use in ceremonial trials by ordeal. In such trials a person accused of breaking tribal laws is required to drink the bitter mixture. If he dies, he is deemed guilty; if not, innocent. The number found guilty, African plant collectors have observed, is not surprising."

The plant appears tough and adaptable, scientists say. On its native ground it has shown ability to withstand long periods of drought.

The Washington Star, cautiously hopeful that the strophanthus story will have a rich, happy ending, comments:

"Some day, perhaps in less than a generation, this story may be recognized as one of the most important in the history of disease and health. It is overshadowed at the moment by headlines about "five-per-centers," scarce dollars and armaments, but in its potential meaning it seems to tower over all of them, and certainly it shows up man in a far finer light."

417 Children Lost On Children's Day

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)—Only 417 children got lost at the Canadian National Exhibition Children's Day Monday.

Last year on the same day 3,271 of them strayed from their elders and were cared for in the CNE lost children's centre.

Officials at the centre are at a loss to account for the drop in business, aside from the fact that attendance at the fair was about 6,000 less Monday.

"I can't understand it," one official said. "We were just as nice to them as could be and gave them ice cream and cookies and everything but business was terrible.

"I don't know whether children are getting smarter these days or not."

Two Zoot Suiters Rob Toronto Man Of $130

TORONTO, Aug. 30—(CP)—James Morgan, 40, of Toronto told police he was held up by two zoot suiters early today, dragged into a lane, beaten about the face and body and robbed of $130.

Police said the assault and robbery took place in a laneway in east-central Toronto. Morgan was found a half mile from where the attack took place. Lying on grass and semi unconscious.

Police said he didn't know how he got there and whether the zoot suiters were armed, but claimed that something hard was pressed against his side and that he was threatened with violence unless he entered the laneway.

Senators Back Plan For Re-arming Europe

WASHINGTON, Aug. 30 (AP)—Two Senate committees voted Monday in favor of permitting friendly European countries to build up their own weapons output with funds from the proposed $1,450,000,000 US Arms-Aid program.

But Senator Arthur Vandenberg (Rep., Mich.) leading a fight against the proposal, said he is not satisfied with the decision because only 20 of the 26 members of the armed forces and foreign relations committees were present.

Chairman Tom Connally (Dem., Texas) of the foreign relations committee announced that the two groups voted 11 to 9 to permit use of some of the huge Arms-Aid fund to buy tools, equipment and raw materials in European countries which are members of the North Atlantic Alliance.

Boy Becomes Torch Races Down Street

BARRIE, Aug. 30—(CP)—John Lewis of Barrie and an unidentified United States tourist Monday saved the life of 15-year-old Dennis Madigan, garage attendant, whose gasoline-soaked clothing turned him into a flaming torch. The accident occurred when Madigan lighted a match after he had splashed gasoline on himself while serving at the station. He ran down the street where the tourist, who was driving through the town, jumped from his automobile and ripped off the burning sweater.

Lewis threw a blanket about the boy extinguishing the flames. The boy suffered first and second degree burns to his legs, arms and body.

Wrong Identity Counsel Says

A Lindsay man, defended by R. I. Moore, K.C., mayor of Lindsay, was acquitted of a charge of willful damage to a motorcycle when Crown Attorney John A. Bradshaw moved for dismissal part way through the trial in police court today before Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

The move for dismissal was made after evidence given by a crown witness, Mrs. Albert Wildman, 418 Roger St., caretaker of the ladies public rest rooms on market square, failed to agree with the means of identifying the accused given by Constable Douglas Farthing.

Constable Farthing told the court Mrs. Wildman had pointed out Healey to him as the man who damaged a motorcycle parked in front of the public rest rooms. Mrs. Wildman said she had not pointed Healey out but Constable Farthing had gone into the beverage rooms of the hotel across the street to get the man. Mr. Bradshaw said the police officer had not gone into the beverage room.

"Mistaken Identity"

Mrs. Wildman testified she had seen a man on the motorcycle throwing parts of it away. He got off and ran west along Charlotte then a few minutes later she had seen the same man run into the beverage room across the street. Both times Mrs. Wildman saw only the back of the man.

The motorcycle was owned by Mrs. Allan Dunning, Bridgenorth and had been brought into Peterborough by her husband.

It's just a case of mistaken identity Mr. Moore said.

Upper Canada Mines Hits New High $4.05

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)—Interest continued to centre on a handful of mining issues here today. Features in Monday's session held the limelight in another busy market. Base metals firmed quietly and golds tended tighter as the session progressed. Industrials and western oils moved on slightly lower levels.

Upper Canada Mines, Northland and Sherritt Gordon were the centres of interest in the market. Upper Canada started booming upwards yesterday following drill results. Today's demand raised the stock to a new high at $4.05, adding 60 cents to yesterday's 58-cent advance.

Northland Mines, with property adjoining Upper Canada in the Larder Lake district, Northern Ontario, turned over almost 300,000 shares in three hours for a new high at 16 cents.

Sherritt touched a new high at $2.90 in brisk dealings before settling to $2.85, up 11 cents from yesterday.

Ken Blakeman and Bob Harris of Toronto, Ontario Hydro consulting engineers, worked side by side with the soldiers, lending brawn as well as brain to the actual construction of the bridge.

Councillors Talk Of Resigning As Businessmen Press For Removal Of Parking Meters

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 30 — (ENS) — Several councillors talked of resigning at a special meeting of the council on Monday when a two-man deputation, representing the Businessmen's Association, pressed for the immediate removal of the parking meters.

Councillor Carl Maier read a letter from the Mi-Co Meter Co., Montreal, in answer to one written by the town solicitor. It said that nothing would be done until the end of twelve months' trial period. The company advised the council to enforce the bylaw in a sane and sensible manner.

"Campbellford never had a parking problem," Frank DeCarroll, heading the deputation, told the council. "Our petition," he said, "calls for the immediate removal of the meters and the business men are prepared to work with the council to have them removed. Out of 119 business men canvassed there were only seven who refused to sign the petition," he stated.

"How are you going to get rid of them?" asked Councillor Davidson.

Mr. DeCarrol said that he didn't think the Mi-Co Meter Co. would take action against the town. "The violation penalty," he argued, "should be removed until we find out what can be done. The business men want to know what the council is going to do about it.

"The meters haven't been given a fair trial," said Councillor Kelly. "I have talked to a large number of farmers and tourists who are strongly in favor of them. As far as I am concerned the meters are here to stay," he stated.

"Before the installation of the meters," Councillor Kelly continued, "I made a survey of Front and Bridge streets and out of 31 parked vehicles 22 belonged to the merchants. The merchants abused their privileges," he said, "by using the streets for parking purposes. Why should this council be criticized by a man who has lost his rights to park on the street?" he asked.

"Why didn't you enforce the old bylaw?' Mr. DeCarroll asked with emphasis.

"You are not going to tell the council what to do," answered Councillor Kelly. "You had a chance to abide by the parking bylaw."

"If we made a bad bargain," said Councillor Nicholas, "why wait another 11 months before we do anything?"

Deputy-reeve Ralph Locke moved that the town solicitor be authorized to write the Mi-co. Meter Co. regarding the cost of having meters removed.

"Even if it casts $4,000," said Frank DeCarroll, "get rid of them. It is cheaper to pay now than have business ruined in 12 months. The business men will pay their share."

"For 14 years I have been a member of the council," stated Councillor P. H. MacMillan, "and it is the first time my name has been dragged in the gutter. Throughout that time I have served honestly and to the best of my ability. If I am a stumbling block I can resign immediately. My name has been besmirched and I want the press to know it. I am not of the breed to take it lying down. I'll fight for my rights," he declared.

"Because I was not at the last meeting, they branded me yellow," said Councillor Kelly. "I'll never be yellow. I'll resign my seat at any moment."

"It doesn't make any difference to me whether we have meters or not,' commented Reeve J. C. Anderson. "However, I did not vote for them because I believed the majority of the business men would resent them."

Councillor Carl Maier said that precious time would be lost by writing the company. He suggested that the merchants obtain something definite on the matter by contacting the company and then place their findings before the council. He could forsee, he said, at least three resignations from the council if the matter was pressed too far and then it would be up to the merchants to fill the vacancies.

"Enforcement should be more lenient," stated Bernard Allen for the business men. He recited a case where a customer had received a ticket when he was in the store picking up his parcels.

"We represent not only the business men but all the ratepayers in Campbellford," said Councillor MacMillan. "There are a large number of citizens outside of the business section in favor of meters," he stated.

After further discussion, the mayor called for a show of hands on Deputy-reeve Locke's resolution moved earlier in the meeting. The resolution carried almost unanimously.

Traffic Hazards Reviewed By Aldermen

A letter from Dr. Gordon Langley of the CGE to the city council may inadventently bring about an increase in candle power at the junction of Rubidge and Park Streets at Rink St.

The board of works is going to ask Harry G. Beatty, superintendent of the light department of the Utilities Commission, to join City Engineer Chalmers in making a report on the lighting at that place of traffic hazards and also at the Chemong Road entrance at Stewart and Reid Sts.

The letter from Dr. Langley commended the council's painted guidance to traffic at the CGE plaza. At the time the letter was written the painting had faded considerably. Since then the lines and cautions have been refreshed.

Would Raise Island

The painted island should be raised, Dr. Langley said. To that suggestion Ald. Hurrell Dodds added: "Yes, with a ten foot wall; that's the only thing I know of that will stop some of the fast drivers who ignore the signs."

The Langley letter also proposed that the illumination of that junction should be increased. That suggestion from the Alparka neighborhood has been mentioned for years to successive councils, and their fire and light committee.

The motion by Mayor Swanston and Alb. Herb. Young asking for a report appears the nearest approach so far in promise of improvement of traffic conditions at that point. It has also been suggested on behalf of pedestrians that the sidewalk on the east side of Rubidge Street should be carried southerly across Townsend St. to Rink St. There wasn't even a faint echo of it anywhere.

Chemong Road Entrance Danger

As for raising a restraining island at Park-Rubidge Streets, Ald. Grant Miller moved, seconded by Mayor Swanston that Dr. Langley be informed that the budget did not have an appropriation for this work, and that it would have to be placed in abeyance for the present.

Ald. G. Miller said the Chemong Road entrance was even more dangerous than the south end, because much of the fast traffic was southbound by tourists and others unfamiliar with the junction of Reid and Stewart Streets.

"You've got to get traffic slowed down back at Wolsley St.," Ald. Sands said.

One Acquittal, One Day One Adjournment

Michael Twomey, a farm worker near Bridgenorth, was found not guilty to a charge of being found "without lawful excuse" in a place on which the owner was permitting drunkenness in police court Tuesday morning by Magistrate R. B. Baxter, Port Hope.

Twomey said he was in the house visiting his sick friend, the late Grover Halpin.

"Rather than convict an innocent man, I'll give you the benefit of the doubt," Magistrate Baxter said.

The same charge against John Whaley was adjourned for a week on Whaley's request.

Joseph McAleer, no fixed address, pleaded guilty to being drunk and was fined $10 or in default one day in jail. He took the one day and was freed. He had been held in custody from Aug. 22 until Aug. 29 on a charge of theft of a radio of which he was acquitted Monday.

Canadian Teachers Appeal For Link With UNESCO

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP)—Canadian teachers today made their ninth post-war appeal for the establishment of a national commission to provide a strong Canadian link with the United Nations Educational Scientific and Cultural Organization.

The 60,000-member Canadian Teachers' Federation, in a brief prepared for the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development said UNESCO must be given a voice in Canada and the national commission could be that voice

The commission, to be financed by the federal government, would bring together education, science, the press, radio, films, universities, arts and civic life.

It could help in opening the minds of Canadians to the knowledge and cultures of all countries and it could help provide the Canadian viewpoint to other members of the United Nations.

So far, 34 member nations of UNESCO had set up national commissions, but despite repeated representations by the Teachers' Federation, Canada had still to follow the lead taken by other nations.

Fear Interference

The federation said that on occasions it had been argued that to establish a national commission might mean that the federal government was trying to interfere in the work of education which was the responsibility of the provinces.

But this would not be the case, the federation contended. The national commission would have no authority to interfere with provincial control of education.

It would, however, fill the vacuum which now exists in the machinery for relating education in Canada with the work of UNESCO and with other nation members.

The work of UNESCO was important. It had an immediate responsibility in preserving what some one had called the "precarious peace" and the long-range task of creating lasting understanding through the exchange of educational and cultural information.

The federation said that if and when decision is taken to establish the commission, the federation should not be overlooked. It wanted to be officially represented on the commission by at least as many delegates as any other organization.

The federation also urged that the government strive to extend the program of UNESCO international seminars which Canadian teachers could attend. It asked that expenses of Canadian representatives to the seminars be borne by the government.

Hog Prices Go Into Decline

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)—Hog prices were on the downgrade on the Toronto market today as prices slipped $4 to $30 for grade A and $29.60 for grade B1. Sows also bore the brunt of combined large runs and sales resistance, registering a loss of $3 a hundredweight.

Hogs had reached a high of $34 a hundredweight for the grade A variety last week for the third time this year. Each time this peak has been reached the price has dropped to about $30.

The Dominion marketing service gives a variety of reasons for the drop, the main one being the increased runs in the past week. Hog gradings for the last few months had hovered around the 50,000 weekly mark but last week soared to 71,000. A run of 50,000 leaves little or none for export as domestic requirements usually run in the vicinity of 60 to 65,000. This results in an exportable surplus and lower prices.

Down Town Collision Is Modest Scrape

Two cars collided at the corner of Aylmer and Simcoe streets Monday night about 6:20 p.m.

Lockie Longhurst, 6 Bruce St., told police he was driving north on Aylmer. When he crossed the Simcoe St. intersection, he collided with a car driven by Merle Lunn, RR 1, Fraserville.

Investigating officer, Constable Gordon Trennum, reported Lunn told him he had failed to stop at the stop sign while travelling west on Simcoe.

The right rear fender of the Longhurst car was damaged and the Lunn car suffered damage to the right front fender, headlight and radiator and grill. Both cars were insured.

Truck Meets Rear Of Big Transport

A truck driven by Ken J. Saunders of King George St. collided with the rear of a trailer-transport on Monday and received about $200 damage to its front end.

The accident occurred on Highway 28, south of the Millbrook turn at the Wallace Point road. Both vehicles were travelling south.

Joseph Ragan, 207 Brock Ave., Toronto, was driving the trailer-transport. He pulled over to the shoulder of the road which is comparatively wide at that point, and the truck driven by Saunders and owned by Gordon's Beverages ran into the rear.

There was noticeable damage to the trailer owned by Cope Transport Ltd.

Provincial Constable David W. Coffey investigated.

Campbellford Board Purchases Stoker

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 30 — (ENS) — The tender of James Jacobs for the installation of a stoker in the High School at a cost of $923.25 was accepted by the Board of Education at the regular meeting Monday night.

The action of Don Meyers, chairman of the Property Committee, in giving the go-ahead signal to the MacFarlane Co. to resurface the sidewalks at the Public School was approved by the Board.

The secretary was instructed to write the International Business Machine Co. asking for information on an electronic time clock.

Instructions were given to the secretary to write the principal of the public school asking him to encourage the pupils in the upper grades to take a more active part in the oratorical contest to be held this fall.

Kingston Takes A Firm Stand Against Hoodlums

Gangs of hoodlums have been giving trouble in Toronto, and they have imitators in some of the smaller Ontario cities. We are glad to see that the magistrate in Kingston, Mr. James B. Garvin, and the police of that city, have made it clear that they will not tolerate such nonsense within the sphere of their influence. Kingston has developed a few gangs of boys, and the police have taken a strong line with them; they now have one or two gangs of tough girls, and the police are determined to be equally firm. This is the right stand to take, and in this respect we feel that Kingston gives a lead to other smaller cities in Ontario.

* * *

Young people are great imitators. They read of gangs in Toronto, who have made themselves feared by hoodlum conduct, and they think that they might gain an equal notoriety in their home town. Young people like to be feared; it is a way of gaining influence and impressing their wishes upon a world which often seems to overlook them. By making themselves objectionable in public places they show that they are a force to be reckoned with; the natural anarchy of youth finds an outlet. Most of the boys and girls who think in this way are not, we feel, potential criminals; they are merely a little soft in the head, and lacking in discipline. But there are always a few young ruffians among them who are ready to act as leaders, and who can provoke serious trouble. The Kingston gangs of girls apparently lounge about the streets, using bad language; they fight with other girls in the streets; they "rush" boys in an aggressive manner, quite different from the more subtle methods of their better-bred contemporaries. The police say: "They may as well know that if they are looking for trouble they'll find it in Kingston".

* * *

This attitude, we think, will save Kingston much trouble. If the hoodlums, boys and girls, know that the forces of order are ready to check them they will change their ways. It is weakness at the top which opens the way for hoodlums. A city which is ready for them will not be troubled, for hoodlums are cowardly.

The Fair Justifies Itself

Last year's Peterborough Exhibition was a tentative sort of affair. It was the first since the war. People wondered audibly if, after all, it would not be better to let the whole thing drop, and turn the Exhibition Ground into a park. The Directors of the Fair took on the job of reviving the Exhibition with, in some cases, misgivings. Last years' Fair came out just on the right side of the financial ledger, and was a teeter-totter balance between being all right and being not worth the effort. It was enough to give directors, exhibitors and citizens the impulse to carry on. This year's Exhibition has definitely shown that there is a good place in this district for it, and one that should be preserved and fostered. This year's Fair was, with some qualifications, a success.

Attendance was reassuring. Gate receipts will, it is believed, be financially satisfactory. Interest in the show was vigorous. Best of all, the Exhibition this year, proved to have character, localized and meritorious. We note with satisfaction that in many of the competitive classes, county breeders won ribbons, and county (Peterborough and neighbouring) herds, flocks and stables contributed largely and worthily to the exhibits. Outsiders did not hog the prizes; our own were their equals and even betters.

It is only if the Peterborough Exhibition is primarily an exhibit of what this district is doing, producing and breeding, that it can be justified. There is no use in its being a second-rate Big Show. If it is our own show of our own best, and truly representative of us, then it is worth having. From this point of view, the Exhibition this year was justified.

There must be outsiders—for spice and against whom to pit and judge ourselves. The Fair had them in sufficient numbers. It must also provide entertainment. It did, though another year the imported attractions will probably be improved upon.

The Fair was not the best it can become, but the direction of its rejuvenation is sound. Changes and improvements can be made; for instance, new blood should be injected into the directorate. The present able directors will be the first to admit this; for some have served so long that the tasks should now devolve on other, younger shoulders. Surveying the 1949 Exhibition as a whole, one is justified in saying that it was a good show.

Feats Get No Big Hand

The other week Major Hill, whose family has long been linked with the Niagara River, ran the rapids in a 625-pound barrel. Whereas his ancestors made capital out of such deeds, the friend who passed the hat along the bank for Major Hill took in only $2.50. Were Blondin to do his tight-rope stunts over the gorge today, it is likely that his gate receipts would be little greater than Hill's. Stunts at Niagara or elsewhere have lost their appeal because they have been done so many times, and ever more skilfully and daringly.

When Captain Matthew Webb swam the English Channel 74 years ago, he won fame and fortune. The Prince of Wales (Edward VII) rewarded him with a gift of £5,000. He toured the world with aquatic displays. In Montreal in 1882, 10,000 people paid to see him leap from a 40-foot tower. Such leaps are small-time stuff today, and swimming of the Channel (though much in the news these weeks) is considered no stupendous feat. Last Wednesday an 18-year-old English schoolboy swam it under worse weather conditions than Captain Webb encountered, and though longer in the water than Webb, is reported to have walked up the Dover shore unassisted and then walked back to his accompanying boat. When Webb astounded the world with his swim, he had to be pulled out of the water, fainted almost at once, and lay for several days in a fever.

Feats of physical daring are greater and more skilful these days—and attract less attention. The Winnipeg Tribune puts forward a plausible reason for the small financial reward Major Hill picked up which may also explain the English schoolboy's lack of acclaim (his name is, by the way, Philip Mickman) and the small hand given big feats:

> Times have changed since the days of Blondin. After being told what a tasty, crunchy bagatelle the atom bomb will make him, and after a ride home from the beach on a two-lane highway, and after trying to satisfy Mr. Abbott—the average citizen is inclined to regard a trip down the Niagara Rapids in a barrel as fairly normal living.

We do not, however take such a dour view of normality as the Tribune's. Perhaps we are not an average citizen (in fact, we hope none of our readers is), for we are not inclined to regard wallowing in the Niagara rapids in a barrel as fairly normal living. It is much too uncomfortable.

Tradition In Public Office

Canada is too young yet to have established family traditions of public service as in Britain, where names like Cecil, Eden, Chamberlain and Churchill recur in the history of several centuries. Perhaps such traditions will never fully develop here, for ordinarily they require that the family be endowed with considerable wealth which will support several generations in public service. In these times such wealth is difficult to accumulate and almost impossible to conserve. However, careers in public office and the civil service now do offer sufficient remuneration to give a man a competence, though not luxury, and family names in Canada may become associated with one branch or another of public service.

The names of two new cabinet ministers, Rinfret and Lapointe, are familiar to us. The Honourable Edouart Rinfret, member for Montreal-Outrement and a young man of ability and capacity, was appointed Postmaster-General last week. He is a member of a distinguished French-Canadian family, and his father is the Rt. Hon. Thibaudeau Rinfret, Chief Justice of Canada.

Mr. Hugues Lapointe, member for Lotbiniere, has been appointed Solicitor General. At 38 he is the youngest member of Mr. St. Laurent's Cabinet. He served overseas, was elected to the House of Commons, and in 1945 became Parliamentary Assistant to the Minister of National Defence. He was born to politics, his father having been the Right Honourable Ernest Lapointe, the most outstanding French-Canadian in Prime Minister King's cabinets.

It is indicative of a politically maturing country that sons of fathers distinguished in the service of their country are coming to the fore for their own ability, but endued with the paternal aspirationsc and reflections of public experience. Such continuity is valuable, for men who have been bred in a household where men of affairs meet and where dinner table talk is high, come to office with a tutelage which can never be gained in any other way.

French Food Prices Rising

by PETER WHITNEY (in Paris)

THE most sensitive barometer for measuring the economic condition of France is still the market for gold and its shady counterpart, the black market in dollars. These indicators show that, in the last three weeks, the nation has taken a small but measurable turn for the worse. At the end of July the kilogramme of gold cost 582 thousand francs; it stood this week at 650 thousand. The black market dollar then was 350 francs; it stands now at 382. Even sterling, in the face of all the talk of devaluation on the eve of next month's financial talks in Washington, has climbed in the black market from 940 francs at the end of July to 1040 today. It is still, to be sure, well below the official rate of 1097.

◇ ◇ ◇

FEW other countries possess any indicators so sensitive as the currency markets of France—a melancholy boast since it means that the ebb and flow of the nation's life blood is mercilessly measured by the calculations of its own citizens. The distrust of currency in France is profound; an insubstantial rumour that the thousand franc note — approximately equivalent to the pound—was to be replaced by a new issue caused a serving girl this week to plead with her mistress to allow her to return from the country to Paris to exchange her month's wages for notes of other denominations.

THE key to this softening of the franc is to be found in the food market, for relations between the peasant and the food consumer are the core of France's economy. The peasants have begun to he heard again, and it is their purchases of gold and dollars and their withholding of wheat and wine which cause the franc's weakness.

◇ ◇ ◇

BASICALLY, of course, it is the continued drought which has brought about the human calculations against the franc. Because cattle are yielding less milk the production of butter has fallen. Butter is officially pegged at about one dollar a pound, but evern at that price it suddenly disappeared last week from Paris markets; it could be bought at $1.40 a pound on street corners. A few shops saved small quantities for their regular customers at the official prices, but it was dispensed with the cloying condescension which long years of shortage have made painfully familiar.

◇ ◇ ◇

WINE is being withheld, and the price has begun to go up after a short period of reduction. The cause here is apparently pure speculation by the large producers, for the wine yield this year should be all the better for the drought. On the other hand, there is a temporary glut in meat, since the drought has made it difficult for the farmers to keep the herds on fodder. But the high rate of slaughtering today makes it quite certain that meat will be scarce this winter.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE prospect of new sharp rises in the cost of food makes it all the more positive that a dangerous new wave of strikes promised by the Communist-dominated C.G.T. (Confederation Generale du Travail) will break out when the workers have returned from their paid holidays at the end of August. It is difficult to blame the individual worker if he follows the Communists, for his wage scale is not keeping peace with the cost of living and he can plausibly claim that the economic gains which France has made in the past year have not been fully shared out with the working class.

◇ ◇ ◇

IT is conceivable, but highly improbable, that a French Government could survive a strike wave by yielding a little ground in one industry and standing firm in another; certainly Communist prestige was never lower and the effective though peaceable use of the police against Communist political demonstrators this summer has been extremely convincing.

◇ ◇ ◇

BUT the present Government of France has no such freedom of action. The one agreement which makes possible the coalition of Socialists, Liberal Catholics, Radical-Socialists and Independents is the freezing of wages, coupled with the fixing of the cost of living and Government economy measures. It has been the glory of the Cabinet which Mr. Henri Queuille formed almost a year ago that it has maintained enough economic stability to keep its disparate elements together. Originally the principal unifying factor was fear of the Gaullists and the Communists. These threats have both declined and it has been only with considerable difficulty that the Government has survived two successive crises over economic policy in the spring and summer.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE current situation in France remains so precarious that few French authorities have even reached the stage of grappling as Britain's authorities are doing with the long-term problems of how the country is to make its way in the world. By any standard France's dollar deficit is relatively far worse than Britain's. She earns fewer of the dollars she needs, and at the moment she needs a larger amount of foreign aid, if grants of sterling from Britain are added to her Marshall Plan dollar allotment.

◇ ◇ ◇

THIS French Government, has, however, some resources in dealing with food shortage which its predecessors did not possess. Food can now be imported from abroad to flood French markets back to normal price levels. The cost in foreign currency, according to the Ministry of Agriculture, will not be prohibitive. Last week a special meeting of the Cabinet authorized a long list of imports of Danish and Dutch butter, Spanish and Portuguese wine, Italian vegetables and cheese. The programme goes outside the field of foodstuffs. Temporary open licences have been authorized for imports—in some cases duty free—of hardware and textiles.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANOTHER experiment — of great interest for the long-run economy of Europe—is the decision to buy and freeze tons of meat during the present glut, to be released progressively during the winter. This plan, which was authorized last Friday, is already under way.

◇ ◇ ◇

THE initial reaction of the C.G.T. might perhaps have been more appropriate from a Chamber of Commerce. The import programme, said a C.G.T. spokesman, would cause unemployment, upset the balance of payments and aggravate the inflation. The verdict of events is presumably not far off The Queuille Government, with its really extraordinary record of longevity, has often been accused of surviving by doing nothing. In the present crisis it has done something, and well in advance. It remains to be seen whether it can survive what will certainly be a difficult autumn.

"LOOK, THEY'RE SHAKING THEIR FISTS AT ME!"

Canada At Washington

by MICHAEL BARKWAY

THE Canadian delegation to the forthcominging tripartite talks in Washington on the sterling-dollar problem will not have any specific plan of its own for a solution. It expects rather to play a typical "third party" role. Canada, vitally interested in an agreement between the United Kingdom and the United States, has something in common with both sides. Like the United States, but even more seriously, she suffers from any cuts in sterling area purchases and profoundly dislikes the prospect of a soft-currency area hedged round by a network of bilateral deals and insulated from the dollar world. Like the United Kingdom, she suffers from a shortage of U.S. dollars and from every U.S. measure to curb foreign imports.

As seen from here, the problems to be tackled in Washington call for decisive and bold action by both Britain and the United States. But action, it is believed, must come first.

Some well-informed observers here go so far as to say that Washington will mark a turning point in international economic relations, and that the result will be largely determined by the initial approach of the British Ministers. If Mr. Bevin and Sir Stafford Cripps—and even the official advisers who precede them—can start off on the right foot, they may evoke from the United States, and certainly from the Canadians, a response which will mean a completely "new deal". But if their first approach fails to stir up new confidence, it is feared that the talks may turn out to be a fiasco.

The critical point is whether the British Government can give the United States and Canada a convincing answer to the following questions: "Are you persuaded that your own measures have contributed to your dollar shortage, or do you want to put all the blame on us? If you do think that your own measures have something to do with it, what do you propose to do about them? Do you propose to start solving the problem yourselves, or are you expecting us to do it all?"

Leaving aside any difference of opinion there may be about the effect of any particular policy of the British Government, influential Canadians whether in trade or Government would simply say to the United Kingdom: "You can't deny that your current prices are too high to meet the competition of the dollar countries. Whatever the reason for this, what are you going to do to correct it?"

Privately, though never publicly, Canadian officials and Ministers would say there were two causes. One is unduly high costs of production in the United Kingdom. The other, just as important, is that the United Kingdom is paying too much for its raw materials from the sterling area and that its manufacturers are finding such a lucrative market in sterling countries where they are sheltered from North American competition that they have little inducement even to try to compete in dollar markets.

This, of course, is an old story, but it is believed here so firmly that if the U.K. Government does not take some action to alter this state of affairs, there may be little inclination in North America to try to help.

If, on the other hand, the British Government can persuade the U.S. and Canada that it is determined on specific measures within its own power to reduce British costs and to break down the fences round the sterling area, then—and not until then—the problem can be tackled of getting the United States to "behave like a creditor nation". This, it is recognized here, would mean a complete revolution in American economic thinking—a reversal of the economic policies which the United States has pursued for 150 years.

On the chances of U.S. policy changing so drastically there are no two common opinions here. But the Canadian delegates will certainly support the British on this point, just as they will support the Americans in urging on Mr. Bevin and Sir Stafford the necessity of a British quid pro quo. It is accepted here that until the American business recession becomes more decisive than it has yet shown itself the pressure groups and lobbyists who have such an influence on Congress will make that body hostile to any drastic change in policy.

On the other hand, it is believed that a powerful and possibly decisive section of opinion both within the Administration and in U.S. big business understands very well the alternative to "acting like a creditor nation"—which is to go on giving exports away. And if the Americans decide to take the latter course, the problem of Washington may be to devise a new heading — even a new "doctrine" — under which the giving-away process can be continued.

Letters to the Editor

THANKS TO PETERBOROUGH

Sir: I have been directed by the Rt. Hon. Lord Hacking, Chairman of the British Travel Association, to extend his personal thanks to your publication, to the merchants of Peterborough, and all who helped so generously to make a success of the 'Come to Britain' Week in Peterborough.

It may be a little difficult for you to understand how much every bit of co-operation to help Britain to secure dollars is appreciated and, of course, it is in the interests of ourselves that the British market be restored to us as soon as possible.

Because of the great urgency in securing dollars the 'Come to Britain' Week in Peterborough has been drawn to the attention of a very great many important people in England, and much favourable comment and thanks have grown out of it. Lord Hacking was most anxious to have you know that the Travel Association feels deeply indebted to you for your help, and extends the thanks of the Association to you.

If, through the columns of your publications this expression of appreciation could be carried to your readers, we would be very grateful.

Yours very truly,
W. G. ABEL.

Hut Blown Up With Air New Housing Aid

By HOWARD W. BLAKESLEE
Associated Press Science Editor

NEW YORK, Aug. 30.—(AP).—Probably the neatest answer to the housing shortage is a hut you blow up with air. It takes 10 minutes to build.

The dwelling is real—a quonset hut, holding 12 men. It was shown to the Aero Medical Association Monday by the aero medical laboratory, Wright Field, Dayton, O.

You start with a package of cloth, size not much bigger than a Christmas package. There is a tire valve attached to the bundle. Put on an air pump and blow for 10 minutes.

There you have a complete hut, 16 feet long by eight feet wide and eight high. Compressed air explains the seeming miracle.

The walls and roof are of double fabric, treated to be impervious to air. In between the two layers the pump puts seven pound air pressure to the square inch.

The Wright Field boys demonstrated how a man can stand on this air roof, without appreciable sagging. That gives almost the rigidity of wood.

The distance between the layers is about one inch, so that an inch of compressed air holds walls and roof rigid, and two such layers give the floor strength.

In practice it is proposed to make the huts smaller, probably for only four to six men each. The big hut when deflated is a package two feet, by two feet six inches by two feet six inches. For military purposes the great value is compactness of shipment by air.

Unveil Monument To Honor Legendary Quebec Hunter

By RICHARD DAIGNAULT
Canadian Press Staff Writer

QUEBEC, Aug. 30 (CP)—Along the lonely St. Lawrence northshore legendary tales have been spun for over half a century around the name of Napoleon Alexandre Comeau.

First to smile at the fabulous stories was Comeau himself.

This summer, 25 years after his death, as villagers of the land of high timber and salmon rivers celebrated anniversaries of their pioneers, they unveiled a monument to honor Comeau's memory and the place of his birth, Les Ilets Jeremie, more than 300 miles below Quebec.

Present at the ceremonies was the St. Lawrence Gulf Bishop, Sgr. N. A. Labrie, a nephew of the modern "Coureur de Bois," who combined scientific observation, medicine, trapping and hunting into a lifetime unparalelled in Quebec's pioneering history.

Many of the legendary tales include the great feats of Comeau who was said to have attended Indian bear-eating rituals and that Indians and white settlers believed he was capable of remaining under water for 30 minutes at a time. Many of his admirers said that he could shoot a bird through both eyes at a distance of 300 yards.

Such was his fame in hunting and fishing circles in Canada and the United States that he was sought as a writer by leading publications of the sport. The Smithsonian Institute made him a member for his scientific work in tabulating northshore birds.

Among the northshore tribes and settlers Comeau was more than just a federal government fisheries inspector. He was their physician, counsellor and hero. Countless children were brought into the world with the assistance of his self-trained hands.

Strict Code

Acadian by ancestry, he abided by a strict code of ethics in which necessity was his only law. He never shot an animal without being certain of an outright kill. He would shut his eyes to poaching if hunger was the cause.

By the time he reached old age, Comeau himself heard the tall tales told about him and he enjoyed them. "Naturally I never contradicted them," he once said.

He has written a book in English at the request of his many sporting admirers in Canada and abroad.

The book, published in a small edition, is a mine of information on hunting and fishing and trapping on the northshore. It is filled with the dry characteristics of Comeau's humor.

The book was translated into French only in 1945 and until that time French-speaking Quebecers as a whole knew little about Comeau.

Even today it is not a widespread book and the northshore folk still spin wonderous tales about the man they long called "Le Docteur Comeau" (Dr. Comeau) and after whom the pulp and paper producing centre of Baie Comeau was named.

Icewoman Keeps In Shape By Skimpy Diet

PLYMOUTH, Mass., Aug. 30 — (AP). — A trim, 36-year-old mother of three children credits a skimpy diet with keeping her in shape for hefting 8,740 pounds of ice daily.

Plymouth's only "icewoman," brown-eyed, blonde Mrs. Elizabeth Folger, casually carries 80-pound ice cakes by her side. She said she hoists to her shoulder anything over 120 pounds.

"Any woman can have muscles," she says. "Most of them don't because they eat too much and they are too lazy to try."

But Mrs. Folger, nourished by a daily lamb chop and a little green vegetable, can lift the front of her ice truck.

"I've got one good rule about eating—don't!" she discloses.

For breakfast and lunch she has only black coffee. The metgre solids follow her day's work, during which she usually loads the ice truck three times.

She says she avoids starches and sugar and never touches milk. "That stuff would ruin you!"

A Message from the Management

ALL automobiles are made of steel, bronze, cast iron, chromium, copper, rubber, mohair, wool, cotton, bakelite, plastic and glass. You will find these items present in any make of car. Starting with such a premise you can build an argument that all automobiles are "alike as two peas in a pod" and in a sense you'd not be far wrong. Metal is metal and fabrics are fabrics, but—and it's a Big but—there is a vast difference in the way they are assembled to give you the greatest possible pleasure and use.

FROM the minds of engineers and designers, to the hands of the men on the assembly line, the idea conceived upon the basis of your needs and desires takes shape in the car that finally awaits you upon our show room floor. Until this car is in your hands, whirling you over country highways on pleasure bent or threading its way through busy city streets as you go about your business, it has not started to serve the purpose for which it was conceived, designed and made.

SERVICE to car owners can never be better than the organization providing that service. By the same token, the organization is never better than the men in it. Here at Irwin-Godson we know what it takes to give you the miles and years of motoring pleasure after you've become a car owner. You may never see the factory where your car was built but you will contact, see and get to know the men of Irwin-Godson. The men who take a personal pride and interest in making sure your car is so serviced through the miles and years of its life, that you'll always want another "Irwin-Godson Car" whether it be Ford or Monarch.

YES, the accent is on men. Men with the enthusiasm, training and experience to do a better service job than you've ever had before. Men whose interest lies in pride of workmanship and delivering the best service at the lowest possible cost. Men whose friendly loyalty to our customers make them the greatest asset our organization has. Men who have the mechanical and mental equipment to deliver what you need in service—the way you want it. Yes, at Irwin-Godson the accent is on MEN because no service can be better than the men who render that service.

The losers got their run on two errors. Only two others reached first, Land and Horton on singles.

The victors had a double play, Guerin to Donoghue to Heffernon. McDonald led the hitters with three for three as Morin had two in four tries. Westclox now meet the Woolens-Rays' winner either Wednesday or Friday. Hughey fielded well for Quakers at times, having one feature catch. The game was run off in an hour. Teams:

Oshawa Boys Take OBA Midget Series

OSHAWA, Aug. 30. — Victor's midget baseball club moved into O.B.A. second round play Saturday night when they eliminated Peterborough in straight games.

The tilt played at Lakeview Park saw the Oshawan's click for a 3-2 decision and thus win the series. They took the first game in Peterborough by a 13-4 count.

Foley pitched for the Petes and had a three-hit effort. He whiffed three of the Oshawa batters. The only trouble with his three-hitter was the fact that the blows he gave up were a double, a triple and a homer.

Hughes started for Oshawa, Stone taking over in the eighth when Petes showed signs of tying the game. Between them they gave up seven hits and struck out 14 batters.

Oshawa took the lead on a single run in the last of the third. Copeland walked, and then moved all the way to home on infield outs.

Peterborough tied the count with their first run in the top of the sixth. Sullivan walked and stole second from which point he scored on Wilson's single.

Peterborough came close to winning the game in the seventh when Stewart walked, went to second on Tulford's ground-out, and then scored on Ferguson's double. Foley singled but, with another out, both runners died on base with the count 3-2.

Petes shelled Hughes from the mound in the eighth when they banged out two straight singles with two away. Stone whiffed the third batter and ended the rally. He accounted for the outs in the top of the ninth in easy fashion and the game was won.

During the Kingston-Uniteds' OASA playoff tilt here the other night, we thought Umpire Belwa of Kingston looked like a sort of absent-minded type. Some of the fans and players thought he looked a bit worse than that. Well, he certainly wasn't thinking too sharply when he stepped off the field during the game to tackle a fan and nearly got mobbed. However, there were no casualties. But a little later, ye umps had his balls-and-strikes indicator broken by a ball and Pat Calladine, prexy of the men's loop and an umpire himself, loaned Belwa his indicator. Darned if the latter didn't forget to return it and it is now no doubt in Kingston. Pat would like to get it back.

Plans are proceeding for the big softball exhibition in a week or so at the Bowl with proceeds going to aid minor baseball here. Dit Clapper is bringing in a bunch of NHL stars, who also play softball, getting several each from Boston, Montreal and Toronto. We should get a list of the names soon and, at this time of year, interest gradually swings toward the pro puckists. The NHL-ers will be playing a local all-star aggregation picked from the City Softball League. Earlier, the COBL-ers here put on a game with money raised going to minor ball, also.

Lookin' At The Girls

No girls' softball last e'en in the Bowl d'Ashburnham, and there'll be none tonight. Tomorrow, it's Lindsay vs. Westclox and Ashby's vs. Marines. Thursday there has CGE meeting Marines, and Westclox taking on Ashby's. These are round-robin playoff series tussles with top tow teams then meeting in a final sawoff series for the lasses' city title. Probably three out of five. Woollens still await word on PWSU junior playdowns, but Lindsay and Westclox have had it in provincial play for this semester.

What price imported amateur (?) athletes? Waal, now, podnuh, that depends. Some will come for an ordinary job, some want a job and a cut on season's profits. Some want a weekly stipend and no work. All want comfortable quarters. It varies with the quality of the athlete, the type of game played, the size of the town and gate, etc. We note an item from Kitchener where one Bill Dinning is leaving there to play hockey for Hamilton Tigers. Says he got all he was supposed to get in Kitchener last season. The scribe adds that the K-W executive also purchased a $16,000 apartment building just to make sure Bill and his family had a place to live—and they still have the building. Must be much moolah in senior hockey down that way, eh?

Petes In COBL Finals

The Petes made COBL finals in Belleville last p.m. with a 7-2 verdict o'er Batawa. Bill Edger threw steady ball, getting two hits each from Wilson, Dadson and himself, while Lowrey belted a homer. A good game until the seventh, Muffitt going well, also, but Batawa then broke out in a rash of errors — they had nine in the game—to spot the men o' Murphy four runs, and that put it in the old gunny sack. Aquino booted four in this tilt. So, the Petes swept the series three games to one, and now meet the Merchants in best-of-seven loop finals. First one is at 5.30 Thursday night in Oshawa, and second one is here at 5.30 Saturday. This is the big series for the local senior ballsters.

* * * * * *

Giving little notice in advance, the OLA tossed all six senior "A" squads into playoffs last evening, and Canadian Press had but skimpy reports on the openers this morn. Mimico beat Owen Sound 16-6, St. Catharines clipped Brampton 12-7, and Hamilton Tigers knocked over the Petes 17-6 in Hamilton. The Creighton crew got half their goals in the final frame. Better press relations by the association would appear to be indicated. These quarter final series are best-of-seven, next games being tomorrow night. The Tigers will be here Wednesday at 8.45 to meet the Petes, same squads going back to the Ambitious City on Friday, and having their fourth fray here on Saturday night.

Petes Eliminate Batawa To Gain COBL Final Series

BELLEVILLE, Aug. 30 (CP)—Batawa Shoemen, fighting for survival in the semi-final series for the Central Ontario Baseball League championship, Monday night cracked under the strain of a 1-1 ball game in the seventh inning to commit four errors and the Peterborough Marines poured over four runs to wrap up a 7-2 victory. The Marines took the best-in-five series three games to one.

The Shoemen's lapses in the seventh broke up a tight pitcher's duel between Batawa righthander Gord Muffitt, who had a three-hitter into the seventh, and Peterborough's Bill Edger.

A walk, four errors and a single led to the visitors big inning as the Batawa infield came apart under the strain. A double by Wilson and a single by Menzies with two away came after the four runs had scored and counted for nothing when Wilson was thrown out at third to retire the side.

The Marines counted their first run in the fourth when Edwardson doubled in Brown who had reached first on an error. The visitors' final two runs came in the ninth on a bases-empty homer by Lowrey and three singles.

Petes Beaten As Series Opens In OLA

By The Canadian Press.

The Ontario Lacrosse Association playoffs are under way, with six teams battling for the honors.

When the smoke cleared in the opening games of the quarter final series last night, Mimico Mountaineers had a 16-6 verdict over Owen Sound Crescents, St. Catharines Athletics defeated Brampton Excelsiors 12-7 and Hamilton Tigers gained a 17-6 victory over Peterborough Petes.

At Mimico, some 2,000 fans watched the Mountaineers take a 6-1 lead in the first quarter and hold the margin for the rest of the game.

Don McPhail led the winners with three goals while Grant Gillespie paced the Crescents with two.

Hold Their Own

The Athletics led 2-1 in the first quarter, raised it to 6-2 by half time and the made it 10-5 in the third quarter. Heavy action came in the last session but the Athletics held their own.

The Athletics were led by Sparky Urquhart and Tony D'Amico with three goals each. O'Hearn followed up with two.

At Hamilton, the Tigers opened the first quarter by scoring four goals in less than four minutes and then got four more while holding the visitors to a singleton.

The best quarter for the Petes was the last, when they accounted for half their points while the Tigers netted four.

Black and Tony Cupola both turned in outstanding performances for the Tigers with three goals each.

Campbellford Gets Opener From Ajax

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 30 — (ENS). — Bun Crosson's local club captured an 18-4 win over the highly-rated Ajax nine in the initial contest of the third round in the OASA Intermediate C semi-finals here Monday night before the largest crowd this season. Jimmy Robertson on the mound for the homesters hurled almost perfect ball. He struck out and was a tower of strength at bat. Fralick swatted one that soared high over the heads of the outfielders and disappeared into the blue. His circuit clout chalked up three runs. Caldwell and Morris for the visitors garnered home runs. Morton pitched steady ball for Ajax but his support was weak. They tangle in the second game at Ajax Wednesday night. The teams:

Campbellford — Cloutier 2b, Robertson ss, Hay cf, Fralick c, J. Robertson p, Taylor rf, Doherty lf, Herrington cf, Wardley 1b.

Umpires—Sheen and Ibey.

ESKIMO IMPORTS—Two potent backfielders with the new Edmonton entry in the Western Interprovincial Rugby Football Union are Chuck Fenenboch, left, and Earl Elsey. Fenenboch, a veteran of 10 years in United States football, came to the Eskimos from the Chicago professional Rockets with a big reputation as a triple-threat star. Elsey, whose speed belies his 220 pounds, played fullback with Los Angeles Dons last season.

Ottawa Hands Reverse To Cricketers

The local cricketers had a rough time of it Saturday in Ottawa, losing to the Ottawa Valley Cricket Council Club—known as Carleton County — by 193 for eight wickets to 76. The visitors were without H. Pyle, F. Booth, and W. Wright, three of their best players. A feature of the play was a century by B. Robinson, an Oxford Blue, who scored 121 of the 193. Cleveland Indians Take Two Games From Boston Red Sox

By JACK HAND,
Associated Press Sports Writer.

Bob Fellers' comeback and Cleveland's extra-inning magic are keeping the tribe in the American League race.

Just when New York and Boston seemed set for a private stretch drive, the Indians elbowed in by snatching three straight from the Red Sox.

The Indians' success in beating Boston in 13 of 19 starts could be the making of a second straight pennant. However, it could pave the way to the flag for the Yankees.

Casey Stengel's Yanks, shaken by the loss of Tommy Henrich, took new heart in the double Boston loss yesterday. The idle Yanks saw their lead mount to four full games. Cleveland is 5½ back.

Feller, winner of 13 and loser of three since mid-June, engineered the first Cleveland victory, 5-2. After the Indians tagged Earl Johnson for two runs in the first inning, Feller drove home a third in the second frame. It was his fourth victory over the Sox who have beaten him only once.

Breaks Tie

The tribe's amazing extra-inning skill enabled them to pull the second out of the loss column, 5-4 in 10 innings. Ted Williams' 35th homer with one on broke a 2-2 tie in the seventh but Cleveland tied the score in the ninth and nudged Joe Dobson for the decisive run in the 10th. It was their 16th overtime victory in 17 games, four over Boston.

Mike Tresh, reserve catcher who had not batted in a run all season, drove home the big score with a single.

Detroit trying desperately to make it a four-team battle, won its eighth straight by defeating Philadelphia 4-3 in 10 innings. Pat Mullin's single broke up the ball game, giving reliefer Hal White his first decision. The fourth place Tigers now are only eight games off the pace.

Dick Kokos singled with the bases loaded in the ninth for the St. Louis Browns' 2-1 edge over Washington in their battle to stay out of the cellar.

St. Louis Cardinals came up with a big seven-run seventh inning at Boston, trouncing the Braves 8-2 to protect their 2½ game lead over Brooklyn in the National.

Ron Northey clubbed a grand-slam homer off Bill Voiselle in the big inning.

Unload Two Homers

Brooklyn's Jack Banta matched Brazle's six-hitter as he went the route for the first time in his brief major league career, downing Pittsburgh 5-1.

The Dodgers unloaded homers by Pee Wee Reese and Jackie Robinson.

Larry Jansen earned victory No. 15 for New York as the Giants climbed back even with the .500 mark by shading Cincinnati's Ken Raffensberger 3-2. Hank Thompson's seventh-inning homer was the margin of victory.

Homers by Stan Lopata and Andy Seminick in the eighth inning enabled the Phillies to top Chicago 6-5.

Bisons Defeat Royals In 4-1 Triumph

By The Associated Press.

Buffalo fans are getting ready today for a celebration. The Bisons have reached the stage in the International League pennant race where old man mathematics steps in.

The Bisons enjoy a six-game lead over the second-place Rochester Red Wings and like the Wings have 14 games to play. If the Bisons win only seven of their remaining games the Wings could only beat them out by winning all of their 14. Should Rochester lose two games the Bisons will have to win only seven to clinch their first flag since 1936.

Saul Rogovin pitched the Bisons to a nifty 4-1 triumph over Montreal Royals last night while the Red Wings had the day off.

Rogovin allowed eight hits, walked three and struck out 10 in gaining his 15th victory. Home runs by Coaker Triplett and Jack Hussey highlighted the Bisons' drive.

The defeat dumped the Royals from third to fourth place, Jersey City Giants taking over third as a result of their 5-4, 11-inning victory over Syracuse Chiefs.

Jack Lohrke broke up the game when he singled with two out and the bases loaded, Ray Lamanno and Al Rubeling homered for the Chiefs and young Gail Henley for the Giants.

Al Widmar, the circuit's biggest winner, pitched the seventh-place Baltimore Orioles to a 3-0 six-hit victory over Newark Bears. The victory was amazing Al's 22nd against 12 defeats. Frank Mancuso drove home all of Baltimore's runs with his 17th homer in the fourth inning.

President Truman Pledges Full US Cooperation To Crisis-Ridden Britain

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 30—(AP)—Pres. Truman Monday pledged full United States co-operation to crisis-ridden Britain as part of a great effort by the world's free countries to achieve lasting prosperity and peace. In a summary of the international economic situation, Truman declared that a world trade "seriously out of balance" has posed problems "which affect all of us, and in the solution of which we all have a common interest."

He promised American "friendliness and helpfulness" in keeping Britain on its feet in a world suffering from "the terrible after-effects of the war" and from Russia's hostility to European recovery.

And he held out an offer of "mutual concession and co-operation" to the British Cabinet officials who arrive in Washington next week for negotiations on their country's financial crisis.

"We are not looking for trick solutions to deep-seated problems," he added.

Disavows Criticism

The President sharply disavowed criticism in the United States of Britain's Labor Government.

"We recognize," he said, "that each nation has it own political problems and that it uses different political labels and different slogans from those we use at home.

"In the same way, nations have different business practices and different governmental devices for achieving the same economic ends."

As for the international economic policy of the United States, Truman commented that there is considerable "misunderstanding and misinformation," some of it due to the complexity of the problems involved. But, he added acidly:

"Some of this is deliberately stirred up by certain newspapers and politicians for political reasons."

The President spoke before the national convention of the American Legion, which earlier had presented him a medal for "outstanding service to the nation." The keynote of his address was that "world prosperity is necessary to world peace."

Because of that, he said, and because "world prosperity is necessary to our own prosperity in the United States," American leaders resolved before the end of the Second World War that "the international chaos which had led to war should not occur again."

"We knew that permanent peace could not exist if the nations of the world resumed the policy of dog-eat-dog.

"Consequently, the United States joined with other nations to prepare for a peaceful economic world."

But, the President added, while the steps which followed were "good beginning," the free countries of the world had not counted on two factors:

Worse Than Expected

"Shortly after the war ended," he said, "it became apparent that the economic life of the world was more badly disrupted than anyone had expected."

"Still further difficulties were created when it became clear that the Soviet Union would not join in working for world economic recovery."

However, the people of those nations refused to be discouraged because "they know that the democratic way is the way of hope."

"The free nations have overcome the danger of immediate post-war collapse. But we have not yet achieved the sound and expanding world economy that is necessary for lasting prosperity and peace.

"This larger task is the one that now confronts us.

"The free nations have the resources and the means to accomplish that task."

One of the main problems, Truman said, is that foreign countries need more things from the United States than they can pay for.

"Representatives of the United Kingdom and Canada will soon be here to discuss some of these problems. We look upon these talks as discussions among friends about problems which affect all of us, and in the solution of which we all have a common interest.

Warm Welcome

"The people of this country are well aware of what the war meant to Great Britain and of the stresses and strains which have been laid upon the British people in recent years.

"The representatives of the United Kingdom will find here a warm personal welcome and may be assured that these mutual problems will be examined by us in a spirit of friendliness and helpfulness."

Australia Pushing Plans For Atomic Research Work

By ANTHONY WHITLOCK
Canadian Press Correspondent

SYDNEY, Australia, Aug. 30 (CP).—Atomic energy holds a particular fascination for Australia because it offers prospects of filling two of the continent's greatest needs — fairly cheap power with large-scale irrigation as a by-process.

John J. Dedman, Federal Minister for Defence and Post-War Reconstruction, recently said he believed Australia could make an effective contribution to the field of atomic energy for industrial use. He said the government had for two or three years been training young physicists so that when the time came there would be a team of scientists ready to tackle the industrial problems of atomic power.

Such an achievement is of course many years away, even with the knowledge that there are large deposits of uranium-bearing or in South Australia and possible deposits elsewhere. But the Dominion has taken such a beating with the recent coal strike that the thought of a completely new source of power not tied up with trade union politics makes people impatient for a start.

Unlike Canada or nearby New Zealand, Australia's hydro-electric potential is relatively small and difficult of access. As yet it plays practically no part in the mainland's power sources. Hence the industrial calamity of any coal stoppage.

Plans Big Cyclotron

Leader of Australia's atomic energy program will be Adelaide-born Professor Marcus Oliphant, at present at Birmingham University.

In 18 months' time he will take charge of the School for Physical Science at the new National University at Canberra. There he plans to build one of the world's most powerful atom smashes — he calls it a super-synchro-cyclotron.

Oliphant sees the problem of putting the atom to work as one for industry now rather than for science. He visualizes atomic power station working in Central South Australia, where there are deposits of uranium ore, radiating their power to the industrialized southeast corner of Australia.

He has suggested that vast quantities of seawater used for cooling the atomic reaction or transferring power could be used for irrigating areas at present useless for farming. He says that within 15 to 20 years atomic power stations could be supplying most of Australia's industrial load.

"Then," he says, "coal will be conserved and used as a precious raw material for chemical and metallurgical industry."

To Make Restitution

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)—The Canadian National Exhibition's treasury department Monday acknowledged "dozens" of claims for suits, dresses and coats burned Saturday by misfiring fireworks. No one was injured. Alan Thomas, head of the CNE claims department, said: "All will be paid off without question."

Struck By Darts

SAULT STE. MARIE, Ont., Aug. 30 (CP)—A 14-year-old boy Monday was charged with throwing two steel darts at a postman, knocking him unconscious. Postman Reg. Allard, 23, told police the darts struck him, one hitting him below the heart and the other in the arm. He finished his rounds after receiving first aid. Police said the boy will appear in court today.

RCAF Pilot Enters U.S. Air Race

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)— A 32-year-old RCAF pilot hopes to pick up a good share of $16,000 taking a busman's holiday.

Flt. Lt. James (Butch) McArthur left here Monday for Cleveland to become the first Canadian ever to enter the Thompson Trophy competition, feature of the National Air Races. On the half-hour trip he flew the war surplus Spitfire in which he will take a crack at the prize money.

The 152-pound pilot did not enter under RCAF sponsorship. Stationed at the air force's winter experimental establishment in Edmonton, he is using his 30-day annual leave for the trophy try.

His Spitfire is stripped down for the three days of qualification trials, starting today, that lead up to the big race Sept. 1. Without its 1,400 pounds of armor, it weights 5,800 pounds. The Rolls-Royce Criffon engine has a maximum rating of 2,350 horsepower at 400 feet.

The aircraft was originally sent to Canada by Britain for winter tests. Flt. Lt. McArthur, an air ace with 13 enemy planes to his credit, bought it from war assets corporation for a price reported to be $14,000.

He declined to disclose just how fast the Spitfire has gone in speed tests. Against the Thompson Trophy field of about 10, he'll likely face competitors threatening to break the event record of 396.131 miles an hour, set in 1947.

500 Boys' Vacation Cut Short By Fire

MONTREAL, Aug. 30 (CP). — More than 500 boys ranging in age from nine to 14 years were back in Montreal today, their vacation at a summer camp at Contrecour, Que., some 35 miles northeast of Montreal, cut short by fire.

The camp — La Colonie des Greves—is sponsored by the Federation of French Catholic Charities and on Saturday afternoon the $35,000 fire destroyed a dormitory, kitchen and dining room. No one was injured.

FAMED NATURALIST — A quarter-century after his death, Napoleon Alexandre Comeau of Quebec is gaining wide recognition for his early travels and study of wild life in the now-developing St. Lawrence North Shore region below Quebec City. The old photo of Mr. Comeau, an outstanding naturalist and member of the Smithsonian Institution in the United States, shows him in the attire in which he roamed northeastern Quebec.

15 Cars Derailed

NORTH BAY, Aug. 30 (CP) — A CNR locomotive and 15 freight cars containing grain and merchandise were derailed Monday in a collision with a work train 31 miles west of Hornepayne. A fireman, identified only as "Sergeant" was taken to hospital with undetermined injuries. Hornepayne is 175 miles north of Sault Ste. Marie.

Latest Models Of Cars Seen At CNE

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)—The accent is on industrial science at the Canadian National Exhibition today Its automotive and electrical day

The automotive building houses the latest American and British motor cars and trucks, slowly pivoting on electrically-operated platforms. Some displays have glass-cased engines, slowly turning over.

At one exhibit, two mechanics tear down and reassemble a 1949 model automobile engine in 20 minutes while an announcer gives a running description over a public address system.

In the automotive building, as in most other places at the fair, sex rears its head.

Beautiful blondes are seated at the wheels of the cars, looking as if they knew the difference between the gear-shift and the glove compartment.

One display offers a fashion show. A woman announcer describes the clothes, getting in a plug for—let's say—the "Bloop Six" at every opportunity.

("This is the gown madame will wear when she goes out to tea in a Bloop Six. And she will wear this number when she goes to the theatre—in a Bloop Six.")

Jet Plane Engines

On the mezzanine floor there are mounted jet and gasoline aircraft engines and a cutaway section model of an air liner, showing the comfortable seating accommodation.

In striking contrast is a Vampire jet, sitting side-by-side with a first world war Sopwith Camel.

The electrical building offers the last word in refrigerators, stoves, vacuum cleaners, radios, television and the like.

One enterprising refrigerator manufacturer has frozen a skating rink in his booth and two figure skaters give performances every few minutes.

The CNE attendance Monday, children's day, was announced as 197,500, down 6,000 from the same day last year. But the total attendance for the first three days of the big two-week fair is running within 500 of last year at 564,500.

ON WITH THE SHOW—Governor-General Alexander presses the button setting off a firework display that signals the formal opening of the Canadian National Exhibition. Premier Frost of Ontario, on Viscount Alexander's left, introduced the governor-general. Behind Mr. Frost is Col. K. R. Marshall, president of the CNE.

Today we Live in a Greater Canada

They Drained a Lake

to give Canada a Great New Industry

IT HAPPENED in Ontario's Rainy River District. Steep Rock Lake — fifteen miles long and ranging in depth from 40 to 265 feet — was emptied by batteries of giant pumps. Finlayson Lake was lowered by draining from the bottom. The course of the Seine River was completely changed. And one of the richest bodies of iron ore on the continent was uncovered. Providing millions of tons of ore a year — with enough uncovered for years to come — Steep Rock's development has been spectacular, but it is only ONE of many examples of Canada's tremendous modern advance. Today we truly live in a Greater Canada—one with productive capacity vastly increased and diversified, offering to young Canadians greater opportunities than ever before in every field of endeavour.

The iron and steel manufacturing industry presents another spectacular example of development: productive capacity and number of employees have been doubled since before the war, striking indication of Canada's new position as one of the world's great industrial nations.

SO MANY OPPORTUNITIES

"A sound idea and the determination to carry it through — these are sure passports to success in Canada today where there are so many interesting opportunities in so many different kinds of activity", —says MR. LESLIE BUTCHER, of Windsor, Ont.

Mr. Butcher — member of Canada's 1936 Olympic basketball team — after returning from college in the U.S. and being manager of a local insurance office, started his own Butcher Enterprises. Their development provides many examples of this young Canadian's energy and enterprise. They include: a unique and successful service in the wrapping of products for shipping; and the modernization of the Windsor Arena to present outstanding sports and entertainment events with great success.

City Will Buy 24-Ft. Strip On Louis Street

Acceptance of an offer to sell to the city for $3,000 a frontage on the east side of Louis St. for its eventual widening, which was received from Carley, Carley and Standish, solicitors for the executors of the estate of Walter Ferguson, was recommended by the board of works Monday night.

The strip is 24 feet wide on King St., extending 135 feet northerly on Louis St. The letter from T. J. Carley, K. C., informed the Council that the offer was made without prejudice.

Previous attitude of the Council was to resort to arbitration, but two factors influencing the recommended decision arose in the discussion.

Who Owns Street?

City Solicitor Huycke said there was no record in the registry office that the city owned Louis St., although the municipality has had the use of the street for many years, and has paid for its maintenance as a thoroughfare.

That was one determining consideration. The other was Ald. Adam Sands' comment that the executors might sell the property to some one else at any time, and the cost to the city might then be more like $7,000. Another disarming fact, as cited by Mr. Huycke, was to the effect that the council had no written agreement of gift of the property by the late Mr. Ferguson, and that the claim of members of the council at that time was only verbal.

Mr. Huycke said that Mr. John R. Corkery, registrar, had told him that several other streets were in the same doubtful municipal ownership as Louis St. Mr. Huycke said he thought they were Chambers and Union Streets.

City Will Buy

Mayor Sawnston said there was a mutual agreement several years ago between Mr. Ferguson, the Dominion government and the city for transfer of property at the northeast corner of King and Louis Streets. The government intends to erect a postal-customs building on the Charlotte St. frontage of that lot. If its trucks were to load somewhere along Louis St., then the city recognized the necessity of widening of that street. The late Mr. Ferguson had acquired the Harry Dinsdale lumber yard at the King-Louis corner for a bus terminal.

Recalls Deal

Mayor Swanston said there was this repetition of the circumstances of negotiation, that the government agreed to a switch of part of its property to Mr. Ferguson, who, in turn and as a consideration in the three-way deal, was to give the city a frontage strip on Louis St.

"But, the government moved too fast in issuing the deed of their property, before Mr. Ferguson came through with both parts of his deal," Mayor Swanston said. "I think we might even refer this matter to the government and let them come in on this question."

City Solicitor Huycke said that Mr. Ferguson in a statement prior to his death had denied that he had undertaken to make a gift of the strip to the city.

"To enforce anything of this kind," said Mr. Huycke, "you have got to have something in writing by the other side. But, the Council has no agreement signed by Mr. Ferguson to give any of his property to the city. About a year ago, Mr. Ferguson deeded part of his land to the government, and the Crown exchanged a piece of its land.

The council has since then proposed expropriation. But, Louis St. does not appear to have ever been taken over by the city. It does not even appear to have been named as a street. It has been used by the city, and the city has spent money on it, but there is nothing at the registry office showing the city owns it."

Ald. Sands expressed doubt of the wisdom of applying to the court for expropriation. The executors of the Ferguson estate might possibly sell to some other party. The present offer was at a comparatively reasonable figure. His motion of acceptance was finally seconded by Mayor Swanston, and carried.

Blame Department

"I think we have a right to inform the Department of this development," said Mayor Swanston. "We should give them the details of the transfers, and tell them plainly that we think they are responsible for the city having to pay this $3,000."

Mayor Swanston's motion was seconded by Ald. Young for recommendation to the council.

Sherbrooke St. May Relieve Charlotte Jam

With the paving of Sherbrooke St. across town, it is expected that some action by the council will be taken to divert traffic from the Charlotte St. bottle-neck.

An intimation of purpose in that direction was noted in board of works conversations last night about traffic problems. Ald. Grant Miller advised that control lights be set up at King and George Sts. Casually, City Engineer Chalmers said lights would be needed at George and Sherbrooke Streets.

Sherbrooke has been paved recently from Reid St. The work has now reached to the east side of George St., and with that type of surface it is likely the council will try to bring about diversion of some of the heavy traffic that crowds into Charlotte St.

Way Paved

The council has been for some time trying to encourage movement on Sherbrooke St. and the paving job is presumed to be one step to that end.

The Swanston council is one of the succession in recent years that has balked at pressing the Ontario Department of Highways to correct the grade conditions at the 7-A cut-off at No. 28, west of the Kawartha Club. The Department itself knows the flaw that exists there, and that was created by its own engineers. Diversion of traffic from the No. 28 entrance on Charlotte St. to 7-A on Lansdowne St., has been proposed by various councils, but nothing has been done about it. Information to the council was that something remedial could be done.

The Lansdowne St. pavement should invite traffic to make the south approach into the city by a choice of streets, including Park, Aylmer and George.

Warkworth Burglars May Be In City

Search for the thieves who broke into the Co-Op at Warkworth during the weekend and took approximately $40 in cash is now centering on Peterborough, Provincial Constable A. A. Kellogg of Hastings told the Examiner today.

He gave no further details except to say that all leads but one had been run down, and that remaining one led to the city.

The loss was discovered early Monday morning when the manager of the Co-Op branch, Glen Hancock, arrived at the office to begin his day's work. Money—the amount then unknown—had been stolen from the safe and the interior of the office was strewn with papers and ledgers which had been thrown around by the thieves as they ransacked the premises.

Mr. Hancock said today the stolen money amounted to between $35 and $40.

About a year ago a similar robbery—and believed to have been carried out by the same men — netted the intruders $1,100.

Provincial Constable Donald Nicholls of Cobourg is assisting Provincial Constable Kellogg on the case.

Season's Gayest Laughter In French Without Tears

By T. J. ALLEN

On this week's printed program of the Peterborough Summer Theatre is an end-of-season questionnaire. "Which two plays have you found most interesting? Which two least interesting?" The company's tenth and second-last consecutive production, French Without Tears, falls into neither category. But if the question were, "Which two did you find most enjoyable and most laughable?", French Without Tears would be one of the two which most people of Monday's audience would put down.

In the playing of it the company accomplish a real tour de force. There is no meat in the play, no subtle wit as in last week's Importance of Being Earnest. In fact, there is nothing much in it except what makes a stage lively and gay, and an audience rollicking and happy. That is, of course, what has made this Terence Rattigan play a London hit for years and will make it one of the bright spots of the Summer Theatre's season.

I recommend French Without Tears most cordially as balm for the heart, fizz for the brain, and a cure-all for passing ailments of the flesh and spirit. There is nothing for the mind at all, except the gayest proof Peterborough has had in a thousand years that life is not real and earnest.

French Without Fears.

One does not need to know a syllable of French to fall into the mood of Professor Maingot's lodging-house school for Englishmen and some girls who are supposed to be studying French; not a syllable, even though Hugh Taschereau as the Professor speaks almost nothing but French. Under the direction of Graham Ferguson, and with Mr. Taschereau's native knowledge of language and gesture, the Professor, replete with beard, was good, even excellent.

Anna Cameron as Jacqueline gave her most sympathique performance of the season. (I use the word in its French sense.) Her French, her appearance and her part wooed the audience, as it did Kit Neilan (Michael Sadlier). Mr. Sadlier in rush skirt titillated the audience and gave a seemingly ingenious (and explicably Irish) happy interpretation to the role of Kit. Jeri Sauvinet appeared in her most un-"sympathique" role of the season, and carried it off with elan and aplomb.

Across The Footlights

Frank Perry won the audience. His vitality crosses the footlights as if they did not exist. I predict that this actor will cross many illustrious footlights if he grasps experience with youth, as he is doing here in Peterborough.

Jerry Sarracini was Canadian-adapted to the part of Curtis, one of the pupils of Professor Maingot's establishment. He is the sort of person who makes a stage vigorously human. I should like to see Bill Needles in a primary part. Whatever he does (here as the staunch Briton, Lt. Commander Rogers) is done with finish, style and sympathy.

Ann Somers appeared intermittently as Marianne, Ronald Bailey as Kenneth Lake. It is in the casting of such parts that the level of quality in a production may often be gauged. The level in this play was high.

Lord Heybrook was listed as being played by Graham Ferguson. He appeared as a Young actor but I shall not divulge the secret here.

There were one or two sags, one or two bits where the play was played for ham rather than croissants and one or two spots of broad language; but taken for the bubble it was the evening was first rate fun.

Terry Roberts Elected Mayor

The first mayor of Boys' Town at Trafalgar House in Nicholls Oval is Terry Roberts, 14. There were six nominations for the post, and the five defeated candidates will take responsible positions in the government of the town.

Bob Kelly was named chairman of the sports committee, Ken Woodgate is deputy mayor, Carl Collins chairman of the canteen, John Cupoli chief of police, and Ray Lindsay will look after Teen Town activities.

The mayor's term lasts for six months. Also appointed was a 12-man council, which will meet every week with the chief of police as a discipline committee.

Walter Bent, supervisor of the Optimist project, said that more than 70 boys were present for the election meeting Monday night, and that each day five or six more come to see the development. At the meeting, a film was shown and a rehearsal for the variety concert being presented in November was held.

Boys Town operated a canteen at the Exhibition last week, and found the venture very profitable, Mr. Bent said.

Careless Driving When Car Rips Fence

LINDSAY, Aug. 30.—(CP). — Claude Bevens, 59, of 63 Yarmouth Rd., Toronto, was charged with careless driving Monday following an accident on the county road at nearby Oakwood. Police said Bevens' car left the road and knocked down a wire fence on the farm of Henry Dale. Bevens suffered minor bruises and $200 damage was done to the front of his car.

Loses Thumb Tip

Fourteen-year-old Carmen Bulmer, RR 4, Peterborough, lost the tip of his left thumb when it caught under the wheel of a tractor Monday, while he rolled wire. He was treated in Civic Hospital.

APPLY FOR APPROVAL

Gore & Storrie, Toronto, the city's engineers on the proposed enlargement of the sewage disposal plant, have applied to Dr. A. E. Berry, chief engineer with the Ontario Department of Health applying for a certificate of approval of the plans of this project. A copy of the letter reviewing the details was received by the Board of Works last night.

Two Boys Win Championship At CNE Swim

Two Peterborough swimmers won on Monday gold medals in the CNE swimming championships. Alec Baptie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Baptie, is the champion in the eleven years and under class, 50 yards free style event. He competed against 25 boys.

John Boorman, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. W. Boorman, 378 Downie St., was matched with more than twenty boys in the twelve years and under, 50 yards free style, and won the race. He is CNE champion in that division.

Donald Wood, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfrid Wood, 10 Inverlea St. was fourth in his heat in two events—the 14 years and under, 50 yards free style, and the same race for 15 year olds. In the 14 year class, he registered the fourth fastest time, of 21 entries.

On Saturday, Frank Wright and Ken Stacey of the city will compete in the two-mile event. In addition, Wright will be entered in the diving championships on Monday, along with William Delyea, of Bancroft, who is an entry of the Peterborough YMCA.

The Monday swimmers were accompanied by Coach Gordon Minty.

Kept Cow Caged Overnight Trucker Fined

A plea of guilty to a charge of cruelty to a cow was entered by Peter McAuliffe, 261 Hunter St., an employee of a local slaughter house, in police court this morning before Magistrate R. B. Baxter.

Humane Society Inspector Gerald Dunford testified the cow had been left in a truck from about midnight to six a.m., August 20, at the corner of Bethune and Hunter streets. When he found the cow it was lying on some chains and a battered pail on the floor of a truck. He said there was no bedding and the cow was struggling to get up without success.

McAuliffe told the court the cow couldn't stand up only because the floor of the truck was slippery, but the cow walked on and off the truck without difficulty. He had brought the cow from a farm near Stirling and was taking it to be slaughtered. He said the cow had to be kept overnight because his foreman had to inspect the cow before it could be slaughtered.

Magistrate Baxter said he thought perhaps McAuliffe's employer was equally guilty for making no provision to keep animals overnight which were picked up after the day's work at the slaughter house had ceased. McAuliffe was fined $10 and costs.

Cockroach Is Exterminated Sanitary Officials Claim

By HARRY THEOBALD

There's not a cockroach in Peterborough, said Sanitary Inspector Ron MacPherson today, with the nodding endorsation of Dr. R. A. Kelly,, M.O.H.

So, that makes the assertion doubly official and authentic with only a slight concession in the scope of the clean-up.

The public cucaracha has been exterminated, but there may be some of these nasty private pests in the odd home that tolerates them without knowledge of the latest insecticide that does the trick.

"And, the fly-swatter industry is in for another slump." That's another modest boast of the Sanitary Inspector.

Restaurants, bakeries and other public places where food is handled have been rid of the roach since the Health Department investigated the claims made for the effectiveness of chlordane, a year or more ago. Since then it has been sprayed and fogged around the hideouts of roaches, experimentally at first, and latterly with utmost confidence in its lethal results based on observed results.

Where the Sanitary Inspector has gone with his chlordane, you can't find a cockroach. In fact Mr. MacPherson is willing to back up his certaintly by offering something like a dollar a roach that anyone can point to. However, that claim might have some embarrassing consequence, and the Health department's budget has been drawn so close to actual needs that the risk in the MacPherson estimate could not be approved.

The intimation from the sanitary inspector is briefly that the public has no more worries about cockroaches infesting any of the food places. This chlorine agent is deadly to the common fly. Since DDT and its associate insecticides came into use several years ago, generations of the fly bred into their progeny a resistance that revived the fly-swatter factory.

Immune to Dusts

Mr. MacPherson's story is too involved for detail herewith, but he says the stores that usually sell swatters have been reporting more business than at any other time in the last three or four years. The fly acquired through survivors immunity to the dusts that nearly obliterated them, but this chlordane is a new atmosphere in sanitation, and is said to be doing a thorough job.

Late summer had brought flies into a local restaurant. A new swatter was knocking off only the odd one. But, on its closed day this week, Mr. MacPherson laid about him with chlordaner and the next morning there was not a fly in the place. At any rate, that is his story, and he goes far out on the limb to tell it.

Owners Delay Signing For Park St. Drain

Of the 60 property owners affected by the proposed Park St. drain, only six of the required 40 have written their assent to the council's plan of financing.

"Shouldn't we put some time limit on acceptances," Ald. Grant Miller suggested at the board of works meeting Monday night. We should let the property owners know that if we don't hear from them by a certain date, this project will have to be shelved." Ald. Miller asked City Engineer Chalmers what date could be fixed before it would be too late for work this fall.

"It's too late now," Mr. Chalmers answered. "That job requires reinforcing steel. Just a few days ago we got reinforcing steel that was ordered three months ago for another job."

In the spirit of where do we go from here, and definitely, Ald. Miller raised the further question of what information should be given to the Park St. property owners, south from Brioux Ave.

"If they won't sign now, we might as well forget about it," said Ald. Herbert Young.

Some weeks ago the Board decided that City Engineer Chalmers should be given an opportunity of planning for 1950 before the end of this year. In accord with that forehanded approach to next year, Ald. Miller remarked that the Board should have some concrete proposal to the Park St. people. The discussion mentioned Oct. 1 as limiting date.

"Well, let's write them that if we don't get the required number of acceptances by Oct. 1, the drain won't be built next year," Ald. Miller said, and his motion was seconded by Ald. Burrows. That ultimatum becomes the Board's recommendation to the council.

The proposed local improvement frontage terms were revised by the council some months ago with the intention of making them more attractive to the property owners. The city's share of the cost of the work on the west side of Park St. was increased from 60% to 75%, leaving 25% to be borne by property. A further concession was made to the owners on the east side of the street. One-third of the 25% was to be paid by the east-siders, or 8%; and two-thirds by those on the west side.

The local improvement statute requires two-thirds of the property owners, representing 50% of the assessment, to subscribe their approval. That number would be 40 of the 60 owners on the two sides of the street and according to City Clerk Outram's information to the Board, only six owners were willing to adopt the council's terms.

DOROTHY DIX

Marrying for Money Does Not Always Bring Happiness

DEAR MISS DIX: If a girl marries a rich man who can give her all sorts of luxuries is she assured of happiness? What, if any, are the trials of the rich wife?

ANSWER: Nobody can deny that money is a comfortable thing in the house and that it brings many indulgences which a woman enjoys and saves her from many of the anxieties that vex her soul, but just the possession of money does not make a man a desirable husband, nor does money insure a successful marriage.

Dorothy Dix

A woman can be just as lonely in a palace as she can in a two-by-four flat or a bungalow. She can be just as bored by a dull millionaire as she is by a dull $18-a-week clerk. She can find a rich husband just as uncongenial and hard to live with as a poor one.

When it comes to the essence of marriage, which is the happiness that a husband and wife get from being together, the rich wife has no advantage over the poor one. Each is made happy or miserable by the character of the one he or she is married to, not by what he or she possesses.

Many a woman married to a big business man is virtually widowed. Often she hardly sees him except for a few hurried minutes a day, and when he comes home he is too tired, too absorbed in gigantic projects to give her more than perfunctory attention. He may be truly fond of her and lavish on her everything that money will buy, but he does not give her himself, and that is what a woman wants most, if she loves her husband.

More than that, he lives a life filled with plans and interests that she cannot share. There is no such comradeship between her and him as there is between the poor husband and wife who must consult over buying the baby a pair of new shoes and what they will have for dinner. I have heard many rich women say that the happiest time of their lives was when they were poor young wives helping their husbands get a start in the world.

Another trial of the poor rich wife is that she lives in constant fear of her husband's being taken away from her. Every rich man is a shining mark for every predatory woman he meets. He is set upon by beautiful young creatures who tempt him with every lure of the flesh and the devil, and it takes a strong and resolute Joseph to turn his back upon them and remain faithful to his wife.

In marriage a woman might well pray, as did the psalmist of old, for neither riches nor poverty. The happiest couples are those in which neither the wolf nor the gold-digger are trying to break into the home. Nothing binds a man and woman together as does the common interest of working together and being dependent upon each other for their pleasures and interest in life.

✧ ✧ ✧

DEAR DOROTHY DIX: What makes married women have that insufferable smugness, that silly look of the cat that has swallowed the canary that so many assume as soon as they get a Mrs. tacked on to their name? I marvel at it after looking at many of their husbands.

E. W. N.

ANSWER: Well, considering that marriage is the chief objective of practically every woman's life, don't you think she has a right to wear an air of triumph when she has pulled it off?

As long as she is single, no matter how clever and highly educated and successful she may be, she is still a person of no importance in the grand conclave of wives. But let her get married and her status is immediately changed, no matter what sort of human shrimp she got as a husband.

She is given the high sign and password and admitted into the innermost circle of the matron. She is free to go and come as she pleases without criticism, for marriage seems to put some sort of an aura of protection about a woman. Immediately she becomes an oracle whose words are wisdom to which even her own mother listens.

All of these honors and emoluments are the sole perquisites of the married woman, so you need not wonder that wives exploit them for all they are worth. Nor should you begrudge them what pleasure they get out of putting it over the women who are unmarried and have no man to flaunt in their sisters' faces. Every good hunter beams with delight when he displays the game he has bagged or the fish he has caught.

Heaven knows marriage has enough drawbacks to dampen any woman's enthusiasm, so if she gets any moral support out of looking smug over it, let her have it.

DOROTHY DIX.

Elmhirst-Millar Wedding

A lovely wedding was solemnized Saturday afternoon in Keene United Church when Mary Ruby Millar and James Albert Elmhirst exchanged vows before the Rev. George Murray. The bride is the youngest daughter of Mrs. Arthur Millar and the late Arthur Millar of Keene, and the groom is the youngest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Elmhirst.

Pink and white gladioli banked with fern formed the background setting. Mr. Walter Morrow played traditional wedding music during the ceremony and Mr. Delbert Coward sang "O Perfect Love" and at the signing of the register "I'll Walk Beside You."

Canada's First Lynching Took Place In Perth In 1829

By JIM KINLOCH

The four-year-old boy had spoken of the subject for the first time in his life. "That's what father did," he had said. "He hit mother with a black stick and then threw her and sister into the cellar."

And now a hundred voices were demanding his father's life. A deputy sheriff and two assistants, armed with double-barreled shotguns, stood on the steps of the Bathurst District Jail in Perth, Ontario, and defied the men before them. It was August, 1829.

"We Want Easby"

"We want Easby." The faces glaring u pat the deputy grew angrier, the red light of the torches which lit up the scene distorting their features into one terrible, menacing whole.

Meanwhile Thomas Easby, self-confessed murderer of his wife and four of his five children, cringed in a corner of the crude gaol. He was being held on a murder charge, awaiting the trial at which his son was to testify against him, and at which his lawyer would attempt to prove his insanity in order to cheat the gallows.

His erstwhile neighbors and friends didn't mean to be cheated, however. They had marched to the little jail in a body, chanting their demand for Easby's life. Rough men, settlers with stern, unbending ideas of right and wrong, they clamored for what they held to be justice.

Pleads With Crowd

The jailer-deputy, James Young, pleaded with the impatient farmers. He begged them to wait. The law would take its course, he said, and Easby would be punished. Meanwhile the man was entitled to a fair trial before a jury.

"He didn't give his wife a chance, and we won't give him one," shouted someone in the crowd. The sentence was taken up, and the roar for Easby's life grew even deeper. Above the shouting the deputy heard sharp, staccato blows, and looking up, saw that some of the men had procured axes and were cutting down a small tree on the other side of the street. He ceased pleading and began to threaten, but not for long.

There was a sudden crash, then again the blows of axes as a few branches of the tree were lopped off. A score of arms picked up the timber, and, while he was watching them and threatening, a dozen men rushed the deputy and his supporters, snatching the guns from their hands. No shots were fired.

The improvised battering ram was hurried toward the heavy door. Three or four crashes and it was shattered. Another barricade, inside, was broken, and Easby was in the hands of mob law.

Killer Hanged

The crowd surged noisily down Beckwith Street towards the Tay River. It stopped and grouped itself about a suitable tree, and there Easby was hanged.

This is the legend of Canada's lynching. What records there were of the case, however, were destroyed in a fire which razed the courthouse and jail several years after the man's death.

The time of the lynching was about 13 years after the Bathurst settlement came into existence. Nine miles northwest of Perth, at Balderson's Corners, Thomas Easby had cleared a farm, bringing to the homestead his comely wife. There they had lived, apparently in perfect harmony, and there five children were born.

About two years previous to the alleged lynching episode, Easby, his two-year-old son in his arms, ran across the field to his neighbor, John Richardson, crying that his house was on fire.

Richardson picked up a couple of milk pails and hurried to the blaze, to find the flames licking about the room. Other farmers appeared, and a bucket brigade was formed, but the fire was already far advanced, the only well on the farm went dry in a very few minutes, and nothing was saved. The charred bodies of Mrs. Easby and her four children were found in the ruins.

After the funeral, the surviving boy was adopted by the Richardsons, a building bee was held by the sympathetic farmers to provide the bereaved man with a new home, and gradually the air of tragedy lifted from the district. Easby prospered, and his son grew into a sturdy little boy, although he seldom spoke. Apparently the child had forgotten, as children, do, the awful event that had made him motherless.

Stirred Memory

Suddenly, one day two years after the fire, the boy spoke about it. He was watching his foster-mother poke the ashes of a fire under the bake oven outside her kitchen. She raised the poker and struck vigorously at an obstinate log. Her action stirred some dormant recollection in the child's mind.

"That's what father did," he stated flatly. "He hit mother with a black stick and then threw her and sister into the cellar."

Developments followed quickly. Easby was arrested and jailed, and every aspect of the revived disaster was reviewed.

Dr. James Wilson, Perth's leading medico, held a post mortem examination of the bodies of Mrs. Easby and her children, the result of which indicated the truth of the boy's words.

Easby engaged a lawyer, then confessed. His confession inspired his counsel to prepare a defence which was to prove his client's insanity, and became the sole topic of discussion wherever people gathered for miles around.

While drinking at a tavern, the man stated, he had become involved in an argument with another settler, who had introduced into the quarrel a statement casting reflections on Mrs. Easby, his "beauty wife," and hinting of callers during her husband's absence.

Save for this drunken remark, the lady's character was unspotted, but Easby brooded over the matter, and one day, while he was chopping wood behind his house, the devil approached him.

The devil was a big, black man, he said, who urged him to vindicate his honor by killing his wife and all her children. The devil had even gone so far as to instruct him how best to do it, had held stakes for him while he sharpened the ends, and hardened them in a brushwood fire.

Struck His Wife

He had then gone to the house, fortified by the devil's promptings, struck down his unsuspecting wife, and then coldly murdered his horror-stricken children one after the other. When he came to the youngest, who was but a burgling child, the boy looked up and laughed, innocently, in his face.

Something, either mercy or the realization that the child was too young to understand or remember what he had seen, and was unable to tell of it in any case, had stayed his hand.

He threw the limp bodies of his victims into the cellar, set fire to the house, and when the blaze was well under way, had spread the alarm, stating that he had come in from the woods to find the fire too menacing to venture inside in an attempt to save his family.

The lynching followed the confession.

Cure Craving For Gambling

LONG BEACH, Calif., Aug. 30.—(AP).— The gambling grandmother of Gardena's poker parlors is taking glutamic acid again, and this time authorities will see that she keeps it up for at least six months.

She'll be in jail that long, under the care of the jail physician, who thinks the drug might cure her craving for gambling.

Mrs. Sula Bell Stimson, 49, told Judge Fred Miller Monday she didn't have the desire to gamble as long as she took glutamic-acid treatments, but that she had quit taking the medicine after her release from jail in June.

Poker is legal in nearby Gardena. Mrs. Stimson, however, has been passing cheques, say police, to cover her gambling losses. Her passion for poker came upon Mrs. Stimson in middle age. The doctor hopes glutamic acid will restore her original personality—that of a normal housewife.

Glutamic acid—a protein brain food—has been used with some success in similar cases. It tends to replace deficiencies in the cranial system.

Potato Bugs Snarl Railway Train Service

MILAN, Aug. 30.— (AP).—An invasion of Colorado beetles potato bugs) snarled train service between Milan and Como Monday. Heavy locomotives lost traction on slippery rails. They were reduced to a slow crawl or forced to stop dead, as millions of the potato parasites swarmed on the tracks.

Freak Fugitive Cat Or Rabbit

BALTIMORE, Aug. 30.—(AP). —Front view, it's a cat! rear view, a rabbit.

This freak fugitive from a lost week-end was chased out of the woods at Back River near here yesterday by Major, the community mongrel. It ran smack into a net held by Leonard and Edward Claridge.

From the waistline north, the creature has every appearance of a docile tabby. But south of that border, it's all bunny.

It stands like a cat with a sagging stern, but it slits and hops like a bunny.

It has a growl all its own — nothing like a cat or dog.

And it eats only raw meat.

The Claridges said they plan to put it out on exhibition in a couple of days and eventually hope to domesticate it.

Ask Standard Date In Time Reversion

TORONTO, Aug. 30 (CP)—An appeal to municipalities in the eastern time zone for adoption of a uniform date for reverting to standard time was made today by the Dominion Motor Coach Association which represents the major Canadian motor coach interests.

The association said some municipalities in Ontario and Quebec are reported to be considering setting back the date for reversion to standard time to October or November.

Such action, they said, "will cause hardship or inconvenience for the thousands who daily depend upon this industry for transportation to their places of business, to schools and shopping centres."

They said long distance schedules and commuter runs must be designed on a uniform-time basis so that a transfer of passengers can be effected.

U.K. Professors To Visit Canada In 1949

LONDON, Aug. 30 (CP)—The British council has awarded travel grants to facilitate the interchange of university teachers and scholars between Commonwealth countries and the United Kingdom.

The scheme is a result of last year's Oxford congress of universities of the Commonwealth. It is directed by a committee under the chairmanship of Sir Hector Hetherington, principal of Glasgow University.

Grants are made to university teachers on study leave; to post-graduate research workers holding at least six months in another university; and to enable distinguished scholars and scientists to accept invitations for short visits to other universities.

Visits so assisted are granted primarily to enable a visiting scholar or scientist to meet and mix with the rising younger worker in his own field rather than to give public lectures.

Thirty-nine such awards have been made this year and three United Kingdom scholars go to Canada. They are:

J. D Mackie, professor of Scottish history and literature, Glasgow University who will visit Queen's, McGill and the University of Manitoba between Oct. 4 and Nov. 24.

Dr. W. G. S. Adams, formerly warden of All Souls' College, who will visit Toronto, Queen's, McGill, Dalhousie, St Francis Xavier and the University of New Brunswick between Sept. 10 and Oct. 24; L. A Willoughby, professor of German at University College, London, who will visit Toronto, Queen's, McGill and the University of British Columbia from Sept. 9 to Nov. 24.

Sentenced To Five Years

'Special Steaks' May Be Horse Flesh In Reality

By H. L. JONES
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 30 (CP). — A horse is often worth more dead than alive in meat-short Britain today.

Sale of horse flesh for human consumption, prevalent on the Continent, is on the increase in the United Kingdom. It can be bought legally and cheaply in more than 1,000 special shops which sell nothing else. They are scattered throughout 36 principal cities and towns.

Horse steak also can be bought legally in some restaurants, providing it is billed as such. Not many menus list horse flesh, but it is admitted some of the "special steak" offered by favor-bestowing waiters are actually horse.

A London newspaper in a recent article said:

"Do you eat horse? Do you like it? Today in Britain there are nearly 750,000 people who do, and many thousands more who don't know that they do."

Many Slaughtered

More than 200,000 horses are known to have been slaughtered in the last four years. In one London area alone slaughtering has increased from 1,100 a week in 1945 to 1,500 a week. Before the war there were about 180 licensed slaughterers in the country. Today there are more than 400.

The government is concerned and that is reflected in the fact two investigations are underway.

One involves a committee headed by Lord Rosebery, one of Britain's leading horsemen whose racing colors are famous. It is delving into the export of horses for work and slaughter, slaughtering for food, and whether breeding for slaughter should be encouraged.

Farm organiaztions would like to see more control. Farmers complain that at country sales they cannot compete with "dealers" who bid up to £70 ($280) for a horse not worth half the price.

The prices of a good horse steak? Restaurant prices vary. But in a horse butcher shop, horse flesh is government controlled at one shilling a pound—half the price of the best rationed beef.

Wellington W. Sutton Named Zone Chairman

Wellington W. Sutton of Otonabee was elected chairman of Peterborough zone of the Ontario Farm Radio Forums at their meeting Monday night in the office of the Department of Agriculture. Mrs. Ernest Thompson was appointed secretary.

Six forums were represented by 16 of their members. To stimulate interest in different sections of the county in which Forum groups have not been formed, it was decided to arrange for a joint meeting of the Federation of Agriculture and county Forum members, probably about the middle of September. Mr. Clare Burt of Forum headquarters will be asked to attend the meeting.

In Peterborough county some neighborhoods have flourishing Forums with regular attendance, lively interest and social activities. But, in too many other neighborhoods the idea has not taken hold. It is that contrast which deeply concerns the county organization, and they are hoping that some new groups will spring up this year.

Uncle Marries Niece Both Wed Previously

PROVIDENCE, R.I., Aug. 30 — (AP)—Rhode Island law made it possible for an uncle and a niece from Brooklyn, N.Y., to wed here Monday night.

Mendel Rosenbloom, 55, a salesman, and his sister's daughter, Mrs. Regina Pofstrong, 36, were married by Rabbi Morris G. Silk at Ahavath Sholom Synagogue.

They chose Rhode Island because, they said, it is the only state in the union which sanctions a marriage approved by levitical law.

Both had spouses who died in German concentration camps during the Second World War. He fled to the United States in 1942 while she came here 10 weeks ago as a Displaced Person.

Mrs. Pofstrong was penniless. Rosenbloom had insufficient means to support her separately. Marriage was the only alternative.

While Jewish law says that a nephew may not marry his aunt, it holds not only that an uncle may marry his niece but that, if the niece is in need, such a marriage is a good and worthy deed.

OBITUARIES

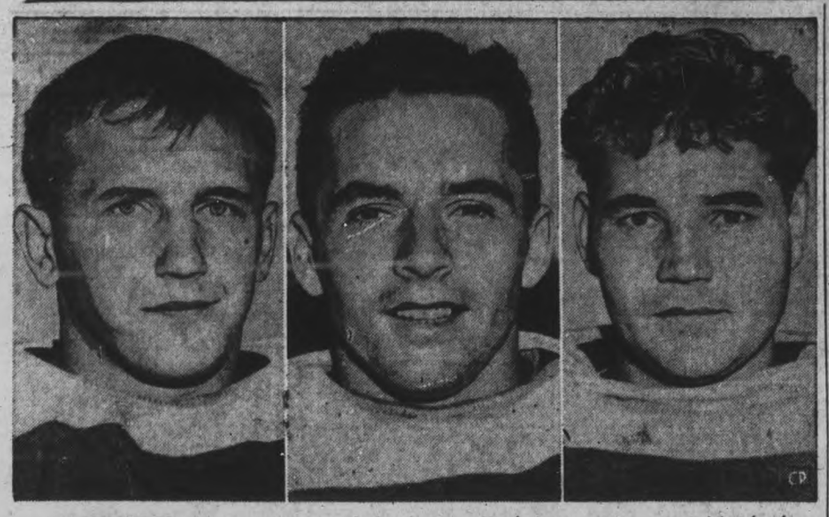
MRS. JAMES HUTCHINSON

Mrs. James Hutchison, 39, died at her residence, 463 Stewart St., Monday. Born in Bethany, she was Florence Emaline Rea Wake, daughter of the late John Henry Wake and Mary Ann Graham.

Surviving are her husband, two daughters, Mrs. Ed Boyler (Margaret), Peterborough, and Mrs. Thornton Brick (Beryle), Toronto, two sons, Maurice G. Rea and Ralph Elliott Rea, both of Peterborough; four sisters, Mrs. William Donnelly (Olive), Toronto, Mrs. George Farnsworth (Neta), Toronto; Mrs. Reg. Palmer (Ina), Bethany, and Mrs. Albert Kennedy (Eunice), Ingersoll; three brothers, Henry Wake, Ottawa; George Wake, Ajax, and Morton Wake, Detroit. One son, Ivan Albert Rea, was killed in World War II.

Mrs. Hutchison had lived in Peterborough for 28 years, and was a member of Mark St. United Church.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the Kaye Funeral Home, Rev. E. W. Rowland officiating. Burial will be in Ida Cemetery.



MRS. JOHN TROTTER

Mrs. John Trotter, 68, of 947 Water St., died in hospital Sunday. She was born in North Gwillembury, Ontario, Charlotte Ann, daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Silas Emes.

Mrs. Trotter lived in Peterborough for 33 years, and was a member of the Baptist Church.

Surviving are one son, Trueman Paton, Toronto; a sister, Mrs. William Passmore, Toronto; three brothers, Mose, Ernest and George Emes, all of Alberta.

Funeral services will be held Wednesday from the Belleghem Funeral Home, 190 Hunter St. W., at 2 p.m. Rev. E. J. Whan of Park St. Baptist Church will officiate, and burial will be in Little Lake Cem

UNDERDOGS—Here are some of the key men who are counted on to keep the long-shot Hamilton Wildcats in the hunt with the three more highly rated entries in the Interprovincial Rugby Football Union this season. Ed Czaplak, left, is a 215-pound inside from Arizona State University. Jim Loreno, centre, a promising backfielder, graduated to the Cats from last season's Oshawa juniors. Bernie Banula, a 225-pounder, had three seasons with Wake Forest College before Hamilton Coach Frankie Gnup snagged him for a middle-wing berth.

Meet Demands Says Teachers Still Howling

OTTAWA, Aug. 30 (CP). — Premier J. Walter Jones of Prince Edward Island has provoked a fresh protest from the Canadian Teachers' Federation by accusing them of "howling" for more even while their demands were being met.

Correspondence between Premier Jones, who is also minister of education, and George G. Croskery, secretary-treasurer of the Federation, was made public today.

It began Aug. 12, when the Federation conference in Ottawa sent a letter to Mr. Jones protesting reports of a speech in which he was alleged to have made light of teachers' problems.

Mr. Jones was reported to have said teachers work only five hours a day, 190 days a year and should supplement their earnings by other work.

The Federation protested that the teaching profession demanded "exclusive and strenuous efforts throughout the year," and said that if Mr. Jones' theory were generally accepted "the whole educational system would be undermined."

Premier Jones replied briefly Aug. 19 and said his speech had been "reported incorrectly."

However, he added, demands made by teachers and embodied in a submission to the Dominion-Provincial Conference in 1945 had been fully implemented, and more, by 1947.

RIDERS FROM AFAR—These four huskies were brought by Saskatchewan Roughriders from far-flung pastures to spearhead the club's drive for the Western Interprovincial Union football title. Sammy Pierce, left, was the third-ranking ground-gainer in the Southwest Conference last season when he played fullback for Baylor University. Next to him is Pat Santucci, placement-kicking specialist who missed only one of 29 tries for Hamilton Tigers last season and booted his first convert in this year's opener against Winnipeg last Saturday. Doug Belden, No. 12, is the first-string Rider quarterback who came from Florida University. In front is backfielder Del Wardien, a holdover from last season when he came from Montana University.

Rotarians Learn Of Ecuador

As part of the program of the International Service Committee Rotary Club members Monday heard a few remarks about Ecuador and then saw a film on that country.

In his introduction, Dr. Donald Aitken, of the International Service Committee of the Peterborough Club, stated in that small South American land there are already 15 Rotary Clubs and 362 members. Altogether about 325,000 Rotarians are to be found in 80 different countries.

Dr. Aitken reminded his audience that Ecuador has been in the news recently with the series of earthquakes that took a heavy toll in property and lives.

Colored Film

The city of Ambato, about the same size as Peterborough, had 70 per cent of its buildings demolished as well as dead and injured residents running into thousands.

Ambato, he said, has a Rotary Club with 23 members; and the local International Service Committee has written them offering the services of the Peterborough members in any way possible.

The film, shown by the Peterborough Film Council, was in color, and gave well-studied glimpses of a general cross-section of life in Ecuador. Colorfully dressed Indians and their handicrafts occupied much of the picture. There were further impressions of both urban and rural life—the latter extending to the fringe of the jungle.

Towering, snow-capped mountains—many of which are volcanic—gave an attractive scenic background. Several excellent examples of Spanish colonial architecture were also shown in some of the larger Ecuadorian centres.

HAVELOCK, Aug. 30—(ENS)—Royal Lodge IOOF No. 286 and Dorcas Rebekah Lodge No. 98 held their annual decoration day service in Maple Grove Cemetery on Sunday afternoon. The attendance was small owing to the rain. The Havelock Pipe Band headed the parade.

The recording secretary, George Kennedy, read the names of brethren buried in Maple Grove and outside cemeteries. The flowers were laid by members. Deceased members of the Rebekah order were similarly honored by Mrs. William Harris, N.G., who read a poem and the chaplain, Mrs. A. McColl. The names were read by Mrs. G. Kennedy, V.G. Rev. P. A. Rickard, of St. John's Anglican Church, was the guest speaker.

A former Mayor of the second oldest town in England, Mr. E. S. Ireson of Stamford, Lincolnshire, accompanied by his wife, is visiting Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Ross, 143 Princess Street.

Stamford is a town of 12,000 at the extreme southerly end of the county, and is 12 miles from Peterborough. Mr. Ireson was a member of the Council for some years and was elected Mayor in 1934-1935. He was scheduled to make a tour of the city this afternoon with Armar Butcher, the superintendent of the Parks Department.

Mr. and Mrs. Ireson planned their trip to Canada to visit two brothers of Mrs. Ireson at Richmond Hill and Lefroy, who have been in this country since 1904.

Intended Good Turn Cause Of Accident

An intended good turn caused an injury to a two-and-a-half-year-old boy, Sunday night.

When John Monahan of 380 Holloway Drive, put on his brakes to slow down on the highway near Central Smith Creamery to give the family of Frank Banville, RR 2, Peterborough, a lift, he collided with Jack, the young son.

The family was standing on a driveway and as Monahan applied the brakes he skidded, causing the car to veer toward them. Jack was knocked down.

He was taken to Civic Hospital where it was found he was suffering from shock and a possible fracture of the left leg.

Provincial Constable Edward G. Patterson investigated.

Committed For Trial

HAMILTON, Aug. 30 (CP) — Charged with murdering Richard Slifka in a Saltfleet Township house brawl on Aug. 6, David (Irish Davey) Ambersley and Edward (Dempsey) Richards on Monday were both committed for trial.

Here and There In Sport

By The Canadian Press

Charles Campbell, secretary of the Intercounty Baseball Association, said Monday at Hamilton that the status of all intercounty minor champions now playing in the OBA playoffs has been protested by the Hamilton Police Association. The matter came to a head when Kitchener pee wees eliminated Hamilton Westdale Whizzers in two straight games by heavy margins. Other clubs affected are Kitchener juveniles and London bantams and midgets. Hamilton has charged that the Kitchener team was a "packed all-star" squad, and contravenes OBA rules.

The charge was admitted by Campbell, who explained that all intercounty are all-star teams from their respective communities. He also agreed that it was against the association's rules.

Regarding the Hamilton protest, Campbell said: "They accepted us until they lost."

However, the affair will be aired at a meeting of the OBA executive this week.

Two Toronto shotsmiths—Jack Chipman of Lambton and John S. Lewis of Rosedale—Monday led a record field of 210 golfers in the opening 18-hole round of the 27th annual Canadian Senior's Golf Association tournament at Toronto. Both posted low gross scres of 75 over the par-71 layout. Chipman and Lewis, playing under Class A group—for senior's from 55 to 59 years of age—were closely followed by G. E. Laing of Windsors Essex Club, who carded a 76.

More than a score of Canadian athletes have set records in track and field competition but have been robbed of official recognition because of careless local officials. This situation became known Monday at Montreal with an appeal by Jack Davies, chairman of the records committee of the Amateur Athletic Union of Canada, to all local branches and officials to supply the necessary data.

Galt Terriers of the Senior Intercounty Baseball League are getting plenty of fan-support. All grandstand seats for Wednesday night's game between the Terriers and Brantford Red Sox were sold out before 10 a.m. Monday, officials said.

Little Jimmy Cooper, a boxing stylist who knows every trick of the trade, Monday night at Washington boxed and outpunched the bantamweight title-holder, Manuel Ortiz, in a torrid, 10-round, non-title bout to win a unanimous decision.

Cooper weighed 125½; Ortiz 129.

The English county cricket championship ended in a tie Monday for the first time since 1889. Yorkshire, forcing a two-day win over Glamorgan, last year's champions, ended even with Middlesex at 192 points each. Sixty years ago Nottinghamshire, Lancashire and Surrey all shared the title.

Baseball's big question today is: Can the New York Yankees stagger home with the American League pennant even with Tommy Henrich out of action. The versatile outfielder-first baseman removed himself for the rest of the season by banging into the right field wall at Chicago yesterday, trying to catch Charley Kress' double.

Promoter Jack Solomons said today he will have his own doctor check on injured Bruce Woodcock to see when the British heavyweight will be able to fight again Woodcock is recovering from a recent truck accident. He was supposed to fight Lee Savold of Paterson, N.J., for the British version of the world heavyweight title Sept. 6.

Arthur King, British lightweight champion from Toronto, Monday night spoiled the Philadelphia debut of Beppe Colasanti of Rome by punching out a unanimous eight-round decision.

Both fighters weighed 133½.

A crowd of 2,042 paid $3,247 to see the card.

New York Tourist's Catch Includes Walleye Pike And Wallet With $102

WALKER, Minn., Aug. 30 (AP) —A walleye pike, northern perch and a wallet containing $102 was a New Yorker's catch in Leech Lake Saturday.

The wallet was that of Miles Dale Pothast of Melbourne, Ia., who lost it a year ago.

George Woodhall hooked the wallet while trolling south of Bear Island. The zipper was open. Currency was visible under a layer of sand and snails.

Woodhall dried the contents carefully before attempting to salvage them. Examination revealed five $20 bills and two $1 bills. The wallet also contained a gold ring, two keys, Pothast's Social Security card and a fishing license.

The operator of Lien's resort, where Woodhall was staying, recalled that Pothast lost the wallet while he was there last August. It slipped from his pocket while he sat on the edge of a boat, casting.

Robert Walker Ambitious To Be Director

By BOB THOMAS

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 30 (AP). — Robert Walker, a new man since his recent mental treatment, is eager for a shot at directing movies.

"I feel that I'm marking time now," he said on the "Please Believe Me" set. "Acting is fine; it's good training. But you get tired of other people telling you what to do.

"Directing is the creative end of this business. I probably won't get a chance to do it until my contract is up in three years, but I aim to get into it as soon as I can."

Walker says he won't give up acting altogether. He offered this observation on his profession: "An actor isn't just born, or just made; he's both. An actor has to be a bit neurotic. A neurosis gives him the sensitivity to people and events that is necessary to imitate them."

Danes Set Agrarian Progress Under Marshall Plan Aid

The stream of United States Marshall-Plan dollars flowing into Denmark now is beginning to show results in a steady rise in Danish agricultural production and exports, Copenhagen reports.

Primarily — a dairy-farming country, Denmark's chief national asset is her 2,000,000 head of cattle. The Danish government has concentrated its spending of Marshall dollars on oil cakes for these cattle, coarse grain for pigs and machinery for the mechanization of farms.

Dollar Allocation

From April 3, 1948, to June 30, 1949, Denmark's allocation of European Recovery Program dollars amounted to 528,000,000 kroner ($105,600,000). At April 1 of this year 478,000,000 had been converted into import licenses including actual imports totalling 300,000,000 kroner.

Of this latter amount, imports of agricultural material accounted for more than half. Some 30 per cent of that total was for fodder.

Agricultural experts here believe that, to Denmark, animal fodder is in effect capital investment. Sufficient fodder imports mean more and more agricultural produce which will provide the means of payment for other goods in great demand.

Marshall aid mechanization of the farms has also made good progress. In 1944, Danish agriculture owned some 4,500 tractors. Today, that figure has increased to 12,000. This has enabled Danish farmers to meet the problem caused by a drift of farm labor into the towns in search of higher wages.

During the last 10 years, the numbers employed in agriculture have fallen by some 30 to 35 per cent. But mechanization has enabled production to be maintained and improved.

Import Tariffs

No one here believes that agricultural prosperity is just round the corner for Denmark. With Germany at present out of the market as an importer of Denmark's agricultural produce and with import tariffs still a barrier in some European countries, Denmark will have to fight hard to find markets.

But cold statistics tell the same story: Marshall aid is beginning to pay off dividends in Denmark.

Never a Dull Moment At US Ammunition Depot

By WILLIAM PEART

McAlester, Okla., Aug. 28—(AP)—Work at the sprawling United States Naval Ammunition Depot near McAlester can be embarrassing. Once a shipment of shells and powder from the South Pacific was unpacked for testing, reloading and storage. A grim looking sack—bulging to capacity—was in the load. The workers carted it to the testing area and opened it cautiously.

It wouldn't explode.

"And no wonder," says Capt. V. R. Roane, the commanding officer. "It was just plain sweet—a 100-pound sack of sugar."

Workers at the base figure it's something like moving about a kitchen with a jealous cake in the oven—easy does it.

It isn't the work that's easy. They say easy is the only way to approach it because this is a base where tons of explosives are poured carefully into shells and then attentively stacked into storage magazines.

Immediate Dismissal

This is a naval base where a match found on a worker means immediate dismissal. It's a place where special rubber-soled shoes are regulation foot dress. Shoe nails might cause a spark and it doesn't take much imagination to know what would happen.

"Safety," Roane says, "is the big important word around here. It has to be that way. We can't afford to take any chances."

Here the job is to assemble ammunition and then store and preserve it. That's so the United States will have a backlog of ammunition if war comes suddenly.

There are more than 2,000 storage magazines which occupy an area of 44,965 acres.

Most of the magazines look like igloos covered with grass. In them are the navy's various sized shells —including rockets and depth bombs and mines. The magazines' temperatures are kept at about 80 degrees so the powder in the shells won't break down during storage.

A December, 1944, magazine explosion has been the only one on the base. But that one—it's cause still isn't known—killed 11 persons.

20,000 Japanese Repatriated From Russia

By WILLIAM PORDEN

TOKYO, Aug. 29 (AP). — Since late in June nearly 20,000 Japanese have been repatriated after four years of imprisonment in Russia. New thousands now are pouring into the repatriation port of Maizuru in the year's third "wave" of returns.

Most Japanese are wondering what tactics the Communist-indoctrinated leaders of the latest groups will adopt.

The first wave late in June came into port lustily singing Communist songs. On the train trip to their home they stopped at important stations to participate in rowdy Communist-directed welcoming celebrations. Many ignored their waiting relatives to march first to Communist party headquarters.

The second group, arriving late in July, obviously had been directed to use different methods. One shipload refused for six days to fill out the routine reparation forms. They only did so when informed they must remain aboard ship until they did. All surrounded themselves with a "silent curtain," refusing to talk.

Very Un-Japanese

Ordinary Japanese say they cannot understand why these men act in such "Un-Japanese" fashion.

At first the Japanese press concentrated on reports of flag waving, clashes with police and Communist songfests. They said little or nothing of those who did not participate but who quietly went home.

Yet the first repatriation shipload gave evidence that the seemingly-unanimous Red front was not as solid as the Communist leaders tried to make it appear. Some said they wanted to "think things over" before joining the Communist party. Others said flatly they had no intention of joining.

This first impression has been supported recently by an increasing number of interviews with repatriates by newspapers throughout Japan. While many were quoted as saying they were signing up with the Communists, the majority said they were not.

House Ransacked While Owner Away

Apparently nothing was stolen when a house occupied by Miss Doris Colberry, 163 Rink St., was broken into and ransacked probably Saturday night.

Miss Colberry left her home early Saturday afternoon to return about nine p.m. Sunday evening. She found the cupboards and drawers in the kitchen pulled and he contents scattered.

Two bedrooms on the second floor were also ransacked with the contents of the drawers thrown on the beds. Miss Colberry said she was not sure whether anything had been taken from her sister's hope chest.

Constable J. Morrow found entry had been made by prying off the screen of a basement window.

Officials Deny Inquiry Ordered; Loss Over $150,000

CHATHAM, Ont., Aug. 31 (CP) —City officials denied that a probe had been ordered in Tuesday's business district blaze which caused damage estimated at between $150,000 and $200,000 to three establishments.

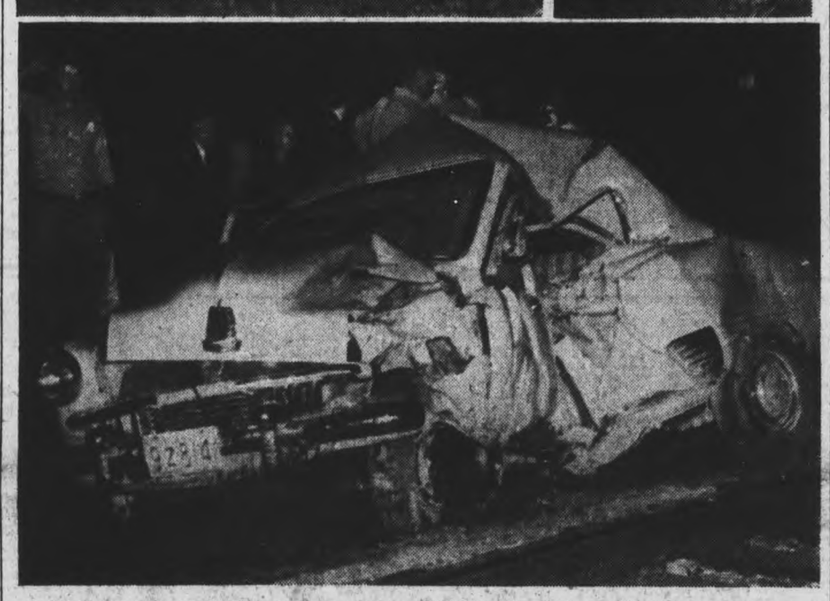
However, Mayor Ralph D. Steele indicated council probably would review the question of water pressure which hampered firefighters at the outset of the fire which started in a tire-retreading machine at the rear of Bob's Tire Shop. It spread to Hobbs Glass Company and the Simpson Motor Sales.

Firemen, who battled the blaze for three hours before bringing it under control, said the water pressure was only 45 pounds and they could have used 95 pounds. Voluntary closing of a Chatham cannery helped boost the pressure later.

Officials of Hobbs Glass today indicated rebuilding of their burned-out plant would be undertaken without delay.

Twelve persons fled from four upstairs apartments in an adjoining building but the flames did not reach the apartments.

Second Major Fire



It was the second major fire in Ontario during the day. An early-morning fire at Sault Ste. Marie destroyed a storage plant and several smaller buildings at the huge Chromium Mining and Smelting Corporation plant. Work was resumed at the plant within 12 hours. An explosion started the fire about 3 a.m. Its cause is unknown.

All firefighting equipment in Chatham—one pumper, a ladder truck and a hose truck—was rushed to the business-block fire. Fed by hundreds of rubber tires, kiln-dried lumber and cans of paint and varnish, flames leaped as high as 45 feet.

Ed Nicholson, a partner in the woodworking firm, first noticed the flames in the tire shop about mid-afternoon. Firemen said they may have started by a spark from a machine.

FIVE PEOPLE ARE DEAD as a result of a level crossing accident at the CNR tracks, Centre St., in Campbellford, Tuesday night. Dead are Kenneth Milne of Menie, Seymour Township; his wife, Pauline, and their two daughters, Fay, 10, and Betty, 8, (Top Left). Mrs. Milne's mother, Mrs. Ernest Ingram, of Seymour (Top Right), was also killed. Wreckage and bodies were strewn along the tracks for 1,000 feet. The death car is a 1947 model (lower picture). Mr. Milne, the only one not thrown out of the vehicle, was imprisoned behind the steering wheel. The photo indicates that the car was struck squarely by the Lindsay-Belleville express train.—(Photo of car by W. H. Reid, Campbellford.)

Says Reds May Try New Tricks

BERLIN, Aug. 31—(AP)—Brig. Gen. Frank L. Howley predicted today Russia would try more tricks to oust the Western allies from Berlin.

The retiring United States commandant of Berlin told a press conference "they will keep trying tricks and pressure as long as they think they can get away with it."

"My guess is that they won't get away with it and I would advise them not to try."

Howley, who published today an 80,000-word report on his four years as American Chief in Berlin, said the United States "is not willing to let bygones be bygones and forget what has happened here in the past. We will not forget the lessons we have learned."

At his final press conference before sailing for home next week, Howley paid a long, earnest tribute to the German people of Berlin and predicted "your city will one day be the capital of a United Germany. I cannot say when that will be because there is no way of predicting when the Russains will stop their pressure to tear the country apart."

In his detailed report of United States occupation in Berlin, Howley blamed Russian efforts to seize the entire city for the friction between the four powers.

"Today," he concluded, "the United States and its allies, Britain and France, enjoy a prestige in Berlin far greater than at any time since the war; Berlin looks forward to an opportunity to continue its progress along the path of democracy.

Red Flyer Repents, Handed Back To Russians By US

VIENNA, Aug. 31—(AP)—Anatole Barsov, one of two Russian flyers who deserted to the west last year, was handed back to Russian authorities today, an official United States announcement said.

Barsov had been in the American zone of Austria since Aug. 24, pending completion of negotiations with the Soviets. The Soviet airman was said to have repented his flight about a month ago and asked Russian officials in New York to expediate his return to Russia.

The announcement said the transfer was made at the Enns River Bridge this morning.

Barzov and his navigator, Lieut. Peter Pirigov, crash-landed their plane at the American base at Linz last October. They told American Army officers the Russian people were "oppressed" by Stalin.

A third occupant of the plane, a Soviet sergeant, wanted to return to behind the Iron Curtain and was permitted to do so.

Barzov and his navigator were given political asylum in the United States as refugees.

Went to Virginia

The two Russians said then they particularly wanted to visit the state of Virginia. When they were brought to the United States, the Virginia Chamber of Comberce took them on a scenic tour of the state last February. Pirigove has since been reported working on a book in New York. The State Department said he had "continued a firm desire" to remain in the United States.

Then Tuesday, the Soviet Embassy formally complained over the "sudden disappearance" of Barzov from Washington. The Embassy said he had "repented" fleeing Russia and had arranged to return a month ago before dropping from sight.

The State Department cleared up the mystery later in the day. It said Barzov was taken into custody by immigration officials when he was found visiting the Soviet Embassy Aug. 17.

Fire Destroys Papers

ORILLIA, Aug. 31.—(CP). — Fire of undetermined origin broke out Tuesday night in the stereotype department of the Orillia News-Letter, one of the two weekly newspapers here, destroying the printed copies of this week's paper.

No estimate of damage has yet been made available, but the loss is expected to run into several thousand dollars.

May Send Arms To Yugoslavia

LONDON, Aug. 31—(AP)—Restrictions on the sale of military equipment to Yugoslavia may be eased shortly by the United States and Britain, Diplomatic officials here report.

They said Tuesday a decision in the matter is expected when Foreign Secretary Ernest Bevin meets with State Secretary Dean Acheson in Washington soon.

If Yugoslavia can survive as an independent State, without ties to the east or west, the informants say, an important precedent will have been set for other Communist-led countries.

Fire Chiefs Urge Removal Of All Overhead Wiring

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 (CP)—Canada's fire chiefs would like to see the eventual removal of all overhead wiring in the cities and large towns of this country.

In a resolution passed Tuesday at the 41st annual convention of the Dominion Fire Chiefs Association, they said overhead wiring constitutes an unnecessary hazard for firefighters, particularly nowadays when aluminum ladders are used.

The fire chiefs suggested municipalities consider a long-term solution to the problem—preferably that of placing all wires in conduits underground.

The resolution was introduced by Deputy Fire Chief J. B. Fraser of Saskatoon who said that when it comes to wiring methods, Canada is still living "in the era of the gay nineties."

He said "had proper planning been instituted in our cities and larger towns years ago, they would not be faced with the problem that is before them today—the awful congestion of interlaced overhead wires, as if giant spiders had been let loose to mar without hindrance the appearance of our civic squares and business and commercial thoroughfares."

Montreal and London, Ont., are making progress in the work of clearing the overhead wires, but on the whole, Canadian cities were backward, he added.

Elections were held at Tuesday's session of the convention and Chief R. McRonald of London., Ont., was chosen president, succeeding Chief Charles Vince of Guelph. Chief Allan Clark of Lakefield, Ont., was returned as secretary-treasurer.

Rev. Michael Collins of Marblehead, Mass., a fire department Roman Catholic chaplain, addressed the convention and told the chiefs they are too modest about themselves and their jobs.

"There are other workers who wouldn't give their lives for their jobs," he said. "You would."

Typhoon Hits Japan; Steamer Lost

Early Reports Indicate Worst Storm In Past 11 Years

TOKYO, Aug. 31 (AP)— The second half of Tokyo's worst typhoon in 11 years roared across this teeming area tonight killing at least five persons, injuring 35 and loosing 14 ships in Yokosuka harbor.

The second half of the storm seemed worse than the first. Tokyo houses were demolished, several fires raged and streets were littered with debris.

An 80-mile-an-hour wind whipped the seas into a fury. Sixty-foot waves lashed the low shoreline.

Japanese police reported one dead and four injured at Odawara. Forty homes in Odawara were destroyed.

The main railroad line south of Yokohama was washed out. Famed Shonan Beach Drive, built on sand dunes 15 feet high, was washed out in many places by tides which moved 500 feet inland.

Arrest 5 Men Car Theft Ring

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP).— One of the largest car theft rings ever to operate in Ontario may have been smashed with the arrests of five men in Hamilton, Toronto police said today.

Three men were arrested on Tuesday and two others this morning. The latest arrest was of James Casey, 40-year-old Hamilton used car dealer whom the police named as the suspected leader of the ring. He is charged with conspiracy to steal cars. Also arrested this morning was Joe Penno, 22, picked up in a Hamilton garage.

Case and the three men arrested Tuesday—Lennis Patterson 32, of Toronto, Carl Coughlin 24, of Chapeau, Que., and Edmund Bisson 22, of Winnipeg—appeared in Magistrate's Court in Toronto today on the conspiracy charge, and were remanded to September 8.

Also brought to Toronto were three women. Mrs. Margaret Jones 39, of Winnipeg, and her 19-year-old daughter Doris are held on charges of theft of a dress and suit from a Toronto department store. A 15-year-old daughter of Mrs. Jones was picked up but she was not held.

Police here said the ring was responsible for most of the thefts of new cars in Toronto, Hamilton and Niagara Falls, Ont., in the last two years. They said that nine members of the ring were arrested previously and sentenced to terms in jail.

Bolivia Rebels Flee From Town

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 31 — (AP). — The Cochabamba radio reported that Government forces today recaptured Cochabamba, which Rightist rebels had held since Saturday.

Troops under Gen. Ovidio Quiroga took control of the rebel stronghold, 150 miles south-east of La Paz, at 9 a.m., after four days of fighting, the radio announced.

The general staff said Tuesday night that most of the resistance in the city of 90,000 population had been crushed, but that actual occupation would be delayed until today to avoid "probable disturbances."

Some 2,000 government troops launched the Cochabamba attack —first major battle with the rebels—after the state had called up all men 19 to 50 to quell the four-day revolt.

The Bolivian radio "Avaroa," heard in Lima, said the rebel leaders fled by plane after the Cochabamba defeat. It said they were en route to Arequipa, Peru.

Observers said the fall of Cochabamba would isolate Santa Cruz, another big town in rebel hands. It lies about 150 miles east of Cochabamba.

CAPETOWN, South Africa, Aug. 31—(AP)—Segregation was officially introduced Tuesday into the Capetown Post Office. Notices divided counters into sections for whites and non-whites. It is part of the government's announced program to bring about segregation in all spheres of South African life.

Russian Troops Move Nearer Yugoslav Border

BELGRADE, Aug. 31 (Reuters) —Russian troop and plane movements reported near the Yugoslav-Romanian border were believed today to be a sharpening of the anti-Tito "nerve war" and not a threat of Soviet military action.

Usually reliable sources were reported that elements of two Soviet armored divisions stationed in Romania had been approaching the Yugoslav border during the last two days. They were said to have tanks. Supporting planes were also repoorted to have moved west in Romania.

(Alex Singleton, Associated Press correspondent in Belgrade said today that it should be emphasized that the Yugoslavs are showing no concern over the possibility that the propaganda and economic struggle between Yugoslavia and her Communist neighbors will turn into a shooting war.

(In the current temperate weather, the hottest places to pick up headlines about crisis are a few legations which claim inside knowledge of the situation but decline to disclose the source of their information.

Appear Calm

(By contrast, the United States Embassy was taking things calmly and showing scant signs of anticipating a showdown now in the Yugoslav-Russian dispute, Singleton said.)

Military observers here, commenting on the reported moves, said that the country south of the Yugoslav borders with Hungary

Czech Reds Threaten Prison For Opponents

PRAGUE, Aug. 31 (AP) — Czechoslovakia's Communist-led government, through the controlled press, today threatened ruthless suppression of all underground activity. It warned that prison awaits all persons who know about anti-government plotting and fail to inform the police promptly.

The press loosed the warning following the government's announcement Tuesday that it had crushed an armed revolt aimed at overthrowing the regime and returning Czechoslovakia to non-Communist rule.

The government announcement had said that six of the accused were sentenced to death; 10, including three women, to life imprisonment and an unspecified number to prison terms of one to 25 years. Ten were reported acquitted.

Car Struck By Freight Train Carried 1,000 Feet At Campbellford Crossing

Seymour Township Family of Father, Mother, Two Daughters, Mother-in-Law Victims of Town's Worst R.R. Accident

CAMPBELLFORD, Aug. 31 (ENS)—A family of five has been wiped out as a result of a level-crossing accident here on Tuesday night, believed to be the worst in the history of Campbellford. Wreckage and bodies of the five victims whose car was struck by a CNR freight was strewn along the tracks for 1,000 feet. Members of the dead family are Kenneth Milne, 37, a Seymour Twp. farmer; his wife Pauline, 33; his two young daughters, Faye, 10, and Betty, 8; and his mother-in-law, Mrs. Ernest Ingram, 65.

Mrs. Ingram, Mrs. Milne and Betty are believed to have perished almost instantly their vehicle was struck. Mr. Milne was pinned in his car and dragged the full 1,000 feet, and he remained alive for another 25 minutes.

Faye who was one of the four thrown from the car died at 6.20 a.m. today after an emergency operation was performed on her during the night at Campbellford Hospital.

Her injuries included a severe cut on the head and on the chest, and despite the operation and repeated blood transfusions she failed to recover. The death of the eight-year-old girl completed the destruction of the family.

It was originally reported that Betty lived through the night and died about nine hours later. The bodies were so badly mutilated that identification was at first confused between Betty and her sister, Faye. Later it was confirmed that it was Faye who died early today.

Two Eye Witnesses

There were only two eye-witnesses to the accident—Engineer J. Morris of Lindsay, driving the 19-car, Lindsay to Belleville Express, and Mrs. Victor Free of Campbellford.

Sisters Save Mother, 105, In House Fire

TORONTO, Aug. 31 (CP) — Two aged sisters alternately pushed and dragged a wheel chair with their paralyzed 105-year-old mother across a narrow roof during the night after fire drove them from their second-storey apartment in mid-town Toronto.

Mrs. Marie Harakas, 76, and Mrs. Philip Malamas, 50, moved cautiously across the tarred roof toward a neighboring apartment where the mother, Mrs. Helen Kilismanis, was placed in bed.

The sisters and mother were sleeping when fire broke out in the apartment over a snack bar. Roused by another tenant, they made their way across the top of the building, 30 feet up to safety.

Bevin, Cripps Depart For Washington

SOUTHAMPTON, Eng., Aug. 31 (CP)—Sir Stafford Cripps, Chancellor of the Exchequer, and Foreign Secretary Bevin sailed on the Mauretania today for their dollar talks in Washington.

Bevin told reporters it is "probably one of the most important missions in history. Unless we can find the right answer to the financial and economic problems" he said, "we shall not have laid a sound foundation for the future peace of the world."

He said he welcomed President Truman's speech in Philadelphia Monday promising to help Britain grapple with her economic problems. "They won't be solved by talking at each other," Bevin said, "they will be solved by talking with one another."

May Visit Canada

There is a possibility that the Foreign Secretary will visit Canada, but it was learned in London today that a decision about this will not be made by Bevin until he reaches Washington.

The brief has not been made public but it is said authoritatively to propose in broad terms that:

1. Britain will cut government spending, try to increase factory

Says Hong Kong Can Be Defended

HONG KONG, Aug. 31.—(Reuters).—Lt.-Gen. W. Festing, general officer commanding in Hong Kong, said today he is completely confident his garrison here can resist any aggression.

Gen. Festing said the reinforcement of the whole garrison was going well and had gone completely according to plan.

"Thank goodness we have been given extremely good forces and have been able to consider the situation as a whole," he said, comparing today's circumstances with those of 1941 when the Japanese overran the colony.

He said the basic differences from the situation in 1941 were that the Japanese then had complete command of the sea and almost complete mastery of the air.

In 1941 the defenders were presented with a "terribly difficult task," he said, whereas today there was an adequately well-balanced force "sent here with a purpose and as part of a considered plan."

He said that the density of aircraft guns, when completed, would compare favorably with that in London during the height of the Second World War.

Magnetic Pole Found Still Moving, Well Inside Canada

OTTAWA, Aug. 31 (CP)—Canada's most "attractive" possession—the magnetic North Pole—is still on the move, heading in a north-westerly direction at a slow steady pace.

A team of scientists and airmen flew back to nearby Rockcliffe Tuesday from their annual two-month patrol of the Pole and reported that it is functioning normally and remains well inside Canadian territory.

They charted the exact position of the Pole and located it about 73½ degrees north, 100 degrees west.

That means that compasses all over the world—provided they are in good working order—point in the direction of a spot 1,000 sea miles south of the geographic North Pole.

Heading the party which returned to Ottawa was Ralph D. Hutchison, chief magnetician of the Dominion Observatory, who found the magnetic pole behaving normally with its centre in Ownmanney Bay on the northwest side of Prince of Wales Island.

The seven-man crew of the twin-engined Canso included Flt.-Lt. D. R. Cuthbertson of Brantford; LAC W. Southcombe of Sarnia and LAC C. Service of Almonte, Ont.

On hand to meet the returning team was Glenn Madill, head of the Dominion Observatory Terrestial Magnetism Section.

Describing the trip as "very successful," he said its purpose was to produce more precise information for magnetic charts for aerial navigation, studies of radio interference, and movements of the Pole.

Mr. Madill said the magnetic pole has moved roughly 200 miles north during the 120 years it has been studied. It is heading to the northwest at about five to 10 miles a year but whether it will continue in the same direction is a question.

Ban On Sun Dresses Proposed In Montreal

MONTREAL, Aug. 31 (CP) — The Quebec Union of Municipalities came out in favor of a ban on the wearing of flesh-exposing sun dresses today.

The Union's board of directors, meeting here, passed a resolution congratulating J. O. Asselin, Montreal executive committee chairman, who suggested the ban some weeks ago.

A by-law which would bar the wearing of sun dresses and midriff exposure has been drafted but as yet has not been put on city council's agenda.

Chinese Reds Thrust In Kwantung

CANTON, Aug. 31 — (AP) — Chinese Communist irregulars invaded Kwangtung province today. The Red threat to Canton gained force along an arc north of the Nationalist capital eastward to the sea.

Press dispatches said Red irregulars, equipped by Gen. Liu Po-cheng in Communist-held Kiangsi province, had knifed into northeastern Kwangtung and taken Pingyun, 210 miles northeast of Canton. They were reported stabbing on southward from there.

Whether this was the same new Red drive the Ministry of National Defence said was threatening Lungchun was not clear. Lungchun is 145 miles from Canton and 65 miles southwest of Pingyun. This would put it in the path of the irregulars' thrust past Pingyun.

One-eyed General Liu apparently was trying to force the Nationalists to divert part of their strength to northeastern Kwangtung to make full-scale invasion easier for his regular armies.

Canton is the Kwangtung provincial capital.

Other forces from Liu's armies have overrun Jucheng, 170 miles north of Canton, and pushed on to within 10 miles of the Canton-Hankow railway.

If they sever the rail line the main Nationalist defence force for South China would be cut off from its major supply base, Canton. Headquarters of Gen. Pai Chun-hsi are at Hengyang on the railway 265 miles north of Canton.

The Communist strategy seemed to be to force Pai's big defence force to retreat southwestward into his native Kwangsi province and not defend Canton.

On the southeastern China front, the Nationalists were reported reinforcing Swatow, port city east of Canton, with troops from Formosa. This move apparently was in anticipation of a continued Red drive down the coast. The coastal push now threatens Amoy, mainland headquarters of the Southeast China Command.

CSU Strikers Ask Passage To Canada

LONDON, Aug. 31 (CP)—Six Canadian seamen began a picket parade Tuesday outside Canada House in the heart of London, renewing their demand to see Dana Wilgress, Canadian high commissioner in London.

Wilgress, however, is on his way to Scotland.

The men carried rough posters painted with such slogans as: Canadian Seamen Demand Repatriation, Make Canadian Ship Owners Obey the Law and One Law for Seamen, Another for Ship Owners.

The men are from the Canadian ships involved in the recent British phase of the Canadian Seamen's Union strike. "Stranded" in Britain when their ships left at the end of the London dock strike, they demand that shipping companies repatriate them to Canada under terms of the Canada Shipping Act.

obscured by banks and houses. Campbellford Council has been advocating one at this junction, about a mile east of the Centre St. station, for a number of years.

An inquest has been called for later today.

Witnesses can offer no explanation for the crash. Although there is no warning system to caution oncoming motorists they claim the engineer blew a long blast on his whistle. Visibility was good.

As a resident of the district Mr. Milne must have known of the presence of the tracks having crossed them many times.

Whistle Blown Twice

In a statement to Coroner Dr. W. W. Baker of Campbellford, Engineer Morris said: "We were travelling at the yard-limit speed of 10 to 12 miles an hour. The whistle was blown twice before reaching the crossing and the train bell was ringing. I didn't see the car until we were practically at the crossing and then after seeing the car I heard the crash."

When struck by the Belleville freight the car with the five occupants was squarely on the tracks.

Four bodies were tossed at intervals along the tracks. Mrs. Ingram was found 200 feet from the crossing, Betty at 500 feet, Mrs. Milne at 700, and Faye somewhere between the position of her sister and the badly-battered 1947 car.

Mr. Milne's feet were pinned in the vehicle and when found his head was wedged in against the right door. He was still alive when Dr. Baker, the coroner, arrived a few minutes later.

Pallbearer At Funeral

Earlier in the day he had been a pallbearer at the funeral of a friends, A. E. Bennett of Meyersburg.

The Milne family who resided at the little hamlet of Menie, about eight miles east of Campbellford, were well known in the district and their death shocked a host of friends in the community. Shortly after 9:20 p.m. when the accident occurred a large crowd gathered to survey the scene of the tragic wreck. One estimate put the onlookers at 1,500 to 2,000.

A forgotten errand may have been the indirect cause of the quintet's death. After attending the funeral of his friend Mr. Milne drove into town with his family, including his mother-in-law, a resident of the 7th Line of Seymour.

Corn cutting to fill the silo was to have taken place today on the Milne farm and one of the reasons for their coming to town was to lay in provisions. Their other purpose, besides doing some general shopping, was to deliver a crate of eggs.

When the smashed car was examined the crate of eggs was found still in the trunk. Apparently Mr. Milne had gone partway home and then realized he had forgotten to deliver them. The presumption continues that he turned his car about and once more headed into town.

His route lay across the CNR tracks at Centre St.

A few of the rods on the pilot (cowcatcher) of the express were bent, otherwise the train was undamaged. After the accident it backed up on a siding at the Campbellford station to let the Toronto to Belleville passenger train through. Even so the latter was delayed about an hour.

The train crew on the eastbound express were all from Lindsay: D. L. Curtin, conductor; J. Morris, engineer; Jack Rowell, fireman; and two brakemen—T. H. Hawkins and W. J. Trick.

Among those investigating the accident were Chief Constable George H. Hardy of Campbellford and Constable W. E. Cargin; and Provincial Constable Arthur Kellogg of Hastings.

The bodies of the victims are at the Bennett Funeral Home, Campbellford, until after the inquest.

Small Girl Runs In Front Of Car

Running from behind a parked car on Sherbrooke St., six-year-old Joan Williams, 194 Sherbrooke St., was hit by the bumper of a car driven by Sidney Barnes of Toronto about one p.m. today.

The little girl, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Williams, was running from the home of a friend across the street to her home. Constable W. S. Fife reported skid marks showed 30 feet before the point of impact. The car stopped about three feet after hitting the girl. She was thrown to the side of the street and apparently suffered only a bad bump on the right temple. Dr. R. K. Magee was called in to examine her.

Small Boy Hurt When Hit By Car

Seven-year-old Edward Tate was injured when knocked off his tricycle by a car driven by Mrs. Margaret Burns, Weller St., at the corner of Bethune and King Sts. at noon today.

Police said a panel delivery truck parked on the north side of King St. facing east obstructed the view of both the young boy and Mrs. Burns. Driver of the truck was John B. Cavanaugh, 380 Queen St.

Investigating Constable William G. Scott took the boy to his home at 187 Stewart St. and then to the clinic for treatment. He was reported suffering from cuts and bruises.

The accident occurred as the youngster was crossing King St. on his tricycle. Mrs. Burns was driving along King St.

Ease Customs Rules

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) —The United States wants to make it easier for British and other foreign goods to enter the United States, so Britain can earn more of the dollars she badly needs.

Government officials who reported this to-day said administration counsel already are drafting legislation to simplify and modernize customs regulations.

British officials attending the current Anglo-American-Canadian financial talks are reported to have said present American customs involve more red tape than those of any other country.

Government officials familiar with the problem agree that simplified customs practices could attract more British exports and thus help Britain in its present economic slump.

Boycott Of All U.S. Ships Under SIU Contract May Be Asked By Canadian Seamen's Union

MONTREAL, Aug. 31 (CP)—The long struggle between Canada's warring seamen's unions Tuesday echoed with talk of "ban" and "boycott" as the Canadian Seamen's Union said here that unless the rival Seafarers' International Union (A.F.L.) stops "interfering" on the Great Lakes, it will request the World Federation of Trade Unions to boycott all United States ships under S.I.U. contract.

Meanwhile, William Stevenson, port agent of the S.I.U. in Milwaukee, said his union had renewed its "ban" on the unloading in Great Lakes harbors of ships manned by the C.S.U.

Stevenson said the unloading embargo has tied up 24 ships of the Patterson Steamships, Ltd., Fort William, Ont., some 20 vessels and six barges of the upper lakes and St. Lawrence Company, and six ships and six barges of the Quebec and Ontario Transport Company. At least one Canadian ship is tied up in Milwaukee and three in Chicago.

Stevenson said the ban was renewed because the Paterson Company failed to comply with an agreement to screen out Communist crew members. Gordon MacQuoil, manager of the Paterson Line, said his company is "just as anxious" as the S.I.U. to screen Communists.

The C.S.U. has been on strike against east-coast Canadian deep-sea shipowners since March 31 but the walkout does not affect C.S.U.-manned ships on the lakes.

Unless the S.I.U. ceases its picketing of Canadian ships, the C.S.U. statement said, the C.S.U. will "take action against all S.I.U. ships on the lakes."

WINNIPEG, Aug. 31 (CP)—Barley displayed independent strength in early trade today on the Winnipeg Grain Exchange as oats fell off under increased hedging sales.

Buying in both coarse grains came from eastern shippers. Offerings in barley were light.

Dealings in flax were inactive with only the December contract showing on the board. An opening quotation on October flax was taken off the board.

Rye prices declined under liberal hedging sales in dull trade.

Prices:

Oats—Oct. ⅜ lower at 73B; Dec. unchanged at 71⅛B; May ⅜ lower at 70½B.

Barley — Oct. ¾ higher at $1.25¾B; Dec. ½ higher at $1.20B; May ¼ higher at $1.16⅝B.

Flax—Oct. not open; Dec. 1 higher at $3.40.

Mine Stocks Active On Toronto Exchange

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP).—Activity that had centred in a handful of mining issues bubbled over into a wide list of mining stocks here to-day. Golds and base metals came into steady demand with the few features of recent sessions leading the way. Industrials also firmed and a sudden spurt in Western oils at the half-way mark lifted key issues.

Upper Canada Mines, Queenston, Northland, continued the high spots on the board, trading heavily for new highs early in the day and then tending to ease under profit-taking pressure. Recent drilling news on Upper Canada property in the Larder Lake area sparked activity. Queenston and Northland adjoin.

Also climbing into the limelight were a few issues in the Little Long Lac district, Northwestern Ontario. Senior producers began to climb as interest spread over a wider list and key junior producers showed gains ranging up 15 cents.

Osisko Lake highlighted a stronger base metal list, climbing to a new high at $1.18 in brisk dealings. Sherritt Gordon went to a new high at $2.92 before settling back.

Gains ranged up to 25 cents in key Western oil issues.

Sells Policy, Killed By Train

DUNBARTON, Aug. 31.—Less than 10 minutes after selling a life insurance policy to a resident here, Hilton Wood, 32-year-old insurance agent, was killed when his car was struck by a CNR freight train at a level crossing on the outskirts of the village.

Wood's body was found in a deep ditch near the tracks. His late model car, reduced to scrap, was dragged 620 yards westward down the track by the locomotive.

Police feared that another person had died in the accident, and they and district residents searched the area by the light of transport flares. A life insurance policy made out to Fred Shields of Spruce Hill Rd., Dunbarton, was found in the wreckage.

A visit to Shields' home found him safe and sound. He said Wood had visited him that evening and concluded the sale of a policy. As he departed he mentioned he was going to Fairport Beach to see another prospect, Shields said.

Wood was a native of Dunbarton and had lived in Toronto in recent years. He was recently married.

Newspaper Linage Increased In July

NEW YORK, Aug. 31 (AP) — Newspapers were the only media to carry more national advertising in July than in the same month of 1948, the Aug. 31 issue of Printers' Ink says. The magazine's national advertising index showed newspapers increased their national advertising by 13 per cent in July over a year ago. National advertising in magazines was off 5 per cent, radio off 7 per cent, outdoor off 5 per cent and business papers off 4 per cent.

and Romania was well suited to armored action. The only serious tank obstacle before Belgrade would appear to be the River Danube, they said.

The Russians were said to be concentrating and setting up headquarters around Timisoara, about 30 miles from the Yugoslav border, in northwest Romania.

According to the sources responsible for these reports, this latest movement meant that the elements of about five divisions were near the Yugoslav border.

Major Import

MOSCOW, Aug. 31 (AP)—Russia's latest verbal blast at Yugoslav Marshal Tito was regarded by foreign diplomats here today as of major import.

All Moscow papers carried page-long accounts of the note sent Yugoslavia Tuesday, which denounced Tito's government as a deserter from socialism and an ally of the Western powers.

Foreign diplomats whose business it is to interpret developments here for their home governments sharpened their pencils and began interpreting all over again.

(This dispatch, which passed through Soviet censorship, gave no indication as to what changes in Russian policy—if any—may be indicated.

War of Nerves

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) —State Secretary Dean Acheson said today that developments on the Yugoslav border appear to be part of a war of nerves.

He told a press conference that developments appear to be taking place with a sort of calculated publicity. He did not say specifically what he had in mind, but there are rumors of Soviet troop movements toward the Yugoslavia frontier.

Acheson said there are no unusual talks with British and French officials about the situation although, he added, the United States is watching the developments closely.

Endearing Words Not Used, Claim

GUELPH, Aug. 31—Two ex-deacons of York Road Baptist Church said Tuesday they had never heard the pastor call any of the female members of his flock "honey" or "darling" in the two-and-a-half years they have been associated with him.

Albert North and L. Holliday were replying to statements made in Toronto Sunday night by Marjorie Clarke that Rev. Thomas Guthrie was in the habit of calling the women by such endearing terms. "It's just his way," Miss Clarke told Dr. T. T. Shields when she came to Toronto to defend Mr. Guthrie.

Amorous words were used in a letter written by the married minister to Mrs. Robert Stitt, then a member of his church with her husband.

Disclosures of the letter to deacons of the church touched off a schism which threatens to end in the courts unless Mr. Guthrie resigns. The dissident members who claim to represent a majority of the church enrolment, are holding separate services in the Orange Hall and have engaged legal counsel in their battle to oust the pastor.

Mr. North and Mr. Holliday said tonight they are quite willing to forgive Mr. Guthrie and drop the matter, providing the minister will vacate the pastorate.

Both men denied reports they had been trying to oust the pastor for some time, and were taking this way out. "There was never any major issue of controversy between the minister and the deacons until this thing came up," they said.

War Veteran Finds Farming On Prairies Pleasant Task

YELLOW GRASS, Sask., Aug 31 — (CP). — There is a big difference in this year's estimated $400,000,000 Saskatchewan wheat crop and the $70,000,000 yield the province harvested in 1934.

For one thing, there has been an increase in the price of wheat from 60 cents a bushel to about $2. But there have been other changes in the last 15 years.

Take farmer Herbert Erb, 29-year-old Second World War veteran, as an example.

This week he finished harvesting a 4,000-bushel wheat crop in the rich, Regina plains farming country about 60 miles south-east of the Saskatchewan capital.

The job was done in five days with a self-propelled combine, requiring one man. Young Erb, clean shaven and no manure on his boots—he hasn't any cows or horses—hauled the wheat to the elevator in a new truck while his helper took off the crop.

In the nearby town of Yellow Grass, farmers have built $15,000 homes. A farmer-owned new car is the rule rather than the exception. Winters at Vancouver and California are commonplace.

Fifteen years ago on his father's farm, Erb recalled, harvesting was a month-long operation. Stookers set up sheaves from dawn to dusk for little more than $2 a day. A combine expert this year gets $12 for a 10-hour day.

Big Difference

In 1934, stookers were followed by a 15-man threshing crew who filled up the farmhouse and bunkhouses and kept the womenfolk cooking all hours.

Young Erb laughs at the jingle about difficulties of keeping "them down on the farm after they've seen Paree." After seeing Paris—and Holland, Belgium, England and Scotland as a member of the Canadian Provost Corps with three years' overseas service—young Erb headed right back to farming.

He owns a debt-free half section—320 acres—which he values with his machinery at $20,000. The district has not had a crop failure in 10 years.

But while Edb was busy taking 25 bushels an acre off his summer-fallow, farmers in other sections of the province were not so fortunate.

Of Saskatchewan's 120,000 farmers, 50,000 this year will receive $12,000,000 in aid under the Federal Government's Prairie Farm Assistance Act. One of the heaviest payments since the Act was passed 10 years ago, it will go to farmers who have a wheat yield of eight bushels or less to the acre.

Most of the payments will go to the almost-perennial drought area in South-western Saskatchewan.

U.K. Hostelries Suffer Loss In Trade

LONDON, Aug. 31 (CP) — It has been blue skies and sunshine this summer for Britain's 9,000 licensed hotels, but mine host isn't setting up drinks on the house.

Although the customers keep coming at roughly the same levels as last year, there has been less spending than in any other season since the war.

Hotels and boarding houses remote from the large centres of population have been hard hit. The chief sufferers have been England's famed lakes district and the Scottish highlands.

The British Association of Hotels and Restaurants blamed the decline partly on gasoline rationing and high rail fares.

Another factor which took business away from British hotels was the determination of the average Briton to spend his holidays abroad. During July outgoing vacationers poured across the Channel at a rate of 50,000 a week, taking £1,500,000 ($6,000,000) with them.

But the hotels' real anger is reserved for the catering wages act, legislation known in the trade as the factory whistle act. It sets hours of work and basic pay for Britain's 157,000 licensed hotel workers and is blamed for many of the hotel industry's ills.

Its complicated provisions include a 90-hour "fluid fortnight" designed to stagger overtime work from one week to the next. It also prevents any employee working more than 14 hours a day, even when the work is spread over a period which may include two or three breaks.

Hotel managements claim this forces them to pay much more overtime or reduce service. Trying to get an evening meal or even a sandwich after 8:30 p.m. is one of the things that makes tourists wonder about Britain.

In London, the hotels are incensed because the new regulations enabling establishments to remain open until 2:00 a.m. apply only if certain conditions are observed, including the provision of dancing and entertainment and a guarantee that food receipts exceed those from liquor.

Cobourg's Finances Reported Strong

COBOURG, Aug. 31.—(ENS).—Had the town of Cobourg anticipated the government aid to municipalities as announced Monday by Premier Leslie Frost, it is doubtful if the town could have affected any savings in interest charge, the Examiner learned yesterday.

The $600,000 sewage disposal plant which is now in process of construction is being financed through debentures sold at an interest rate of 3¼%. When the various firms bid on the Cobourg debentures, the winning tender was one of the lowest rates ever paid on municipal debentures in these present times.

Mayor Joe Smith was absent yesterday attending the Ontario Municipal Association convention at London, Ont. and could not be reached for comment as to what would have been the situation had the town known and waited for the present proposal of provincial aid. However, while the saving to some municipalities under the provincial scheme may be as much as 2½ per cent, this would apparently apply in such cases as municipalities paying five and six per cent for their debentures.

Cobourg could by no means save even 2% as this would mean a rate of only 1¼% when the borrowing rate of 3¼% is taken into consideration. Under the circumstances, therefore, Cobourg apparently did as well by private financing, the Examiner was informed.

Britain To Show Advances In Jet Aircraft

LONDON, Aug. 31.—(Reuters).—Britain's aircraft manufacturers will set out to show they lead the world in jet-powered aircraft when their annual air display opens at Farnborough, Hampshire, Sept. 7.

Two of the planes listed for the show are faster than the speed of sound (700 miles an hour) and eight can reach speeds between 600 and 700 miles an hour. Fourteen others have speeds more than 500 miles an hour.

Attending what has come to be accepted as the world's greatest "air trade show," world aeronautical experts and military observers will be given a first-hand view of all Britain's latest designs in turbo-jet and airscrew turbine-engined aircraft.

Britain's advance in jet aircraft is shown by the fact that three years ago only five jet machines were seen at the display.

Star of this year's show is likely to be the all-jet De Havilland airliner "Comet," acknowledged the world's fastest of its type, with four "Ghost" turbo-jets giving a cruising speed of 500 miles an hour at 40,000 feet.

Four turbo-jet airliners, the Vickers "Viscount," the Armstrong Whitworth "Appolo," the Handley-Page "Five" and the Handley-Page "Marathon" — the only aircraft of their kind in the world—will be on show.

The "Canberra One," the RAF's first jet bomber, powered with two Rolls-Royce "Avon" turbo-jets, will lead the demonstrations of Britain's latest military aircraft.

Britain's latest jet fighter, the "Meteor Eight," will be shown to the public for the first time. Other jet fighters will be the Hawker P-1052 and the Vickers Supermarine Type 510 — both have swept-back wings and are capable of supersonic speeds.

Details of the performance of these fighters are still secret. Close inspection of them will not be allowed, but Britain's most experienced test pilots will demonstrate their powers.

FLYING ELEPHANT—Little Siam, a 1,000-pound elephant which was flown by cargo plane from Siam to New York last winter, takes a first look at Toronto's Canadian National Exhibition grounds before putting in daily appearances as a special children's attraction in the grandstand productions. On hand to greet Little Siam and George Hamid, her trainer, are Carole Turofsky, 10, and her five-year-old sister, Rita.

All Cyclists To Be Given Reflector Tapes

COBOURG, Aug. 31. — Sponsored by the Youth Service Committee of the Rotary Club of Cobourg, an assortment of reflector tapes are being sent out to every child with a bicycle in Cobourg. Each child will receive 18 inches of silver tape and nine inches of red tape. This tape is impregnated with many thousands of microscopic globules of glass which will reflect car headlights over several hundred feet, even in the glare of oncoming traffic. The leaflet of instructions that comes with each tape, tells how to affix it to the handlebars, front forks and rear fenders of the bicycle.

Financial Talks

Britain, Canada and the United States are now conferring in Washington on the post-war bugaboo, dollars. Next Tuesday a conference of ministers of the three countries assembles and their discussions will concern diplomacy at very high level, as well as dollars. Canada is touted as being the mediator. If she is mediator that is incidental. Canada is attending out of necessity. Her dollars and trade plight are, like Britain's, serious. She could be the fish caught in the net, the unpadded man in the middle of the scrum line, the creature impaled on the spiked fence between two domains.

• • •

Canada is in a ticklish spot. It is a dollar country yet is short of dollars—the kind to which its "hard" currency is related. It is a country which used to be financially oriented on London, and now is hinged on New York, yet is still sensitive to London. Canada must import from the United States in vast quantities, yet depends for its ability to pay (and to gain a profit in the deal) on huge exports to Britain and other sterling area countries. It must demand payment from them in dollars, yet these countries have not enough of them. Canada is potentially the least self-sufficient of the three nations now conferring at Washington. The United States gets most of its supplies from its own resources; it sells most of its produce to its own great population. Britain is consolidating the sterling area and a large part of Europe into an economic unit, which could, of necessity, become self-sufficient.

• • •

Britain has demonstrated that she can make bilateral trading deals, bypassing the United States (the Argentine and Russian deals are examples). The United States could do likewise, if it needed to. Canada cannot make two-party deals and prosper. Her trade must involve three parties or more.

• • •

Canada has no political big stick. It cannot threaten to try to get along without the United States; for we are economically too tightly integrated with that country. There is no danger of a devastating crack in our economy, that is, a crack so dangerous that there would be great political upheavals. If the British economy cracked, half of Europe's would also crack, and many peoples, already living on a reduced standard, would be forced into a very low one and would be ripe for communism. The United States cannot allow that to happen.

• • •

Canada is no mere mediator at the conferences. She is there as a very anxious participant, and without the cards to play which Britain and the United States have.

Banning The Give-Away Shows

The Federal Communications Comcission of the U.S.A. has ordered that there shall be no more give-away shows in U.S. radio. We presume that all our readers know what a give-away show is; it is one of those quiz programs in which prizes, including such things as radios, phonographs, iceboxes and large sums of money are offered to the listeners who give correct answers. The broadcasters have been quick to raise the question of the legality of the ban, and the F.C.C. may not be able to make it stick. We shall watch the outcome with the keenest interest.

There has been widespread approval of the F.C.C. action, as well as disapproval. Radio entertainers like Fred Allen and Henry Morgan, who depend on legitimate entertainment to attract audiences, are understandably glad to be rid of the competition of the quizzes, which depend on greed for their appeal. And in addition, many people are glad to see the give-away programs banned because they believe that they are not honest, and many of the fantastic prizes are not forthcoming. A recent instance was when an elephant was won on a quiz program, and the winner was sent an alternative prize of much lower value. But as he happened to be an elephant trainer, and therefore able to use an elephant, he demanded his prize; whether he will get it or not we cannot say.

We cannot say that we disapprove of give-away programs, but we think them foolish, and possibly harmful in an indirect way. They represent a form of advertising in which most reputable firms refuse to indulge; they appeal to the instinct to get something for nothing, and in this sense they may be said to debauch public taste, and lower public morals. We never listen to them, because we find them dull and, like other Canadians, we are not eligible for the prizes. But we are glad that the F.C.C. feel, as we do, that man has not conquered the air merely to fill it with nonsense.

Asiatic Outposts Of The West

The western world has given up, it seems, any belief it had that Chiang Kai-shek could or should be allowed to defend their democratic interests in China. Nevertheless Chiang is holding on to whatever Nationalist outposts of China he can, with the aid of the coffers of Nanking which, fattened by earlier contributions from Britain and the U.S.A., he took with him to Canton. Chiang seems doomed to fail because he has little or no support from outside, because within his own party he is losing place and because of the Communist Chinese armies.

The western world is putting on its own show, less bloodily and with some effect. Japan is securely in MacArthur's hands. The French are sternly trying to hold Indo-China. Both India and Pakistan, though independent, are remaining Dominions within the Commonwealth. The Dutch are coming to democratic terms with the Indonesians. Britain has vastly reinforced Hong Kong.

The British Government has given interesting reasons for this reinforcement, reasons given the garrison troops themselves. It has told them that there are 'obligations that cannot be overlooked or renounced' and secondly that 'it is very much to our (British) economic interests to do so'. The Manchester Guardian has put forward a third reason in an editorial criticizing the limits of the other two. It says that "The defence of Hong Kong at this stage is part of a move to form a line behind which can be built up a free world of national states in South Asia."

This seems to us a most cogent and logical purpose for reinforcing the Hong Kong defences, and we agree with the Manchester Guardian that it is one which should be put to the troops, who will more heartily take up their duties there for such a reason than for the mere defence of British economic interest.

Elder Statesmen

Canada is the only one of several countries we happen to be thinking of at the moment which possess one man who is unquestionably its chief elder statesman. He is Mr. Mackenzie King, O.M. (Some ghost breathed in our ear just now the name of the Right Honourable Arthur Meighen. Mr. Meighen is indeed an honoured elder statesman but has long been more secluded from statesmanly paths than Mr. King.) Britain has Mr. Churchill and Lord Halifax. France has Blum and half a dozen others—Petain is probably out of the lists, being a war-time casualty. The United States has Hoover and Baruch. Of the lot Bernard Baruch is the most unusual.

He has become an elder statesman without holding many official positions. He has consulted and been consulted by the greatest of the great in his own country and abroad. He has walked with kings and kept the common Mr.—he is not even an "Honourable". He has served six presidents, several of them intimately and on matters of the greatest national and international importance. The other day he entered his eightieth year, and still holds conferences on park benches.

Any country is enriched by its elder statesmen, for, divorced from cares of office and the bludgeoning of ballots, and full of years of rich experience, they can be guides, philosophers and friends to their nation. Republics may have greater need of an elder statesman than monarchies, for a constitutional king who has sat on the throne for a quarter of a century or more, like King George V, and seen his ministers come and go and had every affair of state pass under his review, can be the best elder statesman of all.

NOTE AND COMMENT

A Nigerian boy, who wants pen-pals, says that collecting American dollars is his hobby. It's the world's hobby at present, son.

We read about a man in Minnesota who has lost four inches in height in a short period. Is this permanent, or merely the result of being bawled out by a traffic cop?

Profile Of Ernest Bloch

WE are on the brink of something approaching an Ernest Bloch festival. Now in his 70th year, Bloch comes from America to conduct first performances of his Pianofort Concerto at the Edinburgh Festival on Saturday next and at a Promenade concert in London the following week. An all-Bloch programme at the Albert Hall on October 13 will introduce to this country the Sacred Service for Reformed Synagogue (baritone, chorus and orchestra), on the preparation and writing of which he spent three years during the early thirties. Also a good deal of Bloch's music will be broadcast by the B.B.C. during his visit to Britain.

All this will help towards evaluation of a composer who, as viewed from this side of the Atlantic, has hitherto worn a bafflingly dual aspect. "I am not a Jew who writes music," Bloch has said in effect. "I am a musician who happens to be a Jew." Nevertheless, he is proud of his race, and the racial imprint is plain in much of his output.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE is fond of writing Poemes Juifs, Meditations Hebraiques and the like. His tune patterns are often evocative of date palms, implacable suns, stars on the purple of an eastern night. The most familiar of Bloch's "racial" pieces is "Schelomo," for 'cello and orchestra, defined as a Hebrew Rhapsody. This he wrote in Switzerland shortly before leaving for America during the Kaiser's war. Bloch was then 35. The score is opulent, weighty, as rich in its colours as an Oriental wall hanging.

✧ ✧ ✧

BLOCH'S technical facility is immense. He studied at Brussels under Ysaye, at Munich under Ludwig Thuille, at Frankfort under Iwan Knorr, "who taught me the greatest thing of all; to teach myself." His Orientalisms have always been adroit and thoroughly professional. But there is another side to his musicianship. As a teacher he sets votive lamps before Bach, Beethoven, de Lassus, Josquin des Pres, Palestrina.

✧ ✧ ✧

AT California University nowadays, as formerly at San Francisco Conservatory and at the Cleveland Institute of Music during the twenties, he tells his classes that seventeenth-century polyphony taught him music's basic truths. Before composing the Sacred Service he not only mastered Hebrew but also limbered up tecnnically by writing more than 1,500 examples of strict counterpoint: all this when turned 50.

✧ ✧ ✧

THE European classical tradition overflows from the lecture-room into much of his music. His Concerto Grosso for strings and piano is a genial essay in neo-classicism. The significant thing is that it dates from 1924-25, before neo-classicism had begun to be modish. All the Bach trumps are here replayed with a skill which occasionally is too smooth to mean very much. There are times when Bloch's facility comes near to being his undoing. But elsewhere he climbs high and nobly. His second string quartet (1941) reveals him as one of the thinkers of music.

✧ ✧ ✧

IT was at the age of 11 that he discovered his bent. He wrote a vow to dedicate his life to music. Then he buried the vow and lighted a "sacramental fire." His father, a cuckoo-clock dealer in Geneva, sent him on the tuitional round of European conservatories, which lasted from 1896 until 1903 or thereabouts. There followed, back in Switzerland, a curiously divided and darting life.

✧ ✧ ✧

HE gave a helping hand in his father's clock warehouse, lectured on metaphysics at Geneva University, sat up into the small hours writing music, conducted orchestral concerts at Lausanne and Neuchatel, and contrived to put in sessions as harmony-and-counterpoint teacher at the Geneva Conservatory. Not all these activities were concurrent, of course; but during the 10 years which preceded his departure for the United States and won for its composer the Musical America award.

✧ ✧ ✧

HIS early works were played by Swiss orchestras, but Bloch aimed higher than doorstep triumphs. Those were effervescent days of new French music, with Debussy near the peak of his powers and Ravel's star beginning to rise. Bloch had lived in Paris as a student. A Paris success was his great dream.

To the Opera-Comique he mailed the score of his newly-finished "Macbeth," with libretto by Edmond Fleg after Shakespeare. He had spent six years on its composition. "Macbeth" was promptly accepted and had 16 performances. It was flayed by many critics and championed by—among others—Romain Rolland, the writer, a tireless torchbearer in his day for contemporary music.

AFTER 1910 nothing more was heard of "Macbeth" until its revival in Italian translation at Naples in 1938. Occasionally one comes upon people who maintain that Bloch's opera ranks with Moussorgsky's "Boris Godounov," but they are lone voices.

Rolland's belief proved a decisive turning point in Bloch's life. Selling up the family business in 1914, he devoted himself exclusively to music. He quickly found himself in difficulties. A Maud Allan ballet tour in the States which he had been asked to serve as orchestral conductor, petered out for want of support. Bloch found himself stranded and penniless in Ohio.

✧ ✧ ✧

FRIENDS came to the rescue. Conducting engagements in New York and Boston, where much of his own music was played, were followed by a chain of teaching and lecturing appointments in schools, institutes and conservatories which have won for Bloch a solid and faithful following during the past quarter of a century. His friendships, once entered upon, are firm and lasting; but he is much too outspoken and uncompromising not to make enemies in a profession where differences of opinion readily engender high feeling.

A NATURALIZED American, Bloch has characteristically tried to express in music what he feels about the country of his adoption. The choral symphony "America," which he lists as an Epic Rhapsody, is dedicated to the memory of Walt Whitman and ends with an anthem which the audience is invited to sing. The dedicatory note has much to say about America's imperishable ideals and the future unifying of the world's races. "America" was received with welcoming arms by concert promoters all over

WITH this work Bloch reached the pinnacle of his name but not of his talent or, as some would insist, genius. During the thirties he spent much time in Europe. Through the generosity of a wealthy family of Californian Jews he was enabled to retire from teaching for a while and concentrate on composition. Taking up his quarters in a village near Lake Lugano, he immersed himself without distraction in the Sacred Service, which some critics regard as his most significant achievement.

✧ ✧ ✧

BLOCH dislikes cities and lives well away from them when he can. His present home, at Agate Beach, Oregon, is in thickly wooded, mountainous country. But his preference for the simple life is kept within bounds: he has a palate for good food, good wine, a good cigar. The former pupil of Ysaye still plays the violin and has been known to give a very exacting violin concerto (1938).

✧ ✧ ✧

THE range of his interests is wide. Philosophy, science, medicine, the ancient civilizations of India and Asia: all are grist to the conversational mill. Bloch's intellectual life, like his music, is well and diversely furnished.

THE AWKWARD SQUAD

Canada And Conservation

(Kingston Whig-Standard)

THE steady drain on the natural resources of this and other nations has been a matter for increasing public concern over the past half-century or so. It has, of course, concerned thinkers as far back as Malthus, perhaps farther. There are, roughly speaking, two schools of thought on the subject. There are those who believe that the world's nations are heading for a situation in which natural resources will be insufficient to meet population needs. And there are those who believe that the laboratories of science will eventually create and develop resources sufficient to meet the needs of a tremendously increased world population.

The former school of thought is well represented in two books published last year, by William Vogt and Fairfield Ogden. These men have been branded as alarmists, and efforts were made by many critics to disprove their thesis that population may soon outrun the essentials of life. They were recently contradicted, although not specifically mentioned, by the contents of a book written by Dr. Harold G. Moulton of the Brookings Institute, who makes the remarkable claim that in one hundred years time the United States could be able to support a population of three hundred million people with a living standard eight times higher than it is today. Dr. Moulton, however, points out emphatically that such a development would involve use of the most modern scientific methods of conservation among other things.

There has been too little attention given to the protection of failing resources and the development of new ones. It is true that more attention has been given these things recently than in former years, but still more is urgently needed. The facts of population growth, dwindling resources of soil, timber, minerals and other resources are self-evident. There will be widespread hope that these developments may be counteracted, even nullified, by scientific developments and discoveries, but it would be folly to rely on the laboratories alone.

The fear that lost resources may never quite be matched is real and justifiable. Scientists may be able to put an amazing amount of new productivity in worn-out soils. They may be able to devise synthetics as yet unimagined, for a wide variety of purposes. They may be able to extract vast and as yet untapped stores of minerals from remote places. They may be able to refine ores now regarded as unusable commercially because of their relatively low grade.

Who can be confident, however, that these answers, however ingenious, will not be more costly than people generally would like? If they are, it could conceivably lead to a lower standard of living. It would be wise to do everything humanly possible to avert that possibility—which means broader legislative programs than are now envisioned.

Bible Message

(From the Authorized Version)

Doubtless thou art our father, though Abraham be ignorant of us, and Israel acknowledge us not: thou, O Lord, art our father, our redeemer, thy name is from everlasting. (Isa. 63: 16.)

✧ ✧ ✧

O come, let us worship and bow down: let us kneel before the Lord our maker. For he is our God; and we are the people of his pasture, and the sheep of his hand. (Ps. 95: 6, 7.)

✧ ✧ ✧

Set your affection on things above, not on things on the earth....

When Christ, who is our life, shall appear, then shall ye also appear with him in glory. Mortify therefore your members which are upon the earth....

Lie not one to another, seeing that ye have put off the old man with his deeds; and have put on the new man, which is renewed in knowledge after the image of him that created him. (Col. 3: 2, 4, 5, 9, 10.)

Reposes From A Crown

("Het Handelsblad", Amsterdam)

Early morning mists still hang among the trees in the temple-like forest around Het Loo palace, but a bird is singing.

An early wanderer is surprised to hear the thud of small hoofs, rapidly approaching, and around the bend of a wide avenue appears a fairy-like vehicle. It is a little wooden house or cabin on wheels, painted in quiet colours. Smoke wisps from the tiny chimney. The horse, an Arabian pony, whinneys at the rising sun. On the box, (or is it the balcony?) of the rolling cottage is a liveried coachman.

The man on his morning walk feels like an intruder when he recognizes the face behind the small window, the face of his country's Queen during fifty years, now "princess" Wilhelmina. He steps from the road, but she has seen him already and waves a friendly hand.

The rolling cabin leaves the road and stops in a clearing. The coachman opens the door and Princess Wilhelmina, wearing a grey suit, steps out. She inhales the fragrant air, then glances briefly to left and right, up and down, testing the light and the scene. They appear to be alight. The coachman unhitches the pony and starts walking the way back. The Princess steps into the cabin and comes out again with her painter's things and a small folding chair under her arm.

On a small stove in the cottage she has left a kettle of water. When it boils, the painter will come back to make tea for her breakfast. A solitary breakfast in the woods, very far away from the pomp and the cares of government which she carried for fifty years.

Schools Needed In Canada To Teach Organ Students

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 31 (CP)—Scarcity of organists and the need for training choir leaders featured discussions at the Canadian College of Organists' annual convention here.

Dr. Charles Peaker of Toronto said there are renowned schools in America teaching pianists "for a life of poverty" and others teaching singers "for a life of disappointment since they fall short of the Metropolitan."

Yet he stressed, there remains a need for schools to teach organ playing and choir-conducting.

"There are requests every day from churches needing organists" he declared.

Deploring the present standard of church music, the incoming president, John Weatherspeed, of Deer Park United Church, Toronto, declared that of dozens of church services he had heard this year in various parts of Ontario he would class only two as good.

Questioned later, he declined to name the two "good" services. It would be embarrassing not only to other organists but to himself, he said.

T. C. Chattoe organist and choir leader of the Metropolitan United Church, London, said that organists too frequently know only how to play the organ, without learning how to play and conduct the choir at the same time.

Opportunities for both learning and putting training into practice are inadequate in Canada. There is a place for refresher courses toward that end, he suggested the college might take steps to correct the situation.

Referring to a refresher course he conducted last summer, Mr. Chattoe said only two of the students could conduct a choir from the organ console.

Lack of leaders in rural areas was pointed out particularly in the discussion. John Cozens of Toronto declared that "many young people don't know they lack proper qualifications."

He said that there was a community about 90 miles from Toronto with organs in its four churches, yet everything played on each organ was in the same key, since that was the only key the organist knew.

There are small centres paying $125 a year for an organist. As a result they get students who learn to play at home. When they improve, the organists move on to places where they receive more money, and so the standard is never improved.

Mrs. Rita Houlihan Buried In Downeyville

DOWNEYVILLE, Aug. 31. — (ENS).—The funeral of the late Rita Houlihan was held from her residence in the village Friday morning at 9 o'clock to St. Luke's church, Downeyville, where requiem mass was said by Rev. Father McFadden, who also said the prayers at the grave. The pallbearers were three nephews, Messrs. Ed. and R. Carlow of Douro, Ed. Healey of Toronto and three cousins, Tom O'Carroll, Don O'Neill and F. O'Neill, all of Downeyville.

Miss Houlihan was born at Downeyville, daughter of Mrs. Houlihan and the late Edward Houlihan and lived all her life here. Besides her mother, she is survived by two brothers, Fergus Houlihan of Toronto, and Morgan at home; three sisters, Mrs. Ray Carlow (Katie), Douoro, Mrs. Dan Healey, Toronto, and Rev. Sister Benedicta of St. Joseph's Community, also of Toronto.

To Unify Drives

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 31 (CP)—Province-wide campaigns to improve traffic safety conditions of Ontario motor vehicles will be launched in the near future by Provincial Police Traffic Inspector Bob Whitts. He said his appointment means that provincial police will be able to conduct uniform activities all across the province and get away from present methods which find individual officers conducting small-scale drives.

Daylight Time May Be Extended

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP).—Toronto has approved a two-month extension of daylight time to November 27, but whether it is carried out depends on the electric power situation, Mayor Hiram McCallum said Tuesday.

He was commenting on an appeal from the Dominion Motor Coach Association for all municipalities in the Eastern time zone to adopt a standard date for reverting to standard time so that transportation schedules will not be upset.

The Mayor said that if Toronto does not face a power shortage like last year's, the extension beyond September 25 will not be necessary. However, he said, a survey has shown an extension of daylight time would help during power shortages.

SEX PERVERTS: "Has anything been done by Toronto police to keep track of discharged sex perverts? How many are there in Toronto?"
Rough estimate by social welfare workers is that 700 to 800 sex perverts are in and about Toronto. Chief Constable Chisholm is as anxious as you that some definite check on these unfortunate persons be kept.
KINDERGARTEN: "Is there any public school close to Gerrard and Main Street with a kindergarten? My five-year-old daughter will be going this year and I am new to this district."

DUDE RANCH: "Is there a dude ranch any place in Ontario? What would the rates be? Would a nine-year-old boy be able to attend the ranch alone? Is the necessary cowboy attire supplied?"
Circle M Ranch at Kleinburg, run by Mr. Charles Mavety, would welcome a boy of nine. The rates here are 60 dollars weekly. Cowboy clothes can be purchased at the ranch.
RING FINGER: "My sister received a beautiful sapphire ring for her birthday in April of this year. She says it should be worn on the third finger, left hand, which she does. Some people are under the impression it is an engagement ring. Don't you think she should wear it on the right hand because it is a birthstone ring?"
The accepted custom is to wear only an engagement ring on the third finger, left hand. But it is the individualists in the world who shake the rest of us out of our ruts. Why not let your sister go on being individual and wear the ring on the finger she prefers.

Local Peewees Even Up Playoff Series

Fred Garvey's East City boys looked real smart last evening at the Bowl as they defeated Bowmanville 15-4, in the second game of the best of three OBA peewee baseball series. Each team now has a victory and the deciding game will be played at Riverside Saturday at 10 a.m.

Doug. McIlmoyle struck out 13 batters, walked four and allowed but four hits in a great effort on the mound for Peterborough. His mates supported him well afield, particularly his infield of Lawrence Towns, Bill Garvey, Del Dorrington and Doug. Baptie. The outfield had little to do as the visitors hit few long ones. Brian Guerin caught a nice game while Stewart led the hitters driving in four runs with three hits. Baptie drove in a pair on three safeties, one a double, while Garvey also had three safe singles.

Here And There In Sports . . .

By The Canadian Press

The "battle of managers" broke out anew Tuesday night with an announcement at Cincinnati that Ezzard Charles, the National Boxing Association's world heavyweight champ, would meet Cleveland's Joe Maxim in a title bout there in November.

Promoter Sam Becker made the announcement during the day at a meeting of the Cincinnati Boxing Commission.

His words brought a quick denial from Jake Mintz at Pittsburgh Mintz described himself "Charles' legal manager . . . recognized as such by the NBA and the New York State Athletic Commission."

He said he had not signed nor did he contemplate signing with Maxim for a title bout at Cincinnati "or any other place at this time."

Becker told reporters he was "amazed" to hear that Mintz had made such a statement.

"Why I just finished talking to Jake on the telephone," Becker asserted, "and he told me I could tell the world that Charles would fight a title bout in Cincinnati.

"He said, however, that we would have to obtain the permission of the International Boxing Club at New York which has an exclusive contract for Charles' title fights."

Becker said he had agreed with Mintz that IBC's permission was necessary.

Dr. George Laing, 56-year-old Windsor physician who says he's had his best golf scores after reaching 50, Tuesday won the Canadian Senior's Golf Association championship and the Shaughnessy Cup with a 36-hole gross of 153 at the 27th annual tournament at Toronto.

With a record entry of 210 shotmakers from various parts of Canada dividing play between two courses, Dr. Laing put together 77 at the par-72 Mississauga layout Tuesday to go with a 76 at the par 71 Toronto Club Monday.

Second place and the Nesbitt Trophy was taken by E. W. Elton of Montreal Marlboro who scored a low gross of 154—79 on the first round and 75 on the second. The Bovart Cup, for low net, went to J. P. Bickell of Missassauga with a 136.

The tournament continues today with a two-ball foursome competition and an international team match between United States and Canadian seniors for the Duke of Devonshire Cup.

Samuel William Renick, an exjockey picked a 72-to-1 winner at Aqueduct race track Tuesday, bet $50 on the horse's nose—and then lost his ticket, worth $3,680.

Renick discovered the loss as he walked glowingly to the $50 window. He reported it to track officials at once, and a mass search started among all the trampled tickets—"stooping," it is called.

Only two $50 tickets were sold on the horse, Orange Sun. One was cashed. If someone shows up with the other he will be asked to explain how he got it.

New York State gets the money if it goes unclaimed.

Mrs. Helen Dickson of St. James Man., led Tuesday's play in the women's archery championships at the Canadian National Exhibition after smashing four records.

Art Barney of Toronto led the men after Tuesday's York round.

Mrs. Dickson broke both Canadian and International records in both her rounds. She posted 582 in the Columbia round bettering the international record of 570 set in 1947 by Alice Schafer of Dunkirk, N.Y., and the Canadian record of 536 set by Mrs. S. A. E. Frost of Toronto in 1948. She scored 487 in the national round, breaking the international record of 468 set in '48 by Miss Schafer and the Canadian record of 428, set in 1946 by Mrs. Frost.

Standings at the end of the first day's play:

Women: Mrs. Dickson, 1,069; Schafer, 1,032; Grace Middleton, Oaklin N.J., 1,030; Irma O. Elsbecker, Cleveland, 893.

Men: Barney, 721; W. A. E. Frost, Toronto, 691; Fred Burroughs, St. Catharines, 673; Reg Hill, Oswegen, N.Y., 669.

Speed artist Bernice Looney of Warren O., moves against a selected field of 15 swimmers today in defence of the women's world professional swimming crown at the Canadian National Exhibition.

The 22-year-old Bernice, gunning for her third straight title and first-place money of $1,000 is expected to face stiff opposition over the five-mile route.

Chief threat comes from Winnie Roach, who was recently barred from the men's 15-mile race, but experts agree that Miss Looney is probably the speedier over the short route.

Another serious contender is Barbara Elliott of Oshawa.

Racing Stables At Oshawa Listed For Sale

OSHAWA, Aug. 31 (CP)—The famous red, gold and blue McLaughlin silks may not be around Ontario race tracks next year. The 475-acre Parkwood Farms, where automobile magnate R. S. McLaughlin stables his race horses, has been listed for sale.

The extensive racing stable is not included in the notice of sale, but if the farms are sold, it would be necessary to dispose of the racing stock. Included in the sale is a herd of Jersey cattle.

Sam McLaughlin, who will be 78 next month, plans to race his horses on Ontario tracks this fall and possibly next spring. Most of the stable now is quartered at Toronto's Woodbine race track.

It's just 19 years since McLaughlin branched out from hunting horses to the racing and breeding of thoroughbreds and the passing of his stable will be a severe blow to Canada's racing and breeding industry.

McLaughlin has won every major racing event in Ontario, including three runnings of the King's Plate. Only a few years after he entered the breeding game, he produced what he still thinks was his best Canadian-bred, the great Horometer, which came to an untimely end after winning the Plate in 1934.

About that time McLaughlin became interested in English-bred horses and imported a number at great expense. The pick of the horses he brought to Canada was Osiris II, who proved himself one of the most useful stallions ever to stand in the country.

MILLER BOWL — 8:45 p.m.
HAMILTON TIGERS vs. PETERBOROUGH
(ARMSTRONGS)

SPORTS SHOW WINDOW

By CEC PERDUE, Sports Editor.

OLA senior "A" playoffs come to this fair borough tonight, at 8.45 in Miller Bowl, barring hail or high water, when the Hamilton Tigers tackle the Petes. Second game of their best-of-seven quarter-final series. Third one is Friday away and then back here Saturday night. The Petes dropped the opener in Hamilton. No doubt, another big crowd will bulge the Bowl to see this important scrap. The Petes always go much better at home than on the road, and they'll be fighting hard to stay in the playoff hunt in tonight's big tilt. Otherwise, their season is rapidly running out.

* * * * * *

Of the opener, the Hamilton writer said in part: "Hamilton Tigers showed Petes speed and neat passing along with a good defensive to win. They showed the type of play that won them the Dominion title last year, as eight men each scored a goal in the first quarter. Peterborough fought back in the fourth gamely to tally three goals while Tigers netted four. The Petes' goals were tallied by Frick, Magee, McNulty, E. Creighton, Testero and Breakspear." While the Petes were taking that first loss, Mimico were beating Owen Sound 16-6 and St. Kitts were gaining a 12-7 decision over Brampton.

All Set To Go Again

Lasses' softball circuit couldn't get the diamond last p.m., so the round-robin playoff double-header was shoved back till tonight. So, it'll be Lindsay vs. Westclox at seven tonight, followed by Ashby's vs. Marines, while tomorrow e'en has CGE playing Marines at the Bowl, followed by Westclox against Ashby's. In other words, Monday's melees go tomorrow, while tonight's tussles are as previously scheduled. Best two teams in this round-robin scramble then meet for the girls' city championship.

* * * * * *

As Oshawa Merchants finished the COBL schedule in front of the Petes, they get first home game of the loop finals. The men o' Murphy meander down to the Motor City on the morrow for a 5.30 p.m. touch, same squads going at that time Saturday in Riverside. Best of seven serial, Petes being there on Labor Day and here a week from tonight. If further games are necessary, they'll go the following Saturday, Monday and then Thursday, the seventh being in Oshawa if it lasts that long. We expect this'll be a memorable senior baseball series as these teams have been real keen rivals all summer, and lately the Petes have been holding an edge on the Merchants. Petes are defending champs.

Word From The OASA

An OASA bulletin advises that 15 teams remain in the race for the Telegram Trophy and watches in the CNE softball tourney. The first-round results were close as Peterborough beat Brantford 5-4, Oshawa took Brougham 4-3, Toronto Crothers blanked Hamilton 1-0, and then Crothers won 4-1 from Oshawa. Local Merchants go Saturday at one p.m. against North York or Brampton. Either Toronto Tip Tops or Levy's will represent Ontario in the world's softball championship playoffs at Little Rock, Ark., Sept. 15-21. Windsor Jets are now in good standing again with the OASA. Concerning defaults, it is pointed out that only the umpire-in-chief may forfeit the game when a team is 15 minutes late, unless such delay is unavaidable, and the OASA convener decides as to the delay being unavoidable.

Here's the executive of the Peterborough Football Club (the Panthers) for this season: Hon. Presidents, Hugh Campbell, Gordon Matthews and Don McGillis Sr.; president, Hilly Yudin; vice-prexies, Dave Wilson, Stan McBride and Dick Ouimet; secretary, Bob McElroy; treasurer, Jeff Grindrod; ORFU representatives, Ross Pulkinghorn and Gord Beatty; manager, Ross Pulkinghorn; trainer, Stan McBride; coach, Spike Matthews; publicity directors, Al Bowen and Bill Shadgett; club doctors, Drs. Chenoweth, Aitken and Howes. More on the gridders shortly as the season draws closer—and it's not afar off now.

Marvin Nelson became the first man to win a third world's championship marathon swim 15 years ago tonight at the Canadian National Exhibition in Toronto. He splashed across the line ahead of only four competitors who were able to stay in the cold water long enough to finish the 15-mile race. Nelson's time was 7:47:43.

Juniors Beaten In OASA By Motor City

Oshawa Lucky Strikes romped to a 17-4 junior "A" win over the Peterborough juniors in the Motor City to sweep their playdown series handily in two straight. The winners will now meet Ottawa in zone finals. The Oshawa team had previously beaten Peterborough by a comfortable margin here.

Riches was knocked off the visitors' slab in the fourth, with Randall taking over. They were both hit hard. Tutak pitched for Oshawa and allowed but few hits in a tidy performance as well as hitting a homer himself. The Petes finally broke the shutout in the ninth with four runs on some loose Oshawa play. Teams:

This puts the series at 2-1 for Campbellford. The boys of both teams played stellar ball and Marmora must win the next game to stay in the running. It was a pitching duel between MacNaughton and Drummond all the way. The homesters' victory was largely due to superior batting power and smarter plays on the bases. The teams:

Oshawa Shamrock Club Takes Win In Track Meet

Oshawa Shamrock AC edged out Peterborough Harriers in a dual track meet held in Oshawa. The Toronto Lakeshore "Y" failed to show up as scheduled. Shamrock had 28 points four firsts, two seconds and two thirds; while Peterborough had 25 points, two firsts, four seconds and three thirds. A return meet is listed for here in September.

Jim Flowers won the 100-yard dash with T. Chapman second as Williams of Oshawa was third. The 440 was a keen event. Mozweski took an early lead but slowed up as Martin of Harriers moved up and Thistlewaite was five yards back. Martin tried for the lead on the bend but his sprint coming into the stretch failed. Both were fading fast and Thistlewaite came up fast but was nosed out by inches as Mozweski fell over the line. The 120 hurdle saw Mozweski show his heels to Peterborough to Flowers in great time. He also won the broad jump and ram anchor on the winning relay team.

Thistlewaite of Petes won the mile over Ron Wilson, his old rival who had beaten him before at this distance. Reversing his policy, Thistlewaite let Wilson set the pace and outsprinted him in the stretch. Following are the places and times:

100 yard dash — J. Flowers (Har.), T. Chapman (Har.), B. Williams (SAC.), time 10.5 sec.

120 yard hurdles—W. Mozweski (SAC.) J. Flowers (Har.), D. Knowles (Har.), time 14.7 sec.

440 yard run—R. Mozweski (SAC.) W. Thistlewaite, J. Martin (Har.), time 58 secs.

440 yard relay (4x110)—1st, Shamrock A. C., (J. Sadler, Knowles, Williams, W. Mozweski). 2nd, Peterborough Harriers Club (T. Chapman, J. Martin, W. Thistlewaite, J. Flowers). Time, 49.6 sec.

Running broad jump—W. Mozweski, J. Sutherland, J. Flowers Distance, 20 ft., 1in.

Leafs, Montreal In Scramble For Open Spots

By The Associated Press

With Buffalo almost a mathematical cinch to win the pennant, the battle for playoff spots in the International League is drawing top attention.

Rochester, running second six games behind the Bisons with only 13 games to play, is set in second. It's a wild scramble among Jersey City, Montreal and Toronto for the other two open positions.

Jersey City, Montreal and Toronto all lost Monday night. They remain separated by only one game.

Buffalo smeared Montreal 11-2 as Bob Hooper racked up his 17th victory against three losses. He gave up only four hits. Lonnie Frey was the hot shot in the Bisons' 14-hit attack on Clarence Podbellian and Mel Himes with four hits including a homer.

Rochester shaded Toronto 3-2 behind Cloyd Boyer although the Leafs outhit the Red Wings. Ed Mierkowicz' homer in the fifth proved to be the winning run against Max Peterson.

Syracuse knocked over Jersey City 5-1 when Harry Perkowski pitched shutout ball until the ninth when Leon Culberson homered. Al Rubeling and Carden Gillenwater hit homers off George Bamberger for the Chiefs.

Glenn Lierman and Bill Woop pitched the last-place Newark Bears to a double victory over Baltimore. Lierman blanked the Orioles with two singles in the first game, 1-0, won by Fenton Mole's homer. Woop struck out 12 men in copping the second game 9-5.

Brooklyn Now Only Game And a Half Behind Cards

By JACK HAND
Associated Press Sports Writer

Thanks to Gil Hodges, Brooklyn Dodgers are only a game and a half behind the St. Louis Cardinals in the rugged National League race.

Hodges, probably the best first baseman in the league although he is playing his first full season at the job, is giving Jackie Robinson a run for his money as the most valuable Dodger. He is hitting only .294 but his sense of timing is terrific.

Rex Barney, struggling to redeem himself after flopping badly all season, trailed Murry Dickson 3-2 in the ninth inning Tuesday when big Gil did his stuff. There was a runner on first and one out.

Hodges slammed a Dickson pitch into the left-field seats for his 21st homer to break up the game That ruined Dickson's bid for victory and handed Pittsburgh a 4-3 setback.

The Cards' season-long cousins, Boston Braves, turned on their old tormentors to blast St. Louis 12-4. In addition to the loss, their fifth in 20 meetings with the 1948 champs, the Cards were crippled by an injury to pitcher Red Munger. The husky righthanded winner of 12 games left the game after he pulled a side muscle batting in the third.

Slams Homer

Included in the 16-hit blast of Munger, loser Gerry Staley, Ted Wilks, Fred Martin and Al Brazle were homers by Jeff Heath, Bill Salkeld and Sibby Sisti. Stan Musial provided the only Card thunder with his 27th homer in the seventh inning with one on.

Other National Leaguers were idle.

The crippled New York Yankees lost a full game of their American League lead, which now measures three games, by dropping a 6-2 decision to the aroused St. Louis Browns. Runner-up Boston blanked Detroit 3-0 behind Ellis Kinder to snap the Tigers' eight game win streak.

Yankee Ed Lopat was knocked out in the fourth inning with Stan Spence's second straight double. Rookie Roy Sievers was the batting star, knocking in three Brownie runs to ease Al Papai's pitching job.

Another Yankee went on the injured list when catcher Charley Silvera was struck by the bat of Les Moss in the first inning.

Kinder picked up his 17th victory with a brilliant five-hit shutout of Detroit. Vern Stephens hit his 35th homer and Dom DiMaggio his eighth for Boston.

Cleveland's scheduled night game with the Philadelphia A's was washed out.

Washington's Lloyd Hittle turned in his best game since joining the Senators from Oakland in June when he shut out Chicago with three singles, 1-0, in 10 innings.

Price Of Cars Declared Less Than 1939

TORONTO, Aug. 31 (CP).—On the comparative basis of steers and hogs, you can buy an automobile in Canada today for less than you could 10 years ago, William A. Wecker, president of General Motors of Canada Ltd., said Tuesday. He was addressing the Automotive Day luncheon at the Canadian National Exhibition.

While the price of cars "has risen sharply since 1939, the cost, in terms of many items which might be tendered in payment, has actually declined," said Mr. Wecker. "In 1939, in payment for a coach model . . . the buyer had to offer the equivalent of 14 prime steers, while today with the rise in value of animals, only eight steers are required."

In terms of hogs, 55 were necessary to buy a coach 10 years ago, against 40 today.

Mr. Wecker said the automobile industry in Canada had become a "real giant," with more than 50,000 persons employed in production of motor cars and about 200,000 engaged in the manufacture, use and service of the automotive fleet. He estimated that by 1960 there would be 2,000,000 cars in Canada, an increase of about 500,000 from the present total.

Robert H. Saunders, chairman of the Ontario Hydro Electric Power Commission, told the directors Canada owes its high standard of living to its more than 11,570,000 horsepower electrical generating capacity.

Canada produces 3,428 kilowatt hours per capita, he said, compared with United States' per capita production of 1,944 kilowatt hours.

Electric energy has revolutionized Canadian industry and changed the Dominion from an agricultural nation into one of the foremost industrial countries.

Last Rites Paid Mrs. E. J. Guerin

Requiem mass was celebrated at Sacred Heart Church Monday at 9 a.m. for Mrs. Edmond J. Guerin. A resident of Peterborough for 20 years, Mrs. Guerin was well-known in the city, and her funeral was one of the largest in Sacred Heart for some time.

The Rev. Msgr. J. J. O'Brien celebrated the mass, and Rev. Girard Sullivan conducted the graveside service at St. Peter's Cemetery. Pallbearers were Joseph Huard, Clare Huard, William Huard, Cyril Huard, Stanley Houlihan, and James McMartin.

Mrs. Guerin, formerly Catharine Ann was very active in church circles and Home and School Associations. She is survived by her husband and one daughter, Shirley Ann.

ANOTHER WOMAN to invade a traditionally masculine field is Mrs. Elizabeth Folger, above, of Plymouth, Mass. She has been on the job as "ice-woman" for five years and hefts better than four tons of ice daily.

London Letter

Complaints of Canadian Resented By Londoners

By ALAN HARVEY
Canadian Press Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 31 (CP).—Seen through Canadian eyes, London is often a city of second-rate restaurants, old-fashioned hotels and dreariness after dark.

Arthur L. Woods, visiting the British capital after 25 years in Canada, summed up these common complaints in a letter to The Daily Telegraph. He said the "smallest hamlet in the backwoods of Canada" offers better service than London after 5:30 p.m.

"I couldn't buy cigarets, a magazine, a paper, fruit or drugs after 5:30 p.m." he wrote.

The response was lively.

Chides Bad Manners

M. E. Wood, who identified himself as a fellow Canadian now living in London, chided Woods for bad manners. In a letter to the same newspaper, he said that if Woods had spent the war in England he would have realized that homes had to be restored before hotels.

Two Londoners supported Woods.

George Campbell said the criticism was only too well justified. "Our caterers," he said, "are still offering the technique of the school picnic, without the fresh air."

Mrs. Z. L. Law of Edgware, London, said she finds interest and variety in the British capital, but agreed certain amenities are lacking.

"Why do all the shops shut down so ridiculously early?" she asked. "In some districts they close at five and in addition close for 1½ hours in the middle of the day.

"The tourist can't buy a magazine after six, but on the other hand he can't buy a glass of beer before six."

Mrs. Law contrasted London with Paris, where you can buy a paper anytime, visit a restaurant "far into the night" or sit at a sidewalk cafe and watch the world go by.

She said she often wonders what a Frenchman does in the evening when he comes to London.

Stony Reception

The correspondence columns of The Daily Telegraph also carried a melancholy appeal from a Londoner who wanted iced beer but despaired of ever seeing it "in my lifetime."

The reception was stony. An Exmouth correspondent replied that lukewarm drinks, after all, have their advantages. In North America, he said, iced drinks bring "digestion to a standstill," with the result that there is a "higher proportion of dyspeptics in American cities than anywhere else in the world."

A maidenhead man said iced lager might be all right, but:

"I submit that a lover of good draught ale would as soon think of icing his pewter tankard as he would be of icing vintage port."

CSU Threatens Boycott SIU

MONTREAL, Aug. 31 (CP). The striking Canadian Seamen's union on Tuesday charged the rival Seafarers' International Union (AFL) with interfering with Canadian lake ships under CSU contracts and threatened to retaliate by seeking a boycott of all United States ocean-going ship sailing with SIU crews.

The CSU, on strike against East-coast Canadian shipowners since March 31, said in a prepared statement that three or four Canadian lake ships "were tied up in U.S. ports because of the SIU picketing these ships." It did not name either the vessels or the ports.

The union also threatened to "take action against all SIU ships on the lane unless they (the SIU) ceased their picketing of Canadian ships."

Although the CSU is on strike on the East coast, the walkout does not effect CSU-manned ships on the lakes.

Ferns And Plants Aid In Cancer Research

NEW LONDON, Conn. Aug. 31 (AP). — Beautiful ferns and flowering plants are providing science with new tools in studies aimed at helping to unravel the mystery of human cancer, a Harvard botanist said Tuesday.

Dr. Ralph H. Wetmore said recently-developed techniques employing such plants have opened up the possibility of stu ying certain aspects of growth and development in a manner now impossible or difficult.

Plants provide a better means than animals for studying certain subtle changes in tissue development, he said.

Dr Wetmore is president of the Society of Study of Development and Growth—the only scientific organization in the world specifically dedicated to the study of growth, both normal and abnormal.

CBC Engineers Plan To Study Television

MONTREAL, Aug. 31—(CP)—The CBC announced today that three engineers and two program officials soon will visit New York, Milan, Paris and London to study the latest television technique.

"This," said a spokesman, "is so that Canada will become abreast of the latest developments in the television field and be ready to proceed with it if and when funds become available."

(At the forthcoming session of parliament it is expected approval will be asked for a $4,000,000 loan for CBC which has previously been recommended with a view to the CBC embarking on television.)

To Work Two Days

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP) —Most of the 400,000 soft coal miners of the United States will work only two days next week by order of John L. Lewis. The United Mine Workers' chief telegraphed an order to that effect Tuesday to more than 2,500 local union branches east of the Mississippi. However, most industry and union representatives agree that Lewis does not mean he intends to cut the present three-day week in the coal fields to a two-day week but that the instructions apply only to next week because Monday is Labor Day, a national holiday.

Canadian Import Cut Difficult Outside Purchases Follow Pattern

At a time when the Dominion's export trade is undergoing major readjustments and when the recovery of gold and U.S. dollar reserves from the November 1947 low may have been halted, the Canadian demand for imported goods, predominantly from the United States, continues to mount to unprecedented levels, says a Bank of Montreal release.

Merchandise imports during the first five months of this year, at a value of $1,159 millions, have been running at the highest rate in history, 12 per cent above the comparable period of last year and more than four times the level of 1938. It is therefore timely to examine some of the more significant aspects of Canada's position as an importing nation.

Early Growth

As a young and rapidly growing country in the years following Confederation, Canada was perforce heavily dependent on outside sources for the means of development. At the same time, and more especially since the First World War, the growth of our export trade, mainly in a relatively few basic commodities such as lumber, pulp and paper, wheat and metals, has enabled us to obtain from beyond our borders a very wide range of goods in sufficient quantity to permit a broad diversification of production and the attainment of a standard of living that is surpassed in few parts of the world.

As a result, Canada was last year the fourth largest importing nation in terms of the total value of commodities received, being exceeded only by the United Kingdom, the United States and France. In proportion to population, however, this country was the largest importer of the four, per capita imports in 1948, expressed in dollars, having been $205 for Canada, $169 for Great Britain, $81 for France and $48 for the U.S.A.

The currently high total of import values is attributable to a number of influences. Much of the fourfold increase in the dollar figures since prewar has of course been due to the rise of world prices. Recently published official calculation estimates that prices of Canadian imports advanced, on the average, by 115 per cent betwen 1938 and 1948.

BUSINESS ACTIVITY

The general level of business activity is a most important factor in the demand for foreign goods. Over the past 23 years for which a consistent comparison can be made, annual figures show that the value of imports has tended to fluctuate, both upwards and downwards, with the total value of domestic production but has increased more rapidly in times of rising prosperity and fallen more quickly during periods of depression.

But while abnormal conditions have recently operated to enlarge the inflow of foreign commodities, the essential nature of Canada's chief import needs has been relatively constant over a long span of years. The solid centre of our import pattern, consisting of fuels, steel, mechanical equipment, clothing materials and certain foodstuffs, has changed little, being determined by our climate and known natural resources and the size of markets for domestic production.

Deny Mountie Was Arrested

MONTREAL, Aug. 31 (CP). — Provincial Police said here Tuesday that reports July 16 of the arrest of Leo Marleau of Lacolle, Que., a former RCMP constable, following a fracas at a Missisquoi Bay hotel, were "absolutely false."

(The Canadian Press reported July 16 that Marleau had been arrested and later had escaped in his automobile while handcuffed.)

Provincial Police blamed the reports on erroneous information given by witnesses. Further investigation revealed there was "absolutely no truth to the story," police said.

Marleau, they added, was neither handcuffed nor arrested, and was not involved in the fracas which resulted in the arrest of two men on charges of assaulting a police officer.

Missisquoi Bay is a Lake Champlain region town on the United States border.

AFTER MAKING THE 10 GALLON TEST! WITH SUNOCO DYNAFUEL

SAY THOUSANDS OF CANADIAN MOTORISTS!

MAKE THE 10 GALLON TEST IN YOUR CAR AND PROVE FOR YOURSELF THAT:

1. No Other Gasoline Gives LONGER MILEAGE
2. No Other Gasoline Gives HIGHER, KNOCKLESS POWER
3. No Other Gasoline Gives FASTER ACCELERATION

REMEMBER For best results, don't dilute Sunoco Dynafuel with other gasoline. Wait until your tank is nearly empty—then put in 10 gallons of Dynafuel. Compare its action against the best gasoline you ever used.

New Dynafuel Users Tell What They Learned from Making The 10 Gallon Test . . .

R. H. Noble, Automobile Dealer, Brantford, Ont.
"The Ten Gallon Test proved to me that Dynafuel is a superior gasoline. The ten gallons I used in the test gave me extra miles of smooth driving and generally pepped-up engine performance I'm now a permanent Dynafuel user."

B. B. KENNEDY, Builder, Toronto, Ont.
"Until I made the Ten Gallon Test, I was dubious about the claim that Dynafuel is different from ordinary gasoline. But that ten gallons was a revelation! My car is performing with a bonus of high knockless power and running sweeter than ever before. You can take my word for it . . . Dynafuel is the best value for your gasoline dollar."

MERLIN J. GILROY, Electrician, Myrtle, Ont.
"In my opinion, Sunoco Dynafuel is decidedly superior to ordinary gasoline. When I made the Ten Gallon Test, I noticed the difference immediately. I get 28 miles of smooth, knockless performance from every gallon of Dynafuel with a standard size 6-cylinder car. No wonder I'm a regular Dynafuel customer now"!

J. E. HAMILTON, Railroad Agent, Montreal, P.Q.
"I wish I'd made the Ten Gallon Test with Dynafuel years ago. I'm getting more satisfaction out of driving than ever before, because I have the feeling that my car is giving its best performance. I notice a decided improvement in acceleration power particularly . . . and I get instantaneous starts in all weather."

10 GALLONS OF SUNOCO DYNAFUEL WILL CONVINCE YOU!

What About CROSS-COUNTRY TRAVEL with a HILLMAN?

READ WHAT A RURAL MAILMAN HAS TO SAY ABOUT HIS 12,323 MILES OF DRIVING ON COUNTRY ROADS

"I've driven my Hillman 12,323 miles since last December," writes Mr. Forsyth, "and this is just to tell you how pleased I am with it. Naturally, my job takes me over all kinds of roads in all kinds of weather, but I've never once been stuck! Some of the farm tracks in my territory are full of deep holes and ruts that would severely test the biggest cars made. But even under those conditions my Hillman is amazingly comfortable and holds the roads well! I'm getting really good gas mileage—about 37 miles per gallon with 250 stops at Rural Mail Boxes."

"I can speak very highly of my local Hillman dealer," adds Mr. Forsyth. "Everyone from boss to mechanics has given me first-class service."

Mr. Robt. H. Forsyth, of Grimsby, Ont., whose letter praising the Hillman is one of many received from happy Hillman owners.

Four Newcomers End Year Get Certificates

At a short and impressive ceremony at the YWCA Tuesday evening, four displaced persons, all girls, were presented with government certificates on the completion of their one-year contracts. The four to whom the certificates were presented by Mayor Max Swanston were Maria Nazlarczyk, Marianna Cieplucha, Barbara Stachowiak, and Weronika Leonowic Dubrowski. Two others, Mrs. Anna Pedak and Senta Pedak, were unable to attend.

This latest presentation of certificates brings the total to 27 who have completed their terms in Peterborough and district. Some of the group have remained in the city, and some have left.

Recorded Address

Mr. W. H. L. Mellis, of the National Employment Service, was chairman, and extended congratulations to the girls. Following this, a record made by Deputy Minister of Labor Arthur McNamara was presented. In his message, Mr. McNamara reviewed the government's policy in regard to the plan used by Canada in her immigration scheme. The plan provides assurance that the Canadian standards of life, employment, moral codes, health, and political and social security might not be endangered or impaired. He extended congratulations to the new certificate recipients.

Following the recording, Mr. Mellis called on Mayor Max Swanston to present the certificates to each girl. The mayor said that he appreciated the opportunity to extend congratulations on behalf of the city council, and said "We are very glad you came to Peterborough."

Miss Leta Brownscombe, general secretary of the YWCA, congratulated the recipients of the certificates, and extended the help and facilities of the YWCA to each of them.

Congratulations Given

Messages of congratulation were extended by members of the Catholic Women's League, by Rev. G. V. Gaughan for the Catholic Church, Rev. H. G. Douglas for the Peterborough Ministerial Society, and by Wesley Switzer and Helen Bonnycastle, on behalf of the teachers who taught the girls elementary English.

At the conclusion, each of the girls stood and thanked the various organizations and people involved for the help given. The English was halting and jerky, but without a doubt sincere.

Maria Nazlarczyk is staying with her former employers, as is Mrs. Weronika L. Dubrowski. Marianna Cieplucha and Barbara Stachowiak, both employed at the Empress Hotel, are staying there. Mrs. Anna Pedak is in the employ of a local family, and is remaining there, while Senta Pedak, her daughter, is studying in Toronto.

The program was under the direction of Mr. Mellis, aided by Miss Gladys M. Costello.

CLEARING HOUSE FIGURES

Clearing house figures for the week just concluded in Peterborough were $1,923,866.

WINNER of the $100 Dominion - Provincial Vocational Bursary for students going into Grade 12 is Shirley M. Minicola, age 17, of 467 Rubidge St. In 1948 this talented PCVS student won three scholarships valued at $25.

Boys To Build Rink At Oval

Members of Boys' Town Tuesday night decided to go ahead and build their own rink this winter at Nicholls Oval. The meeting was held in Trafalgar House.

The rink will be of regulation size and will be constructed by the boys themselves. Among other winter activities discussed was the hockey schedule, particularly the arrangement for games in Oshawa.

Two members of the Optimists' Club gave short addresses. Other items on the agenda were a rehearsal for the concert to be held sometime in November, and final arrangements for a hike this weekend.

Council members elected were Ken Saunders, Bob O'Rourke, F. Legrows, G. Kearns, A. Ryan, and R. Board. The secretary treasurer is Bob Kelly, and the publicity manager is Ron Board assisted by J. McTeague.

Committees are as follows: Bob Kelly and 10 assistants, sports; Carl Cullen and five assistants, canteen; Dick Foley and three assistants, entertainment; Ray Lindsay and three helpers, teen town; and John Cupoli and five others, police force.

Mayor Terry Roberts presided, assisted by Instructor Walter Bent.

Tossed From Motorbike Constable Hits Mound

Constable Claire McGillen was thrown from his motorcycle while riding on Monroe Ave., near Armour Road Tuesday night at 8.30 o'clock. He suffered shock, a badly skinned right knee, a bruised hip and severe bump on the head.

The motorcycle was thrown by one of two large mounds of dirt left after holes had been dug in the roadway on Monroe Ave. to put gas service into a house. The front wheel of the motorcycle went over the mound but the pan under the engine struck a rock in the dirt and threw the machine. The nearest street light was 73 feet away.

Constable McGillen was treated by Dr. C. F. Cahill who ordered him to bed.

Belmont Pioneer Aged 92 Cuts Own Wood

HAVELOCK, Aug. 31—(ENS)—"An active life and early to bed and early to rise" is the recipe for long life that Daniel Ellis of Cordova Mines gave on Sunday at the celebration of his 92nd birthday held at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Charles Steenburgh.

To this rule Mr. Ellis has adhered all his life as he followed his occupation of farming and lumbering until his retirement about 17 years ago. Even now at his advanced age he is exceptionally active. Living alone since the death of his wife, formerly Sabre Youmans, he attends to all his own requirements and cuts his own firewood. About two weeks ago he cut half a cord of cordwood on the timber limits of his son-in-law at Deer River and followed this with a swim in the river. His friends say feats of this sort are a regular occurence.

Born at Hungerford, Mr. Ellis is a son of the late Brooks Ellis and Margaret Bowen. His parents moved to Cordova Mines district when he was a boy and he has resided in that vicinity ever since.

92 Candles on Cake

The celebration on Sunday took the form of a buffet dinner which included a large birthday cake decorated with 92 candles. Serving were four of Mr. Ellis' granddaughters, Mrs. A. Bowen, Mrs. C. McFadden, Mrs. J. McCurdy and Mrs. E. Goddard. While he was opening his gifts his grandchildren sang "For He's a Jolly Good Fellow." Gladioli and ferns made attractive decorations for the table and room and were the gift of Mrs. Harry Pressick.

Mr. Ellis has seven children living out of a family of twelve. They are: Mrs. Floyd Steenburgh (Lumby) of Belmont township; Mrs. Fred Cole (Margaret) of Marmora; Mrs. Claude Bertram (Emily) of Peterborough; Mrs. Charles Steenburgh of Cordova Mines; Stanley of Vansickle; Wilbert of Marmora and Archie of Cordova Mines. He has 39 grandchildren and 45 great-grandchildren.

MPP's Survey The Sault, Mammoth Locks, Furnaces

By NICK NICKELS

SAULT STE. MARIE, Aug. 31—It was a tired but much more informed group on "Exercise Eye Opener" composed of three Cabinet ministers, 21 members of the Legislative Assembly and Dept. of Lands and Forests that entrained at Steelton Station on Tuesday evening after the first 24 hours on the tour of Northern Ontario. In three special cars they arrived at the Sault at one p.m. after a breakfast break at Sudbury, to be met by His Worship W. H. C. Brien and group of city officials.

A cavalcade of police cars, private cars and busses carried the group through various parts of the city. First there was a stop to view the bustling city of 30,000 from the heights by the collegiate. The streets spread out below in all directions stopped by the turbulent Sault rapids on the south and continuing again on the American Sault side, another thriving community of 16,000. Long ore whalebacks chugged up and down to pass through the four locks on the American side and the single one on the Canadian side. The first lengthy visit was made at the forest insect laboratory where a short talk was given by Dr. M. L. Prebble, officer in charge, on the menacing bud worm which is gradually and scientifically being brought under control.

A few questions were asked by the audience which were more fully answered by a visit to the various working departments of the laboratory. Here the pest is raised, killed, dissected and smeared on slides for minute and exhausting studies.

In an endeavour to track down Peter Green of Peterborough in the labyrinth of laboratories it was finally determined that he had temporarily been posted to a sub lab for a few days.

Great Locks

The vehicles left the bug lab, as it is affectionately known in these parts, to circle the forestry aircraft hangar where two planes were refueling and loading supplies for a turnabout trip to a forest fire. They drove across town and paused for a look at the damage done at the $10,000 fire at the warehouse of the Chromium Mining and Smelting Co which had been consumed by fire not many hours before. Driving along by the large plant of the Abitibi Power and Paper Co. they were able to watch its sprawling red sandstone buildings and mountains of pulpwood on one side and an ore freighter which towered above them in the locks. It was explained that the whole water shipping level for Lake Superior was controlled by a series of mammoth locks at this point and that a foot of variation could play havoc with ship loading at the lakehead and Duluth.

To wind up the afternoon the cars and busses finally stopped at No. 1 gate of the Algoma Steel Corporation where they got out and met General Manager L. H. Derrer, several members of his executive staff and a large group of guides.

Steel Centre

The trip afoot meant literally miles of walking beside dust covered buildings, mazes of monstrous cranes, mountains of red ore and coal and towering blast furnaces. They were subjected to coal and ore dust, spent steam, deafening noises and intense heat, and were awed by the immensity and thrilled no end.

After seeing the slag pulled from the furnace—fifth largest in the British Empire—and watching it spill into the gigantic bowls of the slag train they cooled off by inspecting the power house where eighteen generator units added their din to the overall roar.

The Algoma Steel Corporation acted as hosts at the Windsor Hotel where the party were entertained as guests of the city and a special program was arranged by the Chamber of Commerce.

His Worship Maurice Hunt, Sault Ste. Marie, Mich., brought greetings from across the border. Among the many speakers were the Hon Harold R. Scott, minister of lands and forests, the Hon. Welland S. Gemmell, minister of mines and the Hon. W. E. Hamilton, minister of prison and reform institutes.

Representative Group.

The gathering heard from its CCF member, George I. Harvey. He urged the completion of the Transcanada Highway from the Sault as a northern defence measure. Chairman of the banquet was Robert Curran, editor of the Sault Star, president of the Chamber of Commerce.

Together with the ministers mentioned above following members comprised the party. In the Prog. Conservative group are H. M. Allan, Middlesex South; B. L. Cathcart, Lambton West; the Rev. A. W. Downer, Dufferin Simcoe; J. F. Edwards, Perth; J. A. Fullerton, Algoma Manitoulin; Stanley Hall, Halton; J. W. Hanna, Huron Bruce; Alexander MacKenzie, York North; C. H. Martin, Haldiman Norfolk; William Murdock, Essex South; G. W. Parre, Kent West; Thos. Pryde, Huron; W. E. Sandercock, Hastings West; Dr. A. J. Stewart, Kingston.

The Liberal members were T. Kenzie Foster, Bruce; G. T. Gordon, Brantford; Campbell Calder, London and members of the C C F party were William Dennison, St. David; John T. Dowling, Hamilton East; and Joseph L. Easton, Wentworth. Labour Progressives were represented by one member, Alexander MacLeod of Bellwoods.

It is anticipated that the Premier of the Province, the Hon. Leslie M. Frost will fly from Toronto to Terrace Bay to join the tour and officiate at the opening of the second generator at the Auqusabon generating station.

YES, THERE ARE COCKROACHES

"I couldn't help laughing at Sanitary Inspector MacPherson's story about the slaughter of the cockroaches around town," said Ald. Grant Miller today, "because in the afternoon I had been hearing about some mighty active live ones.

"There was a man in my store enquiring whether I had any intention of building on Charlotte St. He said he was interested because in his present premises the cockroaches were just about lifting the place off its foundations. After that mention of their liveliness, it occurred to me that Mr. MacPherson must have been doing tremendously fast work."

As a former member of the Board of Health, Ald. Miller said he appreciated the work of Dr. Kelly's department, but he could not resist mentioning the humorous side of the published story and the experience of the business man who no doubt must also have seen the reports of city-wide extinction of the roaches.

Suggest Lights For Football At Morrow Park

Floodlights for football at Exhibition Park this fall are proposed through the Utilities Commission about the same time that they are being mentioned at the city hall and by some of the members of the Exhibition board.

"We've helped the softball young people and the lacrosse bowl, and I'm in favor of doing something for football," said Commissioner G. A. Macdonald who used to play an outside wing or tackle spot in his younger days.

He was replying to the query of Gordon S. Matthews, Tuesday, as to whether the Commission would consider a plan of putting in lights at the Exhibition, on a three-year payment plan.

Fred Hills also expressed his approval of the idea, and the chairman was authorized to consult Harry Beattie of the electric department about details, as soon as he gets back from a holiday.

Mayor Max Swanston recently mentioned to Hugh Stewart, president of the fair board, the same lighting idea. From the opening conversational stage it is believed the directors will support some expenditure at the park, possibly with contributions from the city council and the Morrow Park Trust.

Mayor Swanston said he was naturally interested in providing adequate baseball accommodation for the local teams.

Fear 50-Mill Rate

"But, much as I would like to see something done at Riverside, I personally am not in favor of spending money on new stands over there that would be big enough, when we have accommodation at the fair grounds," His Worship said. "The reason is that we are going to be mighty close to a 50-mill tax rate next year—at least that's what I'm fearing—and it can't be blamed on this year's council—and a good stand at Riverside would cost something like $60,000 to $75,000. I couldn't vote for anything like that, and I think the great majority of the ratepayers would be of the same attitude."

Mayor Swanston interviewed Hugh Stewart, G. A. Gillespie and several directors of the fair, and was told that they are heartily in accord with any plans that will increase the proper use of the park.

"If we could get together representatives of the board and the ball team and see if they are in agreement about layout of a diamond and so on, I think we might get somewhere. When we are building a big hospital, sewage disposal plant, sewers and so on, we simply can't have everything, and I feel we will have to forego the Riverside plans maybe five or six years. In the meantime we have a big stand down below, with lots of space around it, the directors have to do some improvement for their own needs. It might be that the various interests could join hands in floodlighting costs, and make it easier all round."

Gordon Matthews told the Utilities Commission that he had supported all the appeals for assistance to sports organizations, that the Commission members had been sympatnetic to other games and teams, but he was personally and frankly interested now in the Peterborough Rugby Club.

He played the game himself years ago, and his son is the coach of the present team, and beyond that, he said, Peterborough sentiment leaned toward sports. The Commission had not lost anything in the assistance it had given to softball and lacrosse, both playing night games, and Mr. Matthews said he was willing to take a chance on the football club, if the other members were.

Peterborough Exhibition directors have been talking flood lights for their own purposes. Probably the city council and the baseball club might look in that direction, too, but whether anything may be undertaken jointly depends on the several groups getting together.

In the meantime the season is approacning the football squad, and it is likely they will have lights for their games. They are undertaking to repay the Commission at the rate of $1,000 a year for three years for the present estimated cost of installation.

PLACING ERROR

In the Examiner report of heavy horse judging at the Exhibition last week, J. Whittington and son were given a third in the filly, two years and under class, and H. Miller and sons, Keene, were given a second. This was an error: Whittington placed second, and Miller third.

THIS 19-POUND MUSKIE was pulled from Stony Lake recently by Floyd M. Miller, Rocky River, Ohio. It was the first muskie Mr. Miller, who has been staying at Mt. Julian Hotel, caught in Stony Lake.

Horses Fading From Plow List

Plowmen scratched another horse class or two from their list of competitions at the county match that's to be held Wednesday October 5, in Ennismore Township, probably on the farm of Frank Corkery. Vern Campbell, presided with eighteen directors present.

The tractor is like the camel that got its head into the Arab's tent. It is gradually butting the horse out of the plowing picture. One of the standard classes was for boys under 21 years, using horses.

"I think we should be more realistic," Mr. Campbell said. "Those boys are using tractors in their own work."

So, that class was rubbed off the prize list for the first time in many years.

Just as a matter of the routine of program-making, the directors of the Peterborough Plowmen's Association were yielding another little salient to the changes of custom and the years. The meeting in its agreements was following the trend here and elsewhere, of increasing the number of tractor classes, and reducing the number of others in which horses are used.

Frank C. Paterson was asked to turn back through his records of recent October matches, and from that information the directors were reminded of the horse classes in which the number of entries have dwindled to one or two.

There will be a demonstration of farm equipment to be arranged by the dealers. It is intended that the bulldozer will get some extra attention at this show.

On the other hand three long barns were full of horses at the Exhibition last week, and several tents were set up to house an overflow. Yet, the plowmen whittled down the horse classes for their match by further concessions to the tractor.

WINS OUTBOARD MOTOR

Winners of the outboard motor drawn for at the third game of the finals of the Foresters Softball League Tuesday night was Ellwood Reynolds, 50 Jackson Ave. This is the league's first year, and money from the draw will be used to offset the costs of operating. League officials are looking forward to expansion next year, with more teams from the King Edward Park area entered.

Council Says Hands Off Education Board

Finance committee of the council declined Monday night to endorse a Niagara Falls proposal seeking from the provincial government the right to approve the estimates of Boards of Education and Police Commission before they are included in municipal estimates.

"The Board of Education is an elected body, the same as the council," said Mayor Swanston. "They are trying to do a job for the ratepayers, the same as we are. I would not say that our Peterborough Board is extravagant. If for any reason the ratepayers become dissatisfied with the Board, they have the ballot in their own hands to elect a new Board if they wish. As a matter of fact, there are times when members of the Board are elected by acclamation. That does not indicate dissatisfaction by the ratepayers with the Board and its work."

Harmonious Relations

Mayor Swanston said the relations between the council and the Board were quite harmonious. He suggested that the Niagara Falls proposal simply be received, meaning no action. His Worship said the council and the Police Commission were on good terms. The council had representation on the Commission, and always had information of what the Commission was doing.

A motion by Aldermen Burrows and Grant Miller recommended no action.

Ald. Miller said his only comment was that about 75 per cent of the people did not realize that the council had no authority over the requisitions of the Board of Education. Opinion seemed to be that the council was responsible for all spending. Ald. Dodds was chairman in the absence of Ald. Hugh Waddell.

President's Aide Denies He Is 5-Percenter

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP).—Maj.-Gen. Harry H. Vaughan said Tuesday that he has never authorized John Maragon to "represent or speak for me, or the White House."

The President's military aide also told the Senate "five-per-center" inquiry, "there is nothing to conceal in my record as a public servant."

"I have discharged by duties honestly and to the best of my ability," he said.

Vaughan went before the Senate Investigations sub-committee with a long prepared statement in which he made these disavowals of any improper conduct.

The committee had heard testimony that Maragon, a man-about - Washington who calls Vaughan his good friend, has represented to government agencies from time to time that he spoke for Vaughan.

No Connections

Vaughan, in his statement, said he has known Maragon since 1941, but "I have had no business connections with Maragon."

There has been testimony that Vaughan was helpful to Maragon and other employees and officials of the Albert J. Verley Perfume Company, Chicago, who made trips to Europe on perfume business in 1945 in Army Transport planes.

Vaughan said the seven deep-freezers he received and distributed to Mrs. Truman and others were "a gift from two old friends of mine."

The freezers were paid for by the Verley Perfume Company—the firm whose officials managed to get transportation to Paris three days after VE-Day in 1945.

"This gift was an expression of friendship and nothing more," Vaughan said. "There is absolutely no connection between this gift and any assistance I have given these friends. At no time have I taken action as a member of the White House staff in exchange for a gift or other favor.

"The assistance which I gave to the Verley Company of Chicago was precisely what I would have done for other concerns in comparable circumstances had I been requested to do so. The Verley Company desired to send representatives to Europe to prepare for the resumption of business after the war.

Part of Policy

"Such action by American businessmen was urged by the State Department and has been part of this government's official policy in the post war years—not only without substantial criticism, so far as I know, but with warm support in Congress and elsewhere."

Vaughan said he has known James V. Hunt, management counsellor and central figure in the inquiry, for five years.

"Our relationship has been friendly," Vaughan added. "To the best of my recollection, he has never asked and I have never aided him in any matter with a government agency."

Hunt is in the business of helping businessmen get government contracts for a fee. There has been testimony that he boasted of a friendship with Vaughan and implied that it gave him an "inside track" on some government matters.

Hunt who denied that he ever claimed that he peddled "influence."

Storms Cause 68 New Blazes

TORONTO, Aug. 31 — (CP).—Scattered thunderstorms throughout Ontario last week-end were responsible for causing 68 new forest fires, the Lands and Forest Department announced Tuesday. Some 118 fires still are being fought in the province.

The new outbreaks occurred in the Chapleau, Gogama, Sault Ste. Marie, Kenora and Fort Frances districts in the north and northwest. Two Kenora district blazes and one in the Sudbury area are the most serious. Officials said one of the Kenora fires has spread into 30 acres but firefighters had it under control.

Officials earlier announced the lifting of a travel ban in the Algonquin district, including Algonquin Park, because scattered showers had reduced the fire hazard in the area. The ban on the Algonquin area was the last to be lifted.

A total of 1,180 fires have been extinguished in Ontario since the beginning of the fire-hazard season in April, officials said.

Canada Doing Much To Help Revive European Education

OTTAWA, Aug. 31—(CP)—Canada is doing a big job in rehabilitating creative artists, scientists, teachers and school children in war-devastated European areas, the Canadian Reconstruction Council said today.

This aid while not big enough to fill the tremendous need in Europe may leave a lasting feeling of good will towards Canada, the Council said in a brief prepared for the Royal Commission on Arts and Science Development.

A voluntary organization, the Council works through the United Nations Educational, Scientific and Cultural Organization. It said that through funds raised by voluntary subscription, it is helping Europe's artists with artist supplies, scientists with fellowships, school children with school supplies and teachers with books and food boxes.

One of its projects, the purchase and distribution of school boxes, benefited some 25,000 teachers and some 800,000 pupils. Books donated by Canada were lining European University shelves. Canadian-financed scientific equipment was making greater European research possible.

Started In 1947

The council's work started back in 1947 when the reconstruction needs in war-devastated countries were still at their peak.

Since that time, said the council the actual needs of reconstruction have changed but there still is a great need for understanding in the international fields of science, culture and education.

In its allocation of 20,000 school boxes, the council didn't overlook such countries as Poland or Germany and Italy, former war enemies.

Parcels of food and clothing, valued at about $50,000, went to teachers and students. Universities in France, Italy, Belgium, Greece, the Netherlands, Norway, Austria and the Philippines were receiving about $150,000 worth of scientific equipment.

About $46,000 worth of artist's supplies were being distributed the average about $2,500 each, are Sixty-four fellowships, worth on being allocated to European scientists and professors to study in Canada. Only Hungary had declined the offer and the fellowships were being transferred to Ethiopia.

Biochemists Meet

Samples Of Food For Ex Patrons

TORONTO, Aug. 31 (CP)—It's Food Day at the Canadian National Exhibition today and they're giving plenty away.

Of the 200,000 persons expected to jam the CNE west?end lakefront park today, almost half will go through the Pure Foods Building looking for prizes handed out every 30 seconds.

Food products and 'merchants' day with its thousands of free samples, $3,000 in prizes and high-geared advertising is an irresistible attraction to anyone with a "it-might-be-me" complex. Lucky buys may mean anything from a refrigerator to a case of soup.

About 1,000 suckers are distributed to toddlers every day if teen-agers don't push them out of the line-up. About 10,000 persons line up for 20 minutes each day—mainly around meal time—for thimbles of soup, tomato juice and pickles.

40,000 Entered

An estimated 40,000 are trying for the $250 prize Monday in a weight-guessing contest involving a four-tier wedding cake.

But today will feature gate prizes of radios, washing machines, floor polishers, an apartment-size stove and other electrical equipment.

On the sport program 14 women will compete in the five-mile swim on the waterfront for $3,600 in prizes. The youngest entrant is 18-year-old Jean Ralph of Toronto and the eldest is 58-year-old Mrs. Edna Sheldon of Detroit.

Officials announced paid attendance at the exhibition Tuesday—automotive and electrical day—was 178,000, an increase of 14,000 over the same day last year. This brought the total attendance for the first four days to 742,500, an increase of 13,500 over last year.

Deny Disagreement Between Bevin, Cripps

LONDON, Aug. 31 (Reuters)—High government sources Tuesday discredited reports suggesting that there was a difference of opinion between Sir Stafford Cripps and Foreign Secretary Bevin concerning the British brief for the Washington economic talks next week.

These sources said "no split of any kind exists between them; they will go to Washington in complete accord and with a plan backed by the Cabinet."

Minor adjustments of emphasis are understood to have been made by the Cabinet in the 15,000 word brief, but no important cuts or alterations were made.

The Cabinet, after two hours of discussion, approved the proposals put forward.

Noted Conductor Dies

WATCH HILL, R. I., Aug. 31 (AP)—Dr. Hans Kindler, 56, internationally - famous musician and conductor of the National Symphony Orchestra, of Washington, died Tuesday at his summer home here. He had been ill since he returned in June from a European tour. Kindler, a concert cellist as well as conductor, had appeared as guest conductor with the New York Philharmonic Orchcestra and other symphonies. He established the National Symphony in 1931.

First To Benefit

ACTON, Aug. 31 (CP) — This town of 3,000 near Guelph may be the first centre to benefit under the Ontario government's $50,000,000 crown-loan plan for municipalities. Ratepayers vote Sept. 6 on a proposed debenture issue to finance a sewage disposal plant. The project has already been approved by the Ontario Municipal Board so it would likely come under the provincial plan, announced Monday by Premier Frost, to set up a crown corporation to buy municipal debentures for local improvement programs.

Strike Very Costly

DETROIT, Aug. 31 (CP)—Detroit Board of Commerce, in a full page advertisement in a morning newspaper Tuesday, asserted the Ford Motor Company strike last May cost the nation $243,000,000. In an effort to show that "nobody wins" the board asked that another work stoppage be avoided. The ad listed direct wages lost as $23,000,000. Also lost it said, were Ford sales, freight, transportation and many other revenues.

Margarine Color, Board's Powers Up For Debate

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 31 (CP) —Top controversial issues such as the coloring of margarine and the wide powers of the Ontario Municipal Board may come before the final session of the Ontario Municipal Convention here to-day.

For two days, sections and groups within the OMA have discussed some 50 resolutions, but only about a dozen major ones are expected to reach the floor before the 51st convention closes.

A Windsor delegation asked an end to curbs on the coloring of margarine. The OMA resolutions committee and the urban-elected section declined support on the ground that it was not a "municipal matter." A Windsor spokesman said the issue likely would be raised again in the main session.

The City of London may press for further consideration of its submission that the government should review the powers of the Municipal Board, despite the fact a covering resolution was rejected in sectional meetings.

London has been in loud conflict with the Municipal Board recently over the granting of a London-Port Stanley bus franchise to Bluebird Coach Lines at Woodstock, in competition with the city-operated London and Port Stanley Railway.

The LPS and three other bus companies bid unsuccessfully for such a franchise, and the controversy reached the stage where the Board decided on a second hearing. It will be held here on Friday.

The perennial argument over how much power the municipal councils should have over the spending of police departments and school boards is expected to reach the floor again in a resolution from the urban-elected section. It suggests that councils at least should have the right of appeal to the Municipal Board.

Tweed Victorious

HASTINGS, Aug. 31 — (ENS) —Tweed put the damper on Hastings' hopes of an OASA junior championship on Tuesday night at Tweed, blasting out a 21-11 win in the first of the best-of-three series before a large crowd.

Second game is slated under the lights at Hastings on Thursday, with the third game, if necessary, on neutral grounds.

Spencer went the route for Tweed, and although hard hit at times, was handed enough runs in the sixth to come through a winner. Stevenson came to the plate five times and five times he walked.

Richardson on the mound for Hastings in his first starting assignment had trouble finding the plate at times, and his support was spotty, due in part to Tweed's new diamond not yet properly packed down. Hastings led till the sixth, when Tweed combined six hits, a walk, and two errors, for eight runs, and galloped home a winner.

Hastings	054 001 1—11	10	8
Tweed	403 084 2—21	12	4

The teams:

Hastings — Mueller 1b, Holmes cf, Morrow 3b, Beavis ss, Richardson p, Fife lf, Oliver c, Thomas 2b, Stevenson rf.

Tweed — Sherry c, Rogers rf, Moynes ss, Spencer p, Foster lf, D Mainson 2b, Reid cf, Rochette 1b, B. Morrow 3b.

Umpires—Varcoe and Carson.

PAINTING NEED

Without linseed oil, which is extracted from flax seed, production of paints, varnishes and lacquers would be almost negligible.

Youth Ordered To Stand Trial

ISLINGTON, Ont., Aug. 31 — (CP)—Sixteen-year-old Gordon Graham of nearby Alderwood, Tuesday was committed for trial on a charge of manslaughter in connection with the fatal rifle shooting Aug. 5 of his father, Douglas Graham.

The boy's father was found dead on a lawn near his frame house with a .22 calibre bullet wound in his chest, following what police said was an early-morning family quarrel.

Mrs. Graham, the boy's mother, said at a preliminary hearing Tuesday that her husband returned home late and turned the radio on loudly. He had been drinking, she said.

Gordon was sleeping in the back of the small house and his mother quoted him as saying: "Dad, turn the radio off I've got a job and I've got to get up in the morning."

She then said her husband dragged the boy from the bed and started fighting.

Mrs. Graham said her husband had beaten her son on numerous occasions. A month before the shooting, her son's lips were so badly cut, as a result of a beating by his father, that he had to eat bread and milk for two weeks, she said.

Crisp Wun Tun Requires Much Practice In Making

By MARY MOORE.

Some of you who keep a hawk-eye on me will remember that I promised last month to give you the recipe for Crisp Wun Tun if and when I could track it down.

I have it. I have made it.

True, mine was not the exotic morsel like the Wun Tun served to us in Vancouver. But definitely it was a delicious dish, and, for being made by an ordinary Canadian mortal, quite sensational too.

You have to be interested in venturesome cookery to string along with me on this Chinese junket I am taking—but since most of us are seeking new ideas all of the time for our parties, large and small, I believe it is worth while. Practice making Crisp Wun Tun and try it out on your family. Then when you are sure of yourself invite some of your close friends, and surprise them with it.

Freely speaking Wun Tun dough or batter is similar to a noodle batter or dough, but contains more eggs usually. This dough is rolled out very thin and cut into squares. For the version I am plugging today you fill these squares with meat paste, shape them and fry them in hot oil.

But every good cook is interested in the details so here goes.

Crisp Wun Tun

Make a well in 3 cups sifted flour in bowl; add ¼ teaspoon salt, 1 or 2 beaten eggs and, for a starter, 1 or 2 tablespoons milk until you have a soft dough, that will roll out very thin when this is mixed. It should be rolled thinner than pie dough. Cut into 3-inch squares, and let stand for one-half hour to dry out. Any rich meat mixture similar to that used for very good sandwich fillings may be used for the filling.

However, for Pork Wun Tun, which is one of the most popular versions, you grind about 1 lb. roast or boiled pork and add salt and ground or finely chopped green onion, and mix well. Place 1 teaspoon on Wun Tun square, fold dough over to make rectangle, then twist ends to make it look like a bow-tie. Edges may be dampened to make them stick tightly. Flatten the section where the meat is with the ball of thumb to permit heat to reach it quickly.

Drop into hot oil (the Chinese usually use peanut oil) at 350 deg. Fahr. and cook until golden brown, turning over once. Drain on unglazed paper for a few moments—but serve very hot.

Other fillings are chicken with salt, onion, and celery oil ground to a paste; OR enclose one small shrimp with the pork mixture (as described above). This latter is called Shrimp Gowtze.

Now a sauce that we had served over our Wun Tun I have discovered is not commonly used in other Chinese restaurants in Windsor or Montreal or Toronto So it must be individual to Vancouver. It was so unusual and, I believe, added to the exotic effect of the Wun Tun, that I must repeat it.

Pineapple - Apricot Sauce (for Crisp Wun Tun).

Mix together ¼ cup brown sugar, 2 teaspoons cornstarch, ½ teaspoon salt and stir into it ¼ cup canned pineapple juice, and 2 tablespoons cider and 4 halves of canned pureed apricots. Stir until thick over medium heat, and then cook covered, in top of double boiler for 15 minutes. The apricotos may be omitted if desired, or pureed plums may be used instead of them. Do not miss this sauce. You will use it for many other purposes once you become familiar with it.

I would appreciate it if readers who are Chinese cookery fans would swap some of their favorite Chinese recipes with me.

EASY CHEWING

The juice of the orange-yellow Papaw fruit, found in tropical America, is used to make tough meat tender.

FANCY HAT—Doddie Dunning admires an impressive colback, which once topped off the uniform of the German Prince Joachim, son of the late Kaiser Wilhelm II. The prince's headgear is included in a big collection of German military headdress stored in the Canadian War Museum at Ottawa, which also contains helmets worn by the Prussian Dragoons and the Death's Head Hussars.

Golf Tees Make Chair's Legs For Doll House

TORONTO, Aug. 31—(CP)—Mrs. R. L. Macfarlane of Toronto uses everything and anything she finds in her home—for a doll house.

Results of her creative ingenunity—a completely outfitted doll house—now is on display at the Canadian National Exhibition.

"I didn't use anything I could not find around the house," she said.

Feature of the exhibit are the delicate dining room chairs whose legs are golf tees; the fire tongs of hair pins; a chest of drawers made from tiny match boxes inserted in a larger box; and pieces of china made of clay.

It took her four months to build the doll house.

Social Situations

SITUATION: You are walking down the street with your best girl.

—WRONG WAY: Walk with your arm around her shoulders.

RIGHT WAY: Realize that such behavior on your part will make your girl conspicuous.

Joint Expenses But Separate Bank Account is Best Plan

DEAR MISS DIX: Here is a problem which my wife and I have agreed to let you settle for us. We both teach and I think that we should have a joint bank account. My wife will not agree to this. She wants to keep all of her money for herself and thinks that I should give her an allowance, and pay for her clothes besides. I have been using my salary to pay off our debts, for the grocery bill, etc. She says that other men give their wives an allowance, buy them pretty dresses and so on, but that she never experiences the thrill of having part of her husband's money. Which one of us is right?

PUZZLED HUSBAND.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: I think you are, and that your wife is taking a very unreasonable and selfish attitude. Also, she is showing herself very grasping.

It seems to me that a woman loves money better than she does her huband if she is not willing to share what she earns with him when he is struggling to pay off debts. She should feel proud that she is self-sustaining and able to pay her own way and that she does not have to take from him a dollar of the money with which he is emancipating himself.

The idea of a man giving his wife an allowance is based upon the supposition that she is not gainfully employed outside the home, and that she devotes her time and labor toward making her husband a home. The domestic women and the wage-earning business and professional women stand upon entirely different platforms. It seems to me that the wife who gets a salary envelope should buy her own clothes.

All women are in favor of the joint checking account when the man furnishes all the money. They don't view it with such a favorable eye when they have to put in their quota, and this is easily explained by the fact that it has been such a short time since women have had any money of their own that they are still jealous of it, and can't bear to think of anybody else having access to it.

The average women regards having money that she can spend or give or waste without having to tell or ask anybody as the greatest privilege that she can possibly enjoy.

So my advice to you and your wife is this: Pool your finances till you pay off your debts, and then decide on a certain amount for living expenses to which you contribute according to your salaries. Then each keep your individual bank account.

I'm with your wife in feeling an individual bank account is as necessary to a woman's self-respect as an individual toothbrush.

Menus For Special Purposes

By MARY MOORE

Low-Calorie Dinner

Baked devilled ham slice (4 oz. 400 cal.), Spiced pear (1 small, 25 cal.), Shredded green beans (¾ cup, no butter, 30 cal.), Diced beet, celery and cucumber salad (minimum of lemon mayonnaise, 50 cal., 4 oz.)

Fruit cup (6 oz., 60 cal.), Watermelon balls, Peaches slices, Grapefruit sections. Clear hot coffee (0 cal.).

High-Calorie Dinner

Corned Boiled round of beef, with dumplings. Boiled cabbage. Stuffed celery hearts.

Deep fresh peach pie with cheese; coffee.

One-Burner Dinner

Fricassee of shoulder veal or lamb, with carrots and green beans, Potato, celery and chive salad; Cantaloupe and ice-cream; Coffee.

Directions

To get corned round of beef you may have to ask the butcher to do this for you, for it is not a piece that is usually corned for there is such a demand for it fresh. Boil it about 3½ hours. After it has boiled 3 hours 10 minutes, add wedges of new green cabbage; when it comes to boiling point after adding the cabbage, drop on dumplings, cover, and do not lift lid for at least 12 minutes. Be ready to serve the dinner at this time, because the dumplings should be served at once. If you like, you may add 2 bay leaves and 6 peppercorns to the water in which meat was boiled throughout. This is a delicious dish, and when I make it I boil a 5-lb. piece for it is such a good flavor and slices so well cold.

The shoulder veal or lamb is a good top of stove dish for the meat may be put into 1½-inch cubes rolled in salted and peppered flour and sauteed until a golden brown on all sides, and then simmered covered in a small amount of water or tomato juice. You will have to add liquid as it cooks, and turn it over occasionally. There are plenty of variations for this, for you may add chopped vegetables, such as onions, carrots, beans or peppers.

PRETTY TRIM — Corduroy jacket in caramel topped by "little boys" hat in dark brown is a smart Fall outfit.

ENQUIRY COLUMN

By MARY MOORE

QUESTION: Some years ago you printed some recipes for a reader who had diabetes and who had written to you for recipes that did not contain sugar. I have watched for more of these ever since, for it is so hard to know what to do to change the dietary for a diabetic. Would you mind printing some instructions for canning fruits for diabetics and maybe some suggestions for making jams or preserves? Little tiny jars of jams cost 85 cents and I am sure these could be made at home if one only knew how.

Grateful Cook.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: I am sorry that I had to be reminded to give you these recipes.

Canned Peaches (Hot Pack Without Sugar)

Select very ripe but still firm peaches. Remove skin by dipping peaches for ½ minute in boiling water, and then dropping in cold water. Peel and drop in cold slightly salted water again until enough peaches are peeled for a batch of canning. Have jars ready and waiting in the boiling hot water in which they have been boiled for 20 minutes with the rubbers and tops and rings. Drain the peaches, cut in halves and remove stones. Place peaches in enamel pan and pour over them boiling water until you can just see it between the peaches. Cover tightly. Bring to boiling point and boil covered for 4 minutes. Remove from heat at once and pack into hot perfectly sterile jars. Cover peaches in jars to within a half inch of top with the liquid in which they have been precooked. Seal at once tightly. Immerse in boiling water bath and boil 20 minutes from time water in hot water bath starts to boil. Remove from hot water bath immediately (jars should be standing on wooden rack) and chill, out of draft, inverted.

I have tried to work out a peach and a plum jam you could make without sugar, but do not say it is like the commercial product you can buy. It does pass as a good jam and I know two diabetics who like it very much.

Suggestion for making preserve-type jam for diabetics: proceed with peaches (or plums) up the point in above instructions for canning, peaches where you boil them in water for 4 minutes BUT use only 1 cup boiling water to every 4 cups sliced peaches. Boil for 15 minutes, at low heat, stirring often. Pour off ¼ cup of the juice and let it cool to about 120 degrees Fahr. and add 1 grain saccharin tablet in it. Add this to each pint of fruit you have boiled. Add also 1 tablespoon glycerin to each pint of fruit and stir well. Boil up hard for ½ minute, and pour into sterile jam jars and cool at once with boiling hot paraffin adding a second coating when cold. In made this jam last week, and have since kept it in the refrigerator, and can not tell you how it will keep.

As you know any fruit can be canned without sugar, but sterilization rules must be adhered to 100%.

QUESTION: Would you print recipe for canning tomatoes and for for making chili sauce please, as soon as possible. — Elinor.

◇ ◇ ◇

ANSWER: I am printing these recipes next week because commercial canners say that first half in September is the peak of the tomato canning season. I hope this will be satisfactory for you, Elinor.

W. A. Richardson Supported For Kiwanis Office

Only the second Peterborough man ever to be nominated for the office of lieutenant-governor, W. A. "Bill" Richardson, president of the Peterborough Canoe Co., Tuesday received the unanimous support of district 6 delegates at the annual Kiwanis caucus in Cobourg.

He will be recommended by the district at the Ontario-Quebec-Maritime convention being held this year in Halifax, Sept. 18-20. In view of the unanimous vote, it is expected that confirmation of his office as lieutenant-governor will be little more than a formality.

The only other Peterborough man to be elected to this post was the late John Troke in 1943. Albert Hinton of the Riverdale club, Toronto, is the encumbent.

Clubs represented at the Cobourg caucus were Riverdale, East York, Dunbarton, Oshawa, Lindsay, Peterborough, Cobourg, Madoc, Belleville and Kingston.

Mr. Richardson has been a Kiwanian for 18 years and in 1939 was president of the Peterborough club, succeeding L. J. Pettit. He is still an active member.

He is also a former chairman of the YMCA board of directors—the year the swimming pool was installed. For six years before the war he was on the Board of Education and served a term as chairman.

Two of his other local interests have been the Library Board where he also was chairman, and Community Chest work.

Sir Arthur Tedder To Visit Trenton

LONDON, Aug. 31—(CP)—Sir Arthur Tedder, Marshal of the R.A.F., hopes to attend an R.C.A.F. ceremony at Trenton, Ont., Sept. 30 marking the 10th anniversary of the Empire Air Training Scheme, the Air Ministry said today.

The Ministry said it doubted reports that Sir Arthur also would visit Washington for discussions concerning the Atlantic treaty expected to be held there in October.

A New Alibi

OKLAHOMA CITY, Aug. 31 (AP)—Motorcycle policeman C. C. Cole thought he had heard all the alibis.

But the motorist weaving back and forth across the street had a new one.

"Believe it or not officer, I was trying to keep from running out of gasoline," the driver said. "I was sloshing the gas back and forth in my tank so I could get it all in my carburetor."

Baby Girl Born In Taxi Cab

A local taxi was swiftly transformed into a maternity car early Wednesday morning when Mrs. William Hayes, of Ennismore, gave birth to a baby girl, weighing 5 lbs., 11 ozs. The chain of events started at 1:15 a.m. when the taxi dispatcher received a rush call from Ennismore for a cab. Nick Sullivan of Sullivan Brothers' taxi, and Norris Dafoe, who went along for company, answered the call.

Everything went well up until the time the taxi reached the hospital, and then things started to happen. The baby was born in the cab. William Hayes, the husband was also present, but according to reports received, he was too excited to talk. Sullivan was still in bed at press time, but the dispatcher said that he thought Nick didn't think too much about the affair.

When asked how long it took Sullivan to come in from Ennismore, the office said "Not very darney long. It's a good job the causeway was there."

Apparently neither mother nor child are any the worse for the wild ride, because hospital authorities said at 1:45 this afternoon that "Mrs. Hayes and the baby girl are both fine."

Japan Producer Wants Film On 'Hiroshima'

By JACK QUIGG

HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 31.—(AP).—Wanted by Japan: An American movie firm to film John Hersey's book "Hiroshima."

"The lessons learned at Hiroshima (the Japanese city over which the first war-used atomic bomb burst Aug. 6, 1945) should be taught to the world," says M. Nagata, president of Japan's largest motion picture company.

An American movie, globally distributed, would be the best way to teach that lesson, Nagata believes. Revealing the havoc and suffering wrought by the A-bomb, he said in an interview, would provide a potent argument for peace in a troubled world.

All Expenses Paid

Nagata said he is ready to supply equipment and to pay all expenses incurred in Japan to any Hollywood studio that will make the movie there.

Nagata is the first Japanese producer to visit Hollywood since the war. He is studying motion picture technical equipment, studio organization, budgeting and production procedures.

Nagata chatted eagerly at a mile-a-minute clip about the "Hiroshima project."

English-speaking Japanese probably would comprise the cast. The book describes the experiences of six persons who survived the blast, and all but one of these were Japanese.

Prodicer

Nagata's Daiei Motion Picture Company releases pictures to 950 of Japan's 2,157 theatres. His studios in Tokyo and Kyoto employ some 1,500 persons.

Japan produces about 170 features a year, of which Nagata's studios make 50. Before the war Japan turned out 140 to 150 films yearly.

"During the war years the Japanese people showed little interest in dramas" he said. 'They preferred newsreels. Now interest in drama is reviving."

Homes For Aged Must Be Of High Calibre

LONDON, Ont., Aug. 31 (CP).—New municipal homes for the aged must be strikingly different from existing homes to obtain provincial approval and financial support, L. E. Ludlow, Secretary of Homes for the Aged for the Department of Welfare, said Tuesday.

He outlined to the Ontario Municipal Association convention here the 19[illegible] Homes for the Aged Act.

He forecast that regulations under the act which had not been published yet will be a "pleasant surprise" to the municipalities.

Under the new act, cities, towns and counties must provide municipal homes for the aged. The province, in turn will play 50 per cent of the costs of construction and operation. From 1947 the province has assumed 25 per cent of construction costs, but never before this year did it contribute toward operation.

To secure the new grants, municipalities must construct institutions with accommodation provided for the bedridden, for the senile, for those able to get about, and for married couples.

Mr. Ludlow charged that 3,000 to 5,000 aged needlessly occupy hospital beds because there is no accommodation for them in existing private, charitable and municipal homes.

Under the act, persons of 60 years and over will be regularly admitted to the homes. Younger persons can be admitted with the approval of the department. Residents of future home must have ample opportunity for relaxation, recreation, occupational hobbies, and reading.

"In other words: make real homes, not work houses or poor houses," he said.

Consider Plan To Aid Britain

WASHINGTON, Aug. 31 (AP).—The United States is considering a plan to send more dollars Britain's way by boosting purchases of strategic materials from British markets.

Government officials said United States negotiators are giving a sympathetic hearing to British requests for a speed-up in American strategic stockpiling during the next few months.

Tin and rubber are the main strategic items Britain has to offer. The United States has been buying limited quantities of these to add to the growing stockpile of strategic materials being set aside for an emergency

Officials said, however, it is doubtful that the administration will consent to boost British sales by relaxing regulations requiring American rubber manufacturers to use 220,000 tons of synthetic rubber annually in their products.

Any move to amend these rules, officials said, might affect national security since synthetic rubber plants might be needed in case of war. The government owns all synthetic plants now.

Ford And Union Settle Issues

DETROIT, Aug. 31 (AP)—Virtually all non-economic issues between the Ford Motor Company and the United States Auto Workers (CIO) have been settled tentatively, it was reported on Tuesday.

But the threat of a strike by 106,000 Ford workers in the United States stems from the economic issues—pensions, health and welfare funds and a fourth-round wage increase.

The non-economic matters are such things as length of probationary periods, seniority rights and grievance procedure.

Walter Reuther, UAW president took part in Tuesday's bargaining for the first time in several days.

Little action on the economic measures is expected, however, until early next month, when a presidential fact-finding panel reports on similar issues in the steel industry.

Baptists Stay Clear Of Entering Holy War

SWANSEA, Wales, Aug. 31 —(Reuters)—Baptists in Wales today passed a resolution at their annual conference stating that they declined to be drawn into what was described as "the holy war initiated by the Roman Catholic Church against Communism."

Communism, the resolution said, was an answer to the cry of the downcast for better days to come.

"At the same time," it continued, "we are absolutely and irrevocably opposed to the spreading of the totalitarian principle and the methods of the Soviet Union, based as they are on the denial of the existence of God."
